From Thursday July 23. to Monday July 27. 1702.

From the Imperial Camp at Montanara, July 9. N.S.

THE 5th Instant, Adjutant-General Davia, who had been out with a Party of Horse between Cremona and Picighittone, returned hither with a Spanish Lieutenant and two Troopers he had taken Prisoners. We foraged on the other side of the Mincio with very good Success. This day a Party of 100 Foot came out of Mantua, to attack about 60 of our Horse which were posted near the Mincio, and having made their Discharge at too great a Distance, so that it did no execution, our Men ran upon them, and having broke them, the Enemy threw down their Arms and ran away; many of them were killed, and their Arms were taken; on our side only one Trooper was slightly wounded. Upon notice that the French had bought up a great deal of Corn in the Ferrarese and the Parmian Territories, to be carried by Water to Verona, and from thence by Land to Mantua, and that part of it was already sent away, a Party of 30 Cuirassiers and 12 Hussars were sent out to intercept it, which they did, and brought several Boats loaded therewith to Oglio. The 8th, one of our Parties meeting with one of the Enemy's near Cesole, killed their Officer and 12 Troopers. This day, after several Messages from the French, denoting a Cartel for the Exchange of Prisoners, Commissioners were named on both sides to adjust that Matter. The 9th, we have an Account, that the Enemy has sent 4 Battalions of Foot towards the Oglio, which are to be followed to morrow by a Regiment of Horse and another of Dragoons. The Enemy have got together many Boats at Cremona, to carry their Artillery, Ammunition and Provisions down the Po; and it is said they have a design upon our Bridge over that River at Borgoforte.

Venice, July 14. Our Letters from the Imperial Camp near Mantua say, they are still in the same advantageous Post, and have perfected their Intrenchments near the Gate Pradella, notwithstanding the continual fire from the Town upon them, and the great Endeavours that have otherwise been used by the Enemy to hinder that Work; And that Prince Eugene having Intelligence, that the old Prince of Vaudemont was arrived in the French Camp, and that the Duke of Vendosme had sent a considerable Detachment towards Viadana, had thereupon detached 8000 Horse towards the Lenza, to observe the Motions of the Enemy.

Cracow, July 15. The King of Poland having got together most of his Saxon Forces, marched from hence the 12th Instant towards the Swedish Army, in order to attack it before it could be joined by the Forces that are coming from Pomerem. He had before sent Orders to the Forces of the Crown to join him in his march, which are marching for that purpose with great Diligence. We hear the King of Sweden having Notice thereof, continued his march without waiting any longer for his Forces from Pomerem, and that the two Armies are come within 4 Leagues of one another.

Breslaw, July 22. We have received an account, That the King of Sweden, with his Army, being come up with the King of Polana's Army, within 3 German miles of Cracow, attack'd their Left Wing, which was composed of his Polish Forces, who, after some resistance, were defeated; this occasioned a great deal of Disorder among the Saxons, who were likewise obliged to retire, leaving behind them their Arms and Baggage. The Swedes had cut off their Retreat to Cracow, so that it is supposed a great number were killed or taken. General Fleming and General Steyman, two of the King of Polana's chief Officers, are mortally wounded; the King himself is said to have escaped to Ternowitz, on the Frontiers of Silesia, intending to go and put himself at the head of some Saxon Regiments, which were marching through this Country to join him. The further Particulars of this Action must be expected in our next Letters.

Vienna, July 19. The Marquis del Vasto arrived here the 13th Instant from Italy, and has had Audience of the Emperor, by whom he was very kindly received. Two new raised Regiments of Hungars passed by this place two or three days ago, in their March to the Imperial Camp before Landau, and another is following with all possible Diligence. They write from Tirol that the Forces which the Dukes of Saxe Weymar and Saxe Gotha have put into the Emperors Service, are marched through that Country towards the Imperial Camp in Italy.

Heidelberg, July 25. The King and Queen of the Romans arrived here this day, and were received with all possible Demonstrations of Respect. A great Entertainment is preparing for them and their Retinue against to morrow, when the King enters into the 24th Year of his Age; and the next day he intends to proceed to the Camp before Landau.

Francfort, July 26. Six pieces of heavy Cannon and 2 Mortars were brought hither yesterday from Bamberg, which, with a great quantity of Ammunition and 1000 Muskets from our Magazines, will be sent in a day or two to the Imperial Camp before Landau. A Regiment of Horse of the Forces of the Dukes of Wolfenbuttel, which is marching thither, came yesterday to Laubach, within 6 miles of this Town, and will shortly be followed by the rest of the Forces which those Princes have put into the Emperor's Service. An Imperial Regiment of Cuirassiers marched from Heilbron the 21st Instant to the said Camp, and 5000 Hussars are shortly expected there. The Count of Hanau went thither 2 days ago from this Place, and the Landgrave of Hesse Darmstad intends to be there in a day or two. Our Accounts from thence say, the Waters of the Queich and other Rivers, whose overflowing has been some hindrance to the Siege, begin to fall, and that Prince Lewis has carried on his Trenches very near to the Counterscarp; and those on the side of General Thungen's Attack are advanced within 14 Paces of the Glacis of the Citadel. Marshal Catinat having consumed the Forage about Haguenau and Brumat, has removed his Camp more towards Strasbourg. We hear the swelling of the Rhine, occasioned by the late Rains, has overflowed the Island before Huningen, and obliged the French to quit that Post. The Margrave of Baden Durlach continues over against it with a Body of 8 or 9000 Men.

From the Camp of the Allies at Geldorp, July 30. The Ways were so bad the 25th Instant, by reason of the continual Rains, that the Generals thought fit to defer the march of the Army from Over-Asselt for that day; However, most part of the Baggage went over the Maese in the Afternoon upon 3 Bridges just below Grave, and the 26th the whole Army followed, having first reinforced the Garison of Nimeghen to 16 Battalions of Foot and 7 Squadrons of Horse. We came and Encamp'd with the Left at Zeeland and the Right at Uden, and the 27th continued our march about 4 Leagues, and encamped with the Left at Leyshout, and the Right near Nunen. Some Squadrons of the Enemy appeared the 26th in the Morning at a good distance, while the Army was passing over the Maese, but did not think fit to advance so far as to interrupt our march; and the 27th in the morning we had Intelligence, that the Enemy decamped about 10 a Clock the Night before; that being come within 3 Leagues of Venlo, they halted for about 3 hours, and then continued their march towards that Place, in order to pass the Maese. The 28th, our Army marched from Nunen, and encamped with the Right at Geldorp, and the Left at Merle, where we halted yesterday, and are this day marching to Hamont in the Country of Liege. We have advice, that the French having passed the Maese about Venlo, are come to Weert, which is within two Leagues of Hamont, so that our next march will be regulated, with regard to the Motions of the Enemy, whom we hope to oblige to repass the Demer, and then all the Country on this side of that River will be at our Discretion. Brigadier-General Ross with the 3 English Regiments of Dragoons, the English Train of Artillery, and 2 Swiss Battalions of Foot, came last Night to Eynthoven, and will join us this Evening; Eight Battalions of the Troops left at Nimeghen, and two from Grave are likewise marching to join us.

Paris, July 29. Letters from Cremona of the 18th Instant say, the Duke of Vendosme and the Duke of Mantua came thither the 15th to wait upon the King of Spain.

Spain. That the 14th, the French and Spanish Forces which were drawn together near that Town, passed over the Po and encamped at Castelvetro, 2 miles from Cremona, from whence they would continue their march the 19th to Cazal-Maggiore. The Bridge of Boats at Cremona was ordered to be brought down thither, and the best part of the French Army was to assemble together near that Place, whither the King of Spain intended to go the 21st. In the mean time the Prince of Vaudemont commanded the Forces left in the Camp of Rivalta in order to observe the Germans; who on their side had sent a strong Body of Horse and Foot towards Colorno, between the Rivers Parma and Lenza, to observe the Motions of our Army.

Hague, August 1. N. S. The King of Prussia went from this Place, the 26th past to Amsteradam, from whence he continued his Journey to Brandenbourg the 29th, intending to pass by Utrecht, and to lie that Night at Zeist. The Earl Rivers, and Monsieur Overkirk General of the Dutch Horse, who lately came hither from England, are gone to the Army of the Allies in Brabant. Monsieur Hermskirk, late Ambassador from this State to the French Court, died here the 25th past.

Falmouth, July 20. Yesterday the Britannia of Flushing, a Privateer of 26 Guns, brought into this Port a French Prize of about 120 Tuns and 8 Guns belonging to Bourdeaux, bound home with Sugar, Indigo, &c. from Martinico, and the same day another Dutch Privateer likewise brought in a French Prize of about 100 Tuns, bound home from the West-Indies. Four Merchant Ships are just now come in here from the Barbadoes.

Hampton-Court, July 23. This day Robert Yard Esq; was, by Her Majesty's Command, Sworn Clerk of Her Majesty's most Honourable Privy-Council, in Extraordinary.

Whitehall, July 25. This day an Express arrived here from on board Her Majesty's Fleet commanded by Sir George Rooke, who left them on the 23d Instant, early in the Morning under Sail, off of the Deadman's-Head, with a fair Wind.
