Difference with the Abbot of St. Gall (to whom he tells them he has likewise written upon the same Occasion) and not to give their Enemies a Pretext to disunite the Cantons concern'd in this Affair. His Imperial Majesty concludes with an offer of his Friendship and Mediation. This Letter has alarm'd the Council here, and 'tis thought will contribute very much to the final Decision and Accommodation of a Difference that has been so long depending in this Country.

Hague, January 25. N. S. Prince Eugene went from this Place on the 20th Instant, in order to go to the Court of Vienna, from whence he designs to return about the latter end of March. There is an Edict published here against prophane Swearing: An Offender, in that kind, is to be punished the first and second time by paying Mony; but the third time, he is to suffer according to the Discretion of the Magistrate. The Duke of Marlborough, set out from hence yesterday, at seven in the Morning, in a Sledge on the Ice towards Brussels. His Grace intended to pass the Meuse, dine at Gortrudemberg, and lye last Night at Breda; we hope he arrived at Brussels this Day. The Earl of Albemarle, Major-General Cadogan, and Count Maffey, waited upon the Duke in this Journey. This Morning it began to thaw; if it continues for three days, the Squadron designed for the Mediterranean, with the Palatine Troops, will put to Sea. The Body of Swiss which is here will be augmented, with the Addition of 30 Men to each Company. Count Ranzaw is arrived here from the Court of Denmark, in his way to Great Britain. They write from Leipsick, that King Augustus has laid aside the Thoughts of going to Venice, and is levying Men with so great Diligence and Success, that 'tis believed he will, about the beginning of April, have brought together under Arms 25000 Men.

Whereas Captain Humphry Blowers, and Captain Caleb Wade, are appointed by the Lord High-Admiral to regulate the Business of impressing Seamen, on and about the River of Thames, who are to be found every Day at the Sign of the Castle in Mark-Lane; his Lordship does therefore hereby give notice, that all those who have Applications to make, in relation to Persons who shall be Impress as aforesaid, must apply themselves to the said Regulating Captains, who have full Instructions from his Lordship how to govern themselves therein.
