BOARD OF TRADE

Performing Right Tribunal

THE REFERENCE OF THE CINEMATOGRAPH
EXHIBITORS' ASSOCIATION OF GREAT BRITAIN AND IRELAND

Short Particulars of Decision

The Performing Right Tribunal publishes the following short particulars of the decision in a dispute with the Performing Right Society referred to it by the above-named Cinematograph Exhibitors' Association ("the C.E.A.", for short), in which Harold Fielding Ltd., Harold Davison Ltd., Mr. Vic Lewis and Mr. Larry Parnes joined as interested parties.

The Performing Right Society ("the P.R.S." for short) published a proposed tariff, to be known as "Tariff LP", for licensing the use of copyright music, including the words or lyrics associated with it, performed at entertainments classified as concerts of light or "popular" music, to apply only where the performance takes place on premises not otherwise covered by an appropriate licence.

Under that proposed tariff a fee was to be payable, calculated at the rate of 4 per cent. on the actual gross takings at each concert to which it should apply, such takings to be periodically certified by a qualified accountant.

The C.E.A., supported to some extent by the interested parties, objected to the disclosure of gross takings which would be involved in this basis of calculation, and objected also to the rate of 4 per cent., which they contended was excessive beyond all comparison with other tariffs of a similar nature. It was their contention that a formula could be evolved whereby an adequate licence fee could be computed on a basis of notional takings. They also argued that the nature of "popular" music at present in fashion was such that it accounted for a very minor part in the entertainment at the concerts classified as "popular".

The Tribunal, while accepting the contention that there should not be undue discrepancies between tariffs of similar kinds, rejected the latter argument, and without adopting the proposition that a tariff based on actual gross takings was better in principle than one based on an appropriate formula, nevertheless fixed the method of assessment of the licence fee in the present case at 2 per cent. on actual gross takings, such takings to be provisionally paid after each concert at the rate of 2 per cent. on 75 per cent. of moneyholding capacity, subject to adjustment as a result of an annual audit.

The reason for so providing in this instance was the absence of any evidence in the nature of relevant figures upon which an appropriate formula for arriving at notional takings could be based.

An alternative method of payment was, however, provided for such applicants for a licence as should elect to adopt it for the entire period of the relative licence year. This method is for the licensee to pay at the rate of 1.75 per cent. on the total moneyholding capacity of the premises for the concert in question, on condition of a display at the box-office in respect of each concert of the number and prices of the seats on offer.

The scheme embodied in the tariff in question was varied by the Tribunal accordingly.

A copy of the Decision may be inspected at the offices of the Tribunal, 24 Kingsway, (6th Floor), London, W.C.2., during office hours (10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Mondays to Fridays).
