- 2. If a report has been received by, but the object found has not been deposited with, the police officer, he shall forthwith inspect the object at the place specified in that behalf in the report of the finder, and shall include in his report to the Secretary such particulars in regard to the object as he may judge to be relevant.
- 3. The Secretary may retain any object deposited with or forwarded to him for a period not longer than twenty-one days from the date of the report of the finder, but without prejudice to its retention for a further period with the consent of the finder.
- 4. Where the object has been deposited with the police officer and has been retained by him as not being suitable for transmission to the Secretary, the Secretary shall, not later than twenty-one days from the date of the report of the finder, instruct the police officer regarding the disposal of the object.
- 5. Where the object is retained by the finder as being of such a nature as not to be readily portable, the Secretary shall inform the finder within twenty-one days from the date of the report of the finder, whether any offer to purchase is proposed, and the finder if he is informed that no such offer is proposed or if he is dissatisfied with the offer, or if he receives no information under this regulation within the said twenty-one days, shall be at liberty to dispose of the object.
- 6. The Ancient Monuments Advisory Council shall report to the Ministry of Finance, in relation to the finding of any archæological object, all such facts as may enable the said Ministry to decide whether the object so found should be purchased, or assistance be given towards the purchase thereof, for the purpose of public exhibition in accordance with section four of the Act hereinbefore recited.

Given under the Official Seal of the Ministry of Finance for Northern Ireland this seventh day of August, 1937, in the presence of

> G. C. DUGGAN, Assistant Secretary.
