POST OFFICE SAVINGS BANK REGULATIONS, 1894.

Whereas under and by virtue of the Post Office Savings Bank Act, 1861, and of all powers and authorities enabling him in that behalf, the Postmaster-General, with the consent of the Treasury, made the Post Office Savings Bank Regulations, 1893 (hereinafter referred to as 'the Principal Regulations').

And whereas owing to the passing of the Finance Act, 1894, certain of the provisions of 'the Principal Regulations' in relation to the payment of duties upon deposits standing in the Post Office Savings Bank in the names of deceased depositors are no longer in accordance with the present law in relation to the payment of duties on the property of deceased persons, and it is therefore expedient to amend 'the Principal Regulations' in relation to the matters aforesaid.

Now I, Her Majesty's Postmaster-General, under and by virtue of all powers and authorities vested in me in that behalf, do, with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, make the following Regulations, that is to say:—

Title.

1. These Regulations may be cited as the Post Office Savings Bank Regulations, 1894, and these and 'the Principal Regulations' may be cited as the Post Office Savings Bank Regulations, 1893 and 1894.

Construction.

2. These Regulations shall be read and construed as one with 'the Principal Regulations,' and shall take effect accordingly.

Repeal.

3. Regulation 74 of 'the Principal Regulations' is hereby repealed.

Estate Succession and Legacy Duties.

4.—(1) If the total property of any deceased depositor exceeds £100, after deduction of debts and funeral expenses, any sum which may under these Regulations be paid to a survivor in the account (not being a Trustee) whose name has been added to the account at the request of such deceased depositor, or otherwise than to the legal personal representative of the depositor, shall, notwithstanding such payment, be for the purposes of Estate Duty treated as passing under the will or intestacy of the deceased depositor.

(2) The Postmaster-General shall, before making any payment in respect of deposits standing to the credit of a deceased depositor (either alone or jointly with any other depositors (not being a Trustee) whose name has been added to such account at the request of such deceased depositor), to any one but the legal personal representative of such deceased depositor, require a Declaration by the claimant, or one of the claimants, or by the survivor, or survivors in the account (or other evidence to the Postmaster-General's satisfaction), that the total estate of the deceased depositor, including the amount of such deposits, does not, after deduction of debts and funeral expenses, exceed the value of £100.

(3) In every such case as aforesaid, where the total estate of the deceased depositor, including such deposits, but after deduction of debts and funeral expenses, exceeds £100, the Postmaster-General shall, before making any payment to any survivor in the account, or to any person other than the legal personal representative of the deceased depositor, require production of a certificate from the Commissioners of Inland Revenue of the payment of the Estate Duty, and of a duly stamped receipt for the Succession or Legacy Duty, payable in respect of such deposits, or of a certificate stating that no Succession or Legacy Duty is payable.

Operation of Regulations.

5. These Regulations shall come into operation on the day of the advertisement thereof in the London Gazette, and shall apply to all depositors dying on or after the 2nd day of August 1894.

ARNOLD MORLEY, Postmaster-General.

To provide the proper means for the due election from time to time of fit and proper persons to the office of Commissioners.

To define the limits of the harbour within which the Commissioners shall have and exercise their power of a Pilotage and Harbour Authority, and have power to levy rates for the purposes of the Order. The limits within which the Commissioners shall have authority, and which shall be deemed the limits to which the Order and the power to levy rates extend, shall comprise the present harbour at Whitehills and the new harbour to be constructed under the Order, and all works, accommodations, and conveniences connected therewith, and all additions to, and improvements on, the harbour works from time to time to be made by the Commissioners, and the area below the high water mark, bounded by the following imaginary lines:—(1) By a line commencing at a point on the sea-shore at high water mark distant 366 yards or thereby west from the southern angle of the east quay at the entrance to the existing harbour of Whitehills, and extending in a northerly direction for a distance of 320 yards or thereby; (2) by a line commencing at a point on the sea-shore at high water mark distant 350 yards or thereby east from the said southern angle of the east quay of the existing harbour of Whitehills, and extending in a northerly direction for a distance of 266 yards or thereby; and (3) by a line connecting the northern extremities of the above described imaginary lines.

To empower the Commissioners to levy tolls, rates, duties, and charges, according to the Schedule thereof to be annexed to the Order, on vessels, boats, and other craft entering and using and anchoring within the limits of the harbour, and on passengers, animals, fish, goods, and other articles landed, shipped, or unshipped therein, and on the quays, works, and conveniences belonging to or connected with the said harbour, to alter such rates, duties, and charges, or omit the levying of any of them, or any part thereof, and to advance or revive the same again, or to sell or lease the undertaking, or some portion thereof, or to lease or compound such rates, duties, and charges, or any of them, as may appear to the Commissioners to be for the interest of the harbour.
