POST OFFICE SAVINGS BANK REGULATIONS, 1894.

Whereas under and by virtue of the Post Office Savings Bank Act, 1861, and of all powers and authorities enabling him in that behalf, the Postmaster-General, with the consent of the Treasury, made the Post Office Savings Bank Regulations, 1893 (hereinafter referred to as 'the Principal Regulations').

And whereas owing to the passing of the Finance Act, 1894, certain of the provisions of 'the Principal Regulations' in relation to the payment of duties upon deposits standing in the Post Office Savings Bank in the names of deceased depositors are no longer in accordance with the present law in relation to the payment of duties on the property of deceased persons, and it is therefore expedient to amend 'the Principal Regulations' in relation to the matters aforesaid.

Now I, Her Majesty's Postmaster-General, under and by virtue of all powers and authorities
