

concerned, I am of opinion that it is expedient to give effect to the said representation :

Now, therefore, I, Sir George Otto Trevelyan, Baronet, Her Majesty's Secretary for Scotland, do, in virtue of the powers conferred upon me by the Local Government (Scotland) Acts, order as follows :—

1. The portion of the Parish of Glamis, situated within the boundaries of the Burgh of Forfar, shall cease to be part of that Parish, and shall form part of the Parish of Forfar.

2. The Parish Council of Forfar shall relieve the Parish Council of Glamis of all advances which the latter body may be called upon to make for or on account of any pauper whose claim is derived (1) from birth in the said portion of the Parish of Glamis prior to the 15th day of May 1895, or (2) from industrial residence for the statutory period in the said portion of the Parish of Glamis prior to the 15th day of May 1895.

3. Nothing herein contained shall affect the rights of creditors or of persons having vested interests, and all questions of adjustment consequential on the alteration of boundaries hereby made are expressly reserved.

This Order shall take effect immediately for all purposes connected with the election of Parish Councils in the Parishes of Forfar and Glamis, and on the 15th day of May 1895, for all other purposes.

Given under my hand and seal at Whitehall this 15th day of December 1894.

PROPOSED ORDER No. II.

PARISHES OF NORTH BUTE AND ROTHESAY.

WHEREAS it has been represented to me by the Town Council of the Burgh of Rothesay and by the County Council of the County of Bute that I should issue an Order, under section 51 of the Local Government (Scotland) Act, 1889, and section 46 of the Local Government (Scotland) Act, 1894, detaching the landward part of the Parish of Rothesay from that Parish, and attaching it to the Parish of North Bute; and

Whereas, after consulting with the Authorities concerned, I am of opinion that it is expedient to give effect to the said representation :

Now, therefore, I, Sir George Otto Trevelyan, Baronet, Her Majesty's Secretary for Scotland, do, in virtue of the powers conferred upon me by the Local Government (Scotland) Acts, order as follows :—

1. The landward part of the Parish of Rothesay shall cease to be part of that Parish, and shall form part of the Parish of North Bute.

2. The Parish Council of North Bute shall relieve the Parish Council of Rothesay of all advances which the latter body may be called upon to make for or on account of any pauper whose claim is derived (1) from birth in the said landward part prior to the 15th day of May 1895, or (2) from industrial residence for the statutory period in the said landward part prior to the 15th day of May 1895.

3. Nothing herein contained shall affect the rights of creditors or of persons having vested interests, and all questions of adjustment consequential on the alteration of boundaries hereby made are expressly reserved.

4. This Order shall take effect immediately for all purposes connected with the election of Parish Councils in the Parishes of North Bute and Rothesay, and on the 15th day of May 1895 for all other purposes.

Given under my hand and seal at Whitehall this 15th day of December 1894.

Her Majesty's Secretary for Scotland.

SCOTTISH OFFICE, WHITEHALL,

December 17, 1894.

The Queen has been pleased, by Warrant under Her Majesty's Royal Sign Manual, bearing date the 13th December 1894, to appoint Thomas Johnstone Martin, Esquire, Advocate, M.A., Sheriff-Substitute of the Sheriffdom of Renfrew and Bute at Rothesay, to officiate also as Sheriff-Substitute of the Sheriffdom of Argyll at Duncoon.

At the Court at Windsor, the 12th day of December 1894.

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by the six hundred and fifteenth section of 'The Merchant Shipping Act, 1894,' it is enacted that Her Majesty may by Order in Council make rules as to the signals to be used or displayed where the services of a pilot are required on any vessel, such signals being referred to that Act as pilot signals.

And whereas by the thirty-seventh section of 'The Interpretation Act, 1889,' it is (amongst other things) enacted, that where an Act passed after the commencement of that Act is not to come into operation immediately on the passing thereof, and confers powers to make any Order in Council, that power may be exercised at any time after the passing of the Act so far as may be necessary or expedient for the purpose of bringing the Act into operation at the date of the commencement thereof :

And whereas 'The Merchant Shipping Act, 1894,' does not come into operation until the first day of January one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five :

And whereas it is necessary or expedient to make rules as to pilot signals to come into operation on the same day as the said 'Merchant Shipping Act, 1894' :

And whereas the operation of the said rules immediately upon the commencement of 'The Merchant Shipping Act, 1894,' is urgent :

Now, therefore, Her Majesty, by virtue of the powers so vested in Her as aforesaid, and by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, is pleased to approve as pilot signals the signals specified in the Schedule annexed hereto, and doth order that such signals shall be used as pilot signals, on and
