GEORGE R.I.

And We do hereby further warn all persons that whoever in contravention of the law shall commit, aid, or abet any of the aforesaid acts will be liable to such penalties as the law provides :

And We hereby declare that any transactions to, with, or for the benefit of any person resident, carrying on business, or being in the said Empire which are not treasonable and are not for the time being expressly prohibited by Us either by virtue of this Proclamation or otherwise, and which but for the existence of the state of war aforesaid would be lawful, are hereby permitted :

And We hereby declare that the expression "person" in this Proclamation shall include any body of persons corporate or unincorporate, and that where any person has, or has an interest in, houses or branches of business in some other country as well as in Our Dominions, or in the said Empire (as the case may be), this Proclamation shall not apply to the trading or commercial intercourse carried on by such person solely from or by such houses or branches of business in such other country.

By Command of Their Lordships,

WAR OFFICE, August 4, 1914.

The KING has been graciously pleased to give orders for the undermentioned Officer's appointment to the Distinguished Service Order, in recognition of his services whilst in command of a party of 25 rank and file of the 3rd Battalion, King's African Rifles, on the occasion of a reconnaissance on the 3rd of September 1913, on the East shore of Lake Rudolph, East Africa Protectorate.

To be a Companion of the Distinguished Service Order:—

Lieutenant William Lloyd Jones, Middlesex Regiment.

The following despatch, dated 12th June 1914, relating to the engagement of the 3rd September last, in which Lieutenant William Lloyd Jones, Middlesex Regiment, was severely wounded, has been received in the Colonial Office from the Governor of the East Africa Protectorate:—

During a reconnaissance to the North of Loiyangalani, on the East shore of Lake Rudolph, in the East Africa Protectorate, on the 3rd of September 1913, Lieutenant W. Lloyd Jones, who, with 25 rank and file of the 3rd Battalion King's African Rifles, was acting as escort to the Political Officer, came into touch with a party of Abyssinians at a water-hole named Bwanu (30° 17' N. and 36° 44' E.). The latter retired behind a dense thorn zariba 8 feet high, containing one gate. Lieutenant Lloyd Jones, after reconnoitring the zariba, advanced into the open within 25 yards of the enemy, and summoned them through his Abyssinian orderly to come out, at the same time assuring them that they would be granted their lives. The enemy replied that they would not come out, and immediately began to barricade the gate. Seeing this, Lieutenant Lloyd Jones, though unaware of the numbers of the enemy at once ordered his men to charge, and himself ran forward at their head. His Abyssinian orderlies heard those inside shout "Shoot the white man." Almost immediately the bugler, who was just behind Lieutenant Lloyd Jones, was hit by a bullet in the chest, and he himself, before he could reach the gate, received a shot in the left ankle which completely shattered the bone and brought him to the ground. The orderlies and a serjeant rushed on, and breaking through the gate, shot down everyone inside the zariba.

Lieutenant Lloyd Jones, not knowing whether there were any more of the enemy in the vicinity, then had himself carried up to some high ground overlooking the water, and threw out a screen of scouts on the neighbouring hills.

On the return of the Political Officer, who was surveying not far away, Lieutenant Lloyd Jones was carried back to Loiyangalani, where he arrived on the 7th of September.

At the Council Chamber, Whitehall, this fourth day of August 1914.
