HONOURS FOR THE ROYAL NAVAL AIR SERVICE.

The KING has been graciously pleased to approve of the award of the following decorations and medals to Officers and Men of the Royal Naval Air Service:—

(i.) For services in Mesopotamia:—

To receive the Distinguished Service Cross:—

Lieut. Gilbert Dirk Nelson, R.N.V.R.

For the great courage and devotion to duty displayed by him as engineer officer of his detachment. He was untiring in his work, in spite of attacks of malaria and dysentery, and the successful running of the engines was due to him.

Flt. Sub-Lieut. John Douglas Hume,
R.N.A.S. (since killed).

For continuous good patrol work, artillery spotting, feeding Kut-el-Amara, etc., sometimes making three trips a day under all weather conditions. He invariably displayed great coolness and resource in the face of the enemy, regardless of personal danger.

To receive a Bar to the Distinguished Service Cross:—

Flt. Lieut. Vivian Gaskell Blackburn, D.S.C.,
R.N.A.S.

For services in the advance and retreat from Ctesiphon, when he performed most excellent work.

Flt. Sub-Lieut. Wilfred Henry Dunn, D.S.C.,
R.N.A.S.

For conspicuous courage and skill in carrying out an extraordinary amount of flying, both in sea and land planes. He is invariably cheerful and ready when called on for work.

To receive the Distinguished Service Medal:—

C.P.O. Mech., 1st Gr., Joseph Francis Armit, O.N. 343587 (Ch.).

C.P.O. Mech., 2nd Gr., James Rodger, O.N. M. 2435 (Ch.).

The following Officers have been mentioned in despatches:—

Wing Cdr. Frederick William Bowhill,
R.N.A.S.

Flt. Lieut. Cecil Bell Gasson, R.N.A.S.

Obs. Lieut. Ernest Frederick Turner,
R.N.A.S.

(ii) Miscellaneous.

To receive a Bar to the Distinguished Service Cross:—

Flt. Cdr. Charles Philip Oldfield Bartlett,
D.S.C., R.N.A.S.

For conspicuous bravery and devotion to duty in carrying out bombing raids and in attacking enemy aircraft.

On the 28th March, 1918, he carried out three bombing raids. Whilst returning from one of these missions he was attacked at a height of about 2,500 feet by three enemy triplanes, and five other scouts. One of these he drove down, attacking it with his front guns, whilst his observer shot down out of control a second. Observing that two of the triplanes were diving on him and converging, he side-slipped his machine away with the result that the two enemy machines collided and fell to the ground together, where they burst into flames.

He has carried out very many bombing raids, and brought down several enemy machines, invariably showing the greatest skill and determination.

Flt. Lieut. (Act. Flt. Cdr.) Leonard Horatio Slatter, D.S.C., R.N.A.S.

For distinguished service rendered during a bombing attack on Ostende Seaplane Station on the 26th March, 1918, when, in spite of intense anti-aircraft fire and the glare of numerous searchlights, he descended to 400 feet over his objective to drop bombs.

Flt. Cdr. Slatter is a leader of unqualified keenness and dash and possessed of exceptional courage and judgment.

HONOURS FOR THE NAVAL ARMoured CAR SQUADRON.

The KING has been graciously pleased to approve of the award of the following honours, decorations and medals to the undermentioned Officers and men in recognition of their services with the Naval Armoured Car Squadron during the Russian retreat from Galicia in July and August, 1917:—

To be a Companion of the Distinguished Service Order.

Lieut.-Cdr. William Wells-Hood, R.N.V.R.

This officer joined the Armoured Cars at the outset of war, and served with them in Belgium, South-West Africa, France, the Caucasus, Armenia, the Dobrudja, and Galicia. Throughout the Galician retreat he fought day and night, under every sort of difficulty, always cheerful and ready, and inflicted very heavy casualties on the enemy. His last fights round Gusiatoryn were very severe, and drew the praise of the Russian General in command. In the last day's fight he brought down an enemy aeroplane.

To receive a Bar to the Distinguished Service Order.

Lieut.-Cdr. Walter Dorling Smiles, D.S.O., R.N.V.R.

When the road to Brzezany was blocked in the attack of 1st July, 1917, this officer called for volunteers to destroy the obstruction, and succeeded in removing it in the face of the fiercest fire by taking cover in the adjoining ditch and rushing out during lulls to tear down wire and sandbags. Later on, during the retreat, he fought with characteristic courage until all his cars were lost in action, with the exception of a light armoured Ford. He then improvised an armoured car by taking the armour off an old car and concealing it round a lorry. With this car and a heavy armoured car borrowed from another squadron he kept the enemy at bay beyond the frontier in Austria for six hours, until all troops had crossed the river. These cars passed over the river five minutes before the last bridge was blown up, and were the last thing on wheels to leave Austrian territory.

To receive the Distinguished Service Cross.

Lieut. Noel Lucas Shadwell, R.N.V.R.

When the Galician campaign of 1917 opened, he led a car many times into action on the first and subsequent days. During the first day of the retreat he took his car far beyond the Russian lines against the enemy. His car was destroyed by a shell, and he was wounded for the second time, but crawled back to the Russian trenches, where he rallied two companies of Russians, until too exhausted to go on. His courage, industry, and attention to detail deserve great praise.

Lieut. Walter Crossing, R.N.V.R.

Did duty in the Russian trenches opposite Brzezany and during the retreat in cars, showing great courage and cool judgment.

Lieut. Francis Charles Bruce Lefroy, R.N.V.R.

Acted as Transport Officer to the Force during the Galician retreat. So successful was his work that not a single ounce of stores was lost, although he had unexpectedly to evacuate two hospitals and to assist the Russians in the removal of much material. On one occasion Lieut. Lefroy was without sleep for four days and four nights.

To receive the Distinguished Service Medal.

P.O. Mech. William Henry Johnston, O.N. F.2878.

P.O. Mech. Richard Rogers, O.N. F.2785.

P.O. Mech. William Douglas Swan, O.N. F.2750.

Posthumous award of the Victoria Cross.

Ord. Sea. John Henry Carless, O.N. J.43703 (Po.) (killed in action).

For most conspicuous bravery and devotion to duty.

Although mortally wounded in the abdomen, he still went on serving the gun at which he was acting as rammer, lifting a projectile and helping to clear away the other casualties. He collapsed once, but got up, tried again, and cheered on the new gun's crew. He then fell and died. He not only set a very inspiring and memorable example, but he also, whilst mortally wounded, continued to do effective work against the King's enemies.

To be a Companion of the Distinguished Service Order.

Lieut.-Cdr. Maurice Fiennes FitzGerald Wilson, R.N.

On recovering consciousness after being wounded, he returned to duty, and for some time aided the officer who assumed command after the captain had been mortally wounded.

To receive the Conspicuous Gallantry Medal.

P.O. George Robert Greenfield, O.N. 185253 (Po.).

For conspicuous gallantry.

He set a fine example in continuing to serve and fire his gun single-handed, when all his crew had become casualties. Owing to his energy only one salvo was missed. He quickly reorganised the new crew, and kept his gun in action. During a lull he cleared away the casualties and steadied up his new crew.
