Whitehall, 27th December 1924.

His Majesty the KING has been graciously pleased to award the Edward Medal to John Krull and Frederick Oliver, employed by Messrs. G. E. Weston & Sons, of 42 Welcome Square, London, E.C., in the following circumstances:—

On September 27th, 1924, while workmen were engaged on sinking shafts at the Electrical Engineering Works of Messrs. Johnson & Phillips, at Charlton, one of them named Timpson descended a shaft which was about 26 feet in depth. He was overcome by gas and lay unconscious at the bottom. A fellow worker named Bass attempted to reach him but was affected by the gas before reaching the bottom of the shaft and was compelled to return to the surface. Oliver, a foreman, then attempted a rescue. He tied a handkerchief over his mouth and descended the shaft but was overcome on reaching the bottom and collapsed. Krull, knowing that Timpson and Oliver were unconscious in the shaft, dipped a muffler in water and tied it round his mouth and nostrils. With a rope round his body he descended the shaft and succeeded in bringing up Timpson. He then went down a second time and brought Oliver also to the surface. Timpson unfortunately was beyond aid, but Oliver, though unconscious when he reached the surface, eventually responded to treatment.

Both Krull and Oliver performed a very brave action. Krull had been a miner and was well aware of the risk he was running. He knew that three men had been overcome by the gas and he was undoubtedly the means of saving Oliver's life. Oliver, too, showed great courage in his attempted rescue of Timpson at the risk of his own life.

TRANSFERS OF CLERICAL CLASS (WOMEN).

The last Admiralty Notice to Mariners issued during 1924 was No. 2048.

ADMIRALTY NOTICE TO MARINERS.

No. 1 of the year 1925.

CAUTION WHEN APPROACHING BRITISH PORTS.

PART I.

CLOSING OF PORTS.

Former Notice.—No. 1 of 1924; hereby cancelled.

(1) My Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, having taken into consideration the fact that it may be necessary to forbid all entrance to certain ports of the Empire, this is to give Notice that on approaching the shores of the United Kingdom, or any of the ports or localities of the British Empire, a sharp look-out should be kept for the signals described in the following paragraph, and for the vessels mentioned in paragraph (5), Part II., of this Notice, and the distinguishing and other signals made by them. In the event of such signals being displayed, the port or locality should be approached with great caution, as it may be apprehended that obstructions may exist.

(2) If entrance to a port is prohibited, three red vertical lights by night, or three red vertical balls by day, will be exhibited in some conspicuous position, in or near to its approach, which signals will also be shown by the vessels indicated in paragraph (5), Part II., of this Notice.

If these signals are displayed, vessels must approach the port with the greatest caution and implicitly obey all orders or signals given them by the Examination vessel or signal station.

(3) At some ports or localities at home or abroad, search-lights are occasionally exhibited for exercise.

Instructions have been given to avoid directing movable search-lights during practice on to vessels under way, but mariners are warned that great care should be taken to keep a sharp look-out for the signals indicated in paragraph (2) above, when search-lights are observed to be working.

PART II.

EXAMINATION SERVICE.

(4) In certain circumstances it is also necessary to take special measures to examine vessels desiring to enter ports or localities at home or abroad.

(5) In such case, vessels carrying the distinguishing flags or lights mentioned in paragraph (7) will be charged with the duty of examining ships which desire to enter the port and of allotting positions in which they shall anchor. If Government vessels, or vessels belonging to the local port authority, are found patrolling in the offing, merchant vessels are advised to communicate with such vessels with a view to obtaining information as to the course on which they should approach the port. Such communication will not be necessary in cases where the pilot on board has already received this information from the local authorities.

(6) As the institution of the Examination Service will probably be unknown to vessels desiring to enter the port, especial care should be taken in approaching the ports, by day or night, to keep a sharp look-out for any vessel carrying the flags or lights mentioned in paragraph (7), and to be ready to "bring to" at once when hailed by her or warned by the firing of a gun or sound rocket.

In approaching by night any British port in the United Kingdom or abroad, serious delay and risk will be avoided if four efficient all-round lanterns, two red and two white, are kept available for use.

(7) By day the distinguishing flag of the Examination Steamer will be a special flag (white and red horizontal surrounded by a blue border).

Also, three red vertical balls if the port is closed.

Usually the Examination Steamers will fly the blue ensign, but in certain circumstances they may fly the white ensign.

By night the steamer will carry:—

(a) Three red vertical lights if the port is closed.

(b) Three white vertical lights if the port is open.

The above lights will be carried in addition to the ordinary navigation lights, and will show an unbroken light around the horizon.

(8) Masters are warned that, when approaching a British port where the Examination Service is in force, they must have the signal letters of their vessel ready to hoist immediately the Examination Steamer makes the signal: "What ship is that?"

(9) Masters are warned that, before attempting to enter any port when the Examination Service is in force, they must in their own interests strictly obey all instructions given to them by the Examination Steamer.

Whilst at anchor in the Examination Anchorage, Masters are warned that it is forbidden, except for the purpose of avoiding accident, to do any of the following things, without permission from the Examining Officer:—

To lower any boat.

To communicate with the shore or with other ships.

To move the ship.

To work cables.

To allow any person or thing to leave the ship.

(10) In case of fog, Masters are enjoined to use the utmost care, and the port should be approached with caution.

(11) When the Examination Service is in force merchant vessels when approaching ports are especially cautioned against making use of private signals of any description, either by day or night; the use of them will render a vessel liable to be fired on.

(12) The pilots attached to the ports will be acquainted with the regulations to be followed.

PART III.

MINE SWEEPING OPERATIONS.

H.M. vessels engaged in mine-sweeping operations or exercises are hampered to a considerable extent in their manœuvring powers.

With a view to indicating the nature of the work on which they are engaged, these vessels will show the signals hereinafter mentioned. For the public safety all other vessels, whether steamers or sailing craft, should endeavour to keep out of the way of vessels flying these signals and not approach them inside the distances mentioned herein, specially remembering that it is dangerous to pass between the vessels of a pair or group sweeping together.

1. SIGNALS THAT WILL BE SHOWN BY DAY.

(a) By vessels working singly :

A black ball at the foremast head, and a similar ball at the yardarm or where it can best be seen on that side on which it is dangerous to pass. (If a ball is shown at each yardarm it is dangerous to pass either side.)

Vessels showing this signal should not be approached nearer than 900 yards (822<sup>m</sup>9).

(b) By vessels working in pairs or groups :

A black ball at the foremast head, and a similar ball at the yardarm or where it can best be seen, on that side on which it is dangerous to pass.

Vessels should not pass within a distance of 400 yards (365<sup>m</sup>8) astern of a pair or group of sweepers, or when more than one pair or group are working in company within a distance of 400 yards (365<sup>m</sup>8) astern of the rear pair or group. They should on no account attempt to pass between pairs or groups working in company.

2. SIGNALS THAT WILL BE SHOWN BY NIGHT.

As for day, except that all round green lights will be used in a similar manner to and in place of the black balls.

Note.—This Notice is a repetition of Notice No. 1 of 1924.

(Notice No. 1 of 1925.)

Authority.—The Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty. (H. 7381/24).

By Command of their Lordships,

H. P. DOUGLAS,
Captain R.N., and
Hydrographer of the Navy.

Admiralty, London.
1st January 1925.

ADMIRALTY NOTICE TO MARINERS. No. 6 of the year 1925.

BRITISH ISLES AND NORTH SEA.

Former Notice.—No. 6 of 1924.

I. CAUTION WITH REGARD TO VESSELS ANCHORING OR TRAWLING WITHIN CERTAIN AREAS

Notice is given that within the under-mentioned areas large numbers of unexploded mines are known to have been sunk, and it is recommended that within these areas:—

- (i) Vessels should not anchor except in an emergency and
- (ii) Vessels should not trawl without using some safety device to prevent mines entering the trawl.

21. GERMAN ZONE.

That part of the North Sea to the eastward of long. 4° 00' E. and between lat. 53° 00' N. and lat. 56° 30' N.

The foregoing caution has been rendered necessary owing to danger of sunken mines on the bottom. Attention is drawn to the cautionary note on the charts on this subject.

The areas defined above, with the exception of a portion of No. 19 and the whole of No. 21, are shown in red on the chartlet accompanying the Notice to Mariners.

II. GENERAL INFORMATION REGARDING MINES.

1. Mariners are warned that a certain number of mines have sunk without exploding. It is possible that some of these mines lying on the bottom may still be dangerous. Surface vessels navigating these areas should therefore, whenever possible, have a clear depth of at least six feet (1<sup>m</sup>8) between their keels and the bottom when in the vicinity of shoal water or in the approaches to ports and harbours which were subjected to mining operations during the war.

2. In removing prohibition upon vessels trawling, it is pointed out that a risk, although of a diminishing character, still exists.

The attention of all vessels trawling is drawn to the immunity which may be secured by the use of a suitable protective device to prevent mines entering the trawl.

As can be readily understood, it is not possible to predict for how long a period sunken unexploded mines remain dangerous, and consequently no unnecessary risk should be taken.

3. Mariners are notified that a small percentage of drifting mines are known to exist in a waterlogged condition, a fraction of which may be dangerous. This type of mine is hard to see, and special precautions are therefore necessary to ensure that a good lookout is kept. The striking of low floating flotsam should be avoided.

4. A serious accident has occurred to a vessel at anchor from the explosion of a drifting mine which came into contact with an obstruction on the hull.

When vessels have to anchor in areas where drifting mines may be found, it is necessary that all obstructions should as far as possible be removed and gangways triced up before dark in order to minimise risk.

5. In regard to the great importance of the destruction of mines with a view to prevention of loss of life and shipping, attention of Masters is called to the necessity for strict compliance with the provisions of Chapter II., "Admiralty Instructions for British Merchant Ships," June 1919, and especially Section xiii., which includes the following:—

"Whenever practicable, vessels should attempt to sink or destroy mines by gun or rifle fire, but no mine is to be sunk in any fairway where the depth of water at low water spring tides is less than 7 fathoms (12<sup>m</sup>8), except when a mine is drifting towards a vessel at anchor, and no vessel is to approach within 200 yards (182<sup>m</sup>9) of a mine whilst attempting to sink or destroy it.

"The attention of Masters is drawn to the great desirability of taking every opportunity of sinking drifting mines, as their co-operation will help to free the seas of them within a reasonable period."

The Admiralty award for sinking or destroying a mine is only applicable to the territorial waters of the United Kingdom and Irish Free State.

Before hoisting the mine flag or reporting a mine which has been left afloat, every care should be taken to confirm that the object actually is a mine, in order to prevent unnecessary confusion; the mine flag is a square flag white over blue diagonal.

ADMIRALTY NOTICE TO MARINERS.
No. 8 of the year 1925.

WARNING SIGNALS DISPLAYED BY BRITISH VESSELS TO DENOTE THE PRESENCE OF SUBMARINES.

Former Notice.—No. 676 of 1924.

Attention is drawn to the following warning signal which has been adopted to denote the presence of Submarines:—

British vessels fly a square red flag to denote that Submarines which may be submerged, are in the vicinity. Vessels are cautioned to steer so as to give a wide berth to any vessel flying a square red flag. If from any cause it is necessary to approach her, vessels should proceed at slow speed until warning is given of the danger zone by flags, semaphore or megaphone, &c., a good look-out being kept meanwhile for Submarines whose presence may be only indicated by their periscopes showing above water. "M" flag International Code has been discontinued for the use of British vessels escorting Submarines.

Note.—This Notice is a repetition of the former Notice quoted above.
