A late and very important Improvement on the TRUSS.

MR TURNBULL, Surgeon to the Society for the Relief of the Ruptured Poor, &c. has recently constructed a Truss, possessing this special principle, that it may be applied with equal advantage and success to the complaint, whether it be seated on the Right or on the Left Side, so that when the prolapsed parts forming the RUPTURE are returned into their natural situation by a gentle, cautious, and gradual pressure of the fingers, they are retained and supported with perfect ease, neatness, firmness, and effect; and that in many instances without the inconvenience of the Thigh Strap. This Apparatus, with proper directions for its application, with a Manual, containing "Rules and Instructions very necessary to be observed by Persons of both Sexes afflicted with Ruptures;" may be had at Mr Turnbull's Warwick Court, Holburn, where letters addressed, (post paid;) will be punctually attended to. The advantages arising from its circulation are appropriated to the purposes of the above useful establishment, which has been the means of affording essential relief to upwards of 7000 of the industrious Poor, labouring under this Malady.
