Plean, thence in a southerly direction along the centre of the last-mentioned road to the point at which the Woodcock-fauld road joins it, and thence along the said Woodcockfauld road to the boundary of the parish. That part of the parish of St. Ninians which lies to the north-east of the Bannockburn and Sauchie Divisions and to the east of the Cowie road in the said parish from a point immediately to the east of the Roman Catholic Chapel and School to a point near Burnhead steading, and of a line drawn thence in an easterly direction slong the southern boundary of the lands of Throst to the parish boundary. That part of the parish of St. Ninians which lies to the east of the Sauchie Division and to the south of a line drawn along the centre of the Edinburgh road from the point at which it meets the Suabhead road to the point at which it meets the Suabhead road to the point at which it meets the Suabhead road to the point at which it meets the Suabhead road to the point at which the parish boundary near Pow Bridge. The remainder of the parish of St. Ninians exclusive of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Stirling. That part of the parish of Kilsyth (exclusive of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Kilsyth meet in a southerly direction along the centre of the Tak-me-doun road to the point where it charts the burgh of Kilsyth thence along the centre of the Tak-me-doun road to the point where it hears the burgh of Kilsyth thence along the centre of the Stak-me-doun road to the point where a thoras the substance of Denny and Kilsyth to the point where it point where the Canal feeder intersects the said boundary, thence along the centre of the said doundary, thence along the centre of the said boundary, thence along the centre of the parish point where the Canal feeder leaves the southern boundary of the parish near Craigmarloch. The remainder of the parish of Kilsyth exclusive of the point where the old road leading past Rashiehill leaves the said boundary of the point wh	No. of Division.	Name of Division.	Contents and Boundaries.
Plean, thence in a southerly direction along the centre of the last-mentioned road to the point at which the Woodcock-fauld road joins it, and thence along the said Woodcockfauld road to the boundary of the parish. That part of the parish of St. Ninians which lies to the north-east of the Bannockburn and Sauchie Divisions and to the east of the Cowie road in the said parish from a point immediately to the east of the Roman Catholic Chapel and School to a point near Burnhead steading, and of a line drawn thence in an easterly direction along the southern boundary of the lands of Throats to the parish boundary. That part of the parish of St. Ninians which lies to the east of the Sauchie Division and to the south of a line drawn along the centre of the Edinburgh road from the point at which it meets the Gallamuir road, and thence along the centre of the last-mentioned road to the point at which it meets the Snabhead road to the point at which the parish boundary near Pow Bridge. The remainder of the parish of St. Ninians exclusive of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Kilsyth beneficially and the parish so of Denny and Kilsyth (exclusive of the parish to the point where it clouded within the limits of the burgh of Kilsyth meet in a southerly direction along the boundary between the parishes of Denny and Kilsyth to the point where it clouds to the Point where the Canal feeder intersects the said burgh to the point where along the centre of the Tak-me-doun road to the point where the Start Boundary of the said burgh to the point where the Canal feeder intersects the said boundary, thence along the centre of the said Canal feeder in a north-easterly direction along the centre of the said Canal feeder in a north-easterly direction along the centre of the said Canal feeder in a contheasy of the parish of Kilsyth here to along the centre of the said Canal feeder in a contheasy of the parish of Kilsyth to the point of Kilsyth exclusive of the point where the colar old leading past Rashichill leaves		Sauchie—continued.	Craigbeg Cottage, thence along the centre of the road past last-mentioned road to the point as which the Woodcock-fauld road joins it, and thence along the said Woodcockful road to the boundary of the parish. That part of the parish of St. Ninians which lies to the north-east of the Bannockburn and Sauchie Divisions and to the east of the burgh of Stirling and to the north of the middle line of the Cowie road in the said parish from a point immediately to the east of the Roman Catholic Chapel and School to a point near Burnhead steading, and of a line drawn thence in an easterly direction along the southern boundary of the lands of Throak to the parish boundary. That part of the parish of St. Ninians which lies to the east of the Sauchie Division and to the south of a line drawn along the centre of the Edinburgh road from the point at which it meets the Gallamuri road, and thence along the centre of the last-mentioned road to the point at which it meets the Gallamuri road, and thence along the centre of the parish boundary near Pow Bridge. The remainder of the parish of St. Ninians exclusive of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Stirling. That part of the parish of Kilsyth (exclusive of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Stirling. That part of the parish of Kilsyth (exclusive of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Kilsyth which lies to the west of a line drawn from the point at which the parishes of St. Ninians, Denny and Kilsyth meet in a southerly direction along the boundary between the parishes of Denny and Kilsyth to the point at which the parishes of Denny and Kilsyth to the point at which the parishes of Denny and Kilsyth to the point at which the parishes of Denny and Kilsyth to the point at which the parishes of Denny and Kilsyth to the point at which the parishes of Denny and Kilsyth to the point where it often the point of the Tak-me-doun road to the point where it often she burgh of Kilsyth the south of Linns where the June and the point where the June and the point where the June and the point	•		Roadhead Farm till it meets the Roman road near West fauld road joins it, and thence along the said Woodcockfauld road to the boundary of the parish. That part of the parish of St. Ninians which lies to the moth-east of the Bannockburn and Sauchie Divisions and to the east of the Edinburgh road in the said parish from a point immediately to the east of the Roman Catholic Chapf and School to a point near Burnhead steading, and of a line drawn thence in an easterly direction along the southern boundary of a line drawn along the centre of the parish of St. Ninians which lies to the east of the Sauchie Division and to the south of a line drawn along the centre of the Edinburgh road from the point at which it meets the Snabhead road to the point at which it meets the Snabhead road to the point at which it meets the Snabhead road to the point at which it meets the Snabhead road to the point at which it meets the Snabhead road to the point at which it meets the Snabhead road to the point at which the parishes of St. Ninians, Point and St. Ninians exclusive of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Klisyth) which lies to the west of a line drawn from the point at which the Parishes of St. Ninians, Denny and Klisyth meet in a southerly direction along the boundary between the parishes of Denny and Klisyth to the point at which the Tak me-doun road leaves the said boundary, thence along the centre of the Tak me-doun road to the point where the can ledder in a north-casterly direction to the point where the can ledder in a north-casterly direction to the point where the can ledder leaves the said Reservoir, thence in a generally southerly direction along the centre of the said Canal feeder in a north-casterly direction to the point where the Canal feeder leaves the said Reservoir, thence in a generally southerly direction along the centre of the said contained to the parish of Klisyth to the parish near Craigmarloch. The remainder of the parish of Klisyth exclusive of the Tak me-doundary of the said Reservoir to the point on the eastern boundary of the sai road to the boundary of the parish of St. Ninians which lies to the north-east of the Bannockburn and Sauchie Divisions and to the east of the burgh of Strining and to the north of the middle line of the Cowie road in the said parish from a point immediately to the east of the Roman Catholic Chapel and School to a point near Burnhead steading, and of a line drawn thence in an easterty direction along the southern boundary of the lands of Throak to the parish boundary. That part of the parish of St. Ninians which lies to the east of the Sauchie Division and to the south of a line drawn along the centre of the Edinburgh road from the point at which it meets the Sashhead road to the point at which it meets the Sashhead road to the point at which it meets the Sashhead road to the point at which it meets the Sarining. 19 Kilsyth West 18 Cowie That part of the parish of St. Ninians exclusive of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Kilsyth) which lies to the vest of a line drawn from the point at which lies to the vest of a line drawn from the point at which lies to the vest of a line drawn from the point at which lies to the vest of a line drawn from the point at which lies to the vest of a line drawn from the point at which with the parishes of St. Ninians, Denny and Kilsyth meet in a southerly direction along the boundary between the parishes of St. Ninians and Kilsyth the parishes of St. Ninians and Kilsyth the Canal feeder in a north-easterly direction to the point where the original to the point where the canal feeder in a north-easterly direction to the point where it poins the Townhead Reservoir, thence along the western and southern boundary of the said Reservoir of the parish hear Craigmarloch. 20 Kilsyth East 21 Denny South West. 22 Denny South West. A Boundary of the said Reservoir, thence in a generally southerly direction along the centre of the said Osal feeder in a north-easterly dare control of the said Canal feeder in the parish of Kilsyth to the south of the parish of Men		* north-east of the Bannockburn and Sauchic Divisions and to the east of the burgh of Stirling and to the north of the middle line of the Cowie road in the said parish from a point immediately to the east of the Roman Catholic Chapel and School to a point near Burnhead steading, and of a line drawn theuce in an easterty direction along the souther boundary of the lands of Threak to the parish boundary. That part of the parish of St. Ninians which lies to the east of the Sauchie Division and to the south of a line drawn thence of the Edinburgh road from the point at which it meets the Sauchie Division and to the point at which it meets the Sauchie Division and thence along the centre of the Edinburgh road from the point at which it meets the Sauchie Division and thence along the centre of the Isst-mentioned road to the point at which it meets the parish boundary near Pow Bridgeth. Rilsyth West Kilsyth West Kilsy			road to the boundary of the parish. the east of the burgh of Stirling and to the north of me middle line of the Cowie road in the said parish from a point immediately to the east of the Roman Catholic Chapel and School to a point near Burnhead steading, and of a line drawn thence in an easterly direction along the southern boundary of the lands of Throsk to the parish boundary. That part of the parish of St. Ninians which lies to the east of the Sauchie Division and to the south of a line drawn along the centre of the Edinburgh road from the point at which it meets the Snabhead road to the point where it meets the parish boundary near Pow Bridge. 18 Cowie	16	Polmaise	That part of the parish of St. Ninians which lies to the middle line of the Cowie road in the said parish from a point immediately to the east of the Roman Catholic Chapel and School to a point near Burnhead steading, and of a line drawn thence in an easterty direction along the souther boundary of the lands of Throsk to the parish boundary. That part of the parish of St. Ninians which lies to the east of the Sauchie Division and to the south of a line drawn along the centre of the Edinburgh road from the point at which it meets the Sabhead road to the point at which it meets the Gallamuir road, and thence along the centre of the last-mentioned road to the point at which it meets the Gallamuir road, and thence along the centre of the parish of the parish of St. Ninians exclusive of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Stirling. That part of the parish of Kilsyth (exclusive of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Kilsyth) which lies to the west of a line drawn from the point at which the parishes of St. Ninians, Denny and Kilsyth which be parishes of St. Ninians, Denny and Kilsyth which be parishes of St. Ninians, Denny and Kilsyth which be parishes of Denny and Kilsyth to the point at which the Parishes of Denny and Kilsyth to the point at which the Parishes of St. Ninians, Denny and Kilsyth these the said boundary, thence along the centre of the said Canal feeder in a north-easterly direction to the point where the burgh of Kilsyth to the point where the clarks the burgh of Kilsyth to the point where the Canal feeder leaves the said Reservoir, thence along the western and southern boundary of the parish of the point where the Canal feeder leaves the said Reservoir of the point where the Canal feeder leaves the said Reservoir of the point where the Canal feeder leaves the said Caservoir, thence in a generally southerly direction along the centre of the said Canal feeder leaves the said can feeder leaves the said Caservoir of the point on the point on the eastern boundary of the point on the point on the said Canal feeder leaves th In a characteristic state of the parish boundary of the lands of Throsk to the parish boundary. That part of the parish of Sk. Ninians which lies to the east of the Sauchie Division and to the south of a line drawn than along the centre of the Edinburgh road from the point at which it meets the Gallamuir road, and thence along the centre of the Isal-mentioned road to the point of the last-mentioned road to the point where it meets the parish boundary near Pow Bridge. 18 Cowie line drawn thence in an easterly direction along the southern boundary of the lands of Throsk to the parish boundary. That part of the parish of St. Ninians which ile is to the east of the Sauchie Division and to the south of a line drawn along the centre of the Edinburgh road from the point at which it meets the Shabhead road to the point at which it meets the Shabhead road to the point at which it meets the Shabhead road to the point at which it meets the Shabhead road to the point at which it meets the Saidhamuir road, and thence along the centre of the last-mentioned road to the point where it meets the parish boundary near Pow Bridge. The remainder of the parish of St. Ninians exclusive of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Kilsyth) which lies to the west of a line drawn from the point at which the parishes of St. Ninians, Denny and Kilsyth meet in a southerly direction along the boundary between the parishes of Denny and Kilsyth to the point at which the parishes of Denny and Kilsyth to the point at which the parishes of Denny and Kilsyth to the parish to the point where the old leaves the said boundary, thence along the eastern boundary of the said burgh to the point where the Canal feeder in a rooth-easterly direction to the point where the Canal feeder in a north-easterly direction to the point where the Canal feeder in a north-easterly direction to the point where the Canal feeder in the parish to the said Canal feeder until it reaches the control of the said Canal feeder until it reaches the control of the said Canal feeder until it reaches the control of the said Canal feeder until it reaches the control of the said Canal feeder until it reaches the control of the said Canal feeder until it reaches the control of the said Canal feeder until it reaches the control of the said Canal feeder until it reaches the control of the said Canal feeder until it reaches the control of the said Canal feeder until it reaches the said valued of the said canal feeder until it reaches the said v		.,,,, boundary of the lands of Throis to the parish boundary. That part of the parish of St. Ninians which lies to the east of the Sauchie Division and to the south of a line drawn along the centre of the Edinburgh road from the point at which it meets the Gallamuir road, and thence along the centre of the last-mentioned road to the point where it meets the parish to the point at which it meets the Gallamuir road, and thence along the centre of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Stirling. The remainder of the parish of St. Ninians exclusive of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Stirling. That part of the parish of Kilsyth (exclusive of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Kilsyth) which lies to the west of a line drawn from the point at which the parishes of St. Ninians, Denny and Kilsyth where in a southerly direction along the boundary between the parishes of Denny and Kilsyth to the point at which the Park-me-doun road leaves the said boundary, thence along the centre of the Tak-me-doun road to the point where it elevate the burgh of Kilsyth thence along the western and southern of Kilsyth thence along the western and southern boundary of the said Denny and Kilsyth hence along the western and southern boundary of the said Reservoir, thence along the western and southern boundary of the parish near the canal feeder in a north-easterly direction along the centre of the said Canal feeder until it reaches the said Reservoir, thence in a generally southerly direction along the centre of the said Canal feeder until it reaches the said Reservoir to the point where the Canal feeder until it reaches the said Reservoir to the point where the canal feeder until it reaches the said Reservoir thence in a generally southerly direction along the centre of the said road until it joins the Drove Road to the north of Glenhead, thence along the centre of the said Drove Road to the north of Glenhead, thence along the centre of the said road leading to Seamores to the point a That part of the parish of St. Ninians which lies to the east of the Sauchie Division and to the south of a line drawn along the centre of the Edinburgh road from the point at which it meets the Gallamuir road, and thence along the centre of the last-mentioned road to the point where it meets the parish boundary near Pow Bridge. The remainder of the parish of St. Ninians exclusive of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Stirling. That part of the parish of Kilsyth (exclusive of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Kilsyth) which lies to the west of a line drawn from the point at which the parishes of St. Ninians, Denny and Kilsyth wheth is to the west of a line drawn from the point at which the parishes of Denny and Kilsyth the point at which the Tak-me-doun road leaves the said boundary, thence along the centre of the Tak-me-doun road leaves the said boundary, thence along the centre of the Tak-me-doun road leaves the said Reservoir, thence along the western and southern boundary of the parish can be point where the Canal feeder in a north-easterly direction to the point where it pions the Townhead Reservoir, thence along the western and southern boundary of the said Reservoir to the point where the Canal feeder leaves the said Reservoir to the point where the Canal feeder leaves the said Reservoir to the point where the Canal feeder leaves the said Reservoir to the point where the Canal feeder leaves the said Reservoir to the point where the Canal feeder leaves the said Reservoir to the point where the Canal feeder leaves the said reservoir to the point where the Canal feeder leaves the said Reservoir thence in a generally southerly direction along the centre of the said road leading to the centre of the said road leading to the parish of Kilsyth to the south of Craigmarloch. That part of the parish of Kilsyth to the south of a straight line drawn from the point on the eastern boundary of the parish of Relaward of the point on the centre of the said of leave the centre o along the centre of the Edinburgh road from the point at which it meets the Gallamuir road, and thence along the centre of the last-mentioned road to the point where it meets the parish to the point where the burgh of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Stirling. That part of the parish of Kilsyth (exclusive of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Kilsyth meet in a southerly direction along the boundary to the said the parishes of Denny and Kilsyth meet in a southerly direction along the boundary between the parishes of Denny and Kilsyth to the point where it enters the burgh of Kilsyth thence along the eastern boundary of the said burgh to the point where the Canal feeder in a north-easterly direction along the eastern boundary of the said burgh to the point where the Canal feeder in a north-easterly direction to the point where the poundary of the said Reservoir, thence along the western and southern boundary of the said Reservoir, thence along the western and southern boundary of the said Reservoir, thence along the western and southern boundary of the parish of the burgh of Kilsyth cutilities are calcable the southern boundary of the parish ear Craigmarloch. The remainder of the parish of Kilsyth exclusive of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Kilsyth. That part of the parish of Lenny which is bounded on the north and east by a line drawn from the point on the eastern boundary in an easterly and north-easterly direction along the centre of the said Orang leading past Rashiehill leaves the said Drove Road, passing Glenhead, Drumbowie and Bankhead to its junction with the main Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead, thence along the centre of the said orange leading to Seamores immediately to the west of the point where the said Glasgow and Stirling Road is a south-easterly direction along the cent	17	Plean	That part of the parish of St. Ninians which lies to the
which it meets the Snabhead road to the point at which it meets the Gallamuir road, and thence along the centre of the last-mentioned road to the point where it meets the parish boundary near Pow Bridge. The remainder of the parish of St. Ninians exclusive of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Stirling. That part of the parish of Kilsyth (exclusive of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Stirling. That part of the parish of Kilsyth (exclusive of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Kilsyth which lies to the west of a line drawn from the point at which the parishes of St. Ninians, Denny and Kilsyth which lies to the west of a line drawn from the point at which the parishes of Denny and Kilsyth to the point at which the Tak-me-doun road leaves the said boundary thence along the centre of the Tak-me-doun road to the point where it enters the burgh of Kilsyth thence along the enter boundary of the said with the parish parishes of Denny and the parish thence along the centre of the said Canal feeder in a north-easterly direction to the point where the Canal feeder leaves the said Reservoir, thence in a generally southerly direction along the centre of the said Canal feeder until it reaches the southern boundary of the parish near Craigmarloch. The remainder of the parish of Kilsyth exclusive of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Kilsyth. That part of the parish of Kilsyth to the south of Linns where the old road leading past Rashiehill leaves the said Drove Road, passing Glenhead, Drumbowie and Bankhead to its junction with the morth of Glenhead, thence along the centre of the said Drove Road to the north of Glenhead, thence along the centre of the said Torve Road, passing Glenhead, Drumbowie and Bankhead to its junction with the road leading to Seamores immediately to the west of the point where the said Glasgow and Stirling Road is crossed by the Relvin Valley Branch Railway and thence in a south-easterly direction along the centre of meets the Gallamuir road, and thence along the centre of the last-mentioned road to the point where it meets the parish boundary near Pow Bridge. The remainder of the parish of St. Ninians exclusive of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Stirling. That part of the parish of Kilsyth (exclusive of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Kilsyth) which is to the west of a line drawn from the point at which the parishes of St. Ninians, Denny and Kilsyth meet in a southerly direction along the boundary between the parishes of Denny and Kilsyth to the point at which the Tak-me-doun road leaves the said boundary, thence along the centre of the Tak-me-doun road to the point where it enters the burgh of Kilsyth thence along the eastern boundary of the said burgh to the point where the Canal feeder in a north-easterly direction to the point where the Jonal feeder in a north-easterly direction to the point where the Canal feeder leaves the said Reservoir, thence in a generally southerly direction along the centre of the said Canal feeder until it reaches the southern boundary of the parish near Craigmarloch. The remainder of the parish of Kilsyth exclusive of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Kilsyth and the parish of the parish of Kilsyth the parish near Craigmarloch. The remainder of the parish of Kilsyth to the south of Linns where the old road leading past Rashiehill leaves the said boundary in an easterly and north-easterly direction along the centre of the said One passing Glenhead, Drumbowie and Bankhead to its junction with the main Glasgow and Stirling Road to its junction with the main Glasgow and Stirling Road to its junction with the main Glasgow and Stirling Road to its junction with the main Glasgow and Stirling Road to its junction with the main Glasgow and Stirling Road to its junction with the main Glasgow and Stirling Road to its junction along the centre of the said road leading to Seamores immediately to the west of the point where the said Gla 18 Cowie			meets the Gallamuir road, and thence along the centre of The remainder of the parish of St. Ninians exclusive of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Stirling. That part of the parish of Kilsyth (exclusive of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Kilsyth) which lies to the west of a line drawn from the point at which the parishes of St. Ninians, Denny and Kilsyth meet in a southerly direction along the boundary between the parishes of Denny and Kilsyth to the point at which the Tak-me-doun road leaves the said boundary, thence along the centre of the Tak-me-doun road to the point where it enters the burgh of Kilsyth thence along the eastern boundary of the said burgh to the point where the Canal feeder in a north-easterly direction to the point where it joins the Townhead Reservoir, thence along the western and southern boundary of the said Reservoir, thence in a generally southerly direction along the centre of the parish near Craigmarloch. The remainder of the parish of Kilsyth exclusive of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Kilsyth. That part of the parish of Kilsyth exclusive of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Kilsyth. That part of the parish of Kilsyth to the south of Linns where the old road leading past Rashiehill leaves the said boundary in an easterly and north-easterly direction along the centre of the said road until it joins the Drove Road to the north of Glenhead, thence along the centre of the said road leading to Seamores immediately to the west of the point where the said Glasgow and Stirling Road is rossed by the Kelvin Valley Branch Railway and thence in a south-easterly direction along the centre of the said road leading to Seamores immediately to the west of the Denny South West Division and to the south of a straight line drawn from the junction of the Drove Road passing through Bankhead with the Glasgow and Stirling Road is crossed by the Kelvin Valley Branch Railway and thence in a south-easterly direction through Chasefield Wood to the point on the parish boundary the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Stirling. That part of the parish of Kilsyth (exclusive of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Kilsyth) which lies to the west of a line drawn from the point at which the parishes of St. Ninians, Denny and Kilsyth which lies to the west of a line drawn from the point at which the parishes of Denny and Kilsyth to the point at which the Tak-me-doun road leaves the said boundary, thence along the centre of the Tak-me-doun road to the point where it enters the burgh of Kilsyth thence along the eastern boundary of the said burgh to the point where the Canal feeder in a north-easterly direction to the point where the Canal feeder in a north-easterly direction to the point where the Canal feeder haves the said Reservoir, thence along the western and southern boundary of the said Reservoir to the point where the Canal feeder leaves the said Reservoir, thence in a generally southerly direction along the centre of the parish near Craigmarloch. The remainder of the parish of Kilsyth exclusive of the potion included within the limits of the burgh of Kilsyth. That part of the parish of Cenny which is bounded on the north and east by a line drawn from the point on the eastern boundary of the parish of Milsyth to the south of Linns where the old road leading past Rashiehill leaves the said boundary in an easterly and north-easterly direction along the centre of the said Glasgow and Stirling Road is to the north of Glenhead, thence along the centre of the said Drove Road, passing Glenhead, Drumbowie and Bankhead to its junction with the main Glasgow and Stirling Road is crossed by the Kelvin Valley Branch Railway and thence in a south-easterly direction along the centre of the said Glasgow and Stirling Road is crossed by the Kelvin Valley Branch Railway and thence in a south-easterly direction of the port of a straight line drawn from the junction of the Drove Road passing through Bankhead with the Glasgow and Stirling Road is crossed by the Melvin Va	18	Cowie
That part of the parish of Kilsyth (exclusive of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Kilsyth which lies to the west of a line drawn from the point at which the parishes of St. Ninians, Denny and Kilsyth meet in a southerly direction along the boundary between the parishes of Denny and Kilsyth to the point at which the Tak-me-doun road leaves the said boundary, thence along the centre of the Tak-me-doun road to the point where it enters the burgh of Kilsyth thence along the eastern boundary of the said burgh to the point where the Canal feeder intersects the said boundary, thence along the centre of the said Canal feeder in a north-easterly direction to the point where the Canal feeder leaves the said Reservoir, thence along the western and southern boundary of the said Reservoir, thence in a generally southerly direction along the centre of the said Canal feeder until it reaches the southern boundary of the parish near Craigmarloch. The remainder of the parish of Kilsyth exclusive of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Kilsyth. That part of the parish of Denny which is bounded on the north and east by a line drawn from the point on the eastern boundary of the parish of Kilsyth and the centre of the said conductary in an easterly and north-easterly direction along the centre of the said road until it joins the Drove Road to the north of Glenhead, thence along the centre of the said Drove Road, passing Glenhead, Drumbowie and Bankhead to its junction with the main Glasgow and Stirling Road is the centre of the said Glasgow and Stirling Road to the point where the said road purchased to the point where the said Glasgow and Stirling Road is crossed by the Kelvin Valley Branch Railway and thence in a south-easterly direction along the centre of the said road pleading to Seamores to the point at which it weets the parish boundary at the Bonny Water. (1) That part of the parish of Denny which lies to the east of the Denny South West Division and to the south of a straight line d	. 20		the portion included within the limits of the burgh of
included within the limits of the burgh of Kilsyth which lies to the west of a line drawn from the point at which the parishes of St. Ninians, Denny and Kilsyth meet in a southerly direction along the boundary between the parishes of Denny and Kilsyth to the point at which the Tak-me-doun road leaves the said boundary, thence along the centre of the Tak-me-doun road to the point where it enters the burgh of Kilsyth thence along the eastern boundary of the said boundary, thence along the enter of the said Canal feeder in a north-easterly direction to the point where it joins the Townhead Reservoir, thence along the western and southern boundary of the said Reservoir, thence in a generally southerly direction along the centre of the said Canal feeder leaves the said Reservoir, thence in a generally southerly direction along the centre of the said Canal feeder until it reaches the southern boundary of the parish near Craigmarloch. The remainder of the parish of Kilsyth exclusive of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Kilsyth. That part of the parish of Enny which is bounded on the north and east by a line drawn from the point on the eastern boundary of the parish of the parish of the burgh of Kilsyth exclusive of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Kilsyth that the south of Linns where the old road leading past Rashiehill leaves the said boundary in an easterly and north-easterly direction along the centre of the said Drove Road, passing Glenhead, Drumbowie and Bankhead to its junction with the main Glasgow and Stirling Road is the north of Glenhead, thence along the centre of the said Toad prove Road to the north of Glenhead, thence along the centre of the said conseed by the Kelvin Valley Branch Railway and thence in a south-westerly direction along the centre of the said road leading to Seamores to the point at which it meets the parish boundary at the Bonny Water. (1) That part of the parish of Denny which lies to the east of the Denny South West Division and to the sou	10	TZ:141	Stirling.
lies to the west of a line drawn from the point at which the parishes of St. Ninians, Denny and Kilsyth meet in a southerly direction along the boundary between the parishes of Denny and Kilsyth to the point at which the Tak-me-doun road leading ty, thence along the centre of the Tak me-doun road to the point where it enters the burgh of Kilsyth thence along the eastern boundary of the said burgh to the point where the Canal feeder in a north-easterly direction to the point where it is point to more a constant of the said Canal feeder in a north-easterly direction to the point where the Canal feeder leaves the said Reservoir to the point where the Canal feeder leaves the said Reservoir to the point where the Canal feeder leaves the said Reservoir to the point where the Canal feeder until it reaches the southern boundary of the parish of the parish of the parish near Craigmarloch. The remainder of the parish of Kilsyth exclusive of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Kilsyth. That part of the parish of Denny which is bounded on the north and east by a line drawn from the point on the eastern boundary of the parish of Kilsyth to the south of Linns where the old road leading past Rashiehill leaves the said boundary in an easterly and north-easterly direction along the centre of the said Drove Road, passing Glenhead, Drumbowie and Bankhead to its junction with the main Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead, thence in a south-westerly direction along the centre of the said Glasgow and Stirling Road is crossed by the Kelvin Valley Branch Railway and thence in a south-easterly direction along the centre of the said grows and Stirling Road is crossed by the Kelvin Valley Branch Railway and thence in a south-easterly direction along the centre of the said road leading to Seamores to the point at which it meets the parish boundary at the Bonny Water. (1) That part of the parish of Denny which lies to the east of the Denny South West Division and to the south of a straight line drawn from the junction	19	Kiisyun west	included within the limits of the hurgh of Kilsyth) which parishes of St. Ninians, Denny and Kilsyth meet in a southerly direction along the boundary between the parishes of Denny and Kilsyth to the point at which the Tak-me-doun road leaves the said boundary, thence along the centre of the Tak-me-doun road to the point where it enters the burgh of Kilsyth thence along the eastern boundary of the said boundary, thence along the centre of the said Canal feeder in a north-easterly direction to the point where it joins the Townhead Reservoir, thence along the western and southern boundary of the said Reservoir to the point where the Canal feeder leaves the said Reservoir, thence in a generally southerly direction along the centre of the said Canal feeder until it reaches the southern boundary of the parish near Craigmarloch. The remainder of the parish of Kilsyth exclusive of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Kilsyth. That part of the parish of Denny which is bounded on the north and east by a line drawn from the point on the eastern boundary of the parish of Kilsyth to the south of Linns where the old road leading past Rashiehill leaves the said boundary in an easterly and north-easterly direction along the centre of the said road until it joins the Drove Road to the north of Glenhead, thence along the centre of the said Drove Road, passing Glenhead, Drumbowie and Bankhead to its junction with the main Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead, thence in a south-westerly direction along the centre of the said road leading to Seamores immediately to the west of the point where the said Glasgow and Stirling Road is crossed by the Kelvin Valley Branch Railway and thence in a south-easterly direction along the centre of the said road leading to Seamores to the point at which it meets the parish boundary at the Bonny Water. (1) That part of the parish of Denny which lies to the east of the Denny South West Division and to the south of a straight line drawn from the junction of the Drove Road passing through Bankhead with the Glasgow and Stirling Road at M			lies to the west of a line drawn from the point at which the
of Denny and Kilsyth to the point at which the Tak-me-doun road leaves the said boundary, thence along the centre of the Tak-me-doun road to the point where it enters the burgh of Kilsyth thence along the eastern boundary of the said burgh to the point where the Canal feeder intersects the said boundary, thence along the centre of the said Canal feeder in a north-easterly direction to the point where it joins the Townhead Reservoir, thence along the western and southern boundary of the said Reservoir, thence in a generally southerly direction along the centre of the said Canal feeder until it reaches the southern boundary of the parish near Craigmarloch. The remainder of the parish of Kilsyth exclusive of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Kilsyth. That part of the parish of Denny which is bounded on the north and east by a line drawn from the point on the eastern boundary of the parish of Kilsyth to the south of Linns where the old road leading past Rasheill leaves the said boundary in an easterly and north-easterly direction along the centre of the said Drove Road, passing Glenhead, Drumbowie and Bankhead to its junction with the main Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead, thence in a south-westerly direction along the centre of the said Glasgow and Stirling Road is crossed by the Kelvin Valley Branch Railway and thence in a south-easterly direction along the centre of the said of the Point at which it meets the parish boundary at the Bonny Water. (1) That part of the parish of Denny which lies to the east of the Denny South West Division and to the south of a straight line drawn from the junction of the Prove Road passing through Bankhead with the Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead in a north-easterly direction through Chasefield Wood to the point on the parish boundary a which it is crossed by the main road leading from Denny which it is crossed by the main road leading from Denny and which it is crossed by the main road leading from Denny which it is crossed by the main road leadi			parishes of St. Ninians, Denny and Kilsyth meet in a road leaves the said boundary, thence along the centre of the Tak-me-doun road to the point where it enters the burgh of Kilsyth thence along the eastern boundary of the said burgh to the point where the Canal feeder in a north-easterly direction to the point where it joins the Townhead Reservoir, thence along the western and southern boundary of the said Reservoir to the point where the Canal feeder leaves the said Reservoir, thence in a generally southerly direction along the centre of the said Canal feeder until it reaches the southern boundary of the parish near Craigmarloch. The remainder of the parish of Kilsyth exclusive of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Kilsyth. That part of the parish of Denny which is bounded on the north and east by a line drawn from the point on the eastern boundary of the parish of Kilsyth to the south of Linus where the old road leading past Rashiehill leaves the said boundary in an easterly and north-easterly direction along the centre of the said road until it joins the Drove Road to the north of Glenhead, thence along the centre of the said Drove Road, passing Glenhead, Drumbowie and Bankhead to its junction with the main Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead, thence in a south-westerly direction along the centre of the said Glasgow and Stirling Road is crossed by the Kelvin Valley Branch Railway and thence in a south-easterly direction along the centre of the said road leading to Seamores immediately to the west of the Denny South West Division and to the south of a straight line drawn from the junction of the Drove Road leading to Seamores to the point at which it meets the parish boundary at the Bonny Water. 12 Bonnybridge West. 22 Bonnybridge West.			southerly direction along the boundary between the parishes the Tak-me-doun road to the point where it enters the burgh of Kilsyth thence along the eastern boundary of the said burgh to the point where the Canal feeder intersects the said boundary, thence along the centre of the said Canal feeder in a north-easterly direction to the point where it joins the Townhead Reservoir, thence along the western and southern boundary of the said Reservoir, thence in a generally southerly direction along the centre of the said Canal feeder until it reaches the southern boundary of the parish near Craigmarloch. The remainder of the parish of Kilsyth exclusive of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Kilsyth. That part of the parish of Denny which is bounded on the north and east by a line drawn from the point on the eastern boundary in an easterly and north-easterly direction along the centre of the said road until it joins the Drove Road to the north of Glenhead, thence along the centre of the said Drove Road, passing Glenhead, Drumbowie and Bankhead to its junction with the main Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead, thence in a south-westerly direction along the centre of the said Glasgow and Stirling Road to its junction with the road leading to Seamores immediately to the west of the point where the said Glasgow and Stirling Road is crossed by the Kelvin Valley Branch Railway and thence in a south-easterly direction along the centre of the said road leading to Seamores to the point at which it meets the parish boundary at the Bonny Water. 1) That part of the parish of Denny which lies to the east of the Denny South West Division and to the south of a straight line drawn from the junction of the Drove Road passing through Bankhead with the Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead in a north-easterly direction through Chasefield Wood to the point on the parish boundary at which it is crossed by the main road leading from Denny			road leaves the said boundary, thence along the centre of burgh to the point where the Canal feeder intersects the said boundary, thence along the centre of the said Canal feeder in a north-easterly direction to the point where it joins the Townhead Reservoir, thence along the western and southern boundary of the said Reservoir, thence in a generally southerly direction along the centre of the said Canal feeder until it reaches the southern boundary of the parish near Craigmarloch. The remainder of the parish of Kilsyth exclusive of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Kilsyth. That part of the parish of Denny which is bounded on the north and east by a line drawn from the point on the eastern boundary of the parish of Kilsyth to the south of Linns where the old road leading past Rashiehill leaves the said boundary in an easterly and north-easterly direction along the centre of the said Orove Road, passing Glenhead, Drumbowie and Bankhead to its junction with the main Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead, thence in a south-westerly direction along the centre of the said Glasgow and Stirling Road is crossed by the Kelvin Valley Branch Railway and thence in a south-easterly direction along the centre of the said rosed leading to Seamores immediately to the west of the point where the said Glasgow and Stirling Road is crossed by the Kelvin Valley Branch Railway and thence in a south-easterly direction along the centre of the said rosed leading to Seamores to the point at which it meets the parish boundary at the Bonny Water. (1) That part of the parish of Denny which lies to the east of the Denny South West Division and to the south of a straight line drawn from the junction of the Drove Road passing through Bankhead with the Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead in a north-easterly direction through Chasefield Wood to the point on the parish boundary which it is crossed by the main road leading from Denny			the Tak-me-doun road to the point where it enters the burgh boundary, thence along the centre of the said Ganal feeder in a north-easterly direction to the point where it joins the Townhead Reservoir, thence in a generally southerly direction along the western and southern boundary of the said Reservoir, thence in a generally southerly direction along the centre of the said Ganal feeder until it reaches the southern boundary of the parish near Craigmarloch. The remainder of the parish of Kilsyth exclusive of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Kilsyth. That part of the parish of Denny which is bounded on the north and east by a line drawn from the point on the eastern boundary of the parish of Kilsyth to the south of Linns where the old road leading past Rashiehill leaves the said boundary in an easterly and north-easterly direction along the centre of the said road until it joins the Drove Road to the north of Glenhead, thence along the centre of the said Drove Road, passing Glenhead, Drumbowie and Bankhead to its junction with the main Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead, thence in a south-westerly direction along the centre of the said Glasgow and Stirling Road is crossed by the Kelvin Valley Branch Railway and thence in a south-westerly direction along the centre of the said road leading to Seamores to the point at which it meets the parish boundary at the Bonny Water. 1 Part of the parish of Denny which lies to the east of the Denny South West Division and to the south of a straight line drawn from the junction of the Drove Road passing through Bankhead with the Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead in a north-easterly direction through Chasefield Wood to the point on the parish boundary at which it is crossed by the main road leading from Denny in a north-easterly direction to the point where it joins the Townhead Reservoir, thence along the western and southern boundary of the said Reservoir, thence in a generally southerly direction along the centre of the said Canal feeder until it reaches the southern boundary of the parish near Craigmarloch. Denny South West. Denny South West. Denny South West. That part of the parish of Kilsyth exclusive of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Kilsyth. That part of the parish of Denny which is bounded on the north and east by a line drawn from the point on the eastern boundary of the parish of Kilsyth to the south of Linns where the old road leading past Rashiehill leaves the said boundary in an easterly and north-easterly direction along the centre of the said road until it joins the Drove Road to the north of Glenhead, thence along the centre of the said Drove Road, passing Glenhead, Drumbowie and Bankhead to its junction with the main Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead, thence in a south-westerly direction along the centre of the said Glasgow and Stirling Road is crossed by the Kelvin Valley Branch Railway and thence in a south-easterly direction along the centre of the said road leading to Seamores to the point at which it meets the parish boundary at the Bonny Water. (1) That part of the parish of Denny which lies to the east of the Denny South West Division and to the south of a straight line drawn from the junction of the Drove Road passing through Bankhead with the Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead in a north-easterly direction through Road at Muirhead in a north-easterly direction through the centre of the said of the Drove Road passing through Bankhead with the Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead in a north-easterly direction through the centre of the parish boundary at which it is crossed by the main road leading from Denny boundary of the said Reservoir to the point where the Canal feeder leaves the said Reservoir, thence in a generally southerly direction along the centre of the said Canal feeder until it reaches the southern boundary of the parish near Craigmarloch. The remainder of the parish of Kilsyth exclusive of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Kilsyth. That part of the parish of Denny which is bounded on the north and east by a line drawn from the point on the eastern boundary of the parish of Kilsyth to the south of Linns where the old road leading past Rashiehill leaves the said boundary in an easterly and north-easterly direction along the centre of the said road until it joins the Drove Road to the north of Glenhead, thence along the centre of the said Drove Road, passing Glenhead, Drumbowie and Bankhead to its junction with the main Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead, thence in a south-westerly direction along the centre of the said Glasgow and Stirling Road is crossed by the Kelvin Valley Branch Railway and thence in a south-easterly direction along the centre of the said road leading to Seamores to the point at which it meets the parish boundary at the Bonny Water. (1) That part of the parish of Denny which lies to the east of the Denny South West Division and to the south of a straight line drawn from the junction of the Drove Road passing through Bankhead with the Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead in a north-easterly direction through Chasefield Wood to the point on the parish boundary at which it is crossed by the main road leading from Denny			in a north-easterly direction to the point where it joins the feeder leaves the said Reservoir, thence in a generally southerly direction along the centre of the said Canal feeder until it reaches the southern boundary of the parish near Craigmarloch. The remainder of the parish of Kilsyth exclusive of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Kilsyth. That part of the parish of Denny which is bounded on the north and east by a line drawn from the point on the eastern boundary of the parish of Kilsyth to the south of Linns where the old road leading past Rashiehill leaves the said boundary in an easterly and north-easterly direction along the centre of the said road until it joins the Drove Road to the north of Glenhead, thence along the centre of the said Drove Road, passing Glenhead, Drumbowie and Bankhead to its junction with the main Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead, thence in a south-westerly direction along the centre of the said Glasgow and Stirling Road is crossed by the Kelvin Valley Branch Railway and thence in a south-easterly direction along the centre of the said road leading to Seamores to the point at which it meets the parish boundary at the Bonny Water. (1) That part of the parish of Denny which lies to the east of the Denny South West Division and to the south of a straight line drawn from the junction of the Drove Road passing through Bankhead with the Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead in a north-easterly direction through Chasefield Wood to the point on the parish boundary at which it is crossed by the main road leading from Denny Kilsyth East Denny South West. South-leaster be parish of Kilsyth exclusive of the point on the parish obounded on the north and east by a line drawn from the point on the said Fallow and the said boundary in an easterly and north-leasterly direction along the centre of the said Drove Road, passing Glenhead, Drumbowie and Bankhead to its junction with the main Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead, thence in a south-westerly direction along the centre of the said road leading to Seamores immediately to the west of the point where the said Glasgow and Stirling Road is crossed by the Kelvin Valley Branch Railway and thence in a south-easterly direction along the centre of the said road leading to Seamores to the point at which it meets the parish boundary at the Bonny Water. (1) That part of the parish of Denny which lies to the east of the Denny South West Division and to the south of a straight line drawn from the junction of the Drove Road passing through Bankhead with the Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead in a north-easterly direction through Chasefield Wood to the point on the parish boundary at which it is crossed by the main road leading from Denny Craigmarloch. The remainder of the parish of Kilsyth exclusive of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Kilsyth. That part of the parish of Denny which is bounded on the north and east by a line drawn from the point on the eastern boundary of the parish of Kilsyth to the south of Linns where the old road leading past Rashiehill leaves the said boundary in an easterly and north-easterly direction along the centre of the said road until it joins the Drove Road to the north of Glenhead, thence along the centre of the said Drove Road, passing Glenhead, Drumbowie and Bankhead to its junction with the main Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead, thence in a south-westerly direction along the centre of the said Glasgow and Stirling Road is crossed by the Kelvin Valley Branch Railway and thence in a south-easterly direction along the centre of the said road leading to Seamores to the point at which it meets the parish boundary at the Bonny Water. (1) That part of the parish of Denny which lies to the east of the Denny South West Division and to the south of a straight line drawn from the junction of the Drove Road passing through Bankhead with the Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead in a north-easterly direction through Chasefield Wood to the point on the parish boundary at which it is crossed by the main road leading from Denny			southerly direction along the centre of the said Canal feeder
Denny South West. The remainder of the parish of Kilsyth exclusive of the portion included within the limits of the burgh of Kilsyth. That part of the parish of Denny which is bounded on the north and east by a line drawn from the point on the eastern boundary of the parish of Kilsyth to the south of Linns where the old road leading past Rashiehill leaves the said boundary in an easterly and north-easterly direction along the centre of the said road until it joins the Drove Road to the north of Glenhead, thence along the centre of the said Drove Road, passing Glenhead, Drumbowie and Bankhead to its junction with the main Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead, thence in a south-westerly direction along the centre of the said Glasgow and Stirling Road is or the point where the said Glasgow and Stirling Road is crossed by the Kelvin Valley Branch Railway and thence in a south-easterly direction along the centre of the said road leading to Seamores to the point at which it meets the parish boundary at the Bonny Water. (1) That part of the parish of Denny which lies to the east of the Denny South West Division and to the south of a straight line drawn from the junction of the Drove Road passing through Bankhead with the Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead in a north-easterly direction through Chasefield Wood to the point on the parish boundary at which it is crossed by the main road leading from Denny Denny South West. Denny South West. Denny South West. That part of the parish of Denny which is bounded on the north and east by a line drawn from the point on the eastern boundary of the parish of Kilsyth to the south of Linns where the old road leading past Rashiehill leaves the said boundary in an easterly and north-easterly direction along the centre of the said road until it joins the Drove Road to the north of Glenhead, thence along the centre of the said Drove Road, passing Glenhead, Drumbowie and Bankhead to its junction with the main Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead, thence in a south-westerly direction along the centre of the said Glasgow and Stirling Road is of the point where the said Glasgow and Stirling Road is crossed by the Kelvin Valley Branch Railway and thence in a south-easterly direction along the centre of the said road leading to Seamores to the point at which it meets the parish boundary at the Bonny Water. 1) That part of the parish of Denny which lies to the east of the Denny South West Division and to the south of a straight line drawn from the junction of the Drove Road passing through Bankhead with the Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead in a north-easterly direction through Chasefield Wood to the point on the parish boundary at which it is crossed by the main road leading from Denny	. 30	Kilsyth East	The remainder of the parish of Kilsyth exclusive of the north and east by a line drawn from the point on the eastern boundary of the parish of Kilsyth to the south of Linns where the old road leading past Rashiehill leaves the said boundary in an easterly and north-easterly direction along the centre of the said road until it joins the Drove Road to the north of Glenhead, thence along the centre of the said Drove Road, passing Glenhead, Drumbowie and Bankhead to its junction with the main Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead, thence in a south-westerly direction along the centre of the said Glasgow and Stirling Road to its junction with the road leading to Seamores immediately to the west of the point where the said Glasgow and Stirling Road is crossed by the Kelvin Valley Branch Railway and thence in a south-easterly direction along the centre of the said road leading to Seamores to the point at which it meets the parish boundary at the Bonny Water. (1) That part of the parish of Denny which lies to the east of the Denny South West Division and to the south of a straight line drawn from the junction of the Drove Road passing through Bankhead with the Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead in a north-easterly direction through Chasefield Wood to the point on the parish boundary at which it is crossed by the main road leading from Denny			portion included within the limits of the burgh of Kilsyth.
boundary of the parish of Kilsyth to the south of Linns where the old road leading past Rashiehill leaves the said boundary in an easterly and north-easterly direction along the centre of the said road until it joins the Drove Road to the north of Glenhead, thence along the centre of the said Drove Road, passing Glenhead, Drumbowie and Bankhead to its junction with the main Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead, thence in a south-westerly direction along the centre of the said Glasgow and Stirling Road is crossed by the Kelvin Valley Branch Railway and thence in a south-easterly direction along the centre of the said road leading to Seamores to the point at which it meets the parish boundary at the Bonny Water. (1) That part of the parish of Denny which lies to the east of the Denny South West Division and to the south of a straight line drawn from the junction of the Drove Road passing through Bankhead with the Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead in a north-easterly direction through Chasefield Wood to the point on the parish boundary at which it is crossed by the main road leading from Denny	21	Denny South West.	That part of the parish of Denny which is bounded on the
where the old road leading past Rashiehill leaves the said boundary in an easterly and north-easterly direction along the centre of the said road until it joins the Drove Road to the north of Glenhead, thence along the centre of the said Drove Road, passing Glenhead, Drumbowie and Bankhead to its junction with the main Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead, thence in a south-westerly direction along the centre of the said Glasgow and Stirling Road is crossed by the Kelvin Valley Branch Railway and thence in a south-easterly direction along the centre of the said road leading to Seamores to the point at which it meets the parish boundary at the Bonny Water. (1) That part of the parish of Denny which lies to the east of the Denny South West Division and to the south of a straight line drawn from the junction of the Drove Road passing through Bankhead with the Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead in a north-easterly direction through Chasefield Wood to the point on the parish boundary at which it is crossed by the main road leading from Denny			boundary of the parish of Kilsyth to the south of Linns boundary in an easterly and north-easterly direction along the centre of the said road until it joins the Drove Road to the north of Glenhead, thence along the centre of the said Drove Road, passing Glenhead, Drumbowie and Bankhead to its junction with the main Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead, thence in a south-westerly direction along the centre of the said Glasgow and Stirling Road to its junction with the road leading to Seamores immediately to the west of the point where the said Glasgow and Stirling Road is crossed by the Kelvin Valley Branch Railway and thence in a south-easterly direction along the centre of the said road leading to Seamores to the point at which it meets the parish boundary at the Bonny Water. (1) That part of the parish of Denny which lies to the east of the Denny South West Division and to the south of a straight line drawn from the junction of the Drove Road passing through Bankhead with the Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead in a north-easterly direction through Chasefield Wood to the point on the parish boundary at which it is crossed by the main road leading from Denny			where the old road leading past Rashiehill leaves the said to the north of Glenhead, thence along the centre of the said Drove Road, passing Glenhead, Drumbowie and Bankhead to its junction with the main Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead, thence in a south-westerly direction along the centre of the said Glasgow and Stirling Road to its junction with the road leading to Seamores immediately to the west of the point where the said Glasgow and Stirling Road is crossed by the Kelvin Valley Branch Railway and thence in a south-easterly direction along the centre of the said road leading to Seamores to the point at which it meets the parish boundary at the Bonny Water. (1) That part of the parish of Denny which lies to the east of the Denny South West Division and to the south of a straight line drawn from the junction of the Drove Road passing through Bankhead with the Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead in a north-easterly direction through Chasefield Wood to the point on the parish boundary at which it is crossed by the main road leading from Denny			boundary in an easterly and north-easterly direction along Drove Road, passing Glenhead, Drumbowie and Bankhead to its junction with the main Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead, thence in a south-westerly direction along the centre of the said Glasgow and Stirling Road to its junction with the road leading to Seamores immediately to the west of the point where the said Glasgow and Stirling Road is crossed by the Kelvin Valley Branch Railway and thence in a south-easterly direction along the centre of the said road leading to Seamores to the point at which it meets the parish boundary at the Bonny Water. (1) That part of the parish of Denny which lies to the east of the Denny South West Division and to the south of a straight line drawn from the junction of the Drove Road passing through Bankhead with the Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead in a north-easterly direction through Chasefield Wood to the point on the parish boundary at which it is crossed by the main road leading from Denny			to the parth of Glapheed thence along the centre of the said to its junction with the main Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead, thence in a south-westerly direction along the centre of the said Glasgow and Stirling Road to its junction with the road leading to Seamores immediately to the west of the point where the said Glasgow and Stirling Road is crossed by the Kelvin Valley Branch Railway and thence in a south-easterly direction along the centre of the said road leading to Seamores to the point at which it meets the parish boundary at the Bonny Water. (1) That part of the parish of Denny which lies to the east of the Denny South West Division and to the south of a straight line drawn from the junction of the Drove Road passing through Bankhead with the Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead in a north-easterly direction through Chasefield Wood to the point on the parish boundary at which it is crossed by the main road leading from Denny			Drove Road, passing Glenhead, Drumbowie and Bankhead centre of the said Glasgow and Stirling Road to its junction with the road leading to Seamores immediately to the west of the point where the said Glasgow and Stirling Road is crossed by the Kelvin Valley Branch Railway and thence in a south-easterly direction along the centre of the said road leading to Seamores to the point at which it meets the parish boundary at the Bonny Water. (1) That part of the parish of Denny which lies to the east of the Denny South West Division and to the south of a straight line drawn from the junction of the Drove Road passing through Bankhead with the Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead in a north-easterly direction through Chasefield Wood to the point on the parish boundary at which it is crossed by the main road leading from Denny			to its junction with the main Glasgow and Stirling Road at with the road leading to Seamores immediately to the west of the point where the said Glasgow and Stirling Road is crossed by the Kelvin Valley Branch Railway and thence in a south-easterly direction along the centre of the said road leading to Seamores to the point at which it meets the parish boundary at the Bonny Water. (1) That part of the parish of Denny which lies to the east of the Denny South West Division and to the south of a straight line drawn from the junction of the Drove Road passing through Bankhead with the Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead in a north-easterly direction through Chasefield Wood to the point on the parish boundary at which it is crossed by the main road leading from Denny			Muirhead, thence in a south-westerly direction along the of the point where the said Glasgow and Stirling Road is crossed by the Kelvin Valley Branch Railway and thence in a south-easterly direction along the centre of the said road leading to Seamores to the point at which it meets the parish boundary at the Bonny Water. (1) That part of the parish of Denny which lies to the east of the Denny South West Division and to the south of a straight line drawn from the junction of the Drove Road passing through Bankhead with the Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead in a north-easterly direction through Chasefield Wood to the point on the parish boundary at which it is crossed by the main road leading from Denny			with the road leading to Seamores immediately to the west a south-easterly direction along the centre of the said road leading to Seamores to the point at which it meets the parish boundary at the Bonny Water. (1) That part of the parish of Denny which lies to the east of the Denny South West Division and to the south of a straight line drawn from the junction of the Drove Road passing through Bankhead with the Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead in a north-easterly direction through Chasefield Wood to the point on the parish boundary at which it is crossed by the main road leading from Denny			of the point where the said Glasgow and Stirling Road is Bonnybridge West. Bonnybridge West. Bonnybridge West. Bonnybridge West. (1) That part of the parish of Denny which lies to the east of the Denny South West Division and to the south of a straight line drawn from the junction of the Drove Road passing through Bankhead with the Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead in a north-easterly direction through Chasefield Wood to the point on the parish boundary at which it is crossed by the main road leading from Denny			crossed by the Kelvin Valley Branch Kallway and thence in Bonnybridge West. Bonnybridge West. (1) That part of the parish of Denny which lies to the east of the Denny South West Division and to the south of a straight line drawn from the junction of the Drove Road passing through Bankhead with the Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead in a north-easterly direction through Chasefield Wood to the point on the parish boundary at which it is crossed by the main road leading from Denny			leading to Seamores to the point at which it meets the parish east of the Denny South West Division and to the south of a straight line drawn from the junction of the Drove Road passing through Bankhead with the Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead in a north-easterly direction through Chasefield Wood to the point on the parish boundary at which it is crossed by the main road leading from Denny			boundary at the Bonny Water. a straight line drawn from the junction of the Drove Road passing through Bankhead with the Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead in a north-easterly direction through Chasefield Wood to the point on the parish boundary at which it is crossed by the main road leading from Denny	22	Bonnybridge West.	(1) That part of the parish of Denny which lies to the passing through Bankhead with the Glasgow and Stirling Road at Muirhead in a north-easterly direction through Chasefield Wood to the point on the parish boundary at which it is crossed by the main road leading from Denny		, ·	a straight line drawn from the junction of the Drove Road Road at Muirhead in a north-easterly direction through Chasefield Wood to the point on the parish boundary at which it is crossed by the main road leading from Denny			passing through Bankhead with the Glasgow and Stirling which it is crossed by the main road leading from Denny			Road at Muirhead in a north-easterly direction through
WHICH IS CHOSEN BY THE THEM I AND IN THE	į	·	which it is crossed by the main road leading from Denny
I and Dunipace to Falkirk, and (2) that part of the parish of		4.7	and Dunipace to Falkirk, and (2) that part of the parish of