PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY.

FROM FRIDAY, AUGUST 19, to TUESDAY, AUGUST 23, 1808.

DOWNING STREET, August 16, 1808.

A Dispatch, of which the following is a Copy, has this day been received by the Right Honourable Lord Viscount CASTLEREAGH, one of his Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, from Lieutenant-General Sir HEW DALRYMPLE, K. B. dated Gibraltar, July 24, 1808.

MY LORD, Gibraltar, July 24, 1808.

I inclose a report from Captain Whittingham, containing the details of a complete victory obtained on the 19th instant, by General Castanos, over the French corps commanded by Generals Dupont and Wedel; and I take the liberty of congratulating your Lordship upon the glorious result of the day.

I have the honour also to state, that I have received a letter from General Castanos by the same courier, expressing the satisfaction he has received from the services of Captain Whittingham.

I have the honour to be, &c.

H. W. DALRYMPLE.

The Viscount Castlereagh, &c.

SIR, Head-Quarters, Andujar, July 21, 1808.

I had the honour to inform you, in my letter of the 17th July, that in a council of war held on that day at head quarters, it was resolved that the division of the Marquis de Coupigny should join that of Major-General Reding, and that the attack upon Baylen should be undertaken with the united force of the two divisions, whilst the third division and the reserve should occupy the attention of the enemy by a feigned attack upon Andujar. Major-General Reding entered Baylen on the morning of the 18th, at nine o'clock: he met with little opposition. The enemy retreated towards La Carolina. The major-general wrote to the commander in chief for orders, either to advance against Andujar, or to pursue the column which was retiring upon La Carolina. General Castanos ordered him to advance upon Andujar without delay.

On the 19th, at two o'clock in the morning, the general received information of the retreat of the French from Andujar. Lieutenant-General Pena, with the reserve, was ordered to advance immediately towards Baylen. The French began their retreat at nine o'clock P. M. 18th July. A letter from General Reding informed the commander in chief that he intended commencing his march from Baylen towards Andujar at three o'clock A. M. 19th July. At two o'clock P. M. the advanced guard of General Pena's division came up with the enemy. At this moment an express arrived from Major-General Reding to inform the lieutenant-general that he had been engaged with the division of General Dupont from three o'clock in the morning till eleven; that he had repulsed the French, and remained master of the field of battle. The guns of the advanced guard of Lieutenant-General Pena's division had scarcely begun to fire, when a flag of truce arrived to treat upon the terms of a capitulation. The discussion did not last long.

General Dupont was told he must surrender at discretion.

Lieutenant-General Pena halted and formed his division upon the heights of Umbia, distant three miles from Baylen: between four and five o'clock General Casterick, aide-de-camp to Bonaparte, was sent by General Dupont with orders to treat with General Castanos in person.

At nine o'clock P. M. Major-General Reding informed the lieutenant-general, that during the truce he had been treacherously attacked by General Wedel, who was just come from La Carolina with a reinforcement of six thousand men; and that the battalion of Cordova had been surprised and taken prisoners, together with two field-pieces.

The negotiations lasted till the evening of the 20th, and the glorious result I have the honour to inclose, as also an exact account of the killed and wounded, on both sides, as I have been able to collect in the hurry of the moment.

The French themselves acknowledge the bravery and steadiness of the Spanish troops: their firmness, constancy, and perseverance, under the greatest possible privations, are worthy of the admiration of the world, particularly when it is remembered that half the army is composed of new raised levies.

The Marquis Coupigny is detached with his division to take immediate possession of the passes of Sierra Morena.

General Castanos deserves the highest praise for his well conceived plan, and for the cool determination with which he has carried it into execution, in spite of the popular clamour for an immediate attack on the position of Andujar.

Whilst the negotiations were carried on, General Castanos received an intercepted dispatch from the Duke of Rovigo to Dupont, ordering him to retreat immediately upon Madrid, as the army of Galicia was rapidly advancing.

This determined the general to admit the capitulation of General Wedel.

N. B. The division of General Dupont is also to return to France by Rochefort.

By letters received from Lieutenant-Colonel Doyle at Corunna, and from Major Roche at Oviedo, of the 8th and 9th instant, addressed to Viscount Castlereagh, one of his Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, it appears, that various letters from respectable authorities at Madrid, and also public gazettes, had been received, both at Corunna and Oviedo, stating, that on the 29th ultimo, in the evening, the French began the evacuation of Madrid. Upon the 30th the evacuation continued; and, upon the 31st, Joseph Buonaparte, with the remainder of his troops, quitted the capital for Segovia. This measure was attributed to the French having received the account of the surrender of General Dupont's army in Andalusia.

The French carried with them all the artillery and ammunition they could find means to convey, and spiked the cannon, and damaged the powder they left behind; they also plundered the palaces and the treasury; they were followed by the Spanish ministers who had acted under the French, and, in general, by all the French who were settled in business at Madrid. Upon the 1st of July it was believed there was not a Frenchman remaining in the capital.

ADMIRALTY-OFFICE, AUGUST 16, 1808.

Copy of a Letter from Vice-Admiral Lord COLLINGWOOD, Commander in Chief of his Majesty's Ships and Vessels in the Mediterranean, to the Honourable W. W. POLE, dated on board the Ocean, off Cadiz, July 25, 1808.

SIR,

I have the pleasure to acquaint you for the information of the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, that the French troops under General Dupont, consisting of about eight thousand men, surrendered themselves prisoners of war, on the 20th instant; having lost about three thousand killed in some partial actions, which took place on that and the three preceding days.

General Wedel, with about six thousand, who had arrived to reinforce Dupont, has capitulated, on condition of his corps being embarked and sent to Rochefort.

The copy of a letter from Captain Whittingham to Lieutenant-General Sir Hew Dalrymple, detailing the operations and final success of the Spanish forces, I beg leave to inclose.*

I am, &c. COLLINGWOOD.

Copy of another Letter from Vice-Admiral Lord COLLINGWOOD to the Hon. W. W. POLE, dated on board the Ocean, off Cadiz, the 23d July 1808.

SIR,

I inclose to you a letter I have received from Captain Campbell, of his Majesty's ship the Unité, informing me of the capture, by that ship, of two Italian brigs of war, mounting each sixteen thirty-two pounder carronades, with a complement of one hundred and fifteen men; a hired brig, which was in company with these, from the light winds was enabled to escape. Of the zeal, activity, and skill of Captain Campbell, I have had frequent occasion to write you, sir, in terms of praise; he has the king's service warmly at heart, and his enterprises never fail of producing good; of his officers he speaks in high commendation, particularly of the first-lieutenant, Wilson, and I beg their Lordships will allow me to second the recommendation of his captain, and offer his merits to their regard.

I am, &c. COLLINGWOOD.

His Majesty's Ship Unité, off Premuda,
MY LORD, June 1, 1808.

Having taken shelter under Lusin, in a heavy N. E. gale on the 28th ult., which continued until the afternoon of the 31st, when I weighed; getting from under the land at five P. M. three sail were seen close under Premuda, on the starboard tack, with the wind at east, and were soon made out to be brigs of war; chase was instantly given. On seeing us, they wore and stood with the apparent intention of gaining the channel of Zara. As the night was likely to be clear, and the wind moderate, I determined following them, although the navigation (as your Lordship will perceive by the chart) is extremely intricate, and we not acquainted with it, but trusting entirely to the lead and a good look-out. Fortunately we kept sight of them till half past eleven, and by carrying a press of sail we again got sight of two a little after three A. M. about two miles on our lee beam; the helm was immediately put up, but the sails were hardly trimmed when the third was observed on the starboard tack on our larboard bow; we hauled to the wind and passed her within musket shot to leeward, and gave her our larboard broadside, with such effect, as to completely knock her up, so that she struck without firing a gun, the people having run from their quarters. Boats were immediately dispatched to bring the officers on board and secure her, and sail made after the other two, who were making off through one of the passages to get to sea; it falling little wind, and they making use of their sweeps, it was not until near seven, that we got within shot of the sternmost, who, after receiving a few from us, and seeing no chance of escaping, fired her broadside, struck her colours, and run on shore. It continuing to fall less wind, the other brig, being much smaller, by the help of her sweeps, was leaving us fast, as there was no appearance of its freshening, and she having got amongst a cluster of islands, I thought it most prudent to secure what we had got, and endeavour to get the one, which had run on shore, off, which we soon effected without her receiving the least damage. They prove to be the Nettuno and Teulie, of sixteen thirty-two pounders, brass carronades, and one hundred and fifteen men each, sent from Zara the day before for the purpose of attacking us, having heard that we had so many men absent and sick; that we must fall an easy prey. They are exactly the size of Il

Rouco that we took a month ago, and but a few months old.

I subjoin a return of the killed and wounded, and it affords me the greatest possible satisfaction that we had not a man hurt.

I have the honour to be, &c.

(Signed) PAT. CAMPBELL.

Nettuno—7 killed, 2 drowned, and 13 wounded.
Teulie—5 killed, and 16 wounded.

Copy of a Letter from Sir CHARLES COTTON, Bart. Admiral of the Blue, &c. to the Honourable W. W. POLE, dated on board the Hibernia, off the Tagus, the 21st July 1808.

SIR,

Inclosed herewith I transmit, for the information of the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, copy of a dispatch received by me this day from Vice-Admiral Lord Collingwood, detailing the defeat and surrender of General Dupont's army, together with the capitulation of the force under General Wedel, to General Castanos; by these fortunate events the whole of Andalusia is said to be cleared of French troops.

I have the honour to be, &c.

(Signed) C. COTTON.

Ocean, off Cadiz, July 24, 1808.

By the Scout I informed you that the French forces under General Dupont have surrendered to the Spanish army; and having to-day received from the President of the Supreme Junta of Government at Seville, the official account of it, I do myself the honour of transmitting a copy of it for your information.

COLLINGWOOD.

Admiral Sir Charles Cotton, Bart. Commander in Chief, &c. off the Tagus.

MOST EXCELLENT LORD,

It is with the greatest satisfaction that the Supreme Junta informs your Excellency of the happy success which our arms have had, over the French army under Generals Dupont, Wedel, and Gobert; they having laid down their arms, as is set forth in the inclosed papers, which accompany this for your information, being persuaded of the noble interest your Excellency takes in our most just cause.

The victory could not have been more complete, and there does not remain one Frenchman in Andalusia; there being not a single individual of the three divisions, (which, by their own statements, amounted to more than twenty thousand men), that has not been either killed or taken prisoner.

The rejoicing is so general and so lively, that an idea of it cannot be given; and we expect it will be the same in your Lordship's squadron, through the favour which the Spanish nation owes to British generosity.

God save your Excellency,

(Signed) FRANCISCO DE SAAVEDRA.

To his Excellency Admiral Collingwood.

Copy of a Letter from GEORGE BYNG, Esq. Captain of his Majesty's Ship Belliqueux, to the Honourable W. W. POLE, dated on board that Ship, off Galle, March 13, 1808.

SIR,
I think it my duty to inform you, for the information of the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, that his Majesty's ship St Fiorenzo this morning anchored off Columbo, having brought in the Piedmontaise French frigate, totally dismasted, which she captured after an action renewed three successive days, and on the last day that excellent and gallant officer, Captain Hardinge, was unfortunately killed.

By all information a more severe and determined action has not been fought during the war, nor British valour shewn more conspicuously; and I hear the St Fiorenzo had thirteen killed and twenty-four wounded, and the Piedmontaise fifty killed and one hundred wounded.

I have the honour to be, &c.

(Signed) GEO. BYNG.

Copy of a Letter from Admiral YOUNG, Commander in Chief of his Majesty's Ships and Vessels at Plymouth, to the Hon. W. W. POLE, dated Salvador del Mundo, in Hamoaize, August 14, 1808.

SIR,
I inclose the copy of a letter from Captain Daly, of the Comet sloop, to Admiral Lord Gambier, given an account of the capture of the Sylphe French national brig of eighteen guns. I am &c.

(Signed) W. YOUNG.

His Majesty's Sloop Comet, at Sea, August 11, 1808.

MY LORD,
On the 9th instant, I left Gijon, and at half past eight this morning, being in Lat. 45° 37' N. and long. 5° 4' W. I observed three strange sail N. N. E. At nine, I distinguished them to be a corvette and two men of war brigs: having hoisted the private signal, their not answering it induced me to conclude they were enemies.

In the face of so superior a force, I thought it most prudent to continue my course under all sail, as by altering it they might be inclined to chase me. I am happy to say, that by so doing the enemy were so far intimidated as to tack and make all sail from me to the N. N. E. At noon the corvette having much outsailed her consorts, tacked and stood to the southward. I now carried all possible sail in chase of the two brigs, and at half past three the head-most brig tacked and passed me to windward about two guns' shot distance; at five the remaining brig hoisted French colours, and began to engage me with her stern guns. At twenty minutes after five, having got within pistol shot of her, I commenced close action, which she sustained for twenty minutes, and being then much disabled, hauled down her colours to the Comet.

She proved to be the French national brig Sylphe, (commanded by M. Louis Marie Cle-mont Capitaine de Frigate, and a member of the Legion of Honour), mounting sixteen twenty-six pounder carronades, and two long nines, with a complement of ninety-eight men.

Her second lieutenant, and a midshipman, and five men, were killed in the action, and two midshipmen, and three men wounded, most of them severely.

She is a very fine vessel of her class, copper-bottomed and copper-fastened, reported to be an excellent sailer, abundantly found in stores, four years old, about three hundred tons burden, and, in my opinion, very fit for his Majesty's service; her consorts (who so shamefully deserted her) were the Diligente of twenty-two guns and one hundred and forty men, and the Espiegle of eighteen guns and one hundred men; they had left L'Orient two days before, having each a quantity of flour on board, and I have reason to believe they were bound to Martinique.

I am happy to say no person belonging to his Majesty's sloop under my command was hurt; but her main and main-top-mast were badly wounded, and her sails and rigging cut.

I beg leave to recommend to your Lordship's notice Lieutenant Tomkinson, first of the Comet, for his zeal and activity in this contest, and to represent, that the conduct of every officer and the ship's company (the latter chiefly consisting of new raised men) was such as to merit my highest approbation.

I have the honour to be, &c.

(Signed) C. F. DALY.
