PROCLAMATION,

For Pardoning Deserters from his Majesty's Land Forces.

WAR-OFFICE, August 25, 1808.

Whereas it has been represented to the King, that there are at this time several deserters from the different regular corps in his Majesty's land service, who might be induced to return to their duty by an offer of his Majesty's gracious pardon, and that such an instance of his royal clemency would have a due influence upon their future behaviour; his Majesty has been graciously pleased to grant his free pardon to all deserters from his regular land forces, who shall surrender themselves on or before the 24th day of October, to the commanding officer of any regiment, or to any of the superintending field-officers of the recruiting service, whose stations are mentioned in the margin hereof, or to the commandant of the army depôt at the Isle of Wight.

Durham.

Carlisle.

Leeds.

Manchester.

Bedford.

Maidstone.

Gloucester.

Southampton.

Wells.

London.

men, and fit for service, shall be sent to the regiments from which they respectively deserted, or be appointed to such regiments in the united kingdom as his Majesty may be pleased to command; and when so placed, shall not be liable to be claimed by any other corps to which they may formerly have belonged.

And whereas many of the said deserters may have enlisted in other regular corps, and are now serving therein, his Majesty is graciously pleased to extend to such deserters the benefit of this pardon; and to direct that they shall continue to serve in the corps wherein they now are, upon declaring themselves to their respective commanding officers on or before the 24th of October next, and they shall not be liable at any future time to be claimed by the regiments in which they formerly served.

The magistrate to whom any deserter from his Majesty's regular forces may surrender himself, is authorized and required to certify the day on which such deserter surrendered himself; which certificate is to continue in force until the arrival of the deserter at the headquarters of the nearest military post, provided he proceed at the rate of ten miles a-day, unless prevented by sickness, to be certified by some medical practitioner on the back of the magistrate's certificate, or to be otherwise proved to the satisfaction of the officer commanding at such military post.

And, with a view to prevent, as far as possible, all soldiers from desertion after these his Majesty's most gracious intentions shall be made known, his Majesty has been pleased to command, that the name of every soldier who may hereafter desert, shall be transmitted, through the Secretary at War, to the church-wardens of the parishes to which the deserters belong, in order that their names may be exposed to public view in the church, or such other conspicuous place, as may render it impossible for men, who have been guilty of this crime, to return home to their friends, on whom they have brought disgrace by their misconduct, without immediate detection; and his Majesty has further commanded that this measure shall be made public, that every soldier may be assured that the greatest exertions will be used for the apprehension of any man who may hereafter desert, and that those who may have already been guilty of that crime, may be aware of the daily risk they incur of detection, and of the most severe punishment, if they do not immediately avail themselves of the pardon held out in this his Majesty's most gracious proclamation.

Any soldier who may desert after these his Majesty's most gracious intentions are made public, shall not be included in the above pardon, but be proceeded against with the utmost severity.

It is to be clearly understood, that this proclamation of pardon is intended to include all deserters from the army of reserve and additional force act, but not to extend to any deserter from his Majesty's militia forces.

By his Majesty's command,

JAMES PULTENEY.

ST. JAMES'S, AUGUST 31, 1808.

The following address having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Lord Hawkesbury, his Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, has been by his Lordship presented to the King; which address his Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

Unto the KING'S Most Excellent Majesty,

We, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Freeholders, Heritors, Commissioners of Supply, and Justices of the Peace of Inverness-shire, embrace the present occasion of approaching your throne with gratitude and thankfulness for the blessings we enjoy under your Majesty's auspicious reign.

Permit us, sire, to admire the additional lustre and glory which beam around your Majesty's person, by the extension of your powerful protection to nations with whom, in times of peace, we are in habits of the most honourable intercourse; and we beg leave to assure your Majesty that we shall, to the utmost of our power, strengthen and forward the dignified measures which redound so much to the honour, glory, and good faith of the British name.

That your Majesty may be the instrument of Providence to stem the torrent of lawless and despotic power, that hath hitherto been too successful in its course, and which aimed equally at the subversion of your imperial crown, and the general subjection and degradation of the other nations of Europe, is our fervent prayer.

Signed in our name, and by our appointment, at a general meeting held by us at Inverness, the 23d day of August 1808 years.

A. FRASER, of Lovat.

[Transmitted by Charles Grant, Esq.]
