PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY.

FROM TUESDAY, MAY 26, TO FRIDAY, MAY 29, 1812.

The following Addresses have been presented to his Royal Highness the Prince Regent; which Addresses his Royal Highness was pleased to receive very graciously:

To his Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, his Majesty's most faithful and dutiful subjects, the Noblemen, Justices of Peace, Freeholders, and Heritors, of the county of Haddington, humbly approach your Royal Highness with sentiments of the most zealous and affectionate attachment towards your august person, and of profound gratitude for the security and happiness which we have continued to enjoy since the Regency of the empire, under circumstances of uncommon difficulty, was first committed to the hands of your Royal Highness.

In contemplating the important events which have since passed on the great theatre of the world, we reflect with pride and satisfaction on the dignified part which great Britain has maintained, and the pre-eminent situation in which she now stands. When we turn our eyes to the continent we behold a powerful nation groaning under the oppression of a foreign usurper, and wherever his baleful influence has extended, we have seen him overturning or paralyzing the ancient establishments of Europe; when we look at home we see a favoured empire, happy in the virtues of its ruler, in the excellence of its constitution, and in the loyalty and patriotism of its people, not only vigorously maintaining with its fleets and armies its own freedom and independence, but also generously exerting its powerful resources in protecting an old and faithful ally, and in rescuing a nation, once great and prosperous, from the yoke of treacherous usurpation.

We rejoice in the glorious success, which, under the blessing of Providence, has attended the measures pursued by your Royal Highness; whilst the British Navy has triumphantly maintained the sovereignty of the ocean, we reflect with feelings of exultation, and most cordially congratulate your Royal Highness on the distinguished achievements accomplished in repeated battles and sieges in Spain and Portugal, by the enterprising courage of his Majesty's armies, which must command the admiration of all future ages; and we further congratulate your Royal Highness on the complete annihilation of the power of France and Holland, in India, by which the tranquillity of our valuable possessions in that quarter of the world has been effectually secured.

From events which thus, under the Regency of your Royal Highness, have added lustre to the national character; from the proofs which have been exhibited of strict and inviolable adherence to the treaties existing with our allies; and, above all, from the invariable regard and watchful care which your Royal Highness has evinced for the rights, interests, and welfare of the people, we are led to form the most favourable presages of your future government, to look forward with confidence to the result of the arduous contest in which we are engaged, and firmly to rely that, under the auspices and direction of your Royal Highness, the invaluable blessings we possess as an independent nation, enjoying the best constitution the world has ever known, will be preserved to ourselves, and transmitted unimpaired to our prosperity.

Most heartily deploring the continuance of that unfortunate malady with which it has pleased Almighty God to visit our venerable and beloved Sovereign, and cordially uniting with your Royal Highness in earnest prayers for the restoration of his Majesty's health, but, at the same time, entertaining those views on the situation of public affairs, which we have taken the liberty to express, we feel it to be our duty, as faithful and loyal subjects of the King, gratefully to offer to your Royal Highness our hearty acknowledgments for the measures you have pursued for the prosperity of the empire; and at the same time humbly to assure your Royal Highness of our firm, steady, and zealous support in the administration of the government.

Signed by the Right Honourable the Earl of Haddington, as Præses of the meeting, in our name and by our appointment, this 5th May 1812.

[Presented by Mr Secretary Ryder.]

To his Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

The loyal Address of the Freeholders, Commissioners of Supply, other Heritors, and Justices of the Peace of the Shire of Inverness, in a General Meeting assembled, held at Inverness the 11th day of March 1812.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, his Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Freeholders, Commissioners of Supply, other Heritors, and Justices of the Peace of the county of Inverness, humbly approach your Royal Highness.

Impressed with the deepest sorrow for that heavy visitation which has removed our revered sovereign from the cares of government, and threatens to deprive us for ever of his parental interest and protection, we turn with confidence to your Royal Highness, in the firm persuasion that, under your sway, we shall enjoy a continuance of those blessings which, during a long and glorious reign of fifty years, the virtues of our sovereign have secured to his people.

While we see every act of your Royal Highness marked with the most profound respect towards your august father, we feel assured that the same principles which guided his conduct, and the same virtues which exalted his character, will shed their lustre round your throne; and their influence on every measure of your government; nor can we resist the tribute of our humble applause to the wisdom that has regulated your Royal Highness in the arrangements which promise further to secure to us the benefit of those counsels which have hitherto proved so beneficial to the empire.

When, from the contemplation of desolated Europe, we turn our eyes to the peaceful security of our native land; and see that avenging sword, reeking with the blood of nations, turned harmless from ourselves; we acknowledge the wisdom of those counsels, which, under a mightier guid ance, have wrought out our safety; and whilst all around have fallen, have raised the British name to the highest pitch of glory.

Feeling as we do, the full value of those blessings which we enjoy in common with all his Majesty's subjects, it is peculiarly ours to acknowledge that, even in times of national difficulty and danger, the internal prosperity and welfare of this remote part of his Majesty's dominions, have been fostered with a liberality which must ever insure our gratitude and attachment.

Signed in name and by appointment of the Meeting, by ÆNEAS MACKINTOSH of Mackintosh, Preses.

[Presented by Mr. Secretary Ryder.]

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Freeholders, Justices of Peace, and Commissioners of Supply, of the county of Selkirk, presume, in the present important crisis of public affairs, to approach your royal person with the assurances of our unalterable and zealous attachment to the crown and constitution of the British empire.

When it pleased God, whose judgments are unsearchable, to interrupt the government of your august father, our benignant and beloved Sovereign, by an affliction the most calamitous, we beheld your Royal Highness, under circumstances equally new and difficult, display such tokens of filial duty and veneration as became the heir of his virtues, as well as the delegate of his authority. And now when the hopes of his Majesty's happy recovery are so much diminished, it is consolation to us, that the principles of just and magnanimous policy which distinguished his government, have been fully and successfully pursued under that of your Royal Highness. During the contest which we are under the necessity of maintaining against a foe the most powerful and inveterate, it is no slight encouragement to our exertions, that since your Royal Highness assumed the reins of government, the most distinguished success has on every occasion attended the British arms. Not only have the enemy's remaining colonies been wrested from him, but the cause of our oppressed allies of Spain and Portugal has, through the wisdom of your Royal Highness's councils, the bravery of his Majesty's armies, and the high talents of the General by whom they are commanded, assumed such a complexion, as to augur, with the blessing of Providence, the successful termination which it so justly merits.

We deem it incumbent on us, to express our grateful sense of these advantages, as derived, under God, from the steady, firm, and undaunted perseverance of your Royal Highness in those measures of active opposition to the common enemy, which are at once grounded upon the immutable principles of justice to our allies, and are necessary to secure the welfare and independence of the British empire. And while we thus express our attachment to your Royal Highness's person, and our sense of the efficacious vigour and wisdom of your councils, it is with the resolution to contribute all efforts in our power, which may evince those sentiments of loyalty to our King and Constitution, which we have here endeavoured to express.

Signed in the presence of, and by order of the Meeting, by

WALTER SCOTT, Preses.

[Presented by Mr. Secretary Ryder.]

To his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, PRINCE REGENT of the United Kingdoms of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, his Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Provost, Magistrates, and Town-Council of the royal burgh of Peebles, humbly presume to approach your Royal Highness, and to express our warmest attachment to your person and government.

We have to congratulate your Royal Highness upon the brilliant successes that have crowned his Majesty's arms in the great and arduous contest in which we are engaged with the foe of freedom, religion, and independence.

The zeal with which your Royal Highness has espoused the cause of a great and loyal people, and the sound policy which in other respects has directed your Royal Highness's councils, will, we trust, never be shaken by any feelings inconsistent with the public good.

With the rest of his Majesty's loyal subjects, we continue to lament most deeply the severe visitation which has deprived this nation of the exercise of that paternal government which it had so long enjoyed, but we feel this calamity softened when we see so conspicuously in the son the same zeal for the public welfare, and the same sentiments pursued which so adorned the father's government; and we are animated with the pleasant hope that, amid the overthrow of ancient thrones, and the downfall of legitimate sovereigns, this nation will continue to be the support of independence, and be the scourge of tyranny and oppression; and that your Royal Highness will retain from the people the most fervent attachment to your person and government, not to be dissolved by foreign policy or domestic faction.—Peebles Council Chamber, 12th May 1812.

Signed by the Provost, in presence and by appointment of Council, and the Common Seal of the Burgh is appended.

JAS. KER, Provost.

[Presented by Mr. Secretary Ryder.]

To his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble Address of the Freeholders, Justices of Peace, and Commissioners of the Land-Tax, for the County of Dumfries.

WE, his Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Freeholders, Justices of the Peace, and Commissioners of the Land-Tax, for the county of Dumfries, at a General Meeting held this day, beg leave respectfully to approach your Royal Highness with our sincere condolence on the continuance of your royal father's indisposition. While on our own accounts we deeply lament the loss of a Sovereign who has reigned over us for half a century with the care and affection of a father, we cannot but sympathise with your Royal Highness and your august family, to whom his Majesty's private virtues have particularly endeared him. We earnestly pray for his Majesty's complete recovery, not more for our sakes than for his own; that the evening of his days may be cheered with the knowledge of the affectionate regard which your Royal Highness has shewn for his Majesty, and of the very able manner in which you have conducted his government.

We also beg leave to offer to your Royal Highness our grateful thanks for the patriotism which your Royal Highness evinced in undertaking the government under circumstances of restriction, which although judged necessary by Parliament, not with reference to your Royal Highness's character, but to that of regencies in general, did nevertheless undoubtedly place your Royal Highness in a very arduous situation. But those circumstances have only served to bring out your Royal Highness's character and abilities with additional lustre.

While your Royal Highness as a man generously remembered the friends of your early years, and anxiously and sincerely endeavoured to bring them into your councils, we do most thankfully acknowledge your Royal Highness's gracious declaration as representing our Sovereign, that in the choice of your ministers "you have no predilection to indulge, no resentment to gratify, no objects to attain, but such as are common to the whole empire;" a sentiment worthy of the Sovereign of a free people, and which places your Royal Highness in the proper character in which the future Sovereign of the British empire ought to appear, as the common father of his people.

We lament to see the ungrateful return which your Royal Highness has received from a part of the people; but we entreat that your Royal Highness will not judge of the sentiments of his Majesty's subjects at large, by the speeches of a few factious men in a tumultuous assembly, in which all freedom of debate seems to be destroyed, and from which clamour and violence has banished all peaceable and well-disposed citizens. We can assure your Royal Highness, from our own knowledge of this and many other populous districts with which we are connected, that your Royal Highness's conduct in every particular since you were invested with the regency, has met with the admiration of a very great majority of his Majesty's subjects, and has already produced in their minds a fervour of loyalty and attachment to your person and government, little inferior to that which fifty years experience of his Majesty's conduct has inspired towards your illustrious father.

That Almighty God may prosper your Royal Highness's present measures, and in due time conduct your Royal Highness to reign over us with the same success and popularity, is the prayer of his Majesty's faithful and dutiful subjects.

Signed, in the name and by appointment of the General Annual Meeting, assembled at Dumfries, this 30th day of April 1812 years, by

A. MAXWELL, Preses.

TO THE CREDITORS AND LEGATEES OF

The deceased Mrs ANN SPITE, spouse of John Lloyd, late servant to William M'Kerrell, Esq. at Maxwelltown, and all others interested in her succession.

JOHN MORRISON, Tobacconist in Paisley, executor or nominated by the said deceased Mrs Ann Spite, alias Lloyd, hereby intimates to all and sundry the Creditors, legatees, executors, and others interested in her succession and the tutors and curators of such as are minors, that he sometime ago raised an action of multiplicity before the Court of Session in Scotland, for the distribution of the estate of the deceased, in conformity to the provisions of her will;—which action having come, in course of the rolls, before Lord WOODHOUSELEE, Ordinary, his Lordship, by interdictor bearing date 14th February 1812, appointed intimation of the dependence of said action to be made in the Minute-Book, and in the London, Dublin, and Edinburgh Gazettes, and in the Edinburgh Advertiser, Caledonian Mercury, and Edinburgh Evening Courant, once every week for three weeks successively, that the same might come to the knowledge of all having interest; and certifying such parties as may fail to appear for their interest after such intimation, that they shall be for ever cut off from all claim or interest in the fund in medio, which shall be forthwith distributed by the Court among the parties making appearance and having best right thereto, and the executor exonerated of his intromissions therewith.
Paisley, March 2, 1812.

NOTICE.

THE Trustees on the estates of Messrs THOMAS BISSLAND & CO. Merchants in Paisley, STUART, LOCKE, & CO. Cotton-Spinners at West Arthurlee, and the individual partners of these concerns, do hereby intimate, that the dividend intended and advertised to have taken place on the 12th of June next, is postponed to, and will take place at, Paisley, within the Sheriff-clerk's office, on Friday the 26th day of said month of June, at 12 o'clock noon; and at Glasgow, within the office of Walkinshaws and Dow, writers, on the day following, at 10 o'clock forenoon. And as this will be the final dividend of the company funds of the said Stuart, Locke, and Co. any of the Creditors of that concern, who may not yet have lodged their claims and oaths of verity, in the hands of the said Walkinshaws and Dow, are desired to do so on or before the 12th of June next, otherwise they can have no benefit from the trust estate.—Of which this last certification is given.
Glasgow, May 27, 1812.

NOTICE

TO THE CREDITORS OF

WILLIAM GOURLAY, Spirit-Dealer in Glasgow.
