

Edinburgh Gazette.

PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY.

FROM TUESDAY, MAY 13, TO FRIDAY, MAY 16, 1817.

The following Addresses have been presented to his Royal Highness the Prince Regent; which Addresses his Royal Highness was pleased to receive very graciously:

To his Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

The loyal and dutiful Address of the Associate Synod.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, his Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Ministers and Elders of the Associate Synod, representing upwards of a hundred and fifty Congregations of Protestant Dissenters, embrace the earliest opportunity to congratulate your Royal Highness on your providential escape from the violence offered to your sacred person by a lawless mob, and to express our abhorrence of so daring an outrage.

Deeply sensible of the many and valuable privileges which, as subjects and as dissenters, we enjoy, we will continue to inculcate upon our people, reverence for the principles of our admirable constitution, attachment to your illustrious house, and obedience to the laws; and to offer up our prayers, that He who gives salvation to kings, may defend your Royal Highness against the designs of your enemies; that, under your government, our country may enjoy the blessings of peace and prosperity; and that you may be long preserved to reign over a free, loyal, and happy people.

Signed, in our presence, and by our appointment, at Edinburgh, this 1st day of May 1817 years, by JOHN JOHNSTONE, Moderator.

[Transmitted by the Lord Advocate of Scotland, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To his Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, his Majesty's faithful and loyal subjects, the Ministers and Elders of the Provincial Synod of Ross, met in Synod, would beg leave to approach your Royal Highness, and join our fellow subjects in our strongest expressions of indignation against the insidious and daring attack lately made upon your august person, when in the discharge of one of the first duties of royalty, and to express our thankfulness to Almighty God, whose protecting arm was graciously interposed for the preservation of a life so valuable from the hand of the assassin.

We lament that wickedness so atrocious should exist in a nation and under a government where such fostering care is extended to the best interests of all ranks of society. We view such a diabolical spirit as a wide departure from the blessed tenets of our holy religion; and earnestly pray, that a return to the exalted principles of that religion may speedily impart a proper sense of duty, of loyalty, and of the value of our inestimable privileges, to those orders of the community that have been so grossly misled by false principles, leading to anarchy, confusion, and total ruin.

We rejoice that such advancement in the depravity of human nature has not extended to these quarters. We pledge ourselves, as in duty bound, to watch over the best interests of our respective flocks, and inculcate upon them, by our doctrine and example, to "Fear God and honour the King;" duties, the practice of which we consider to be the foundation of national prosperity, and the best security of the welfare and happiness of all ranks of the community.

Signed in name, presence, and by appointment of the Ministers and Elders of the Provincial Synod of Ross, met in Synod, at Fortrose, the 16th day of April 1817 years, by

C. R. MAHTESON, Moderator.

[Transmitted by Charles Fraser, Esq. and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]
