PUBLISHED BY AUTHORITY.

FROM FRIDAY, DECEMBER 12, TO TUESDAY, DECEMBER 16, 1817.

The following Addresses have been presented to his Royal Highness the Prince Regent; which Addresses his Royal Highness was pleased to receive very graciously:

To his Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble Address of the Magistrates and Council of the Town of Kilmarnock, in the County of Ayr.

May it please your Royal Highness,

PENETRATED with the deepest sorrow for the afflicting dispensation of Providence, by which your Royal Highness has been deprived of an amiable daughter, and the nation of a Princess, in whom centered their fondest hopes and best expectations, we presume to approach the throne to tender our sincere condolence and sympathetic regret.

Possessed of every excellent quality which adorns and gives grace to her sex, the Princess Charlotte of Wales must have been the delight of her parents, her august consort, and of all who had the happiness of knowing her in private life. Thus suddenly torn from them, we can enter into those poignant feelings of deep affliction with which they must be overwhelmed, although we want words sufficiently to express those feelings.

But it is not alone on account of her private worth that we deplore this melancholy and untimely event. Assured as we are, that the Princess early evinced a perfect knowledge of, and regard for our happy constitution in church and state, we had fondly flattered ourselves that the people of these realms were destined long to enjoy the blessings afforded by that constitution, while she benignly swayed the royal sceptre. Disappointed in those hopes, we cannot but consider her death as a great national loss.

Yet under this heavy calamity, we have the consoling reflection, that your Royal Highness, and a numerous race of princes of your illustrious house, still live: and whilst we earnestly pray that it may please the Almighty Disposer of every event to afford all of you that comfort and resignation under this trying dispensation which He can alone bestow, so we trust that your Royal Highness and your race will be preserved to the remotest age to reign over a free, happy, and loyal people.

Signed in name and by appointment of Council by JOHN THOMSON, WILLIAM BROWN.

[Transmitted by Sir James Shaw, Bart. M. P. and presented by Lord Viscount Sidmouth.]

To his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Chancellor, Rector, Principals, and Professors of the University of St Andrews, apprehensive of intruding upon the sacredness of paternal grief, yet anxious to testify our concern in the deepest interests of your illustrious house, presume to offer to your Royal Highness the expressions of our tenderest sympathy upon the late afflicting dispensation, by which it has pleased the Great Disposer of all to take away the Princess Charlotte Augusta of Wales, from a father, from a husband, and from a nation to whom she was so deservedly endeared.

We partake of the strong emotion which this sudden affliction has carried from the bosom of the august family, where she was fondly cherished, and the exalted circle which she adorned, to every corner of his Majesty's dominions. We mourn the departure of those virtues, full of the fairest promise to the British empire, and enter into the sorrows of your Royal Highness, and of her illustrious affectionate consort, with the additional grief caused by the national calamity.

It is with Him alone, who has taught us that our greatest treasures are secured beyond the vicissitudes of this fleeting scene, to heal the wounds which they leave when withdrawn.—Yet after the consolations from this purest source shall have had time to operate, your Royal Highness may be able to think with tender satisfaction on the noblest of all monuments; to the memory of the departed amiable Princess, which rose in the unaffected grief of a great people, and will be imperishable as the annals where it is recorded: also on the moral feeling with which that people, bound to the family of their venerable beloved sovereign, press round the throne like children; to defend, to rejoice, or to weep with a father.

Signed in name and by appointment of the University.

MELVILLE, Chancellor; JOHN COOK, Vice Rector.

[Transmitted by Viscount Melville, and presented by Lord Viscount Sidmouth.]

To his Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The humble Address and Condolence of the Provost, Magistrates, and Council of the ancient Royal Burgh of Ayr.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, his Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects the Provost, Magistrates, and Council of his ancient Royal Burgh of Ayr, in Council assembled, beg leave most humbly to approach your Royal Highness, with our heartfelt expressions of grief, at the melancholy event of the death of her Royal Highness the Princess Charlotte Augusta of Wales, at the very moment when we were fondly anticipating so much happiness; and to offer your Royal Highness our tears of sympathy and condolence at a loss so afflicting to your Royal Highness, so deeply felt by all the members of your august house, by her beloved and disconsolate consort, Prince Leopold, and by the empire at large.

That the Almighty Disposer of all events, who, in His wisdom, has laid upon us this weight of woe, may fortify your Royal Highness to sustain it, and give consolation to every class, that so deeply deplore the irreparable loss, is the fervent prayer of,

May it please your Royal Highness, the Provost, Magistrates, and Council of the Royal Burgh of Ayr.

Signed at the Council Table, by the Provost, in our name, and by our appointment, and sealed with the Town's Seal, this 26th day of November 1817.

HUGH COWAN, Provost.

Price Sevenpences

To his Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, the Noblemen, Gentlemen, Deputy Lieutenants, Landholders, and Justices of the Peace of the County of Kincardine, humbly beg leave to approach your Royal Highness on the recent mournful event, and with the deepest concern to express our sincere participation in that affliction and heartfelt grief, with which your Royal Highness is oppressed by the death of your beloved and illustrious daughter, a Princess possessed of every amiable quality, and by whose death this nation has been bereaved of one of its brightest ornaments.

We beg to be permitted to condole with your Royal Highness, and to offer our cordial sympathy in the inexpressible affliction which your Royal Highness suffers from this calamity.

We pray that the Almighty Disposer of events may enable your Royal Highness and the other branches of your royal family to support with fortitude and resignation this afflicting dispensation of His Providence, and that your Royal Highness may also feel some consolation from that universal sorrow which, on this mournful occasion, pervades all ranks in the British empire, flowing from the hearts of a people firmly attached to the sovereign and constitution, and duly appreciating the blessings they enjoy under your government.

Signed in our name, and by our appointment, by the Preses of our Meeting, at Stonehaven, the 25th day of November 1817.

ARBUTHNOT.

[Transmitted by Viscount Arbuthnot, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To his Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.
&c. &c. &c.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, his Majesty's most dutiful and loyal subjects, the Noblemen, Gentlemen, Commissioners of Supply, Justices of the Peace, Magistrates of Towns, and Heritors of the County of Renfrew, beg leave humbly to approach your Royal Highness, and with feelings of the deepest sorrow, to offer to your Royal Highness our most heartfelt condolence on the melancholy event of the death of your beloved and illustrious daughter, her Royal Highness the Princess Charlotte Augusta.

While we lay at your Royal Highness's feet this mournful homage of our duty, as faithful subjects, we sympathize as men in the sacred sorrows of nature which rend the heart of a father, and are altogether unable to do justice in words to the feelings of our hearts. The deep and affectionate sorrow with which this event has been felt and mourned by the whole British nation, will, we are persuaded, be the most acceptable tribute to your Royal Highness, and that your heart will fully appreciate the unaffected attachment to yourself and your august family, which it so feelingly demonstrates: that moral empire over the mind which power cannot command, and which can only proceed from the real attachment of the people towards their sovereign.

The warmest sympathies of our hearts are excited towards the afflicted and illustrious consort of the lamented Princess, his Serene Highness Prince Leopold of Saxe Cobourg, who has so justly gained the love and admiration of the whole country, and whose high character and conduct upon every occasion have so fully justified the wisdom of your Royal Highness's choice, when you selected him for the exalted situation of your son-in-law, and committed to him the happiness of a daughter so valued and so beloved.

We earnestly pray that the Heavenly hand which inflicted this wound, may support your Royal Highness under it, and that the acute feelings of your heart for a loss so irreparable may be soothed and comforted, by the contemplation of the piety and virtues of the ever to be lamented Princess, the sweet recollection of her worth and excellence, and the sure and certain hope of the high reward she now enjoys in the regions of pure and perfect felicity.

Signed in our name, and by our appointment, at Renfrew, the 27th day of November 1817.

GLASGOW, Preses.

[Transmitted by the Earl of Glasgow, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To his Royal Highness George Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

The loyal and dutiful Address of the Ministers and Elders of the Presbytery of Perth.

WE, his Majesty's loyal subjects, the Ministers and Elders of the Presbytery of Perth, beg leave to approach your Royal Highness, with the most sincere expression of our condolence on the irreparable loss sustained by your Royal Highness and the nation at large, in the death of her Royal Highness the Princess Charlotte Augusta of Wales, your Royal Highness's daughter, and consort of his Serene Highness Prince Leopold of Saxe Cobourg: your Royal Highness may always depend on our deep interest in every thing connected with the happiness of your illustrious family, which we consider as identified with the welfare of the nation: and, in the present case, while we approach your Royal Highness with sentiments of sincerest sympathy, on account of the afflictive dispensation with which your Royal Highness's family has been visited, we beg leave at the same time to express our deep sense of the national loss, and our unfeigned participation in the general feeling of regret so unequivocally expressed by the British empire. While we bow to the mysterious decrees of Heaven, we shall not fail to pray for the happiness of your Royal Highness, both in your domestic and public relations.

That your Royal Highness may long preside over the administration of this country, and that Princes of your illustrious house may fill the throne of Britain to the remotest ages, is the earnest wish and prayer of his Majesty's loyal subjects, the Ministers and Elders of the Presbytery of Perth.

Signed in the name and presence of the Presbytery of Perth, at Perth, the 26th day of November 1817, by WILLIAM AITKEN, Moderator.

[Transmitted by the Rev. Mr Aitken, and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

Unto his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, REGENT of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland.

WE, his Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Noblemen, Gentlemen, Justices of Peace, Heritors and Commissioners of Supply of the County of Lanark, approach your Royal Highness's person for the purpose of offering our sincere and dutiful tribute of condolence, on the much lamented death of her Royal Highness the Princess Charlotte; an event which has overwhelmed your august family with severe affliction, and the nation with universal grief.

We deplore most deeply the untimely fate of an amiable and beloved Princess. We commiserate most sensibly the wounded feelings of an affectionate and afflicted father, and the keen sufferings of an heart-broken and disconsolate husband, and we sympathize most sincerely in the sorrows of the whole royal family.

We beg leave to assure your Royal Highness, that we participate fully in the general sensations of regret and grief at our irreparable loss, and in the general desire to testify to your Royal Highness a cordial and sincere condolence.

This calamity is indeed the more afflicting from its sudden contrast with the train of bright hopes and prospects we had so lately formed: these hopes and prospects have in one fatal moment been blasted, and together with all those virtues which gave rise to them are laid in an early tomb: in the bloom of youth and in the most interesting moment of her life, our beloved Princess has been snatched from us, just as she was becoming doubly dear to every British heart.

While we deplore, however, this great domestic and national calamity, we sincerely hope that your Royal Highness and all those nearly connected with the lamented Princess, may, through the aid of Divine Providence, be enabled to bear this severe dispensation with fortitude and resignation, and we trust that the nation may be thus encouraged speedily to recover from its present deep distress and melancholy gloom.

Be pleased then, Sir, graciously to accept all the consolation in our power to bestow, our full concurrence, and our full proportion in the sincere and heartfelt condolence of a sympathizing, loyal, and affectionate people.

Signed in name and by appointment of a General Meeting of the County, called for the purpose, held at Hamilton this 28th day of November 1817.

BELHARENT STEUTON, President.

[Transmitted by Lord Archibald Hamilton, M. P. and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]

To his Royal Highness the PRINCE REGENT.

May it please your Royal Highness,

WE, the Ministers and Elders of the Presbytery of Irvine, met in Presbytery, beg leave humbly to approach your Royal Highness, with sentiments of the most sincere condolence, on occasion of the sudden and much lamented death of her Royal Highness the Princess Charlotte of Wales.

Warmly interested in whatever affects your Royal Highness's personal happiness, we cannot but deplore that stroke of Providence, which has so severely wounded a parent's feelings, involved the royal family in deep distress, and overwhelmed the nation at large with heartfelt sorrow. Although the hopes we had fondly cherished are now prematurely blasted, and we are left to lament the loss of a Princess, whose distinguished virtues justly endeared her to her august family, and to the British empire, yet we bow with submission to the will of Heaven, and implore the God of all grace and consolation, to sooth the sorrows of your Royal Highness under the double bereavement of a Princess and her offspring, the lineal descendants of that illustrious house under which we and our fathers have enjoyed so many blessings.

That the God "who comforteth the cast down," may solace the breast of your Royal Highness under this painful visitation of Providence, and sanctify it to the British empire, is the earnest prayer of, may it please your Royal Highness, your Royal Highness's most loyal and devoted subjects, the Ministers and Elders of the Presbytery of Irvine.

Signed in our name and presence, and by appointment of Presbytery of Irvine, this 26th day of November 1817.

ANDREW HALDAN, Moderator.

[Transmitted by the Earl of Eglington, and presented by Lord Viscount Sidmouth.]

To George, PRINCE REGENT of Great Britain and Ireland, &c. &c. &c.

SIR,

WE presume to hope, our anxious wish to approach your Royal Highness with our most respectful, most sincere condolence, on the late truly melancholy event, may not be considered an intrusion; we have to offer as our sole incentive, our participation in the acute sensations of regret and mourning, so universally felt in every breast, and deeply impressed on every countenance: if such are our feelings, how shall we estimate those of your Royal Highness, the Father, and of Prince Leopold of Cobourg, the Husband, of that amiable Princess, lost to the world; and on such an occasion! She was the idol of the nation; alive, the object of highest expectation; now alas! of the most melancholy reflection and despondency: but it was the fiat of the Almighty, to which all must submit; and to whom alone your Royal Highness must look for those only availing consolations you at present stand so much in need of. That your Royal Highness may long enjoy health and happiness, we sincerely pray.

At a very full Meeting of the most respectable Inhabitants of the County of Nairn, at Nairn, the 26th of November 1817.

In presence of, and at the desire of the Meeting, I have the honour to subscribe this in their name, and to assure you, Sir, of our most sincere attachment.

JAMES BRODIE, H. M. Lieut. Nairnshire.

[Transmitted by James Brodie, Esq., and presented by Viscount Sidmouth.]
