ESTATE OF DRYDEN.

It is intended to expose to SALE, by Public Auction, upon Friday the 20th day of December next, at two o'clock afternoon, within the Waterloo Hotel,

THE following LOTS of this beautiful ESTATE:—

1. The principal Lot, comprising within it the Mansion-house, Gardens, Pleasure Grounds, valuable Woods, and the LANDS of HEWEN and MOUNTMARLE.

These lands consist, by a recent survey, of 650 acres 912 dec. English, and are situated in the parish of Lasswade, within less than six miles of Edinburgh, and within half a mile of Roslin Castle, upon the north side of the Esk, the banks of which are delightfully wooded, and embrace the most enchanting views of Roslin Chapel and Castle, and the romantic rocks and celebrated Caves of Hawthornden.

The lawn and pleasure grounds are tastefully ornamented with clumps, belts, and dropping trees, and are beautifully indented by Dryden and Bilsden Burns; the swelling banks of which, for a stretch of more than a mile and a half, are covered with wood, in the highest state of luxuriance and beauty. The views from the well-known cottage of Heven, and from the whole of the grounds of Mountmarle, cannot be surpassed. The garden (surrounded by a brick wall, 12 feet high) and shrubberies, contain 8½ acres, laid out in the best manner, having 61 feet of grape-houses, and 95 of peach-houses, all lately repaired and painted, and highly productive.

The house is handsome and commodious, delightfully situated in what has all the requisites of a magnificent park; and, on the whole, it may be safely stated, that so unique a residence, possessing within itself so many natural beauties and advantages, and at the same time deriving so great additional interest from the surrounding picturesque scenery, is rarely to be met with, and has not been offered to the public for many years.

Any additional valuation required to complete a freehold qualification in the county of Mid-Lothian is to be added to this lot.

2. THE LANDS of ROSLINLEE and WOODHEAD, with ROSLIN BLEACHFIELD, containing 253 acres 271 dec. English measure.

This lot is beautifully situated on the south side of the Esk, having upon it 46 acres of natural wood, in great vigour and beauty, and affording many delightful situations for villas, being exactly opposite to Roslin Chapel and Castle. The lease of Roslinee and Woodhead expired at Martinmas 1820; but, with the view to a sale, the tenant has been continued under the same conditions, and at the same rent. Roslin Bleachfield is in great repute, and a very great increase of rent may be anticipated on the expiry of the lease.

The teinds of the estate of Dryden are valued, and nearly exhausted, and the cess or land tax has been redeemed.

3. MILTON MILL and MILL LANDS, in four divisions.

The four lots, containing 108 acres 836 dec. are situated in the parish of Glencorse, upon Glencorse water, and have a south-west exposure. Lots fourth and fifth are admirably adapted for villas, being within seven miles of Edinburgh, the great roads to Dumfries and Peebles intersecting them; and, as coaches pass daily, there cannot be more eligible situations for men of business. The mill may be rendered very valuable, the supply of water being susceptible of a great increase, if necessary.

The whole of the lands now advertised have been valued by Mr Tait of Langrigg (who is well known to be moderate in his valuations) at such rents as tenants ought to pay on leases of 19 or 21 years; and lands in an adjoining part of the estate, at present out of lease, have been let greatly above his valuation.

Printed particulars may be had on application to Messrs Lockhart and Kennedy, W. S. who will exhibit the title-deeds and plans; and by whom tickets for seeing Dryden-house, on any Wednesday, between the hours of twelve and two o'clock, will be issued. Applications for that purpose to contain the names of the party.

Plans will also be found at the house of Mr James Borthwick, overseer at Dryden, who will give directions for the different lots being pointed out.
