FOREIGN-OFFICE, October 13, 1828.

A Dispatch was this day received by the Earl of Aberdeen, K. T. His Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, from Edward Cromwell Disbrowe, Esq. His Majesty's Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary at the Court of Stuttgart, announcing the melancholy intelligence of the decease of Her Majesty the Queen Dowager of Wurtemberg, at Ludwigsburg, between one and two o'clock in the afternoon of the 6th instant, to the inexpressible grief of the King and all the Royal Family.

Lord Chamberlain's-Office, October 14, 1828.

ORDERS for the Court's going into mourning on Sunday next, the 19th instant, for the late Queen Dowager of Wurtemberg, Sister of His Majesty, viz.—

The Ladies to wear black bombazines, plain muslin or long lawn linen, crape hoods, shamoy shoes and gloves, and crape fans.

Undress—Dark Norwich crape.

The Gentlemen to wear black cloth, without buttons on the sleeves and pockets, plain muslin or long lawn cravats and weepers, shamoy shoes and gloves, crape hatbands, and black swords and buckles.

Undress—Dark grey frocks.

HERALD'S-COLLEGE, October 14, 1828.

The Earl Marshal's Order for a General Mourning for Her late Majesty the Queen Dowager of Wurtemberg.

In pursuance of His Majesty's commands, these are to give public notice, that upon the present melancholy occasion of the death of Her late Majesty the Queen Dowager of Wurtemberg, His Majesty's Sister, it is expected that all persons do put themselves into deep mourning; the said mourning to begin on Sunday next, the 19th instant.

NORFOLK, Earl Marshal.

HORSE-GUARDS, October 14, 1828.

His Majesty does not require that the Officers of the Army shall wear any other mourning, on the present melancholy occasion of the death of Her Majesty the late Queen Dowager of Wurtemberg, than a black crape round their left arms with their uniforms.

By command of the Right Honourable the General Commanding in Chief, HERBERT TAYLOR, Adjutant-General.

ADMIRALTY-OFFICE, October 14, 1828.

His Majesty does not require that the Officers of the Fleet or Marines should wear any other mourning, on the present melancholy occasion of the death of Her Majesty the late Queen Dowager of Wurtemberg, than a black crape round their left arms with their uniforms.
