FRIDAY, JANUARY 26, 1838.

Colonial-Office, Downing-Street, January 24, 1838

DISPATCHEs have been received from Lieutenant-General Sir John Colborne, K.C.B. Commander of the Forces in Canada, dated 13th and 15th December 1837, of which the following are extract and copies:—

Extract from a Dispatch from Lieutenant-General Sir John Colborne, K. C. B. to Major-General Lord Fitzroy Somerset, K. C. B. dated Montreal, December 13, 1837.

"I HAVE the honour to acquaint you, that, on the return of Colonel Gore from St. Hyacinthe with part of the force under his command, I detached Lieutenant-Colonel Hughes, of the 24th Regiment, with ten companies, to attack the rebels which had entered St. Armand, from Swanton, in the United States; the brave and loyal volunteers of Missisqui, however, had, previously to the march of that officer from St. John's, dispersed the Canadians of which he was in pursuit. They were commanded by Bouchette and Gaynon.

"I proceed this day, with all my disposable force, towards St. Eustache, in expectation of speedily putting down the revolt in the Grand Brule, in the county of the two mountains."

Head-Quarters, St. Benoit, Grand My Lord, Brule, December 15, 1837.

In transmitting to you a copy of a dispatch to the General Commanding in Chief, I beg to inform your Lordship, that I entertain no doubt that the revolt in Lower Canada is completely at an end. The whole of the habitans, who were in arms, in the county of the Lake of the Two Mountains, the most disturbed part of the district, since the commencement of the revolt, are returning to their homes, and bringing in their arms to my Head-quarters.

I have the honour to be, &c.

J. COLBORNE, Lieut.-Gen.

The Right Hon. Lord Glenelg, H. M. Secretary of State, Colonial Department.

(Copy.)

Head-quarters, Saint Benoit, Grand Brule.

MY LORD,

I MARCHED with the disposable force under my command from Montreal on the 13th, and entered Saint Eustache on the next day; this village had been occupied for ten days by about twelve hundred rebels, commanded by Chenien and Girod, two of the most active of their leaders.

On the appearance of the Queen's troops, the greater part of the rebels dispersed, but others remained, and fired from the church and adjacent houses, which were taken without much loss.

I continued my march to Saint Benoit, Grand Brule, this morning; a section of the country in which more outrages had been committed than in any other part of the country, since the commencement of the revolt.

It appears that the rebel army dispersed yesterday; and this morning the peasantry, which have been assembled, are bringing in their arms to Head-quarters; and I have reason to believe that, in every part of the country, the habitans have returned to their houses, and that the revolt has been completely put down. Our loss has been inconsiderable: the details of the march I shall take an early opportunity of communicating to you.

I have the honour to be, &c.

J. COLBORNE, Lieut.-Gen.

Major-Gen. the Right Hon. Lord FitzRoy Somerset, &c. &c. &c.
