FROM TUESDAY, JUNE 12. TO FRIDAY, JUNE 15. 1798.

London Gazette Extraordinary, June 11.

WHITEHALL, June 10. 1798.

A DISPATCH, of which the following is a copy, has been received from his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland by his Grace the Duke of Portland, his Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department.

MY LORD, DUBLIN CASTLE, JUNE 8.

I AM to acquaint your Grace, that early this morning Lieutenant General Lake received an express from Major-General Johnson, dated at New Ross, the 5th instant. The Major-General states, that the rebels had, on that morning, attacked his position at New Ross, with a very numerous force, and with great impetuosity, but that after a contest of several hours they were completely repulsed. The loss of the rebels was prodigiously great. An iron gun, upon a ship carriage, was taken; and late in the evening they retreated entirely to Carrickbyrne, leaving several iron ship guns, not mounted.

General Johnson states, that too much praise cannot be given to the forces under his command; and that to Major-General Eustace, and indeed to every individual, he was in the highest degree indebted for their spirited exertions.

The General severely regrets the loss of that brave officer, Lord Mountjoy, who fell early in the contest. A return of the killed and wounded of his Majesty's forces has not been received, but it appears not to have been considerable.

I have the honour to be, &c. CAMDEN.

His Grace the Duke of Portland, &c.

LONDON GAZETTE, June 12.

WHITEHALL, June 12. 1798.

DISPATCHES, of which the following are copies, have been this day received from his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland by his Grace the Duke of Portland, his Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department.

Dublin-Castle, June 9. 1798.

MY LORD,

It is with the utmost concern I acquaint your Grace an insurrection has broken out in the county of Antrim; and in order to give your Grace the fullest information in my power, I inclose to you an extract of a letter received this morning by Lord Castlereagh from Major-General Nugent. I am in great hope, from the numbers and spirit of the loyal in that part of the country, the insurgents may be quickly checked.

I have the honour to be, &c.

CAMDEN.

His Grace the Duke of Portland.

MY LORD,

Belfast, June 8. 1798.

I HAVE the honour to report to your Lordship, that in consequence of information, which I received early yesterday morning, of an intended insurrection in the county of Antrim, having for its first object the seizure of the Magistrates, who were to assemble that day in the town of Antrim, I apprehended several persons in Belfast. I did not receive the intelligence early enough to prevent the insurgents from taking possession of Antrim, and I am not therefore acquainted with their first proceedings there, but I prevented many Magistrates from leaving Belfast; and many others, being officers of yeomanry, on permanent duty, did not attend the meeting. I ordered the 64th regiment, and light battalion, and 100 of the 22d light dragoons, under Colonel Clavering, and Lieutenant-Colonel Lumley, with two 5½ inch howitzers, and two curricles six pounders, to proceed with the utmost dispatch through Lisburn to Antrim. I also ordered from the garrison 250 of the Monaghan militia, with Lieutenant-Colonel Ker, and 50 of the 22d dragoons, together with the Belfast yeomanry cavalry, with Major Smith, to proceed under the command of Colonel Durham, with two curricles six pounders, through Carmoney, and Temple-patrick to Antrim, to co-operate with the other detachment. The dragoons under Lieutenant-Colonel Lumley having made the attack upon the town, without waiting for the light battalion, were fired upon from the windows of the houses, and were consequently obliged to retreat, with the loss of, I am sorry to add, three officers of that excellent regiment, killed and wounded, and the two curricles six pounders. Col. Clavering, on his arrival near Antrim, finding the rebels pouring into that town in great force, very judiciously took post on a hill on the Lisburn side, and reported his situation to M.-Gen. Goldie. In the mean time Col. Durham, with his whole Detachment proceeded to within half a mile of Antrim, and after a cannonade of half an hour, drove the insurgents completely out of the town, and retook the two curricles six pounders, together with one brass six pounder, very badly mounted, of which it seems the rebels had two, supposed to have been smuggled out of Belfast. The Colonel then proceeded without the loss of a man, thro' the town (which, for obvious reasons, suffered much) to Shane's Castle and Randelstown, in which direction the principal part of the rebels fled. He remains there still for orders from me. Lord O'Neil, I am sorry to say, is dangerously wounded. Lieutenant-Colonel Leslie of the Tay fencibles, reports to me, from Carrickfergus, that Lieutenant Small, with a detachment of twenty men of that corps, in the barrack at Larne, defended themselves most gallantly against the attack of a numerous body, and maintained their post with the loss of two killed and three wounded, including the Lieutenant. I have ordered them into head-quarters at Carrickfergus. The Glenarm yeomanry (60 strong) being also threatened by an attack, in the course of the day took possession of Glenarm Castle, where they will maintain themselves, if possible. Brigadier-General Knox, having heard of a party of the Toome yeomanry being made prisoners by the insurgents, sent to me very early this morning to offer to march by Toome Bridge, into the county of Antrim; which I have desired him to do, in order to liberate Colonel Durham's detachment, and enable them to cross the country on their return to Belfast.

Although the insurrection has been pretty general in the county, I do not find they had much success; but I have not as yet received any reports from Ballycastle, Ballymena, Ballymoney, Portglenore, and other places in the northern parts, in which yeomanry are stationed. As my information led to a general rising in the county of Down, I have been obliged to call in all the small detachments of the York fencibles to Newton Ardes. Colonel Stapleton has every thing in readiness to move at a moment's warning. The yeomanry are all on permanent duty throughout the counties of Down and Antrim; and I have distributed arms to 140 loyal men in Belfast, who will be attached to the Monaghan and Fifeshire regiments, and thereby become very useful.—Offers of service are very numerous.

I cannot close this letter without expressing to your Lordship my entire approbation of the conduct of the troops of all descriptions in this part of the northern district. Their zeal and attention to their duties cannot be surpassed, and I trust that, when occasion offers, they will act in that concert which is so much to be wished for in military service. Lieutenant-Colonel Lumley, I am afraid, is badly wounded in the leg;—Cornet Dunn is killed; and Lieutenant Murphy slightly wounded; all of the 22d dragoons. I understand, but not officially, that some yeomanry from Lord Hertford's estate (I believe the Derriaghy) were with the dragoons when they made the unsuccessful attack on Antrim, and they retired to Antrim Castle, where they were relieved by Colonel Durham. Colonel Durham deserves my warmest praise for his judicious and spirited conduct. He speaks in high terms of the detachment under him, and particularly the Monaghan militia. The Rev. Steele Dickson was taken up the night before last, and sent prisoner here, where he will be confined in a place of safety, as well as many others, whom it is now necessary to apprehend. Your Lordship may depend upon my individual exertions in this unpleasant contest; and as I am ably supported, I make no doubt that we shall prevent the rebels from gaining any advantages, and ultimately oblige them to return to their allegiance. I shall write again to-morrow should any material event occur.

G. NUGENT, Major-General.

Lord Viscount Castlereagh, &c.

MY LORD, Dublin-Castle, June 9. 1798.

I HAVE the honour to inclose herewith to your Grace further particulars respecting the action at New Ross, which have been received in a letter from Major-General Johnson to Lieutenant-General Lake, of which I transmit your Grace an extract, with two returns annexed.

I have the honour to be, &c. CAMDEN.

His Grace the Duke of Portland, &c.

Extract of a letter from Major-General JOHNSON to Lieutenant General LAKE, dated at Ross, June 7, 1798.

I send you a return of the killed, wounded, and missing of the troops engaged on the 5th instant. Their numbers you will, I trust, find not great, when you take into consideration the numbers they were opposed to.

I likewise send a return of the ordnance, ammunition, and standards taken from the rebels. The number killed cannot be ascertained. In my former letter I was prevented, by a pressure of business, doing justice to the merits of several officers to whom I am highly indebted for their extraordinary exertions.

General, EUSTACE, Colonel CRAWFORD, Assistant Quarter Master General, Lieutenant Colonels STEWART, 89th regiment, commanding light infantry, and MAXWELL, Donegal militia; Majors VANDELEUR, Clare militia; VESEY, county of Dublin militia; and MELLIFONT, my Aid-de-Camp; and Major of Brigade SANDFORD, are entitled to my fullest praise. I should not omit Lieutenant EUSTACE, the General's Aid-de-Camp, who is a very promising young man. To Lieutenant Colonel Sir JAMES FOULIS, commanding Mid-Lothian cavalry, and Captain IRVINE, commanding the detachment of the 5th and 9th dragoons, I am no less indebted. I cannot say too much in favour of Captain BLOOMFIELD, B. H. artillery, and Captain THORNHILL, commanding the R. I. flying artillery, whose very great exertions contributed very essentially to our success. We had a great loss in Colonel Lord MOUNTJOY.—Captain TOTTENHAM, yeoman cavalry, and Captain BOYD, with the debus of his corps, have rendered me every possible assistance. In making mention of those particulars, I would not wish you to suppose I do not feel myself much indebted to every individual, a very few excepted.

Return of killed, wounded, and missing, of the troops engaged at Rofs, on the 5th June 1798:

KILLED.—1 Colonel, 1 Cornet, 1 Quarter-Master, 4 serjeants; 3 drummers, and 81 rank and file. Also 54 horses.

WOUNDED.—1 Captain, and 57 rank and file.—Also 5 horses.

MISSING.—1 Captain, 3 Lieutenants, 1 Ensign, 2 serjeants, 2 drummers, 72 rank and file, and 4 horses.

Names of Officers, killed, wounded, and missing.

Colonel Lord Mountjoy, county of Dublin militia, killed.

Cornet Ladwell, 5th dragoons, killed.

Captain Sinclair, Donegal militia, wounded.

Captain Warburton and Lieutenant Flinter, Queen's County, militia, missing.

Lieutenant Harford, Killkenny militia, missing.

Lieuts. Blake and Buller, of the 89th, attached to Light Battalion, missing.
