FRIDAY, JULY 2, 1852.

BUCKINGHAM-PALACE, July 1, 1852.

THIS day Her Majesty, accompanied by His Royal Highness The Prince Albert, proceeded in State from Buckingham-Palace to the House of Peers, where she arrived soon after two o'clock, and delivered the following most gracious SPEECH to both Houses of Parliament :—

My Lords and Gentlemen,

I AM induced by considerations of public policy to release you at an earlier period than usual from your Legislative duties.

The zeal and diligence, however, with which you have applied yourselves to your Parliamentary labours, have enabled Me, in this comparatively short Session, to give My assent to many measures of high importance, and, I trust, of great and permanent advantage.

I receive from all Foreign Powers assurances that they are animated by the most friendly dispositions towards this Country, and I entertain a confident hope that the amicable relations happily subsisting between the principal European States may be so firmly established, as, under Divine Providence, to secure to the World a long continuance of the blessings of peace.

To this great end My attention will be unremittingly directed.

I rejoice that the final settlement of the affairs of Holstein and Schleswig, by the general concurrence of the Powers chiefly interested, has removed one cause of recent difference, and of future anxiety.

The amicable termination of the discussions which have taken place between the Sublime Porte and the Pacha of Egypt afford a guarantee for the tranquillity of the East, and an encouragement to the extension of commercial enterprise.

The refusal on the part of the King of Ava, of redress justly demanded for insults and injuries offered to My Subjects at Rangoon, has necessarily led to an interruption of friendly relations with that Sovereign.

The promptitude and vigour with which the Governor-General of India has taken the measures thus rendered unavoidable, have merited My entire approbation ; and I am confident, that you will participate in the satisfaction with which I have observed the conduct of the naval and military forces—European and Indian—by whose valour and discipline the important captures of Rangoon and Martaban have been accomplished, and in the hope that I entertain that these signal successes in so many cases may lead to an early and an honourable peace.

Treaties have been concluded by My naval Commanders with the King of Dahomey, and all the African Chiefs whose rule extends along the Bight of Benin, for the total abolition of the slave-trade, which is at present wholly suppressed upon that coast.

I have had great satisfaction in giving My assent to the measure which you have wisely adopted for the better organization of the Militia—a Constitutional Force which, being limited to purposes of internal defence, can afford no just ground of jealousy to neighbouring Powers, but which, in the event of any sudden and unforeseen disturbance of My Foreign relations, would at all times contribute essentially to the protection and security of My Dominions.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

I thank you for the liberal provision which you have made for the exigencies of the public service.

The expenditure which you have authorised shall be applied with a due regard to economy and efficiency.

The recent discoveries of extensive gold fields have produced in the Australian Colonies a temporary disturbance of society, requiring prompt attention. I have taken such steps as appeared to Me most urgently necessary for the mitigation of this serious evil. I shall continue anxiously to watch the important results which must follow from these discoveries.

I have willingly concurred with you in an Act, which, by rendering available to the service of those Colonies the portion arising within them of the hereditary revenue placed at the disposal of Parliament on My accession to the Throne, may enable them to meet their necessarily increased expenditure.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

I have gladly assented to the important Bills which you have passed for effecting reforms long and anxiously desired in the practice and proceedings of the Superior Courts of Law and Equity ; and generally, for improving the Administration of Justice.

Every measure which simplifies the forms, and diminishes the delay and expense of legal proceedings, without introducing uncertainty of decision, impairing the authority of the Courts, or lowering the high standard of the Judicial Bench, is a valuable boon conferred upon the community at large.

I hope that the measures which you have adopted for promoting extramural interment of the dead, and for improving the supply of water, may be found effectual for the remedy of evils, the existence of which has long been a reproach to this great Metropolis, and may conduce to the health and comfort of its inhabitants.

The extension of popular rights and legislative powers to My Subjects resident in the Colonies, is always to me an object of deep interest, and I trust that the Representative Institutions which, in concert with you, I have sanctioned for New Zealand, may promote the welfare and contentment of the population of that distant but most interesting Colony, and confirm their loyalty and attachment to My Crown.

It is My intention without delay to dissolve this present Parliament, and it is My earnest prayer that, in the exercise of the high functions which, according to our free Constitution, will devolve upon the several constituencies, they may be directed by an All-wise Providence to the selection of Representatives whose wisdom and patriotism may aid Me in My unceasing endeavours to sustain the honour and dignity of My Crown, to uphold the Protestant Institutions of the Country, and the Civil and Religious Liberty which is their natural result, to extend and improve the National Education, to develop and encourage Industry, Art, and Science, and to elevate the moral and social condition, and thereby promote the welfare and happiness, of My People.

Then the Lord Chancellor, by Her Majesty's command, said—

My Lords and Gentlemen,

It is Her Majesty's Royal Will and Pleasure, that this Parliament be prorogued to Friday the Twentieth day of August next, to be then here holden; and this Parliament is accordingly prorogued to Friday the Twentieth day of August next.

By the QUEEN.

A PROCLAMATION,

For Dissolving the present Parliament and Declaring the Calling of another.

VICTORIA, R.

WHEREAS We have thought fit, by and with the advice of Our Privy Council, to dissolve this present Parliament, which was this day prorogued, and stands prorogued to Friday the twentieth day of August next: We do for that end publish this Our Royal Proclamation, and do hereby dissolve the said Parliament accordingly; and the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and the Knights, Citizens, and Burgesses, and the Commissioners for shires and burghs, of the House of Commons are discharged from their meeting and attendance on the said Friday the twentieth day of August next: and We, being desirous and resolved, as soon as may be, to meet Our People, and to have their advice in Parliament, do hereby make known to all Our loving subjects Our Royal will and pleasure to call a new Parliament: and do hereby further declare, that, with the advice of Our Privy Council, We have given order that Our Chancellor of that part of Our United Kingdom called Great Britain, and Our Chancellor of Ireland, do, respectively, upon notice thereof, forthwith issue out writs in due form, and according to law, for calling a new Parliament: and We do hereby also, by this Our Royal Proclamation under our Great Seal of Our United Kingdom, require writs forthwith to be issued accordingly by Our said Chancellors respectively, for causing the Lords Spiritual and Temporal and Commons, who are to serve in the said Parliament, to be duly returned to, and give their attendance in Our said Parliament; which writs are to be returnable on Friday the twentieth day of August next.

Given at Our Court at Buckingham-Palace, this first day of July, in the year of Our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty-two, and in the sixteenth year of Our reign.

GOD save the QUEEN.

By the QUEEN.

A PROCLAMATION,

In order to the Electing and Summoning the Sixteen Peers of Scotland.

VICTORIA, R.

WHEREAS We have in Our Council thought fit to declare Our pleasure for summoning and holding a Parliament of Our United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland on Friday the twentieth day of August next ensuing the date hereof; in order therefore to the electing and summoning the Sixteen Peers of Scotland who are to sit in the House of Peers in the said Parliament, We do, by the advice of Our Privy Council, issue forth this Our Royal Proclamation, strictly charging and commanding all the Peers of Scotland to assemble and meet at Holyrood-house in Edinburgh, on Thursday the fifteenth day of July instant, between the hours of twelve and two in the afternoon, to nominate and choose the Sixteen Peers, to sit and vote in the House of Peers in the said ensuing Parliament, by open election and plurality of voices of the Peers that shall be then present, and of the proxies of such as shall be absent (such proxies being Peers, and producing a mandate in writing, duly signed before witnesses, and both the constituent and proxy being qualified according to law), and the Lord Clerk Register, or such two of the Principal Clerks of the Session as shall be appointed by him to officiate in his name, are hereby respectively required to attend such meeting, and to administer the oaths required by law to be taken there by the said Peers, and to take their votes; and immediately after such election made and duly examined, to certify the names of the Sixteen Peers so elected, and to sign and attest the same in the presence of the said Peers the electors, and return such certificate into Our High Court of Chancery of Great Britain. And We do, by this Our Royal Proclamation, strictly command and require the Provost of Edinburgh, and all other the Magistrates of the said city, to take especial care to preserve the peace thereof during the time of the said Election, and to prevent all manner of riots, tumults, disorders, and violence whatsoever. And We strictly charge and command that this Our Royal Proclamation be duly published at the Market-Cross at Edinburgh, and in all the county towns of Scotland, ten days at least before the time hereby appointed for the meeting of the said Peers to proceed to such Election.

Witness Ourselves at Westminster, this first day of July, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-two, and in the sixteenth year of Our reign.

GOD save the QUEEN.
