Colonel Henry Colvile Colonel George Dixon Colonel George Moncrieffe Lieutenant-Colonel Hon. C. Grantham Scott Lieutenant-Colonel Francis Seymour Lieutenant-Colonel Chas. Assheton Fitz-Hardinge Berkeley

Sat at the head of the Coffin.

Scots' Fusilier Guards, 1st Battalion.

Lieutenant-Colonel William John Ridley Captain Frederick Charles Arthur Stephenson Captain Hon. J. Strange Jocelyn Captain Francis Fortescue Captain Robert Nigel Fitz-Kingscote Captain G. T. Francis Shuckburgh Captain Hugh Fitz-Hardinge Drummond Captain John Dugdale Astley Lieutenant William Gascoigne Bulwer Lieutenant Roger Mostyn Lieutenant Francis Baring Lieutenant Seymour Lionel William Dawson Damer Lieutenant Seymour John Blane Lieutenant William Wallingford Knollys Lieutenant Robert James Lindsay Lieutenant G. Gordon Lieutenant Viscount Ennismore

Sat around the Coffin.

At eleven o'clock on the night of Wednesday the 17th, the Body was removed, in the presence of the Marquess of Exeter, Lord Chamberlain, and Norman Hilton Macdonald, Esq. Comptroller of the Lord Chamberlain's Department, and conveyed (in a Hearse drawn by four horses) to the Horse Guards, being attended by an escort of Life Guards, and followed by two Mourning Coaches, the one containing Thomas C. March, Esq. Chief-Clerk of the Lord Chamberlain's Department, and the other, Mr Kendall and Mr Collins, servants of the deceased. On arrival at the Horse Guards, the Body was placed in the Audience Chamber there, which had been previously prepared for the purpose.

ON THE MORNING of the 18th, the Troops assembled in St James's Park, under the command of Major-General His Royal Highness the Duke of Cambridge, K. G., to whom the following Staff was attached :-

Colonel the Earl of Cardigan, and

Colonel Lord De Ros,

who performed the duties of the Adjutant and Quarter-Master General's Departments, under His

Royal Highness; and
Lieutenant-Colonel Lord William Paulet, Unattached; Lieutenant-Colonel Lord George Paget, 4th Light Dragoons; Lieutenant-Colonel Tyrwhitt, Scots' Fusilier Guards; and Captain His Serene Highness Prince Edward of Saxe-Weimar, Grenadier Guards, acted as His Royal Highness's Aides-de-Camp.

The Military force appointed for this duty consisted of

17 Pieces of Artillery

8 Squadrons of Cavalry,

and

6 Battalions of Infantry.

The Infantry was formed on the Parade in front of the Horse Guards, at half-past seven o'clock, in the following order :-

The 1st Battalion Grenadier Guards on the right, near the Cadiz Mortar; the Battalion of the Rifle Brigade on the left, near the long gun; in contiguous columns at quarter distance, right in front, facing the Horse Guards. Bands in rear of respective Battalions.

The Brigade of Guards consisted of

1st Battalion Grenadier Guards,

1st Battalion Coldstream Guards,

1st Battalion Scots' Fusilier Guards,

33d Regiment,

1st Battalion Royal Marines,

2d Battalion Rifle Brigade,

640 rank and file each.

9 Guns of the Field Batteries, with 118 rank and file,

8 Guns of the Horse Artillery, with 96 rank and file, and was drawn up between the Duke of York's Monument and the Carlton Stables.

The three Squadrons of Household Cavalry were drawn up on each side of the Centre Mall; and the Cavalry of the line in the same order, consisting of

1 Squadron 6th Dragoon Guards,

1 Squadron 2d Dragoons,

1 Squadron 8th Hussars

1 Squadron 13th Light Dragoons,

1 Squadron 17th Lancers,

40 files each.