

under the authority of an Act passed in the Session of Parliament holden in the ninth and tenth years of the reign of Her present Majesty Queen Victoria, intituled "An Act to amend the laws relating to the Customs," appoint the places hereinafter mentioned, within the Port of Portsmouth, to be legal quays for the lading and unlading of goods; and we do hereby declare the extent of such quays to be as follows, that is to say:—

All that open place, quay, or wharf, called the Outer Camber Wharf, within the borough of Portsmouth, in the county of Southampton, being the property of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses of the said borough, being in length, from the wall at the west end thereof to the angle near the swivel-bridge, four hundred and ninety-three feet, and varying in breadth from ninety-one feet at the west end thereof (excluding the space occupied by the stairs,) to forty-three feet at the east end thereof, near the said bridge; also all that other open place, quay, or wharf, being a continuation of the quay or wharf last mentioned, which proceeds across the foot of west end of the said swivel bridge, in a south-westwardly direction, to the extent of three hundred and ten feet, until it terminates at the hard beach of the Inner Camber; the said last-mentioned quay or wharf varying throughout in breadth from forty feet at the widest part thereof to twenty-four feet to the narrowest part thereof.

Also all that other open place, quay, or wharf, called the Inner Camber Wharf, at Portsmouth aforesaid, being the property of and in the occupation of the said Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgesses, being in length five hundred and fifty-three feet from the landing-stairs adjoining the Custom-house, to a point opposite the Hospital, at the Camber Bastion, and adjoining the slip-way on the Inner Camber for the repairs of vessels; the said open quay or wharf last mentioned being in breadth, from the quay wall to the quay gate, one hundred and sixty-two feet, and being in breadth between the walls, at the widest part, eighty-five feet, and breadth measured at the angles sixty-eight feet, and between the walls and the bastion is of an uniform breadth of thirty-two feet, but excluding, nevertheless, from the privilege of a legal quay, the wharfinger's house and offices upon the Inner Camber Wharf.

Also all that other open place, quay, or wharf, at Portsmouth aforesaid, called the Customs Quay, the property of Her said Majesty, and in the occupation of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Customs, which is of a triangular figure, and in length, in front of the said Custom-house, two hundred and six feet, on the south-west side thereof, one hundred and fifty-eight feet, and a small part of the south side thereof, facing the landing-stairs, being thirteen feet in length; on the north-east side thereof one hundred and thirty-five feet, then turning north, forty feet, and again turning eastward twelve feet, where it adjoins the mast-house, reserving, nevertheless, to Her said Majesty, Her heirs and successors, in consideration of the contiguity of the said last-mentioned quay to Her Custom-house, full right and power, at all times, to prevent access to and from the said quay, as the said Commissioners of Customs may, by an order in writing, direct or appoint.

And We, the said Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, do hereby annul all former legal quays set out and appointed within the said limits of the said Port.

Port of Arundel.

Limits of Port and Legal Quays.

We, the undersigned, Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, do hereby, under the authority of an Act passed in the session of Parliament holden in the ninth and tenth years of the reign of Her present Majesty Queen Victoria, intituled "An Act to amend the laws relating to the Customs," appoint Arundel to be a Port in that part of the United Kingdom called England; and we do hereby declare that the limits of the said Port shall commence at the most eastern point of the parish of Heene, in the county of Sussex, and thence along the coast of the said county, and up the river Arun, to the north side of Arundel Bridge; from thence, southwards, including the said river, to the mouth thereof, and so, westwardly, along the coast to Bosham Creek; and thence up, and including the said creek, to the most western part of the parish of Bosham, in the said county, being the eastern limit of the Port of Portsmouth; and shall extend seaward to a distance of three miles from low water-mark, and include all islands, rivers, bays, harbours, and creeks, within such limits respectively.

And we, the said Lords Commissioners, do hereby appoint the following places within the said Port of Arundel to be legal quays for the lading and unlading of goods, and do hereby declare the extent of the said quays to be as follows; that is to say:—

All that open place, quay, or wharf, extending from the said river Arun to the common highway, and being in length on the south side thereof seventy-two feet, on the north side thereof sixty-nine feet nine inches, on the east side thereof thirty-six feet, and on the west side thereof seventy-four feet, and now in the occupation of the mayor and burgesses of Arundel aforesaid.

Also all that open place, quay, or wharf, situate at Appledram, near Chichester, in the county of Sussex, being in length, from north to south, on the west side thereof, seventy-eight feet; from east to west, on the south side thereof, sixty feet; and on the north side thereof, thirty-nine feet; bounded on all sides, except the eastern, by the
