WAR-DEPARTMENT, July 23, 1855.

LORD PANMURE has this day received a Despatch and its Enclosures, of which the following are copies, addressed to his Lordship by Lieutenant-General Simpson, Commanding Her Majesty's Forces in the East.

*Before Sevastopol,
July 10, 1855.*

MY LORD,

I HAVE the honour to enclose the returns of casualties to the 8th instant.

Your Lordship will regret to see that the lists of killed and wounded are heavy; but the nearer we approach the defences of the place the greater number of casualties must be expected.

Brevet-Major Harrison, 63d Regiment, was killed on the evening of the 7th instant, whilst proceeding to the trenches; he was a most excellent officer, and is a serious loss to Her Majesty's service.

It will give your Lordship sincere pleasure to mark the improvement in the general health of the troops.

At five o'clock this morning a heavy fire was opened upon the Redan by the Allied batteries.

I have, &c.,

JAMES SIMPSON,
Lieutenant-General Commanding.

ADMIRALTY, July 23, 1855.

DESPATCHES, of which the following are copies, have been received at the Admiralty from Rear-Admiral Sir Edmund Lyons, Bart., G.C.B., Commander-in-Chief of Her Majesty's Ships and Vessels in the Black Sea.

*Royal Albert, off Sevastopol,
July 10, 1855.*

SIR,
THEIR Lordships will have great pleasure in learning that Commander Osborne, of the Vesuvius, mentions in favourable terms a letter he had received from Lieutenant W. N. W. Hewett, the Commander of the Beagle, reporting the destruction of the floating bridge in the Straits of Genitchi.

2. I have now the honour to enclose a copy of that letter, and to draw their Lordships' attention to the excellent arrangements made by Lieutenant Hewett, as well as to the gallant and able way in which his orders were executed by Mr Martin Tracey, Midshipman, of the Vesuvius, Mr John Hayles, Acting Gunner of the Beagle, and the boats' crews, one of whom, Joseph Trewavas, Ordinary Seaman, lent from the Agamemnon, was wounded, and is particularly mentioned as having cut the hawsers.

I am, &c.,

(Signed) EDMUND LYONS,
Rear-Admiral and Commander-in Chief.

To the Secretary of the Admiralty, London.

Beagle, off the Town of Ghenitchesk, 4th July 1855.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to inform you that on my arrival off this place I immediately proceeded to minutely examine the communication between the town and Arabat Spit, and on so doing I found it to be by means of a ferry of two large flats and hawsers, which I determined to destroy if possible.

Accordingly, on the forenoon of yesterday, I despatched my gig, under Mr John Hayles, Acting Gunner of this ship, and paddle-box boat, under Mr Martin Tracey, Midshipman, of the Vesuvius.

I have much pleasure in reporting that they succeeded entirely in destroying it by cutting the hawsers and casting the boats adrift, which was done under a very heavy fire of musketry at about 80 yards, the troops completely lining the beach, and the adjacent houses being filled with riflemen.

Great credit is due to Mr Hayles for his activity and zeal in destroying the same, and to Mr Martin Tracey for the effectual fire he kept up in covering his retreat, the firing from the ship and paddle-box boat at the same time causing great confusion and loss amongst the enemy as they retired from their exposed position.

Mr Hayles speaks in the highest terms of the boat's crew, especially of Joseph Trewavas, Ordinary Seaman, lent from the Agamemnon, who cut the hawsers.

I enclose a list of casualties, which I am happy to say is very small, although the gig and paddle-box boat were riddled with musket balls.

I have, &c.,
(Signed) W. N. W. HEWETT,
Lieutenant Commanding.

*To Commander S. Osborne,
Senior Officer of Her Majesty's Ship Vesuvius.*

Her Majesty's Ship Beagle, off Town of Ghenitchesk, July 3, 1855.

Return of Wounded on 3d July 1855, during Boat Attack of Her Majesty's Ships Vesuvius paddle-box boat and gig of Beagle, in destroying the Ferry of Town of Ghenitchesk and Arabat Spit.

John Hayles, aged 36, Acting Gunner, slight contusion of left forearm from spent musket ball.

Stephen Trewavas, aged 20, Ord., contused wound of right shoulder from musket ball.

Approved,
(Signed) W. N. W. HEWETT,
Lieutenant Commanding.

(Signed) W. H. CAMERON,
Assistant-Surgeon.

ADMIRALTY, July 23, 1855.

DESPATCHES, of which the following are copies, have been received at the Admiralty, from Rear-Admiral the Honourable R. S. Dundas, Commander-in-Chief of Her Majesty's ships and vessels in the Baltic :—

*Duke of Wellington, at Nargen,
July 17, 1855.*

SIR,

I TRANSMIT herewith, to be laid before my Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, a report of proceedings during the past week from Captain Yelverton, who rejoined me yesterday at this anchorage, in Her Majesty's ship Arrogant, and who, with the Magicienne and Ruby gunboats in company, visited the south coast of the Gulf of Finland, and attacked some military posts of the enemy at Kounda Bay and in the River Portsoiki.

Returning afterwards to his former station in the Bay of Viborg, he proceeded with boats towards the town, and engaged with a superior force of the enemy, defended by batteries.

I request you will express to their Lordships my approbation of the conduct of this enterprising Officer upon all occasions; and I would beg to recommend to their favourable notice the conduct of Captain Vansittart, of the Magicienne, and of Lieutenant Haggard, of the Arrogant, and Lieutenant Dowell, of the Royal Marine Artillery, and the excellent behaviour of all the officers and men.

Captain Yelverton has spoken favourably also of the conduct of Mr Hale, mate, in command of the Ruby.

I regret much to have to report the loss of Mr Story, midshipman of the Arrogant, with nine others wounded in the boats of the two ships, of whom one is since dead.

I have, &c.,
(Signed) R. S. DUNDAS.

To the Secretary of the Admiralty.

Enclosure in Admiral Dundas's Letter.

Her Majesty's ship Arrogant, off Viborg, July 14, 1855.

SIR

I HAVE the honour to acquaint you with my proceedings during the week.

The Magicienne rejoined me on Wednesday, and I proceeded direct to Kounda Bay, on the South Coast, where I had reason to think that troops were concentrated. It turned out to be a large Cossack encampment, on a most commanding position, from whence I dislodged them with shell and rockets from the Ruby and ship's boats. Some opposition was made to our landing, and shots fired from behind hedges, &c.; but I succeeded in examining the place, which I did not injure, as it only contained private property.

The following morning I anchored at the mouth of the River Portsoiki, and landing on its right bank, destroyed a Cossack barrack and stables, driving the soldiers into the country. I then came on here.

Having anchored the ships as close as I could to the Island of Stralsund, I proceeded in the Ruby, accompanied by Captain Vansittart of the Magicienne, and Captain Lowder, R.M., of this ship, the latter officer having under his command a strong detachment of marines; we towed with us the boats of this ship, under the command of Lieutenants Haggard and Woolcombe, and those of the Magicienne, under the command of Lieutenants King and Loady.

Having opened the bay, called Trangsund, we saw a Russian man-of-war steamer with two large gun-boats in tow, not far off; this most novel and unexpected sight of a Russian man-of-war for once clear of a stone wall, and to all appearance inclined to give us a fair and honest fight, created the greatest enthusiasm amongst the men and officers.

I directed Mr Hale, commanding the Ruby, to open fire on her at once, but she very soon retired out of range, having, I think, received some damage. We had now reached the entrance of the sound; Viborg was in sight, and a fair prospect of attacking three large gun-boats, lying with another steamer under an island about one mile off. We were here brought up by a barrier, impeding the passage of the gun-boat and launches.

At this moment a masked battery on the left bank, not more than 350 yards off, opened on us a heavy fire of musketry, round and grape; this was instantly returned and kept in check by a rapid and well directed fire from the Ruby and all the boats. The enemy's steamer and gun-boats then came from under the island and also opened fire on us.

As it was impossible to get the Ruby through the barrier, I returned towards Stralsund, the enemy's riflemen following us along the banks, but driven from their positions as fast as they took them by the fire from the Ruby and boats.

An explosion took place in one of the Arrogant's cutters, which swamped the boat; the men were saved, but I regret to say that Mr Story, the mid-shipman in command of her, was killed.

In endeavouring to save the crew the boat drifted close to the battery, and would have fallen into the hands of the enemy had not Lieutenant Haggard, of this ship, and Lieutenant Dowell, R.M.A., of the Magicienne, in the Ruby's gig, with a volunteer crew, towed her out under a very heavy fire.

I cannot sufficiently praise the conduct of all the officers and men who were engaged in this affair, where their cool and determined courage enabled them to handle most severely, and keep in check for upwards of one hour, the enemy far superior in number, with the advantage of local knowledge and a good position.

I beg to enclose a list of the Casualties, and also a list of the officers in the boat.

I have, &c.,

Captain.

WAR-DEPARTMENT, July 26, 1855.

LORD PANMURE has this day received two Despatches and their Enclosures, of which the following are copies, addressed to his Lordship by Lieutenant-General Simpson, Commanding Her Majesty's Forces in the East.

Before Sevastopol,

My LORD,

July 14, 1855.

I ANNOUNCED to your Lordship, by telegraph on the 11th, the death of Lieutenant-Colonel Vico, of the French Army, which melancholy event took place on the afternoon of the 10th instant.

It is impossible for me to find words to express my regret at this sad visitation.

Lieutenant-Colonel Vico joined the English Army as joint Commissioner the latter end of May 1854, and had, up to the time of his death, never been absent from his duty for a single day. At Varna, where the cholera raged, and carried off hundreds—at the landing of the Allied Armies at Old Fort—at the Bulganac, where his colleague, Lieutenant-Colonel de Lagondie, was taken prisoner, and from which time he had the sole charge of the communications between the French and English Head-Quarters—at the glorious battle of Alma—at that of Balaklava—at the stern and bloody fight of Inkerman—in fact, at every place, and on every occasion, where he thought his services could be of use—was Lieutenant-Colonel Vico to be found.

I know that the late Field-Marshal Lord Raglan held him in the highest estimation, and placed the most implicit confidence in him; and although my acquaintance had, comparatively speaking, been but a short one, it had been long enough for me to appreciate the many excellent qualities with which he was endowed.

A pious Christian, a brave and gallant soldier, a single-hearted upright man, a kind and generous one, who thought no personal sacrifice too great for the public good, he has gone from us, beloved and regretted by every Englishman who had the advantage of knowing him and enjoying his friendship.

I have, &c.,

JAMES SIMPSON,

Lieutenant-General Commanding.

The Lord Panmure, &c., &c., &c.

*Before Sevastopol,
July 14, 1855.*

MY LORD,

I HAVE the honour to transmit the numerical and nominal Returns of Casualties in this army, from the 9th to the 12th instant.

Captain Maunsell, of the 39th Regiment, who was killed in the trenches on the 10th instant, was a most gallant and meritorious Officer, and his loss is much regretted.

I enclose also the Return of Casualties in the Naval Brigade on the 10th instant, the day we opened fire upon the Redan, considering which circumstance your Lordship will rejoice to find that the list is not heavier; the two men who are returned as killed, and wounded dangerously, respectively, received their injuries by the accidental bursting of the guns they were serving.

The weather, which had been oppressively hot since the date of my last Despatch, has since changed to a far cooler and more agreeable temperature.

The health of the army continues good, and their confidence and cheerfulness is unabated.

There has been no change in the disposition of the Allied troops since my last Despatch.

I have, &c.,

JAMES SIMPSON,

Lieutenant-General Commanding.

The Lord Panmure, &c., &c., &c.

A PROCLAMATION.

VICTORIA, R.

WHEREAS by Our Royal Proclamation dated the twenty-ninth day of March one thousand eight hundred and fifty-four, after referring to Our order in Council bearing date on the said twenty-ninth day of March one thousand eight hundred and fifty-four, whereby We ordered that general reprisals be granted against the ships, goods, and subjects of the Emperor of all the Russias, his subjects, or others inhabiting within any of his countries, territories, or dominions, (save and except any vessel to which Our licence had been, or might be granted, or which had been directed to be released from the embargo and had not since arrived at any Foreign port,) so that Our fleets and ships should and might lawfully seize all ships, vessels, and goods, belonging to the Emperor of all the Russias, or his subjects, or others inhabiting within any of his countries, territories, or dominions, and bring the same to judgment in any of the Courts of Admiralty within Our dominions, duly authorized and required to take cognizance thereof, We did order and direct that the net produce of all such prizes taken by any of Our ships or vessels of war (save and except when they should be acting on any conjunct expedition with Our army, in which case We reserved to ourselves the division and distribution of all prize and booty taken, and also save and except as hereinafter mentioned), should be for the entire benefit and encouragement of Our flag officers, captains, commanders, and other commissioned officers in Our pay, and of all subordinate warrant, petty, and non-commissioned officers, and of the seamen, marines, and soldiers, on board Our said ships and vessels at the time of the capture, after the same should have been to Us finally adjudged lawful prize. And whereas We think fit that officers and crews of any of Our ships and vessels of war, who shall be placed or sent in charge of any ship or vessel which shall be hereafter captured or detained by any of Our ships or vessels of war, shall share in prizes made during their absence by the ship or vessel on the books of which they may then be borne; We do therefore hereby order and direct that all officers and crews of any of Our ships and vessels of war, who shall be placed or sent in charge of any ship or vessel which shall be hereafter captured or detained by any of Our ships or vessels of war, shall share in the prizes captured during their absence by the ship or vessel of war on the books of which they may be borne at the time of such prizes being captured, in all respects, as if they had been actually on board such ship or vessel at the time of such prizes being captured by her.

Given at Our Court, at Osborne-House, Isle of Wight, this twenty-first day of July in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five, and in the nineteenth year of Our reign.

GOD save the QUEEN.

At the Court at Osborne-House, Isle of Wight, the 21st day of July 1855,

PRESENT,

The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

Whereas there was this day read at the Board a Report from the General Board of Health, dated the nineteenth day of June one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five, in the words following, that is to say:—

“ To The Queen's Most Excellent Majesty.

“ Whereas the General Board of Health, appointed for the purposes of ‘ The Public Health Act, 1848,’ did, in pursuance of the provisions of that Act, upon the petition of not less than one-tenth of the Inhabitants rated to the relief of the poor of and within the township of Redcar, in the parish of Marske, in the county of York, the same being a place having a known and defined boundary, (the number of the said petitioners greatly exceeding thirty in the whole,) directed William Ranger, a Superintending Inspector appointed for the purposes of the said Public Health Act, to visit the said township, and to make inquiry, and to examine witnesses as to the sewerage, drainage, and supply of water, the state of the burial-grounds, the number and sanitary condition of the inhabitants, and as to any local Acts of Parliament in force within such township for paving, lighting, cleansing, watching, regulating, supplying with water, or improving the said township, or having relation to the purposes of the said Public Health Act; also as to the natural drainage areas, and the existing municipal, parochial, and other local boundaries, and the boundaries which might be most advantageously adopted for the purposes of that Act;

“ And the said Superintending Inspector, having previously given the notices directed by the said Public Health Act, proceeded upon the said inquiry in the manner directed by that Act, and reported in writing to the said Board upon the said several matters with respect to which he was directed to inquire, and upon certain other matters with respect to which he deemed it expedient to report for the purposes of that Act;

“ And copies of the said Report, accompanied by a notice stating that written statements might be forwarded to the said Board with respect to any matter contained in or omitted from the said Report, or any amendment proposed to be made therein, were duly published and deposited as directed by the said Public Health Act, and the time for forwarding such statements has now elapsed, and the statement which has been received by the said Board has been duly deposited as required by that Act;

“ And it appears by the said Report that there is no local Act of Parliament in force within the said township for paving, lighting (otherwise than for the profit of proprietors or shareholders), cleansing, watching, regulating, supplying with water, or improving the said township, or any part thereof, or in anywise relating to the purposes of the said Public Health Act;

“ Now therefore, the said General Board of Health does hereby, in pursuance of the said Public Health Act, 1848, and the Public Health Act, 1854, humbly report to your Majesty that it appears to be expedient that—

“ 1. ‘ The Public Health Act, 1854,’ and ‘ The Public Health Act, 1848,’ and every part thereof, except the section numbered 50 in the copies of the second hereinbefore recited Act, printed by your Majesty's printers, should be applied to and be in force within and throughout the entire area, places, and parts of places comprised within the boundaries of the said township of Redcar, in the parish of Marske, in the county of York, and that such area, places, and parts of places should be and constitute a district for the purposes of the said Public Health Acts accordingly.

"2. The Local Board of Health to be elected under the said Public Health Act, 1848, should consist of nine persons, and that the entire number should be elected for the whole of the said district.

"3. The first election of the said Local Board should take place on the second day of August, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five.

"4. One-third in number of the said Local Board of Health should go out of office on the thirty-first day of March in each year subsequently to that in which the said first election of that Local Board takes place; but in case the day so appointed should fall on a Sunday, or on a day appointed for public fast or thanksgiving, then that such one-third should go out of office on the day next following.

"5. Every person, at the time of his election as member of the said Local Board, and so long as he shall continue in office by virtue of such election, should be resident, as in the said 'Public Health Act, 1848,' is required, and be rated to the relief of the poor of some parish, township, or place, of which some part is within the said district, upon an annual value of not less than fifteen pounds.

"6. At the first election of the said Local Board, Thomas Tudor Trevor, of Gisborough, Attorney-at-Law, should perform the duties which it may be requisite for him to perform in conducting the said first election; and in case the said Thomas Tudor Trevor, from illness, or other sufficient cause, should be unable to discharge such duties, or should be absent, or should refuse to act, then Joseph Radcliffe Wilson, of Stockton, Attorney-at-Law, should perform such of the said duties as then remain to be performed.

"7. The fourteen days' notice of qualification, required by 'The Public Health Act, 1848,' to be given by owners of property, in order to entitle them to vote at the said first election, should be given to the said Thomas Tudor Trevor, at the Zetland Room, Redcar; or in case he should refuse, or be unable to receive the same, then to the said Joseph Radcliffe Wilson, at the Zetland Room, Redcar.

"Given under my hand and under the seal of the General Board of Health, this nineteenth day of June, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five.

(Signed) "B. HALL."

Now therefore, Her Majesty, having taken the said Report into consideration, is pleased to approve thereof, and by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, doth hereby, under and in pursuance of the "Public Health Act, 1848," order and direct that:

1. From and after the date of this Order, "The Public Health Act, 1854," and "The Public Health Act, 1848," and every part thereof, except the section numbered 50 in the copies of the second hereinbefore recited Act, printed by Her Majesty's printers, shall be applied to and be in force within and throughout the entire area, places, and parts of places comprised within the boundaries of the said township of Redcar, in the parish of Marske, in the county of York, and that such area, places, and parts of places, shall be and constitute a district for the purposes of the said Public Health Acts accordingly.

2. The Local Board of Health to be elected under the said "Public Health Act, 1848," shall consist of nine persons, and that the entire number shall be elected for the whole of the said district.

3. The first election of the said Local Board shall take place on the second day of August, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty-five.

4. One-third in number of the said Local Board of Health shall go out of office on the thirty-first day of March in each year subsequently to that in which the said first election of that Local Board takes place; but in case the day so appointed shall fall on a Sunday, or on a day appointed for public fast or thanksgiving, then that such one-third shall go out of office on the day next following.

5. Every person, at the time of his election as member of the said Local Board, and so long as he shall continue in office by virtue of such election, shall be resident, as in the said "Public Health Act, 1848," is required, and be rated to the relief of the poor of some parish, township, or place, of which some part is within the said district, upon an annual value of not less than fifteen pounds.

6. At the first election of the said Local Board, Thomas Tudor Trevor, of Gisborough, Attorney-at-Law, shall perform the duties which it may be requisite for him to perform in conducting the said first election; and in case the said Thomas Tudor Trevor, from illness or other sufficient cause, shall be unable to discharge such duties, or shall be absent, or shall refuse to act, then Joseph Radcliffe Wilson, of Stockton, Attorney-at-Law, shall perform such of the said duties as then remain to be performed.

7. The fourteen days' notice of qualification required by "The Public Health Act, 1848," to be given by owners of property, in order to entitle them to vote at the said first election, shall be given to the said Thomas Tudor Trevor, at the Zetland Room, Redcar; or in case he shall refuse, or be unable to receive the same, then to the said Joseph Radcliffe Wilson, at the Zetland Room, Redcar.

Approve of the form of advertisement.

(Signed) 'DUN. McNEILL, I.P.D.'

Notice, in terms of said Interlocutor, is hereby given to all parties who may claim to be Heirs of Entail, or to be otherwise interested, under the Deed of Entail before mentioned, in order that they may now compare, and assert and enforce such claim or interest, before it be too late.
