The Speech of the Lords Commissioners to both Houses of Parliament, on Tuesday, August 14, 1855.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

WE are commanded by Her Majesty to release you from further attendance in Parliament, and, at the same time, to express Her Majesty's warm acknowledgments for the zeal and assiduity with which you have applied yourselves to the discharge of your public duties during a long and laborious Session.

Her Majesty has seen, with great satisfaction, that while you have occupied yourselves with providing means for the vigorous prosecution of the war, you have given your attention to many measures of great public utility.

Her Majesty has great satisfaction at finding that the progress of events has tended to cement more firmly the alliance between Her Majesty and His Majesty the Emperor of the French,—an alliance founded upon a sense of the general interests of Europe, and which, consolidated by good faith, will long survive the events which gave it rise, and further the well-being and prosperity of both Countries.

The accession of the King of Sardinia to the Treaty between Her Majesty and the Emperor of the French and the Sultan has given additional importance and strength to our alliance, and the efficient force which His Majesty has sent to the seat of war will not fail to sustain the bright reputation with which the Army of Sardinia has been ever distinguished.

Her Majesty has seen with satisfaction the measures you have adopted for giving effect to the Conventions by which, in conjunction with Her Ally the Emperor of the French, she has made arrangements for assisting the Sultan, by enabling him to maintain the efficiency of the Turkish Army.

Her Majesty, in assenting to the Bill for the Local Management of the Metropolis, trusts that the health and prosperity of this great City will thereby be promoted.

The abolition of the Stamp Duty on Newspapers will tend to diffuse useful information among the poorer class of Her Majesty's Subjects.

The principle of Limited Liability, which you have judiciously applied to Joint-stock Associations, will afford additional facilities for the employment of capital; and the improvements you have made in the law relating to Friendly Societies will encourage habits of industry and foresight among the Labouring Classes.

Her Majesty trusts that the measures to which she has given her assent for improving the Constitution of New South Wales, Victoria, and Tasmania, will be found beneficial to those Colonies, and by extending the principle of self-government, will tend to develop the great National resources and promote the happiness of the inhabitants.

Her Majesty commands us to say that she has been deeply gratified by the zeal which has been shown for the success of Her Majesty's arms, and by the sympathy for Her soldiers and sailors manifested through Her Indian and Colonial Empire; and Her Majesty acknowledges with great satisfaction the generous contributions which Her Subjects in India, and the loyal inhabitants of Her Colonies, have sent to relieve the sufferers by the calamities of war.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

Her Majesty commands us to convey to you Her cordial thanks for the readiness and zeal with which you have provided the necessary supplies for carrying on the war in which Her Majesty is engaged.

Her Majesty laments the burdens necessarily imposed upon Her People, but she acknowledges the wisdom with which you have alleviated the weight of those burdens by the arrangements you have made.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

Her Majesty has commanded us to say she has seen with sincere regret that the endeavours which, in conjunction with Her ally the Emperor of the French, she made in the recent Conferences at Vienna to bring the war to a close upon conditions consistent with the honour of Her Allies and the future security of Europe, have proved ineffectual but those endeavours having failed, no other course is left to Her Majesty but to prosecute the war with all possible vigour. And Her Majesty, relying on the support of Her Parliament, the many spirit and patriotism of Her People, upon the never-failing courage of Her Army and Navy, whose patience under suffering and powers of endurance Her Majesty has seen with admiration, the steadfast fidelity of Her Allies, and, above all, upon the justice of the cause, humbly puts Her trust in the Almighty Disposer of events for such an issue to this great contest as will secure to Europe the blessings of a firm and lasting peace.

Upon your return to your several counties you will have duties to perform little less important than those to which you have applied yourselves in Parliament. Her Majesty is assured that your power and influence will be exerted for the welfare and happiness of the People, the promotion of which is the object of Her Majesty's constant care, and the anxious desire of Her Majesty's heart.

Then a Commission for proroguing Parliament was read, after which the Lord Chancellor said :—

My Lords and Gentlemen,

By virtue of Her Majesty's Commission under the Great Seal to us and other Lords directed, and now read, We do, in Her Majesty's name, and in obedience to Her commands, prorogue this Parliament to Tuesday the 23d day of October next, to be then here holden ; and this Parliament is accordingly prorogued to Tuesday the 23d day of October next.

WAR-OFFICE, August 14, 1855.

MEDICAL STAFF CORPS.

Captain Richard S. Cole, from the 3d Foot, to be Assistant Staff-Captain. Dated 14th August 1855.

ADMIRALTY, August 13, 1855.

DESPATCHES, of which the following are Copies, have been received from Rear-Admiral Sir Edmund Lyons, Bart., G.C.B., Commander-in-Chief of Her Majesty's Ships and Vessels in the Mediterranean and Black Sea :—

No. 613.
SIR,

Royal Albert, off Sevastopol,
July 30, 1855.

IN continuation of the proceedings of the steam squadron in the Sea of Azof, under the orders of Commander Sherard Osborn, of the Vesuvius, I beg leave to enclose, for the information of the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, copies of two letters from that Officer, together with the several enclosures reporting the steps taken to deprive the enemy of the new harvest, and to cripple his resources of all kinds, since the proceedings which were communicated in my letter of the 7th instant (No. 538.)

During the time the squadron was detained from stress of weather under Berutch Spit, near Ghenitch, the vessels were at every break of the weather employed in destroying extensive fishing establishments which supplied the Army in the Crimea with fish, as well as guard-houses, barracks, stores of forage, and provisions on the Isthmus of Arabat; and the pontoon or only means of communication between Arabat Spit and the Crimea, at the entrance of the Kara-su River was burnt by Commander Rowley Lambert of the Curlew. The attack and destruction of Fort Petrovskoi, on the 16th instant, by the combined English and French squadrons named in Commander Osborn's letter, appears to have been accomplished with the usual skill and success which has attended the operations in the Sea of Azof; and their Lordships will observe that particular mention is made of Lieutenant Hubert Campion, Senior Lieutenant of the Vesuvius, who commanded the landing party, and rendered great service. I would particularly beg leave to call their Lordships' attention to the high-minded conduct of Captain De Cintré, of His Imperial Majesty's steamer Milan, who, on seeing that the bulk of the squadron was under the orders of Commander Osborn, to whom he was senior, waived his right to plan the attack, and placed his ship, as well as the Mouette, in the positions pointed out by Commander Osborn.

In the meantime Lieutenant Howett, in the Beagle, destroyed an extensive collection of fish stores, and two large granaries full of corn, in the neighbourhood of Berdiansk.

After destroying Fort Petrovskoi, the squadron proceeded to Glofira, where some extensive corn and fish stores were destroyed by vessels under the orders of Commander Rowley Lambert, of the Curlew, and a similar service was performed at the Crooked Spit, in the Gulf of Azof, by vessels under the orders of Commander F. A. B. Craufurd, of the Swallow. In the meantime Commander Osborn reconnoitred various parts of the coast as far as Taganrog.

The reports of Commander Osborn are so comprehensive that I will only remark that the admirable manner in which he has carried out my instructions "to clear the sea bord of all fish stores, all fisheries, and mills, on a scale beyond the wants of the neighbouring population, and indeed of all things destined to contribute to the maintenance of the enemy's army in the Crimea," fully corroborates the opinion I have before expressed, that he is an officer possessing a rare combination of high qualities, and I beg to recommend him to their Lordships' most favourable consideration.

I am, &c.,

(Signed) EDMUND LYONS,
Rear-Admiral and Commander-in-Chief.

Her Majesty's ship Vesuvius,
Gulf of Azof, July 17, 1855.

SIR,

HEAVY gales and much sea obliged the squadron in this sea to take shelter under Berutch Spit for several days. Coaling, provisioning, and completing stores was however proceeded with, and at every break in the weather the vessels were actively employed destroying some extensive fisheries upon Berutch Spit, as well as guard-houses, barracks, and stores of forage and provisions, to within an easy gun shot of Arabat Fort. The only pontoon or means of communication between Arabat Spit and the Crimea, at the entrance of the Kara-su River, has been burnt by Commander Rowley Lambert, H.M.S. Curlew, and we have now entire possession of the Spit. A lull in the weather enabled me to put to sea upon the 13th July, for a sweep round the sea of Azof; the Ardent, Weser, and Clinker, being left under the orders of Lieutenant Horton to harass Genitch and Arabat, as well as to cut off all communication along the Spit.

Delayed by the weather, we did not reach Berdiansk until the 15th July; a heavy sea was running, but anxious to lose no time, the senior Officer of the French Squadron (Captain De Cintré, of the Milan), and myself determined to go at once and endeavour to burn the forage and corn stacks upon the landward side of the hills overlooking the town.

No inhabitants were to be seen, but the occasional glimpse of soldiers showed that a landing was expected and that they were prepared for a street fight. I hoisted a flag of truce in order, if possible, to get the women and children removed from the town, but as that met with no reply, and the surf rendered landing extremely hazardous, I hauled it down, and the squadron commenced to fire over the town at the forage and corn stacked behind it, and I soon had the satisfaction of seeing a fire break out exactly where it was wanted. The town was not touched except by an occasional shell. The wheat and forage being fired, it became necessary to move into deeper water for the night, and from our distant anchorage the fires were seen burning throughout the night.

On the 16th July the Allied squadron proceeded to Fort Petrovskoi, between Berdiansk and Marianopol. As I approached the place there were evident symptoms of an increase to the fortifications since the Vesuvius silenced its fire three weeks ago. A redan, covering the curtain which faces the sea, shewed seven new embrasures, and much new earth led me to expect some masked works.

Captain De Cintré, commanding the French steamer Milan, although my senior, in the most handsome manner surrendered the right of planning the attack; and keeping alone in view the good of the Allied cause, gallantly took up the position I wished him to do, followed by Captain De L'Allemand, in the Mouette.

At 9.30 A.M., all arrangements being made, the squadron named in the margin* took up their positions. The light draught gun-boats taking up stations east and west of the fort, and enfilading the works in front and rear, whilst the heavier vessels formed a semicircle round the front. The heavy nature of our ordnance crushed all attempts at resistance, and soon forced not only the garrison to retire from the trenches but also kept at a respectable distance the reserve force, consisting of three strong battalions of infantry, and two squadrons of cavalry.

We then commenced to fire with carcasses, and although partially successful, I was obliged to send the light boats of the squadron to complete the destruction of the fort and batteries; a duty I entrusted to Lieutenant Hubert Campion, of the Vesuvius, assisted by the officers in the annexed list.*

In a short time I had the satisfaction of seeing all the cantonment, gun platforms, public buildings, corn and forage stores on fire, and the embrasures of the earthworks seriously injured; and although the enemy, from an earthwork to the rear, opened a sharp fire upon our men, Lieutenant Campion completed this service in the most able and perfect manner without the loss of one man.

Lieutenant Campion reports that the fort was fully as formidable a one as it appeared from the ships; the platforms were laid ready, but the guns either had not yet arrived or had been withdrawn by the enemy. Leaving the Swallow, Commander Craufurd, to check any attempt of the enemy to re-occupy the fort and extinguish the fire until the destruction was complete, the rest of the squadron proceeded to destroy great quantities of forage and some most extensive fisheries, situated upon the White-House Spit, and about the mouth of the River Berda. By dark the work was done, and thirty fisheries, numbers of heavy launches, and great store of salted fish, nets, and gear, as well as much forage, had fallen into our hands in spite of considerable numbers of Cossack horse.

Nothing could exceed the zeal and energy displayed by every officer and man throughout the day; and the skilful manner in which the various officers in command of Her Majesty's vessels took up their positions in the morning, the beautiful accuracy of the fire, and the care with which the squadron was handled in shallow water, deserve to be called to your favourable notice. The able and cheerful co-operation of the French throughout the day was beyond all praise.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) SHERARD OSBORN,
Commander and Senior Officer.

Rear-Admiral Sir Edmund Lyons, Bart.,
G.C.B., Commander-in-Chief.

Her Majesty's Ship Vesuvius,
Gulf of Azof, July 21, 1855.

SIR,

THE day I closed my last report to you, the Beagle, Lieutenant Hewett, was detached to Berdiansk.

Lieutenant Hewett rejoined me yesterday, and reports that one of the Russian sunken vessels was blown up. Lieutenant Hewett, the same evening, landed under cover of his vessel's guns, and destroyed an extensive collection of fish stores, and two large granaries full of corn.

* Vesuvius, Commander Sherard Osborn; Curlew, Commander Rowley Lambert; Swallow, Commander F. A. B. Craufurd; Fancy, Lieutenant C. G. Grylls; Grinder, Lieutenant F. Hamilton; Boxer, Lieutenant S. P. Townshend; Cracker, Lieutenant J. H. Marryatt; Wrangler, Lieutenant H. Burgoyne; Jasper, Lieutenant J. S. Hudson; Beagle, Lieutenant W. N. Hewett.

On the 17th July, in consequence of information received of extensive depôts of corn and forage existing at a town called Glofira, upon the Asiatic coast, near Gheisk, I proceeded there with the squadron, accompanied by the French steamers Milan and Mouette. The Vesuvius and Swallow were obliged to anchor some distance off shore, I therefore sent Commander Rowley Lambert (Her Majesty's ship Curlew), with the gun-boats named in the margin,* to reconnoitre in force, and if an opportunity occurred to destroy any stores of provisions or of forage he was to do so. Commander Lambert found Glofira and its neighbourhood swarming with cavalry; the town an open straggling agricultural village, and no appearance of corn or forage in it; he therefore very properly confined his operations to destroying upon Glofira Spit some very extensive corn and fish stores, but spared the town. The skill with which this service was executed in the face of large bodies of cavalry, reflects no small credit upon Commander Lambert; and he speaks most highly of the able assistance rendered him by the French officers and men under Captains De Cintré and L'Allemand.

From Glofira I next proceeded to the Crooked Spit, in the Gulf of Azof, the French squadron parting company to harass the enemy in the neighbourhood of Kamisheva and Obitotchna.

The squadron reached Crooked Spit the same day (July 18); and I immediately ordered Commander Frederick Craufurd, in the Swallow, supported by the gun-boats Grinder, Boxer, and Cracker, and the boats of Her Majesty's ships Vesuvius, Curlew, and Fancy, under Lieutenants Grylls, Rowley, and Sullivan, to proceed and clear the Spit of the cavalry and Cossacks of the enemy, and then land and destroy the great fishing establishments situated upon it. Commander Craufurd executed this service with great vigour, and his report I have the honour to enclose. The extraordinary quantity of nets, and stores of fish, and the scale of the works destroyed, fully confirm the statements made by the work-people that their occupation consisted in supplying food to the Army in the Crimea, everything going to Simpheropol by the great northern road along the steppe. Whilst this service was being executed I reconnoitred the mouth of the river Mious, fifteen miles west of Taganrog, in Her Majesty's ship Jasper, Lieutenant J. S. Hudson. The shallow nature of the coast would not allow us to approach within a mile and three quarters of what, in the chart, is marked as Fort Temonos. The fortification was an earthwork of some extent and ditched, but not pierced for guns. It was evidently of an old date, and as I could see no one within it I again returned to the same place, accompanied by the boats of Her Majesty's ships Vesuvius and Curlew, and Her Majesty's gun-vessels Cracker, Boxer, and Jasper.

Cavalry in large bodies, armed for the most part with carbines or rifles, were evidently much harassed by riding upon supposed points of attack; and when we got to Fort Temonos, and the usual Cossack picquet had been driven off, I and Commander Lambert proceeded at once with the light boats into the river. When there, and immediately under Fort Temonos, which stands upon a steep escarpé of eighty feet, we found ourselves looked down upon by a large body of both horse and foot, lining the ditch and parapet of the work. Landing on the opposite bank, at good rifle-shot distance, one boat's crew, under Lieutenant Rowley, was sent to destroy a collection of launches and a fishery, whilst a careful and steady fire of Minié rifles, kept the Russians from advancing upon us. Assuring ourselves of the non-existence of any object worth hazarding so small a force any farther, we returned to the vessels, passing within pistol-shot of the Russian ambuscade. The cool steadiness of the officers and men in the gigs, together with the wonderful precision of the fire from the covering vessels, distant as they were, doubtless kept the enemy in check and prevented serious consequences. To Commander Lambert, Lieutenants Grylls and Rowley, and Mr Tabuteau, (Mate), who were in the gigs, as well as to Lieutenants Marryatt, Townshend, and Hudson, who commanded the gun-vessels, my best thanks are due.

The gig of the Grinder, under Lieutenant Hamilton, had a narrow escape upon the same day from a similar ambuscade, at a place called Kirpe, 10 miles east of Marianpol, the very proper humanity of Lieutenant Hamilton in not firing into an open defenceless town, as it appeared to him, having nigh entailed the loss of a boat's crew when he attempted to land and destroy a corn store. A heavy fire of musketry at half-pistol shot providentially injured no one, and Lieutenant Hamilton appears to have most skilfully escaped.

The 19th July I reconnoitred Taganrog in the Jasper gun-boat. A new battery was being constructed upon the heights near the hospital, but although two shots were thrown into it, it did not reply.

Every part of the town showed signs of the injuries it had received when we visited it under the late Captain Edmund Lyons, of the Miranda. The long series of Government stores burnt by the Allied flotilla had not been repaired, and the only sign of any communication being now held by water with the Don, was one large barge upon the beach.

To put a stop, however, to all traffic of this nature, and to harass the enemy in this neighbourhood, I have ordered Commander Craufurd to remain in the Gulf of Azof with two gun-vessels under his orders.

That the squadron has not been idle, I trust this report will show; and without entering more into details than I have done, I can assure you, Sir, that from Ghenitch to Taganrog, and thence round to Kamiskeva, we have kept the coast in a state of constant alarm, and their troops incessantly moving. The good service done by the gun-boats in this way has been very great.

The total amount of provisions, corn, fisheries, forage, and boats, destroyed, has been something enormous.

Nothing can exceed the zeal and activity of the officers or good conduct of the men constituting this squadron; and constant work does not, I am happy to say, appear as yet to impair their health.

I have, &c.

(Signed) SHERARD OSBORN,
Commander and Senior Officer.

Her Majesty's ship Swallow, off Crooked Spit, Sea of Azof, July 15, 1855.

SIR,
IN compliance with your orders, I proceeded in Her Majesty's steam gun-boat Grinder, with Cracker and Boxer, and boats of the squadron, to reconnoitre the Crooked Spit.

Having cleared the Spit of some mounted troops who occupied it, I ordered a detachment of boats, with their respective officers, to land and destroy the immense fishing establishments and nets found upon the point of it. The country seemed swarming with cavalry, but, by the able management of the officers in command of the gun-boats, and by their good fire, they were effectually driven off the Spit some distance inland.

Having reconnoitred as far into the land as we could see from the mast-head of the Grinder, all the boats were ordered to land and set fire to very large and extensive government stores upon the upper part of the Spit, including large fishing establishments, an enormous quantity of nets, haystacks, and several large houses used as government stores. I learnt from a Russian fisherman that the fish caught on this Spit, and cured here, were immediately forwarded to Simpheropol for the use of the Crimean Army; and I conclude that a very severe blow has been inflicted upon the enemy by the amount of property which was destroyed, including spars, timber, fish, nets, and boats; apparently the most extensive fishing establishment in the Sea of Azof; and I am happy to say without a casualty. My thanks are due to Lieutenants Hamilton of Grinder, and Townshend of Boxer, as also to Lieutenants Rowley of Curlew; Grylls of Fancy; Sullivan, of Vesuvius; Mr Aldrich, Master of Swallow; Mr Deare, Gunner of Curlew; and Mr Windsor, Gunner of Swallow; who all and each, by their zeal and activity, rendered great service in destroying so large an accumulation of stores and houses in so short a space of time. I have, &c.

(Signed) FRED. A. B. CRAUFURD,
Commander.

WAR-DEPARTMENT, August 16, 1855.

LORD PANMURE has this day received a Despatch and its Enclosures, of which the following are Copies, addressed to his Lordship by General Simpson, Commanding Her Majesty's Forces in the East:—

Before Sevastopol,

August 4, 1855.

MY LORD,

I HAVE the honour to acquaint your Lordship that on the night of the 2d instant, between ten and eleven o'clock, the enemy made a sortie in considerable force by the Woronzoff-road. The strength of the enemy is computed to be about 2,000. The object was to destroy a heavy iron chevaux-de-frize made across the Woronzoff-road, between our right and left attacks, and being further supported by heavy columns in rear, to take advantage of such circumstances as might present themselves.

They came on with loud cheers and bugling, and were received with great gallantry by our advanced picquet, under the command of Lieutenant R. E. Carr, of the 39th Regiment, who withdrew his men—firing at the same time upon the enemy—to the main body, under the command of Captain Leckie, 39th Regiment.

A heavy and well-directed fire was opened upon the enemy by the party under Captain Leckie on the Woronzoff-road, as also by the guards of the trenches on the right of the fourth parallel, under the command of Captain Boyle of the 89th Regiment, and Captain Turner of the 1st Royals, which, in about ten minutes, caused the enemy to retire from an attack which, if it had not been so well met, might have been a serious affair.

The enemy left four men killed, and some wounded were carried away. We had only one man slightly wounded in this affair.

I have the honour to transmit the Returns of Casualties from the 30th July to the 2d August.

I have the satisfaction of informing your Lordship of the return to this Army of Captain Montagu, of the Royal Engineers, from being a prisoner of war. He expresses himself highly grateful for the kindness with which he was treated by the Russians during his captivity.

It is with great regret that I have to communicate to your Lordship that Lieutenant-General Sir R. England, G.C.B., has been compelled, upon the recommendation of a Medical Board, to return to England. Sir R. England is the last of the General Officers who left the United Kingdom in command of a Division; he has remained at his post throughout the trying heats of Bulgaria, and the severities and hardships of the winter's campaign in the Crimea; and great credit is due to this Officer for the constancy and untiring zeal he has exhibited in carrying out arduous and difficult duties on all occasions.

I have, &c.,

JAMES SIMPSON,
General Commanding.

The Lord Panmure, &c., &c., &c.
