TREASURY WARRANT.

WHEREAS by an Act of Parliament passed in the fourth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the regulation of the duties of postage," it was enacted (amongst other things) that printed newspapers might be sent free of postage, or liable to postage according to certain regulations and rates in the said Act set forth. And it was by the said Act provided that the Postmaster-General might remit any of the rates of British postage or Inland postage, for the time being, payable by law on the transmission of post letters, newspapers, or other printed papers, to such extent as the Lords of the Treasury should from time to time direct.

And whereas by another Act of Parliament passed in the eleventh year of the reign of Her present Majesty, entitled "An Act for giving further facilities for the transmission of letters by post, and for the regulating the duties of postage thereon, and for other purposes relating to the Post-Office," it was (amongst other things) enacted, that it should be lawful for the Postmaster-General, if he should think fit, with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, to allow any printed words, writing, or marks, in addition to the direction, to be put on any printed newspapers or other printed papers sent by the post, or on the covers thereof, and any such newspapers or other printed papers should from thenceforth be forwarded, either free of postage, or subject to such rates of postage as the Postmaster-General, with the consent of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, should from time to time direct.

And whereas by another Act of Parliament passed in the eighteenth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act to amend the laws relating to the stamp duties on newspapers, and to provide for the transmission by post of printed periodical publications," it was (amongst other things) enacted, that it should be lawful for the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, by Warrant under their hands, to allow any printed newspaper (British, Colonial, or Foreign,) to be transmitted by the post between places in the United Kingdom and Her Majesty's Colonies or Foreign Countries, or between any ports or places beyond the sea, whether through the United Kingdom or not, either free of postage, or subject to such rates of postage, not exceeding two pence for each newspaper, irrespective of any Foreign or Colonial postage, as the Commissioners of the Treasury, or the Postmaster-General, with their consent, should from time to time think fit.

And whereas the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, in exercise of the powers conferred on them in and by the several before-recited Acts, and all other powers enabling them in that behalf, did, by a certain Warrant in writing, under the hands of two of them, the said Commissioners, by the authority of the Statute in that case made and provided, bearing date the 30th day of July 1855, order, direct, and consent that the several printed newspapers, periodical publications, and printed prices current, mentioned in the Schedule to that Warrant annexed, should and might be transmitted by the post between any part of the several places mentioned and set forth in the said Schedule, in conformity with, and under, and subject to the several orders, regulations, conditions, and restrictions thereinafter mentioned and contained, either free or that the rates of postage for the transmission thereof should and might be those which were mentioned and set forth against the said places respectively, in the said Schedule, according as the word "free" or the said rate of postage should be mentioned or set forth against the said places respectively in the said Schedule.

And whereas, in and by the said Schedule to the said recited Warrant annexed, British newspapers were authorised to be transmitted by the post from the United Kingdom to Prussia, or any Foreign Country, viâ Prussia, by packet boat "free," and by private ship at the British rate of postage of one penny each.

And whereas it is expedient to alter the regulation and rate for the transmission by the post of the said last-mentioned newspapers, and to authorize the transmission thereof by the post at a uniform British rate of postage of one penny each, in manner hereinafter mentioned :—

1. Now we, the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, in exercise of the powers reserved to us in and by the said several hereinbefore recited Acts, or either of them, and of all other powers enabling us in this behalf, do, by this Warrant, under the hands of two of us the said Commissioners, by the authority of the Statute in that case made and provided, order, direct, and consent, that so much of the said recited Warrant, bearing date the 30th day of June 1855, and of the said Schedule thereunto annexed, as respectively relate to the transmission by the post of British newspapers from the United Kingdom to Prussia, or any Foreign Country viâ Prussia, by packet-boat free, and by private ship at the rate of postage of one penny each, shall be, and the same are, and is hereby repealed, revoked, and annulled, and that the regulation and rate of postage respectively, by which such last-mentioned newspapers are thereby authorized to be transmitted by packet-boat free, and by private ship at the rate of one penny each, shall wholly cease and determine.

2. And we do further order, direct, and consent, that all British newspapers shall and may be transmitted by the post from the United Kingdom to Prussia, or any Foreign Country or British Colony, viâ Prusia, at the uniform British rate of postage for the transmission thereof, of one penny each, and that such uniform British rate of postage hereby imposed shall be charged and taken in lieu and instead of the same, being respectively sent free and at the rate of postage in the said recited Warrant of the 30th day of June 1855, mentioned. And that all such last-mentioned newspapers shall in all other respects be so transmitted by the post, in conformity with, and under and subject to the several orders, regulations, conditions, and restrictions mentioned and contained in the said recited Warrant of the 30th day of June 1855, in like manner as if the said several orders, regulations, conditions, and restrictions had been and were herein respectively contained, repeated, and set forth.

3. And we do further order, direct, and consent that this Warrant shall come into operation on the first day of January next; and that the several terms and expressions herein used shall be construed to have the like meaning in all respects as the like terms and expressions used in the said recited Warrant of the 30th day of June 1855, so far as the same are applicable hereto, and are not altered or repealed by this present Warrant.
