FRIDAY, JUNE 5, 1857.

WHITEHALL, June 1, 1857.

THE following Addresses of The General Assembly of The Church of Scotland having been transmitted by Robert Montgomery, Lord Belhaven, Her Majesty's Commissioner, to the Right Honourable Sir George Grey, Bart., G.C.B., one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, have been by him presented to the Queen; which Addresses Her Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Ministers and Elders of the Church of Scotland, met in this General Assembly, are highly gratified by the gracious letter expressing sincere satisfaction in the recurrence of the time fixed for the meeting of the General Assembly, and by the renewal of the assurance of your Majesty's regard and affection for the Church of Scotland.

We earnestly hope that your Majesty will not have cause to abate the confident expectation that the deliberations of this Assembly will be guided by a spirit of enlightened wisdom and christian charity, and that they will be marked by an earnest desire to promote the best interests of the Church of which we have the oversight.

It affords us extreme gratification to welcome again, as your Majesty's Representative and Commissioner in this General Assembly, the Right Honourable Lord Belhaven, whose attachment to this Church, and whose courtesy and kindness to its members, as well as his distinguished christian character, are universally known and appreciated.

We have most gratefully received your Majesty's munificent grant of £2,000 to be applied to the Reformation of the Highlands and Islands, and it will be our pleasing duty to apply this liberal gift in such a manner as may be found most satisfactorily and efficiently to fulfil your Majesty's expectation.

That the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ may, in His abundant grace, supply your Majesty and your Royal Consort, and all the Royal Family, with every spiritual blessing and every temporal comfort, and that, after enjoying length of days, you may all be received into the incorruptible and everlasting inheritance of the Saints in the Kingdom of glory, is the fervent prayer of, may it please your Majesty, your Majesty's most faithful, loyal and obedient subjects,

The Ministers and Elders of the Church of Scotland, met in this General Assembly.

Signed in our name, in our presence, and at our appointment, by

JAMES ROBERTSON, Moderator.

Edinburgh, May 26, 1857.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful and loyal subjects, the Ministers and Elders of the Church of Scotland met in General Assembly, beg leave to offer our heartfelt congratulations on the auspicious occasion of the Birth of a Royal Princess, and on the complete restoration of your Majesty's health; and while we feel it to be our duty to express our fervent gratitude to the God of all grace for the multiplied blessings of domestic life vouchsafed to our beloved Sovereign, we earnestly pray that, by the favour of Divine Providence, your Majesty, with your Royal Consort, may long be cheered by witnessing the blessed effects of a christian example in fostering the graces of an illustrious family, and preparing them for the eternal enjoyment of the felicity and glory of a heavenly inheritance.

Given at Edinburgh, this 26th day of May 1857.

JAMES ROBERTSON, Moderator.

WHITEHALL, June 2, 1857.

THE following Addresses of Congratulation to the Queen, on the occasion of the Birth of another Princess, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable the Secretary of State for the Home Department for presentation, were presented accordingly to Her Majesty, who was pleased to receive the same very graciously:—

To The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the Ministers and Elders of the Free Church, convened in General Assembly at Edinburgh, this 21st day of May 1857, joyfully embrace the present opportunity of approaching the Throne to renew the expression of our tinued loyalty and attachment to your Majesty's person and Government.

Increasingly sensible, from year to year, of the singular privileges we enjoy as members of the great British Commonwealth, and contemplating, with mingled gratitude and humility, the unmerited prolongation of our National prosperity, and our happy position in regard to peace and social order, as well as civil and religious freedom, when compared with that of many other Nations, we cannot fail to acknowledge how largely we are indebted for these blessings, under Him who is the great Ruler of men, to a Sovereign not more distinguished for her public and official virtues, than for those private graces which bless and embellish the domestic circle, and set a bright example before all classes of the community.

It is, therefore, with no ordinary satisfaction that we now join our congratulations to those which have ascended from all ranks of your Majesty's subjects on the auspicious Birth of a Royal Princess, —an event which, while it must enlarge the sphere of domestic affection, supplies another link to the chain connecting the fortunes of your Majesty's House with those of a grateful and admiring Country.

We only express the obligations involved in the principles which we hold dear and sacred as a Church, when we say that we feel ourselves bound in our several stations, to inculcate and exemplify the most unfeigned loyalty to your Majesty's Crown, and the most respectful obedience, in the Lord, to the laws of the Land; ever praying that the blessing of the Most High may rest on your Majesty's person, family, and Government, and that your Majesty's Throne, being surrounded by wise, faithful, and patriotic councillors, may be established in that righteousness which exalteth a Nation.

That your Majesty may be long preserved to reign in peace over a happy and united people, and that, blessed with the grace of our Divine Redeemer, your Majesty, your Royal Consort, and the children whom God hath given you, may enjoy the favour of the Almighty during this life, and participate at last in the glories of His heavenly kingdom, are the earnest desires of, may it please your Majesty, your Majesty's most dutiful, most obedient, and most loyal subjects.

Signed in name and by appointment of the General Assembly of the Free Church, at Edinburgh, the 27th day of May 1857, by JAMES JULIUS WOOD, D.D., Moderator.

To The QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most loyal subjects, the Convention of the Royal Burghs of Scotland, humbly approach your Majesty's Throne with our sincere congratulations on the Birth of another Princess of your Illustrious House.

We acknowledge with heartfelt gratitude the goodness of Divine Providence so recently manifested towards your Majesty and the Infant Princess, and we earnestly hope that your Majesty may speedily be able to resume the exercise of your high functions.

That your Majesty and your Royal Consort may enjoy every domestic happiness in the midst of your Illustrious Offspring, trained by your parental care and example to adorn their exalted station, and that your Majesty may long reign over a free, a loyal, a happy, and a religious people, is the prayer of your Majesty's loyal and dutiful subjects, the Royal Burghs of Scotland in Convention assembled.

Signed in name and by authority of the Convention of Royal Burghs, and the Seal of the Convention affixed hereto, by JOHN MELVILLE, Lord Provost of Edinburgh, and Preses of Convention.
