FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 4, 1857.

The Speech of the Lords Commissioners to both Houses of Parliament on Friday, August 28, 1857.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

WE are commanded by Her Majesty to release you from further attendance in Parliament; and at the same time to express to you Her Majesty's cordial acknowledgments for the zeal and assiduity with which you have performed your important duties during a Session which, though shorter than usual, has nevertheless been unusually laborious.

Her Majesty commands us to express to you Her satisfaction that the present state of affairs in Europe inspires a well-grounded confidence in the continuance of Peace.

The arrangements connected with the full execution of the stipulations of the Treaty of Paris have, from various causes, not yet been completed; but Her Majesty trusts that by the earnest efforts of the contracting parties to that Treaty all that remains to be done with reference to its stipulations may ere long be satisfactorily settled.

Her Majesty commands us to inform you that the extensive Mutinies which have broken out among the native troops of the Army of Bengal, followed by serious disturbances in many parts of that Presidency, have occasioned to Her Majesty extreme concern; and the barbarities which have been inflicted upon many of Her Majesty's subjects in India, and the sufferings which have been endured, have filled Her Majesty's heart with the deepest grief; while the conduct of many civil and military officers who have been placed in circumstances of much difficulty, and have been exposed to great danger, has excited Her Majesty's warmest admiration.

Her Majesty commands us to inform you that She will omit no measure calculated to quell these grave disorders; and Her Majesty is confident that, with the blessing of Providence, the powerful means at Her disposal will enable Her to accomplish that end.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

Her Majesty commands us to thank you for the liberal supplies which you have voted for the service of the present year, and for the assurances which you have given Her of your readiness to afford Her Majesty whatever support may be necessary for the restoration of tranquillity in India.

Her Majesty has been gratified to find that you have been enabled to provide the amount required to be paid to Denmark for the redemption of the Sound Dues, without, on that account, adding to the National Debt.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

Her Majesty commands us to convey to you Her heartfelt acknowledgments for the provision which you have made for Her beloved daughter, the Princess Royal, on her approaching marriage with His Royal Highness Prince Frederick William of Prussia.

Her Majesty commands us to inform you that She has seen with satisfaction that, although the present Session has been short, you have been able to pass many Acts of great importance and to which Her Majesty has given Her cordial assent.

The Acts for establishing a more efficient jurisdiction for the Proving of Wills in England and Ireland, correct defects which have for many years been complained of.

The Act for amending the Law relating to Divorce and to Matrimonial Causes will remedy evils which have long been felt.

The several Acts for the Punishment of Fraudulent Breaches of Trust;

For amending the Law relating to Secondary Punishments;

For amending the Law concerning Joint Stock Banks;

For consolidating and amending the Law relating to Bankruptcy and Insolvency in Ireland;

For the better care and treatment of Pauper Lunatics in Scotland;

For improving the organisation of the County Police in Scotland;

Together with other Acts of less importance, but likewise tending to the progressive improvement of the law, have met with Her Majesty's ready assent.

We are commanded by Her Majesty to express to you Her confidence that on your return to your several Counties you will employ that influence which so justly belongs to you to promote the welfare and happiness of Her loyal and faithful subjects; and She prays that the blessing of Almighty God may attend and prosper your endeavours.

Then a Commission for proroguing the Parliament was read; after which the Lord Chancellor said,

My Lords and Gentlemen,

By virtue of Her Majesty's Commission under the Great Seal, to us and other Lords directed, and now read, we do, in Her Majesty's name, and in obedience to Her commands, prorogue this Parliament to Friday the sixth day of November next, to be then here holden; and this Parliament is accordingly prorogued to Friday the sixth day of November next.

WESTMINSTER, August 28, 1857.

This day, the Lords being met, a message was sent to the Honourable House of Commons by the Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod, acquainting them that the Lords authorized by virtue of a Commission under the Great Seal, signed by Her Majesty, for declaring Her Royal Assent to an Act agreed upon by both Houses, do desire the immediate attendance of the Honourable House in the House of Peers, to hear the Commission read; and the Commons being come thither, the said Commission, empowering the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, and several other Lords therein named, to declare and notify the Royal Assent to the said Act, was read accordingly, and the Royal Assent given to

An Act to amend the law relating to divorce and matrimonial causes in England.

At the Court at Buckingham-Palace, the 27th day of August 1857,

PRESENT,

The QUEEN'S Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act passed in the session of Parliament holden in the twentieth and twenty-first years of Her present Majesty's reign, intitled "An Act to authorize the embodying of the Militia," after reciting that whereas the sudden demand for the services in India of a large body of Her Majesty's regular forces may render it expedient to draw out and embody the militia or some part of the militia of the United Kingdom; it is amongst other things enacted that it shall be lawful for Her Majesty, and for the Lord Lieutenant or other Chief Governor or Governors of Ireland, respectively, at any time after the passing of this Act, and before the twenty-fifth day of March one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, to cause all or any part of the respective militias in England, Scotland, and Ireland, to be drawn out and embodied in like manner as in the respective cases in which such militia are now by law authorized to be drawn out and embodied.

And whereas it has seemed fit to Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to order and direct that the Lieutenants of the several counties, ridings, and places in England, and of the counties, stewardries, cities, and places in Scotland, and also the Lord Lieutenant or other Chief Governor or Governors of Ireland, to draw out and embody all the regiments, battalions, and corps of militia, appointed to be raised and trained, or so many of them, or such part or proportion of them, or any of them, as Her Majesty shall judge necessary.

Now therefore, Her Majesty, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, doth hereby order and direct the Lieutenants of the several counties, ridings, and places in England, and of the counties, stewardries, cities, and places in Scotland, and also the Lord Lieutenant or Chief Governor or Governors of Ireland, to draw out and embody all the regiments, battalions, and corps of militia appointed to be raised and trained, or so many of them, or such part or portion of them, as Her Majesty shall judge necessary.

WM. L. BATHURST.
