No. 1.

The Acting Adjutant-General of the Army to the Secretary to the Government of India.

Sir,
Head-Quarters, Camp, before Delhi,
July 6, 1857.

In forwarding, for submission to the Governor-General in Council, the inclosed copy of a report from Major-General Sir H. Barnard, K.C.B., dated the 28th ultimo, relative to the attacks of the mutineers on the outposts of the force on the 23d idem, I am directed by the Provincial Commander-in-Chief to add his testimony to that of Sir H. Barnard as to the persevering gallantry and endurance of the troops engaged, both European and Native, of which Major-General Reed was himself, for a portion of the day, a witness.

2. The endurance displayed by the troops throughout the whole day, under a scorching sun, and without food, the Provincial Commander-in-Chief considers to have been most praiseworthy, and well deserving the special commendation of the Government.

I have, &c.,

N. CHAMBERLAIN,
Brigadier-General.

No. 2.

Major-General Sir H. Barnard to the Adjutant-General of the Army.

Sir,
Camp, above Delhi, June 28, 1857.

I HAVE the honour to report, for the information of the Commander-in-Chief, that on the 23d instant the insurgents renewed their attack upon us; and, owing to some religious feeling, kept it up during the whole day. Knowing they had come out of the town the day before, and had not been seen returning at night, I became anxious for the safety of a valuable convoy which was to march into camp on the morning of the 23d, and sent a strong escort out to meet it. This was successful; but the convoy had scarcely arrived in camp ere my attention was called to the right or Hindoo Rao position, where, during the whole of the rest of the day, the combat was maintained. The enemy having lodged themselves in some loop-holed houses, and a serai and mosque, occasioned some loss, and I regret to say Colonel Welchman, of the 1st Bengal European Fusiliers, was severely wounded.

The loss on the part of the rebels was very serious.

I submit a Casualty Return.

I have, &c.,

H. W. BARNARD.

No. 6.

Brevet-Major Coke to Major Ewart.

SIR, Camp, before Delhi, July 5, 1857.

I HAVE the honour to report, for the information of Major-General Sir H. Barnard, K.C.B., commanding the force before Delhi, that, in accordance with orders, the force as per margin,* marched at half-past 2 o'clock A.M. yesterday, to attack the body of mutineers who had left Delhi on the previous evening.

On arriving at the junction of the roads from the city and cantonments, it seemed very doubtful whether the rebels would return by the right or left bank of the canal from Allipore; I therefore sent on Lieutenant Roberts by the main road to feel for the enemy, and Captain Hodson, of the Guides, to the right bank of the canal.

I found the enemy were retiring by the Robtuck road to Delhi, but spread all over the country.

On crossing the canal, a considerable body, with guns, were seen at a village about a mile from the bridge, when I at once proceeded to attack them. After a few rounds from their guns they carried them off in the direction of the city, before we could get up to them, which they were enabled to do, as they were on a road, whereas we had to advance over the open country, which was in many places a swamp, through which our guns and troops could only make their way with much difficulty.

A number of the enemy were killed who had thrown themselves into the village on our front; the rest fled in every direction. The Cavalry of the Guides followed them with the greatest spirit, and succeeded in cutting up some more of the enemy.

It was useless to attempt any further pursuit, for the heat was great, and the European soldiers exhausted; I therefore returned to the banks of the canal, and allowed the men to rest under the shade of the trees.

While I was bringing the Infantry back, the Artillery, by some misconception, returned to camp.

During the time we were resting under the trees on the canal, the enemy had collected their forces, and, coming up under cover of the canal, made an attack on the Infantry. We beat them back, and pursued them for a considerable distance, but seeing that there was a larger force collecting behind them, I withdrew the Infantry, and took up a position that commanded the bridge, and, as I expected they were bringing up guns, I sent into camp for Artillery. Before the guns arrived, however, the enemy made a second attack, and were beaten back with considerable loss. Soon after, the Artillery and Cavalry came up, and followed the enemy, who again dispersed, and fled in all directions.

I left the guns and Cavalry at the canal bridge, and brought back the Infantry to camp, where we arrived about 4 o'clock.

There were about 100 of the enemy killed in these attacks.

Inclosed is a Return of our loss, which was very small.

* 2 Guns 5th Troop, 1st Brigade Horse Artillery; 4 Guns 2d Troop, 3d Brigade Horse Artillery; 3 Companies 3d Bengal Artillery, and No. 14 Light Field Battery; Squadron of Her Majesty's 6th Dragoon Guards; Squadron of Her Majesty's 9th Lancers, the Guide Cavalry; Head-Quarters Wing of Her Majesty's 61st Regiment; 1st Punjaub Infantry.

The Assistant Adjutant-General of the Army to the Secretary to the Government of India.

Head-Quarters, Camp, before Delhi,

SIR,

July 17, 1857.

I HAVE the honour, by desire of the Provincial Commander-in-Chief, to inclose, for submission to the Governor-General in Council, copy of the Order issued this day by Major-General Reed, on quitting the Delhi field force.

2. I am further to inclose, for his Lordship's information, a state of the force, dated the 16th instant.

No. 9.

General Orders by Major-General Reed, Provincial Commander-in-Chief.

Head-Quarters, Camp, before Delhi,

July 17, 1857.

LIEUTENANT-GENERAL SIR P. GRANT, K.C.B., having in a General Order, dated the 17th June, at Calcutta, announced his having assumed command of the Bengal Army from that date, Major-General Reed has ceased to exercise the duties of Provincial Commander-in-Chief.

Major-General Reed having been recommended by his medical advisers to avail himself of a sick certificate to repair to the hills, as the only chance of recovering his shattered health, which has latterly prevented him from taking an active part in the field operations, has made over the command and charge of this force to Brigadier-General A. Wilson.

It is with the greatest reluctance the Major-General has come to the determination to take this step, but his duty to his country must be paramount to any selfish consideration; and being incapacitated himself for the post by disease and weakness, he has no alternative than to devolve his arduous duties upon another.

Of Brigadier-General Wilson's merits it is unnecessary for Major-General Reed to speak; his judgment, gallantry, and conduct, have been conspicuous since he led his small but victorious band from Meerut, up to this day.

It only remains for the Major-General to congratulate the forces before Delhi on being placed under so able a commander as Brigadier-General Wilson.

Major-General Reed takes this opportunity of requesting the head-quarters and divisional staff to accept his thanks for the great assistance received by him and by his lamented predecessor, Major-General Sir H. Barnard, K.C.B., not only in the exercise of their departmental duties, but also in the operations in the field.

To Brigadier-General Chamberlain, Acting Adjutant-General of the Army; Colonel Congreve, C.B., Acting Adjutant-General, Her Majesty's Forces; Colonel Becher, Quartermaster-General of the Army; Lieutenant-Colonel the Honourable R. W. P. Curzon, Acting Quartermaster-General, Her Majesty's Forces; Lieutenant-Colonel Young, Judge Advocate-General; Captain Norman, Assistant Adjutant-General of the Army; Captains Garstin and Hodson, Officiating Deputy Assistant Quartermasters-General of the Army; Major Ewart, Deputy Assistant Adjutant-General, and Captain Stewart, Officiating Deputy Assistant Adjutant-General; Captain Maisey, Deputy Judge Advocate-General; and Captain Shute, Deputy Assistant Quartermaster-General of Division;—his acknowledgments are eminently due.

The Major-General's warmest thanks are due to the whole Artillery of the Force, who have on all occasions behaved with conspicuous gallantry, and have ever maintained the reputation of their distinguished corps.

To Lieutenant-Colonel Baird Smith, and the Engineer Department, Major-General Reed offers his most sincere acknowledgments for the valuable services they have rendered.

To Lieutenant-Colonel Thomson, Deputy Commissary-General, and his assistants; to Superintending Surgeon Tritton, and all the officers of the Medical Department; the Major-General's best thanks are due for their indefatigable and successful exertions.

To Brigadiers Grant, Longfield, Jones, and Showers, and to the gallant officers and troops, European and Native, under their orders, the Major-General begs to award his tribute of admiration for their brilliant and distinguished conduct in a succession of attacks, in which the enemy have, on every occasion, been repulsed. The behaviour of the troops has been beyond all praise.

Major-General Reed cannot forbear from recording the name of Major Reid, as having commanded the post which has been subject to the most frequent and constant attacks of the enemy, from which they have always been driven with great loss by the able dispositions of that officer, so admirably seconded by the troops under his command, comprising parties of Her Majesty's 60th Royal Rifles, and other corps, with the gallant Sirmoor Battalion, and Corps of Guides.

In conclusion, the Major-General desires to express his thanks to the officers of his personal Staff for the uniform assistance he has received from them upon every occasion, and he only regrets he has not had more frequent opportunities of witnessing their distinguished conduct in the field; to Captains Lowe, Reed, and Turnbull, Aides-de-camp; to Assistant-Surgeon W. F. Mactier; and to Lieutenant R. C. Low, Orderly Officer; as well as to Lieutenant W. H. Greathead, of Engineers, who acted as Aide-de-Camp to the General commanding from the 7th ultimo, besides performing the duty of Field-Engineer, when his services were needed in that capacity.

No. 10.

Lieutenant-Colonel Macpherson, Military Secretary to the Chief Commissioner, Punjab, to the Secretary to the Government of India.

(Extract.) Lahore, July 18, 1857.

By direction of the Chief Commissioner, I have the honour to forward, for submission to the Governor-General in Council, a copy of a letter of the 4th instant, from General Van Cortlandt, commanding Bhutteana field force, detailing particulars of an engagement with a body of Bhutte rebels, on the 19th June.

The Chief Commissioner has already, in a letter dated _____, referred to this affair, which is very honourable to General Van Cortlandt and the officers and men under him.

No. 11.

General Van Cortlandt, commanding the Bhutteana Irregular Force, to Colonel Macpherson, Military Secretary to the Chief Commissioner, Punjab.

SIR, Sirsah, July 4, 1857.

WITH reference to my demi-official letter of the 19th June, I have now the honour to report, for the information of the Chief Commissioner, that on the morning of that day I marched from Sohoowalla, en route for Sirsah.

2. When within a short distance of the village of Khyracka, through which the road runs, each portion forming a separate entrenched village, my suspicions of an attack were aroused by a large number of cattle being driven down on my line of march, so great that it was with difficulty the road could be kept clear. I immediately threw out Cavalry skirmishers to the front and both flanks, and obtained intelligence that the village of Khyracka above named, and the village of Saharun on the left, both of which are situated on the bank of the dry bed of the Guggur river, were both strongly occupied by the Bhutte rebels.

3. I accordingly detached the sowars of the mounted police, under Lieutenant Pearse, to the left, to prevent that portion of the enemy which occupied the village of Saharun from entering and reinforcing the village of Khyracka, and formed my small force in order of battle as follows,—Jowahir Sing's troops, under Lieutenant Sadlier, on the left; my two guns, under Lieutenant Walcott, in the centre; and the new levies, under Captain Bloomfield, with Lieutenant Hunt as second in command, on the right; with about twenty Irregular Horse, entertained by me, on the extreme right, and the baggage in the rear. Jowahir Sing's force was thus facing that portion of the village of Khyracka on the left of the road; my two guns were so placed as to keep the road clear, and prevent the enemy going from one portion to the other; the new levies were opposite the right portion of the village; while the few Irregular Horse were ready to cut off any of the enemy attempting to escape across the low bed of Guggur river to the village of Mirpooor on the further bank.

4. Khyracka, like all villages in this part of the country, is very strong, each portion being surrounded by a deep ditch with a strong embankment, and having but one gateway.

5. Having made the disposition of my force as above described, I advanced on the village; when about 350 yards from it the enemy opened fire upon me with their matchlocks, from under cover of their embankments. I then directed Lieutenant Sadlier to take half Jowahir Sing's force, and enter the extreme left of the left portion of the village, and Lieutenant Hunt, with a company of the new levies, to attack in the like manner the right flank of that on the right. Both officers carried out my instructions with the most praiseworthy zeal and ability.

6. The main body advanced simultaneously with those detached, a portion of Jowahir Sing's troops and the new levies protecting the guns, and the remainder, under Captain Bloomfield, advancing directly on the portions of the village to which they were respectively opposed.

7. The embankments of both villages were taken possession of at once, the enemy, though fighting bravely, being driven back into the villages; they fought from house to house, and fired from every available cover, and in many instances our men had to remove the roofs of the houses to enable them to get at those of the enemy who were firing on us from the interior. Some of the houses, too, were fired to drive them out. Twice the men from the left village made a rush into that on the right, and were fired into with canister, from the Artillery under Lieutenant Walcott, with good effect, several being killed.

8. There was a good deal of hand-to-hand hard fighting, but after the lapse of about two hours from the first shot being fired, we had gained possession of both portions of the village. Only nine men managed to escape over the village embankment towards the village of Meerpore; these were immediately pursued by the Irregular Cavalry on the right, five killed and four taken prisoners.

9. When both officers and men behaved alike as well and bravely, it is difficult to specify the services of any particularly; suffice it to say of the officers that they fully realised the expectations I had formed of them in selecting them, and that Captain Robertson, Superintendent of Sirsah, who was with me throughout the day, assisted me both with his advice, which his long residence here rendered particularly valuable, and by carrying instructions during the engagement.

10. Jowahir Sing's Dogras behaved most admirably, and to three of them, who most particularly distinguished themselves by acts of bravery, I gave rewards of 20 rupees each; while the spirit and dash of the new levies would have done credit to the most experienced troops.

11. Not a man of the rebels escaped; about 250 were killed, and 18, all of whom were wounded, made prisoners.

12. My own loss, considering the position, was slight, consisting of 6 killed and 33 wounded.

13. I burnt the village on the right, and encamped on the left of the left village, facing Saharun, so as to attend to my wounded, and, if necessary, attack that village, and others which Lieutenant Pearse had been watching.

14. Subsequent to the engagement I found that between 2,000 and 3,000 men of the surrounding villages had collected, and were coming on the village of Khyracka. These arrangements were, however, disconcerted by the want of success of their use of driving cattle in our way, which they thought we would have plundered, and by the slowness of our subsequent movements, and the promptitude with which the villages were gained, notwithstanding the obstinate resistance offered by their picked men.

15. The moral effect of their complete destruction was great; the Lumberdars of all the surrounding villages came in, and the villagers vied with each other in bringing water and supplies for the force.

16. In conclusion, I beg to recommend for favourable consideration of Government, that pensions should be granted to the families of those men who have fallen, who, though but newly raised and quite undisciplined, fell fighting bravely for the Government whose service they had but just entered.

I have, &c.,

W. VAN CORTLANDT,
General commanding Bhutteana Irregular Force.

No. 12.

Major-General Lloyd to the Deputy Adjutant-General of the Army.

SIR,

Dinapore, August 1, 1857.

In continuation of the postscript to my Despatch of the 27th ultimo, I have the honour to report, for the information of his Excellency the Acting Commander-in-Chief, as follows, in connection with the expedition then stated to be in the course of preparation for moving to Arrah, in view to dispersing the mutineers there assembled, as also to rescuing the European community hemmed in by them.

2. Unfortunately the "Horungotta" steamer, conveying the detachments of 37th Foot (previously reported as having been ordered, upon the afternoon of the 27th instant, to land the men and a party of 50 sick within ten miles of Arrah, for the purpose of effecting the above object,) grounded after three hours' steaming, without any prospect of getting off unless by a rise of the water, which frustrated the first-formed plan.

3. On the evening of the 28th the steamer "Bombay" arrived off the station on her downward passage, when it was determined to send up on her and flat attached 250 men and the headquarters 10th Foot, to be joined by the 37th Detachment and Sikhs, on the "Horungotta," which was afloat; the united detachment afterwards proceeded up the river to the point and for the purpose already indicated, recent information having been obtained that the European residents still held out. Part of this plan, however, was necessarily abandoned, in consequence of the Commander of the "Bombay," when the time of embarkation (morning of 28th) arrived, objecting to tugging both flats; and as means were thus wanting for sending up more than 150 men of the 10th, the detachment was reduced to that number, and Captain Dunbar detailed to command it. This officer, as senior, eventually assumed command of the entire party* destined for Arrah.

4. The steamer took the flat in tow, according to arrangement above mentioned, and arrived in good time off the place of debarkation. The accompanying report, dated 31st ultimo, by Captain Harrison, the senior surviving officer of the party, will put his Excellency in possession of the very untoward events which attended the subsequent progress of the expedition.

5. From what is apparent on the face of the enclosed report, and from information I have derived, it seems to me that this disastrous affair may be attributed—

1st. To the men commencing the land journey without previously taking food, which evidently much impaired their efficiency during the harassing circumstances in which they were placed.

2d. From the late commanding officer of the detachment, when in the immediate vicinity of the mutineers, and with the knowledge that his movements were watched,† pushing on in the dark,

* 10th Foot—3 officers, 150 men. 37th Foot—7 officers, 190 men. Sikhs, Bengal Police Battalion—50 men, Sikhs late attached to the 7th and 8th Native Infantry, 15 men. Total, 405 men; 3 officers of the Company's service doing duty.

† Two sowars being seen in the distance on landing, who disappeared in the direction of Arrah.

against the strong representation of the second in command and others of the party, and thus allowing himself to be entrapped in an ambuscade, the effects of which quite disheartened and demoralised the troops, and, combined with their physical exhaustion, led to a complete rout, defying the endeavours of the officers to restore order in progress back to the ghaut.

I have, &c.,

C. W. A. LLOYD, Major-General,
Commanding Dinapore Division.

P.S.—A report from Lieutenant Waller, late Acting Deputy, with a party of the Bengal Police Battalion attached to the European detachment, likewise accompanies, for submission.

No. 13.

Captain Harrison to the Assistant Adjutant-General, Dinapore.

SIR, Dinapore, July 31, 1857.

It is with much concern that I have to report, for the information of the Major-General commanding Division, on the following occurrence connected with the expedition to Arrah, for the purpose of relieving the European inhabitants at that station.

At 3 o'clock P.M. of the 29th instant, the steamer, carrying detachments as per margin,* arrived off the point of debarkation, about three miles from the mainland. The party of Sikhs were detached, and shortly afterwards reached the shore for the purpose of seizing boats to enable the detachments to pass over. On arriving there, under the command of Lieutenant Ingilby, 7th Native Infantry, the party were fired upon by some of the rebels posted on the spot to prevent the seizure of the boats by us. These, however, we landed, after some shots were fired in direction; and after about three hours and a half, the passage was accomplished.

Having formed, the detachments commenced their march towards Arrah at 7 o'clock P.M., and, with the exception of a few shots being fired at the Sikhs thrown out on our flanks, we reached without opposition a bridge distant from Arrah about one mile and a half. This was the place where I had represented to Captain Dunbar the expediency of halting until daylight; to which he replied he had heard from the magistrate of the improbability of our meeting with any opposition; he thought it was preferable to push on.

After advancing from the bridge about half-an-hour, we were assailed from the embankment of a wood, on the right of the road, by a large body of the rebels firing about thirty yards distance on the flank of the column, which at once did severe execution, and was followed up by a continued running fire, that caused great destruction amongst officers and men; here I believe Captain Dunbar fell.

The men endeavoured to gain shelter on the other side of the road, but it being quite dark, they fell down a steep embankment (about six feet), and many men lost their firelocks. After straggling some distance, the officers succeeded in re-forming the men in a field some 400 yards from the ambuscade, and took up a position for the night (it was then about midnight, and very dark,) in a field adjoining, which seemed to afford some protection. Here we remained until daylight, the rebels keeping up a fire during the night on our position.

We then commenced our retreat towards the steamer, twelve miles distant. In consequence of the men of both regiments having fasted such a long time, they were too exhausted and tired to act as skirmishers. However, our rear-guard and files on the flanks frequently kept up a fire until all their ammunition was expended, by which time we arrived at the bank of the river. We were compelled to march in column, the rebels pursuing us in large bodies the whole distance to the ghauts, both on flank and rear; but their fire visibly slackened the last two miles. The rebels, it was supposed, were running short of ammunition, and wished to reserve it.

On our arriving at the ghauts, notwithstanding the efforts of the officers, the men made a rush to the boats; immediately upon which the rebels advanced upon us, and commenced a heavy fire of musketry and two guns upon the boats, which were forsaken by the boatmen. This caused great loss, and one fired one of the boats.

The remnants of the detachment gained the steamer, which I immediately ordered to Dinapore, to gain assistance for the wounded.

The loss we inflicted on the rebels I believe to be small, on account of the darkness, and the men being too exhausted to fire.

The people of the country turned out against us.

I have, &c.,

R. P. HARRISON, Captain,
Commanding Detachment of Her Majesty's
37th Regiment.

No. 14.

Lieutenant Waller to the Assistant Adjutant-General, Dinapore.

SIR, Dinapore, July 31, 1857.

I HAVE the honour to report, for the information of the Major-General commanding the station, that, hearing on the evening of the 29th that a party of Her Majesty's 10th Regiment was ordered to proceed to Arrah, I volunteered to accompany them. We started from here at daylight on the 30th, in the steamer , and proceeded up the river to where the flat attached to the Government steamer "Horungotta" was, and took her in tow, with a party of Her Majesty's 37th Regiment, and fifty Sikhs of Captain Rattery's police corps on board; the steamer "Horungotta" being aground.

We then proceeded to Beharee-Ghaut and anchored. Lieutenant Ingilby, 7th Native Infantry, then gave me command of the fifty Sikhs; Ensign Anderson, 22d Native Infantry, and Ensign Venour, of my own regiment, volunteering to do duty with me.

Lieutenant Ingilby then proceeded, with fifteen men, Sikhs of the 7th and 8th Native Infantry, whom he had taken from here with him, to a nullah about two miles off, for the purpose of seizing the boats to cross the detachment. About twenty minutes after Lieutenant Ingilby had left, I heard shots in the direction of the nullah, and immediately started with my fifty men; but when I got up to the place the firing had stopped, except a few shots, which were fired to stop a boat that was sailing up the river, although desired to stop. Lieutenant Ingilby then crossed the nullah with his fifteen men, leaving me on the other side.

I then sent off one of my men to Captain Dunbar, to tell him we needed no assistance, hoping I should be in time to prevent his coming with his detachment, who were cooking when I left; but they had got about half-way before my messenger reached them. Upon the arrival of the 10th and 37th Regiments at the nullah, the order was given to cross, which took up a long time, as the current of the river was very strong, and the boats large and heavy; we had finished crossing by 6 o'clock P.M., and then commenced our march; except that the road was dreadfully uneven, and very distressing to the feet, we had no difficulties of any kind; it was a moonlight night, and the only armed men we saw from the time we left the steamer until our arrival at Arrah, were the few men who fired at Lieutenant Ingilby, and who were left (so the villagers said) by Baboo Koowar Sing, to give him news as soon as we arrived, which showed, with what occurred afterwards, that they were well aware of the party having been sent against them. We arrived in Arrah about 11 o'clock (it was then quite dark, as the moon had gone down), and were proceeding quickly through the outskirts of the town, in following order:—Lieutenant Ingilby a short way ahead of the column with his fifteen men; then Her Majesty's 10th, followed by my Sikhs; and Her Majesty's 37th brought up the rear; when in passing by a large tope of mangoe trees, which Lieutenant Ingilby had passed without seeing or hearing anything, we received a most dreadfully severe fire, which I heard killed a good number of our men, who, not being prepared, and the fire being so heavy and so very close to us, ran off the road into the fields on the other side, and from thence commenced firing on the tope. I lost on the road the native officer, a first rate fellow, who was shot close to me, and also some men, but how many I do not know, as we did not go near the place again. The men were dreadfully scattered, and there was great difficulty in collecting them; some did not join us till the next day, and others were dropping in all night. We then retreated to another road, and lay down behind a small "bund," which rose along both sides of the road facing the topes in which the rebels were, and which afforded a capital shelter from the fire, which was kept up at short intervals all night. It was after retreating to this bund that Ensign Anderson was killed; poor fellow! he was shot dead through the heart. We remained here during the whole night, and at daylight started back for the steamer, a distance of about thirteen miles. We were followed in large numbers by the rebels; the main body would not come within range, but they sent out a great number of sepoy (picked shots, I fancy,) right and left, who took advantage of every tree and inequality of the ground the whole way, and kept up, without the least cessation, a most severe fire on our column the whole march—nearly all, or a great part, of their shot telling on us, whereas they were so much scattered, and so well covered, that they did not suffer much loss; however, although we lost a great number of men, we arrived at the ghaut with comparatively very little loss to what we expected.

When we arrived at the nullah we found a number of large boats on this side, into which the men immediately rushed, and commenced trying to shove the boats across, but most of them were aground, and the others were so large that the men could not manage them, and all the boatmen had been driven away by the sepoy; every time a man showed himself outside a boat he was fired at from the village, which was close by, and at last the men gave up altogether the idea of getting across in boats, and taking off all their clothes, those that could, swam cross.

Upon getting down to the nullah, Ensign Venour and I got into a boat with some of the men, and while I was shoving out the boat, we tried with a rifle to shoot some of the fellows who were making a mark of me. He knocked over one, but unfortunately, got shot himself immediately after through the thigh, and dropped. I tied up his leg as well as I could, and getting some more help, I succeeded in getting the boat off, but the fire was so hot, as they saw a chance of our getting away from them, that I and four men left the boat and swam ashore, being fired at the whole way across. Ensign Venour also left the boat a short time afterwards, and, although wounded, managed to swim ashore; the fire from the village the whole time was most severe, killing and wounding a great number.

After those who could swim got away, the sepoy first opened a most severe fire on the few who remained in the boats that were aground, and, after wounding most of the men in them, they all rushed down and set fire to the roof.

It was here that poor Lieutenant Ingilby was killed, and a great number of wounded, who had been carried so far, were obliged to be left; a few escaped in a small boat in which some Sikhs took some wounded officers across (Ensign Erskine amongst others), whom they brought for above five miles on a bed, procured in a village. They returned a second time with the boat, in despite of the fire.

Nothing could be better than the way in which the Sikhs behaved from the time I got command of them; they made themselves extremely useful in every way, and were always cool, steady, and under perfect control.

SIR, Camp, Mungulwar, August 6, 1857.

I BEG you will acquaint his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief that, having received information that the enemy had re-occupied Buserhutunge in force, I advanced against that place yesterday, turned the left of the position with the Highlanders, Sikhs, and Captain Maude's battery, under Colonel Hamilton. Attacking in front with the rest of my force, I drove the enemy out of the town, and across the narrow causeway and bridge, with great slaughter, and returned to this position at night. Not a soldier or armed villager on the enemy's side dared to follow me.

The insurgents had eight or ten guns beyond the causeway; two on this side of it. Two of those beyond were 24-pounders. The whole were kept at such a distance, and withdrawn so rapidly, that we never got a fair sight of them. None, therefore, fell into our hands; but two on the walls, which had been captured on the 29th ultimo, and dismantled by the Commandant of Artillery, so imperfectly, however, that the enemy again fired out of them.

I estimate the loss of the enemy at 300 killed and wounded; mine was 25.

The enemy will not, I fear, again venture to fight with a narrow causeway and swamp in his rear.

I enclose a return of the casualties; also a sketch of the ground.—I have, &c.,

SIR, August 12, 1857.

BE pleased to inform the Commander-in-Chief that I was yesterday prepared to cross over to Cawnpore by the bridges and boat-equipage which Lieutenant-Colonel Tytler and Captain Crommelin have established; but I had determined that if there should be any considerable assemblage of hostile troops in my front, I would not await their attack in this strong position, but take the initiative and strike a blow against them.

In the course of the day a succession of spies brought me information of about 4,000 men, with some guns, having come forward from Nawabgunge to Buserhutunge. I at once put my force in motion, although its baggage and spare ammunition, additional doolies, &c., were already on the right bank. My advanced guard pushed the enemy's parties out of Onao, where my force bivouacked under trees. Marching at dawn, it found him for the third time prepared to defend Buserhutunge, and thus came on our eighth combat since the 12th July.

The insurgents were about 4,000 in number, with six field guns. They had varied their mode of defence by entrenching the village of Boorbeeakechowkee, in advance of Buserhut. My superior artillery-fire would soon have crushed them, but I could only slowly bring my batteries and echeloned troops across the wide and deep morasses which protected their front; meanwhile their shot and shell caused some loss in my ranks; but when these obstacles were passed, success was speedily achieved. The Highlanders, without firing a shot, precipitated themselves with a cheer upon the principal redoubt, and captured two out of the three horse-battery guns, with which it was armed. The Fusiliers at the same time drove the enemy's extreme left before them, and their whole line was speedily in full retreat.

I estimate their loss at 300 killed and wounded; my own was 35.

I retraced my steps leisurely to this position.

A body of troops under Munsoob Alee, a rebellious Talookdar, made an effort to interrupt our progress by a demonstration on our right flank, but were compelled to retreat by our artillery-fire.

This action has inspired much terror amongst the enemy, and, I trust, will prevent his effectually opposing our embarkation at Cawnpore, which is a difficult operation.

SIR, Lahore, August 17, 1857.

I do myself the honour to inclose, for the information of his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief in Bengal, and of the Supreme Government, copy of a letter dated the 13th instant, from Brigadier-General A. Wilson, commanding the field force before Delhi, giving cover to two reports, dated respectively the 4th and 12th idem, from Major C. Reid, of the Sirmoor Battalion, and in command of the main picquet before Delhi at Hindoo Rao's house.

I beg to record my full concurrence in all the Brigadier-General's sentiments, as expressed in his letter; and to indulge a hope that the noble and praiseworthy conduct of Major Reid and his gallant band may meet with the reward so highly earned.

Brigadier-General Wilson to the Assistant-Adjutant-General of the Army.

SIR, Camp, before Delhi, August 13, 1857.

I HAVE the honour to forward, for the information of Major-General Gowan, C.B., commanding the forces in the Upper Provinces, a report by Major Reid, commanding the Sirmoor Battalion, of the result of repeated attacks made by a large force of the insurgents upon his post during the night of the 1st, and continued during the greater part of the 2d instant.

The report speaks for itself; but I cannot refrain from bringing to the notice of Major-General Gowan, with a view to the same being submitted to his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, and through him to the Supreme Government, the admiration with which I, as well as the whole force, have viewed the gallantry with which this noble officer, with the gallant band under him, has held the important post entrusted to his command.

With the aid of Her Majesty's 60th Royal Rifles, his own regiment, the Sirmoor Battalion, assisted by reliefs from the Guide Corps of Infantry, the 4th Sikh Regiment, and the 1st Punjau Infantry, this officer has, from the 8th of June, the date of the arrival of this force at Delhi, sustained and defeated twenty-four separate attacks upon his position up to the 6th instant; and, from that date to the present, constant worrying attacks, day and night, by both Infantry and Artillery.

I have no words to express my admiration of the endurance and gallantry displayed throughout this long period by Major Reid and the officers and men who have served under him; but I now thus briefly record my opinion of their merits, in the certain hope that Major-General Gowan, C.B., will recommend them to higher authority for the greatest honours that can be bestowed upon them.

Appended to Major Reid's report is a letter from him of yesterday's date, bringing to favourable notice the names of officers who have served under him since 8th June last.

Main Picket, Hindoo Rao's House,
August 4, 1857.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to report, for the information of the Brigadier General commanding the forces, that about 4.30 P.M., on the 1st instant, I observed, from my look-out on the top of this house, that mutineers were turning out of the Ajmere and Toorkman Gates in considerable force; they assembled on the open plain in front of the above-mentioned gates, but as they did not move off, I took but little notice of them, beyond directing my look-out man to watch all their movements; on looking to my right rear, I perceived the whole of the force which had moved out of the city on the 31st ultimo, returning over the ridge (Kolapahar) and by the Rohtuck Road, with all the guns they had taken out, viz., six Horse-Artillery guns, four 9-pounder guns, and three heavy mortars, with the whole of their camp equipage, &c., and elephants and camels. This force halted about a mile from the Edgha Serai, and a little before sunset was joined by the mutineers from the city. For some little time I was doubtful as to their intentions, but as the sun went down, about 5,000 or 6,000 Infantry came down with six light guns, through the Kissengunge and Pahareeporee Buildings, taking advantage of the cover as they advanced. The Sammy-house was attacked, and here I had 100 of Major Coke's Regiment, and 50 Guides, the picket under command of Captain Travers (who, I much regret to say, was mortally wounded during the night, and is since dead); I sent orders to him to encourage the enemy to approach, and not to fire until his men were sure of their aim; shortly after this I heard a rattle of musketry from the breastwork on the right of the Sammy-house, as also from the inclosure, and the enemy then opened with their light guns on the crow's nest, the breastwork, and our right flank batteries. It became necessary, about 7 o'clock, to send re-inforcements to the Sammy-house, so I accordingly directed Lieutenant McGill, with his company (60th Rifles), which had come up in support, to proceed to the breastwork on the right, whilst I sent Captain Derby, with fifty men of the 61st Foot, to the inclosure.

Repeated attacks were made throughout the night, and at one time the enemy came up within twenty paces of the Sammy-house in very considerable force, but, as on all former occasions, was driven back, with, I should say, very great loss; but owing to the cover they had, they were able to remove their dead without being seen: 127 bodies have, however, been since counted between the breastwork and the Tobewalah Bazar.

A little before daybreak on the 2d, fresh troops were brought up, and another attack was made on the Sammy-house and breastwork, on which I directed a company of the 60th Rifles, under the command of Captain Sir E. Campbell, to aid in driving the enemy back. A large force attempted to turn the right, and get round to the Subzee Mundy tent; in order to do this they had to cross the road, and the ground which has now been cleared of all jungle; as soon as they had got on to the road, with a body of Cavalry which came up from the Edgha, I ordered the officer commanding the light-gun battery to give them three rounds of grape, whilst our light mortars played on them from the crow's nest: they flew back to their cover on the left of the road immediately, and did not again show in any force.

About 10 A.M., the enemy commenced moving off in the direction of the city, but it was not until 4 P.M. that I had the satisfaction of seeing them in full retreat with their guns.

I cannot speak too highly of the coolness of the troops under my command throughout the night; there was no noise whatever—no hurry or confusion; and my warmest thanks are due to all for their gallantry and daring.

This report would have been furnished before, but my duties at this picket would not admit of it.

A return of our loss has already been furnished; I am happy to say it was slight in comparison with that of the enemy. I have, &c.

Main Picket, Hindoo Rao's House,
August 12, 1857.

MY DEAR GENERAL,

MY report of the attack on my position on the night of the 1st and morning of the 2d instant, was a hurried affair; but I am, indeed, glad you have given me an opportunity of bringing to notice the names of officers and men who have served under me since the 8th of June last.

I cannot speak too highly of the conduct of the detachment of the 60th Royal Rifles, who have on all occasions behaved admirably, and ever maintained the reputation of their distinguished corps. I would wish to bring to your notice the names of two officers of this regiment, viz., Captain Sir E. Campbell and Captain J. R. Wilson, who have at different times commanded the parties on duty at this post, and from whom I have always received the greatest assistance. Both are most excellent officers, and I beg to recommend them to notice.

My acknowledgments are due to Lieutenant R. H. Shebbeare, now commanding the distinguished Corps of Guides, who has been three times slightly wounded whilst on duty with me here; also to Lieutenant Hawes, Adjutant (likewise wounded), and other officers doing duty with the corps.

Detachments of the 1st Punjaub Infantry, and 4th Sikhs, have, since their arrival in camp, been constantly on duty at this picket, and have always behaved on all occasions of attack with gallantry.

To Lieutenant Fisher, the second in command of my regiment, and the officers doing duty, my warmest thanks are due. The conduct of the men, you have already been pleased to make honourable mention of; it only remains for me to say that they have done their duty most cheerfully.

My thanks are also due to the officers and men of the 8th and 61st Foot, who have at different times taken the duties of the Subzee Mundy Picket, which is under my orders.

Your's sincerely,
C. REID.

Brigadier-General Havelock to the Deputy Adjutant-General of the Army.

SIR, Bivouac, Bithoor, August 17, 1857.

I HAVE to request the favour of your informing the Commander-in-Chief that I marched to this place yesterday.

The mutineers of the 31st and 42d from Saugor, the 17th from Fyzabad, and sepoy's of other regiments, with troops of the 2d Light Cavalry and 3d Irregulars, united to a portion of Nena Sahib's troops, were, with two guns, in one of the strongest positions I have ever seen: they numbered 4,000 men. The plain, densely covered with thicket, and flanked by villages, has two streams flowing through it, not fordable by troops of any arm, and only to be crossed by two narrow bridges, the furthest of which was protected by an entrenchment armed with artillery. The road takes a turn after passing the second bridge, which protects the defenders from direct fire; and behind are the narrow streets and brick houses of Bithoor.

I must do the mutineers the justice to pronounce that they fought obstinately; otherwise they could not for a whole hour have held their own, even with such advantages of ground, against my powerful artillery-fire. The streams prevented my turning them, and my troops were received, in assaulting the position, by a heavy rifle and musketry fire from the rifle and battalion companies engaged; but, after a severe struggle, the enemy were driven back, their guns captured, and infantry chased off the field, in full retreat towards Seorajpore. Had I possessed Cavalry, not a rebel or mutineer could have reached that place alive; as it is, they shall not long remain there unmolested.

The loss of the enemy is estimated at 250 killed and wounded; mine is 49, and my numbers are further reduced by sun-stroke and cholera.

I inclose a sketch of the position; returns of killed and wounded, and captured ordnance.

I HAVE the honour to request you will bring to the special notice of Major-General Sir J. Outram, K.C.B., commanding the Cawnpore and Dinapore Divisions, the valuable assistance that has been rendered to the field force under my command, by the following officers of the Staff Department, viz:—

1. Lieutenant Couper, 2d Native Infantry, Officiating Deputy Superintendent, who placed at my disposal the full number of cattle required for Artillery and Commissariat purposes, as well as horses for officers and volunteer troopers, thereby enabling my force to move within a few hours after its organization.

2. Lieutenant Jackson, 12th Native Infantry, Officiating 1st Class Assistant, who volunteered his personal services and took command of the volunteer troopers, rendering in that capacity most excellent service.

3. Captain the Hon. E. P. R. H. Hastings, 32d Native Infantry, Officiating 2d Class Assistant, who also volunteered his services as Staff officer to the force, and whose distinguished merits have already been recorded in my despatches.

4. Veterinary Surgeon Siddall, who acted as second in command to the volunteer troopers under Lieutenant Jackson.

I trust the creditable zeal and good services rendered to the State by these gentlemen on sudden emergency may be deemed worthy of the consideration of the Government of India, contributing largely as they did to the happy relief of the Arrah garrison, and the pacification of the Shahabad district.—I have, &c.,

Commanding Buxar Field Force.

No. 38.

Brigadier-General Nicholson to Major Ewart,
 Deputy Assistant Adjutant-General.

SIR, (Without date).

I HAVE the honour to report, for the information of Major-General Wilson, commanding before Delhi, that, agreeably to his orders, I marched from this at day-break on the 25th, with the troops noted in the margin,* to intercept a force of the enemy, said to be moving from Delhi towards Bahadurghur, with the intention of attacking us in rear.

On my arrival at the village of Nanglooes, about nine miles from this (and on the road to which I had to cross two difficult swamps), I learned that the enemy had been at Palum the previous day, and would probably reach Nujufghur in the course of the afternoon ; I therefore decided on leaving the Bahadurghur road, and, if possible, coming up with, and routing the enemy at Nujufghur before night-fall.

I crossed a tolerably deep and broad ford, over a branch of the Nujufghur Jheel, near the village of Baprowla, at about 4 P.M., and found the enemy in position on my left and front, extending from the bridge over the Nujufghur canal to the town of Nujufghur itself, a distance of a mile and three quarters or two miles. Their strongest point was an old serai on their left centre, in which they had four guns ; nine more guns were between this and the bridge.

It was 5 o'clock before the troops were across the ford, and parallel with the position. As the evening was so far advanced, and I had no guides, I laboured under the disadvantage of being compelled to make a very hasty reconnaissance.

The plan which I determined on was, to force the left centre (which, as I have said, was the strongest part of the position), and then changing front to the left, to sweep down their line of guns towards the bridge.

I accordingly formed-up Her Majesty's 61st Regiment, the 1st Fusiliers, and 2d Punjaub Infantry (with the exception of 100 men of each corps, whom I had told off on the march as a rear-guard and reserve), with four guns on the right and eight on the left flank, supported by the squadron 9th Lancers and Guide Cavalry ; and after the Artillery had fired a few rounds, I advanced and charged with the Infantry. The enemy was driven out with scarcely any numerical loss to us (though Her Majesty 61st had a most gallant and promising officer, Lieutenant Gabbet, mortally wounded) ; and I then changed front to left, and so turned the whole position in which their guns were.

The enemy made little resistance as we advanced, and were soon in full retreat across the bridge, with our guns playing upon them ; thirteen of their field-pieces having fallen into our hands.

At the same time that I attacked the serai, I directed Lieutenant Lumsden, Officiating Commandant of Major Coke's regiment, the 1st Punjaub Infantry, to advance and clear the town of Nujufghur on our right. This service was well performed, and without loss, by Lieutenant Lumsden, who, after passing through the town, brought his right shoulders forward, and followed in rear of the main line.

The enemy's guns were now all in our possession, and I supposed the conflict at an end, when it was reported to me that a few men had concealed themselves in the little village of Nulee, which was at this time a few hundred yards in rear of our line. I immediately sent orders to Lieutenant Lumsden, who was nearly abreast of the village, to drive them out ; but, though few in number, they had remained so long that our troops were on all sides of them ; and seeing no line of retreat open, they fought with extreme desperation.

Lieutenant Lumsden was, I regret to say, killed, with of his men ;* more were wounded ; and I was obliged to send back the 61st Regiment to reinforce the 1st Punjaub Infantry. This corps also suffered the loss of another gallant officer, Lieutenant Elkington, dangerously wounded, and men killed, and several men wounded, before the village was in our possession.

The enemy's Cavalry—apparently not less than 1,000 strong—more than once made a show of charging during the action, but were on each occasion driven back by the fire of our Artillery. Our own Cavalry I regretted much my inability to employ against them ; but I had been obliged to leave the squadron of the 2d Punjaub Cavalry under Lieutenant Nicholson, and 120 of the Mooltancees, to look after the baggage ; and I had of Lancers, Guides, and Mooltancees, no more than 300 left to escort the guns and form a reserve.

I passed the night at the bridge, with the 1st Fusiliers and 2d Punjaub Infantry, and a detachment of Artillery and Lancers. I had the bridge mined, and blown up by the Sappers ; and all the waggons and tumbrils which I had not the means of bringing away were also blown up by Major Tombs.

Shortly after daybreak in the morning, I started on my return to camp, and fearing lest more rain should render the ground (already sufficiently difficult) quite impracticable, I brought the column in the same evening.

It only now remains for me to fulfil the pleasing duty of expressing my extreme satisfaction with the conduct of the troops in these operations. No soldiers ever advanced to the attack of a position with greater gallantry and steadiness than Her Majesty's 61st Regiment, the 1st Fusiliers, and the 2d Punjaub Infantry. No Infantry was ever more ably assisted by Artillery. Major Coke's regiment, under its gallant and lamented officiating Commandant, sustained its high reputation. The troops are likewise entitled to great credit for the cheerfulness with which they bore the hardships they were exposed to. They marched at daybreak, and had to cross two difficult swamps before their arrival at Nangloosee; as it would not have been prudent to take the baggage across the ford at Baprowla, they were obliged, after fourteen hours' marching and fighting, to bivouac on the field, without food or covering of any kind.

* Numbers not yet ascertained.

The officers to whom I am most indebted for their services on this occasion, and whom I would beg to bring prominently to the favourable notice of the Major-General, are Major Tombs, commanding the Artillery (this officer's merits are so well known to the Major-General that it is unnecessary for me to dwell upon them); Major Jacob, commanding 1st Fusiliers; and Captain Green, commanding 2d Punjaub Infantry, and Captains Remington and Blunt, and Lieutenants Wilson and Sankey, of the Artillery.

I also received every assistance from my Staff and Orderly officers, Captain Blane, B. M., Captain French and Lieutenant Dixon, Captain Shute, Deputy Assistant Quartermaster-General, and Lieutenant Lowa on the Staff of the Major-General commanding.

Lieutenant Sarel, of Her Majesty's 9th Lancers, to whom I entrusted the command of the Cavalry with the guns, during the action, and of the guard on the 26th, performed those duties very much to my satisfaction; the same remarks apply to Captain Gordon, of Her Majesty's 61st, who commanded the reserve during the action and night of the 25th.

Sir T. Metcalfe was good enough to accompany and give me the benefit of his local knowledge; he was also present and very forward in the attack on the serai.

Lieutenant Geneste, of the Engineers, deserves credit for the very complete and successful manner in which he blew up the bridge.

I inclose a return of captured guns; a casualty roll; and a sketch of the ground, prepared by Captain Shute, of the Quartermaster-General's Department.

I have, &c.,

J. NICHOLSON.

Major-General Sir J. Outram to the Deputy Adjutant-General of the Army.

Camp, Thureedon,

September 11, 1857.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to report, for the information of his Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, that on arriving at my camp, Katogun, on the 9th instant, I received definite information that a party of insurgents from Oude, amounting to from 300 to 400, with four guns, had crossed the Ganges near the village of Koondun Puttee, fifteen miles north of Khoga on the trunk road between Futteh-pore and Allahabad.

Operations against them could be best effected from this encampment, because I could here obtain the best intelligence; and my having apparently passed the direct road to them was likely to throw them off their guard. I accordingly sent orders to halt the leading column, in order to have rested men for the work.

On joining Major Simmons' columns at this place, I dispatched, under Major Eyre, a party consisting of 100 of Her Majesty's Fusiliers, 50 of Her Majesty's 64th Regiment, mounted on elephants, with two guns, and completely equipped with tents, two days' cooked provisions, and supplies for three more.

Captain Johnson's detachment of the 12th Irregulars, consisting of 40 men, made a forced march, and concentrated with Eyre's party at Hutgong Khas yesterday evening, having completed forty miles.

For the further proceedings I beg to refer his Excellency to Major Eyre's despatch. His reputation as a successful leader had already been so well established, that I purposely selected him for this duty, in the perfect confidence that he would succeed.

The importance of this success will, I am sure, be fully appreciated by your Excellency and the Governor-General. I now consider my communications secure, which otherwise must have been entirely cut off during our operations in Oude; and a general insurrection, I am assured, would have followed throughout the Doab had the enemy not been destroyed, they being but the advanced guard of more formidable invaders; from which evils having been preserved by Major Eyre's energy and decision, that officer, and the detachment under his command, are, I consider, entitled to thankful acknowledgments from Government, which I am confident will not be withheld.

I have, &c.,

J. OUTRAM, Major-General,
Commanding Cawnpore and Dinapore Divisions.

No. 40.

Major Eyre to Colonel Napier.

SIR, Koondun Puttee, September 11, 1857.

I AM happy to have it in my power to report, for the information of Major-General Sir James Outram, K.C.B., that the expedition he did me the honour of entrusting to my command has been attended with entire success, and the daring invasion of this territory from Oude has been signally punished.

I arrived at Hutgong last evening at dusk, where I was joined by Captain Johnson's troop of the 12th Irregular Horse, forty in number. As they had marched twenty-four miles, and were in need of rest, I halted till half-past 1 A.M., when we had the advantage of moonlight to pursue our march to Koondun Puttee, where we arrived at daybreak.

The Oude rebels, having been apprized a little previously of our advance, had fled precipitately to their boats, about half-a-mile off. I ordered the Cavalry, under Captain Johnson and Lieutenant Havelock, to pursue them, and followed up myself, with all practicable speed, with the Infantry and guns. We found the Cavalry had driven the enemy into their boats, which were fastened to the shore, and were maintaining a brisk fire on them from the bank above.

On the arrival of the detachments of Hill's 5th Fusiliers and 64th Foot, under Captains Johnson and Turner, the fire of our musketry into the densely-crowded boats was most telling; but the enemy still defended themselves to the utmost, until the guns under Lieutenant Gordon, opened fire, when the rebels instantly threw themselves, panic-stricken, into the river. Grape was now showered upon them, and a terrific fusillade from the Infantry and Cavalry maintained, until only a few scattered survivors escaped. Their numbers appeared to be about 300.

prisoner. The party reported that the rebels were out in force close under the walls of the town, of which we could now see the topmost buildings, rising as it were out of the jungle.

4. Going a few yards on, fire was at once opened on the column; this was promptly and efficiently answered by two guns under Lieutenant Swanson, which I had ordered to the front from the advanced guard. The main column at once moved up to support, and skirmishers were thrown out from the Infantry, supported by Cavalry on the flanks. The five Horse-Artillery guns, ably directed by Captain Petrie, now opened their fire. Large bodies of the enemy were seen scattered by our shot and shell, and hurrying under the walls; and they were apparently driven by our fire out of their entrenched position. Their firing, however, (especially against my right, and from two 9-pounder guns lately belonging to the Jodhpore Legion,) was hotly kept up. One of our howitzers (trail being old Bengal pattern) was disabled by its own recoil; and one man killed and two wounded at another gun, which had one of its wheels destroyed by a round shot. I therefore took ground to my left, and on getting a good view again of a musjid from which the enemy were firing, and of groups of them collected under its walls, our guns opened on them as before, with manifest effect.

5. As it was made plain the place could not be carried by a coup-de-main with the force under me, and as parties of the enemy on my right were threatening to attack the baggage, which the nature of the country rendered very assailable, notwithstanding a strong guard for its protection, I decided on changing the direction of the column, so as to have it between my baggage and the enemy, and counter-marched to my former right. I ordered two of the guns to be fired on some of the enemy still visible, who had been trying to get round at the baggage, but having that now secure on my reverse flank, no further molestation was offered.

6. Under the existing circumstances, renewing the attack appearing unjustifiable, I determined to draw off the force, but ready, and in order, to repel and follow up the enemy should he provoke me to do so. No further movement on their part being attempted, I retired leisurely on this place, about three miles distant from the scene of action, and am at present halted here.

7. It is with deep pain I have to announce the death of Captain Monck Mason, Political Agent at Jodhpore. He had arrived with some of the Maharajah's men to join me on the field before Ahwa. He seems to have mistaken some of the enemy's Horse for ours, and was shot down after going with them a short distance. The loss of this excellent officer could not but be deplored, but under such sad circumstances has been a great grief to me. The loss suffered by the troops was, I am thankful to say, very trifling, as the accompanying Return will show.

8. I have great satisfaction in reporting my entire approval of the conduct of the troops, throughout: the brunt of action fell entirely on the Artillery; but though neither Cavalry nor Infantry had the opportunity of being actively engaged, their steady and zealous obedience under fire was most praiseworthy.

I have, &c.,

G. ST. P. LAWRENCE,
Governor-General's Agent.

CLASS A SHAREHOLDERS OF THE
ST ANDREWS AND QUEBEC RAILROAD COMPANY,

AND

RAILWAY AND LAND COMPANY, (Limited.)

IT is intended to apply to Parliament in the Session of 1858, for leave to introduce a Bill to enable "The New Brunswick and Canada Railway and Land Company, (Limited)," hereinafter called The New Brunswick Company, to acquire all the shares, interests, lands, rights, powers, privileges, and expectancies of the "Class A Shareholders of the St Andrews and Quebec Railroad Company," whether by a transfer, under the provisions of the Bill, of all such shares, interests, lands, rights, powers, privileges, and expectancies from the same Class A Shareholders in their corporate capacity, or by enabling the several holders of Class A Shares individually and separately, to transfer their several shares, interests, rights, and expectancies to the New Brunswick Company, in consideration of shares in the same Company, or for such other considerations, whether pecuniary or otherwise, as the Bill may define.

The Bill is intended to provide for the immediate or ultimate Dissolution of the said Class A Company, incorporated by the Act (local and personal) 13 & 14 Victoria, c. 106, under the style of "The Class A Shareholders of the Saint Andrews and Quebec Railroad Company," or to provide for the amalgamation of the same Company, and of all its remaining lands, property, rights, and expectancies, with "The New Brunswick Company," and for the constituting the holders of Class A Shares proprietors in The New Brunswick Company.

It is also intended to enable the "Class A Shareholders of The Saint Andrews and Quebec Railroad Company," until it shall be so Dissolved, and The New Brunswick Company, to enter into and vary agreements from time to time, touching the matters aforesaid, and to vary agreements now subsisting between them.

The Bill will also enable the Individual Shareholders of the Class A Company to deal with the New Brunswick Company with respect to the individual interests of such Shareholders, and for the transfer and exchange of those interests in the one Company for shares or interests in the other Company; and the Bill will provide for the extinction in the Class A Company of such shares as shall be so transferred and exchanged.

The Bill will amend, for these and for other purposes, the following Acts (local and personal) relating to the Class A Shareholders, namely—13 & 14 Vict., cap. 106; 15 Vict., cap. 145, and "The New Brunswick and Canada Railway and Land Company's Act, 1857."

Printed Copies of the Bill will be deposited in the Private Bill Office of the House of Commons on or before the 31st day of December next.

To vary or extinguish all rights and privileges connected with the lands, houses, and other heritages, so to be acquired, or which would in any manner impede or interfere with the construction, maintenance, or use of the said railway and works, or the purposes of the said intended Act, and to confer other rights and privileges in relation thereto; and to the use of the said railway and works; and also to convey passengers, goods, and other traffic, on the said intended railway; to levy tolls, rates, and duties upon or in respect of or for the use of the said intended railway and works, and the conveyance of such traffic; to alter, vary, or extinguish existing tolls, rates, and duties, and to confer, vary, or extinguish exemptions from the payment of tolls, rates, and duties, and to confer, vary, or extinguish other rights and privileges, and to exercise all other usual and necessary powers;

And it is also proposed by the said intended Act to enable the said Company to enter into and execute with any other companies, or corporations, or any commissioners, road trustees, or other bodies or persons, such arrangements and agreements as may be expedient or proper for the better making, maintaining, and using the said intended railway and works, or any portion thereof;

And it is also proposed by the said intended Act to authorise the said Border Counties Railway Company to apply any capital or funds, now or hereafter belonging to them or under the control of their directors, to the purpose or purposes of the said intended Act, and also to authorise the said Company for the several purposes aforesaid, or for the general purposes of their undertaking as now authorised, or for any or either of such purposes, to raise money and to increase their capital, either by borrowing on mortgage or bond, or by the creation of new or additional shares or stock (or by any or either of such means), of such an amount, in such number, and with such preference or priority, as to interest dividends, or otherwise and on such terms and conditions, and in such manner as Parliament shall authorise or direct; and also to empower the said Company to increase the authorised number of their directors. And it is further intended by such Act to provide that the shares so to be created, or some of them, shall constitute a separate stock, or separate stocks, distinct from the other shares and stock in the said Border Counties Railway Company, and that the receipts and expenditure of the said proposed railway and other works shall, as regards both capital and revenue accounts, be kept distinct and separate from those applicable to the undertaking of the said Company, as now authorised, and that the profits, or some part thereof, derived from the proposed railway and works, shall be set apart for the persons contributing the funds for the formation thereof, and others interested therein ;

And it is also proposed by the said intended Act to authorise the North British Railway Company, the Newcastle-upon-Tyne and Carlisle Railway Company, the Port Carlisle Railway Company, and the Carlisle and Silloth Bay Railway and Dock Company, any or either of them, to subscribe and contribute funds towards the expense of the construction, maintenance, and working of the said intended railway, and also of the railway authorised by the said recited Act, or of any part or parts thereof respectively, and to guarantee to the Border Counties Railway Company, in respect thereof, or any part or parts thereof respectively, such interest, dividend, annual or other payments as may be agreed upon between such Companies respectively and the said Border Counties Railway Company ; and also to take, purchase, and hold shares in the said intended and authorised railways, or any part or parts thereof respectively, and to apply any capital or funds now or hereafter belonging to them respectively, or under the control of their directors, or to raise additional capital by the creation of new shares or stock in their respective undertakings, either with or without preference, or priority, or guarantees in payment of interest or dividend, or by borrowing on mortgage or bond, or by all, or any, or either of such means for the purposes aforesaid, or any, or either of them, and to fund the amounts so borrowed, or authorised to be borrowed, and to enable the said North British Railway Company, the Newcastle-upon-Tyne and Carlisle Railway Company, the Port Carlisle Railway Company, and the Carlisle and Silloth Bay Railway and Dock Company, or any, or either of them, to vote at meetings of the said Border Counties Railway Company, and to appoint directors of that Company ;
