WHITEHALL, May 28, 1861.

THE following Address of Condolence to the Queen, on the occasion of the death of Her late Royal Highness the Duchess of Kent, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Sir George Cornwall Lewis, Bart., Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Home Department, for presentation, was presented accordingly to Her Majesty, who was pleased to receive the same very graciously:—

May it please your Majesty,

We, your Majesty's loyal subjects, the Lieutenant-Governor, Council, Deemsters, and Keys of the Isle of Man in Tynwald assembled, embrace the first opportunity to lay before your Majesty the expression of our respectful and sincere condolence upon the lamented decease of Her Royal Highness the Duchess of Kent, whose many exalted virtues had justly acquired for her the heartfelt regard and respect of all your Majesty's subjects.

We feel how inadequate all human considerations must be to administer consolation to your Majesty under the severe affliction and irreparable loss which you have sustained, but we are assured that your Majesty will derive support in the high hope that your Royal Parent has exchanged her earthly honours for those of unfading Glory.
