WAR-OFFICE, October 18, 1865.

THE Secretary of State for War has received a Despatch from Lieutenant-General Sir Duncan A. Cameron, K.C.B., with its Enclosures, of which the following are Copies:—

P. and O. Steamer "Mongolia,"

MY LORD, near Malta, October 10, 1865.

I HAVE the honour to forward, for your Lordship's information, the enclosed reports received from Colonel Warre, C.B., commanding at Taranaki, relative to two skirmishes which took place in that district on the 28th July and 3d August last. I have, &c.,

(Signed) D. A. CAMERON,
Lieutenant-General.

The Right Honourable
Earl de Grey and Ripon,
War-Office.

New Plymouth, New Zealand,
July 29, 1865.

Sir,

I HAVE the honour to transmit, for the information of the Lieutenant-General Commanding, the enclosed Reports which I received at 10 o'clock last night. It is with very great regret that I have to record the death of Captain Arthur R. Close, of the 43d Light Infantry, whose gallantry in the skirmish with the rebel natives, to whom he fell a victim, gave evidence of great promise, but the conduct of Ensign J. T. O'Brien and of the Non-commissioned Officers named by this Officer, and of the men of the patrol, is highly commendable, and I have seldom read so clear and spirited a report as that furnished by Ensign O'Brien of this fatal affair.

I have directed Lieutenant-Colonel Colville, 43d Light Infantry, with 150 of the 70th Regiment, and 50 of the 43d Light Infantry, as a flying column, to proceed at once to Warea to endeavour to punish the rebels; but I much fear they have now dispersed, as I am satisfied that the rebels who attacked Captain Close's party are those under Big Jack, mentioned in my Confidential Report, No. 14, of the 23d instant—although I was apparently deceived as regards the number of followers with Big Jack,—indeed Mr Wilmington Carrington, employed in the absence of Mr Parris in the Native Office, a few days after my last report was forwarded, told me that Big Jack could muster about 40 followers.

All other parts of this district are perfectly quiet. I have, &c.,

H. J. WARRE, Colonel,
Commanding at Taranaki.

The Deputy Quartermaster-General,
&c., &c., &c.,
Head-Quarters, Auckland.

I have forwarded duplicate copies of this and the enclosed Reports for the information of his Excellency the Governor.

Camp, Warea,

SIR, July 23, 1865, 4 P.M.

I REGRET much having to report, for the information of the Colonel-Commanding, that a patrol, as detailed in the margin,* under Captain Close, 43d Light Infantry, was fired on to-day by a party of about fifty or sixty Maoris, at a place named Hongu-Numi, about two miles from this camp, in a south-easterly direction.

About one o'clock firing was heard in camp, and I immediately ordered out all available men, and proceeded in command in the direction from which the firing was heard.

As we approached the firing ceased, and in about half an hour we came up with Captain Close's party, when no trace of a Maori was to be seen. They had evidently escaped inland on seeing the reinforcement coming up.

I regret much to state that Captain Close was mortally wounded, and is since dead, and one private was killed.

I beg to enclose a report from Ensign O'Brien, who was Captain Close's Subaltern on the occasion, and who seems to have acted with much coolness and judgment. A list of casualties is also attached.

On arriving at the position I sent out Lieutenant Talbot, with fifty men, to skirmish through some bush from which the firing had come, but meeting with no sign of the enemy he returned; and as the enemy was no where to be seen, I returned to camp.

On examining the bush from whence the firing had come, and on which it was returned, I considerable quantity of blood was seen, so that they must have carried off their wounded.

* 1 Captain, 1 Subaltern, 1 Assistant-Surgeon, 2 Sergeants, 1 Bugler, and 51 Rank and File.

As the rear-guard were within about 150 yards from camp, and approaching the picquet sentries, some shots were fired from a considerable distance inland.

I lose not a moment in communicating these circumstances.

I have, &c.,
(Signed) T. E. HOLMES, Major,
Commanding Warea.

The Garrison Adjutant, New Plymouth.

Camp, Warea,
July 28, 1865.

SIR,

I HAVE the honour to report, for your information, that I was the subaltern of the party (1 Captain, 1 Subaltern, 2 Serjeants, 1 Bugler, and 51 Rank and File,) which went out under the command of Captain Close to patrol this morning, 28th July. The party marched along the track which runs inland to the north of the Warea, and, after pursuing it for about four miles, struck a slight track to the right, over open country, and crossed the Warea, coming upon the road which runs inland immediately south of the stream, about half a mile above the point where the track along which Major Russell's ambuscade was posted on the occasion of the recent expedition to Te Puru, diverges from the main road.

On reaching the point where the track joins the road, Jim, the Maori, who was slightly in advance, came back, and pointed at some fresh tracks of natives who had come upon the road evidently by the path before mentioned.

We advanced with caution, and turning a corner of the road, about 500 yards further on, saw a large body of Maoris, between fifty and sixty in number, on a slight hill on the left of the road, about 300 yards in front of us. On perceiving our party advancing, they commenced gesticulating and shouting Pai Marire. On the right of the road, and running parallel to it, was a hedge, and beyond, at right angles to the hedge, bush, which extended from the road to the river.

We advanced at the double, with directions to extend in skirmishing order under cover of the hedge, and were met on our way there across the open by a heavy volley from the natives, who crowned the crest of the hill without exposing themselves, and Captain Close and one private fell mortally wounded; they kept up a brisk and sustained fire on us, which was returned by our party. Jim, the Maori, was severely wounded immediately afterwards. I took over twenty men and lined the bush with them in skirmishing order, to guard against any movement from that quarter, and had hardly placed the men, when a detached party of Maoris, consisting of some twenty-five men, were seen creeping through the bush, evidently with the intention of out-flanking us; a heavy fire was kept up from the front to distract attention; they gave our men a volley, and one man was wounded; the men closed and the volley was returned. I then fixed bayonets and charged, but the natives effected their escape by the rear of the bush, and rejoined the main body who now left the hill and crept under cover into a bush on the left of it, about 150 yards from us.

The approach to this bush from our side was devoid of cover of any kind, and their position there was strengthened by a small swamp in front of them. Under the circumstances I did not feel justified, being the only officer left, and being obliged to leave nearly half my men in the bush they had already attempted to force with a view to outflank us, in attempting to rush it, but kept my men under cover, returning the fire the natives kept up continuously, until the reinforcement from camp arrived; on the approach of the reinforcement the firing ceased, and the natives must have retreated by the rear of the bush, across a swamp, and so on to the track to Te Puru, as, on joining one of the reinforcing companies, and skirmishing over the ground recently held by the natives, we could find nothing but the tracks, which were soon lost in the swamp; we found no native bodies, but from the quantities of blood in different places I presume they must have been removed when our attention was engaged by volleys from the front.

I beg respectfully to bring to your notice the conduct of Serjeants Horley and Phelan, who carried out my orders with great coolness and judgment, and also to commend most highly the conduct of Bugler Croghan, who stayed by Captain Close's body under a heavy fire, until he received assistance to remove it under cover, and who behaved throughout most pluckily.

I annex a Return of Killed and Wounded.

I have omitted to commend to your notice the conduct of "Jim," the Maori, which was most creditable throughout.

I have, &c.,
J. T. O'BRIEN, Ensign, 43d Light Infantry.

New Plymouth, New Zealand,
July 30, 1865.

SIR,
THE enclosed report from Major Holmes, Commanding Detachment 43d Light Infantry, at Warea, having been forwarded too late to transmit with his original report of the skirmish with the rebel natives near the post under his command, I have the honour to submit it for the consideration of the officer in command of the troops in New Zealand.

I have also the honour to forward the original reports furnished by Major Holmes and Ensign O'Brien, 43d Light Infantry, which I request may be substituted for the copies inadvertently forwarded with my letter of the 29th instant, and that the copies may be returned to me to be filed in this office.

I have, &c.,
(Signed) H. J. WARRE, Colonel,
Commanding Troops at Taranaki.

The Deputy Quartermaster General,
&c., &c., &c.,
Head-Quarters, Auckland.

Camp, Warea,
July 29, 1865.

SIR,
IN addition to my hurried report of last evening on the subject of the engagement between a patrol under the late Captain Close and the rebel natives at Konga-kumi-kumi, I have the honour to bring to the notice of the Colonel Commanding the very zealous and efficient services rendered by Assistant-Surgeon Grant, 43d Light Infantry, who was, exposed, as I am informed, to a very heavy fire, under which he directed Captain Close's body to be carried under cover.

I am much indebted to Lieutenant Talbot also, who accompanied me with the reinforcement from camp, for the very gallant and zealous manner in which he led while skirmishing.

Bugler Croghan also behaved in the most exemplary and daring manner, in remaining close by Captain Close's body after he was shot down, amidst a shower of bullets; and in my opinion he has well earned the decoration of the Victoria Cross.

I have, &c.,
(Signed) THOS. HOLMES, Major,
43d Light Infantry, Commanding,
Warea.

The Garrison Adjutant,
New Plymouth.

New Plymouth,
August 3, 1865.

SIR,
ALTHOUGH I have not yet received Lieutenant-Colonel Colvile's written report, he sent Major Russell last evening to give me the particulars of a very successful skirmish that took place yesterday morning near Warea, in which I am assured some thirty Maoris were placed hors de combat.

Lieutenant-Colonel Colvile, as I have already reported, was sent to punish the rebels who attacked Captain Close's party of the 43d Light Infantry on the 28th ultimo. To effect this object Lieutenant-Colonel Colvile divided his column, sending 100 rank and file of the 70th Regiment, under Major Russell, 57th Regiment, by one native track, while he, with 150 of the 43d Light Infantry, took another.

Major Russell unexpectedly came upon an encampment of rebel Maoris near the village destroyed by Captain Cay on the 13th of June last.

Captain Cay, with about fifty men, fixed bayonets and charged the village, entirely routing the rebels, at least twelve of whom were left dead upon the ground, and five were taken prisoners.

Two or three of the men having been wounded in this very spirited affair, some little difficulty appears to have been occasioned in bringing these wounded men away. The Maoris kept up a constant fire from all sides, so that we have to deplore the loss of Lieutenant Bally and three men killed, and Lieutenant Tylden and five men wounded, all of whom were however brought back by the troops; and Lieutenant-Colonel Colvile's party, after much difficulty, owing to the extremely bad roads, having at last come up, killed five more Maoris, and drove the remainder in all directions.

I believe this account to be substantially correct, but I will forward Lieutenant-Colonel Colvile's report, and also Major Russell's, by the first opportunity.

I have, &c.,
(Signed) H. J. WARRE, Colonel,
Commanding Troops, Taranaki.
