The Procession will go by the Calton Hill.

Carriages of Noblemen and Gentlemen attending the Levee will follow those of His Grace.

His Grace will attend Divine Service in the High Church on Sunday the 27th of May, and Sunday the 3d of June.

LEVEE.

Noblemen and Gentlemen attending the Levee of His Grace the Lord High Commissioner are requested to bring with them two cards, bearing their name and address in full—one of which cards is to be left with an attendant appointed to receive the same at the entrance, the other to be given to the Usher in the Throne-Room.

By Command,

ROBERT HAMILTON RAMSAY, M.D., &c.,
Purse-Bearer to His Grace.

HOLYROOD-HOUSE, May 1866.

LORD CHAMBERLAIN'S OFFICE, ST JAMES'S
PALACE, March 31, 1866.

Notice is hereby given that Her Royal Highness The Princess of Wales will, by command of The Queen, hold Drawing Rooms at St James's Palace, on behalf of Her Majesty, on Wednesday the 23d of May, and on Saturday the 9th of June next, at two o'clock.

It is the Queen's pleasure that Presentations to Her Royal Highness at these Drawing Rooms shall be considered as equivalent to Presentations to Her Majesty.

THE QUEEN'S DRAWING ROOMS.

REGULATIONS

TO BE OBSERVED AT THE QUEEN'S DRAWING ROOMS TO BE HELD, ON BEHALF OF HER MAJESTY, BY HER ROYAL HIGHNESS THE PRINCESS OF WALES, AT ST JAMES'S PALACE.

By Her Majesty's Command,

The Ladies who propose to attend Her Majesty's Drawing Rooms at St James's Palace are requested to bring with them two large cards, with their names clearly written thereon, one to be left with the Queen's Page in Attendance in the Corridor, and the other to be delivered to the Lord Chamberlain, who will announce the name to The Princess.

PRESENTATIONS.

Any Lady who proposes to be presented must leave at the Lord Chamberlain's Office, before twelve o'clock, two clear days before the Drawing Room, a card with her name written thereon, and with the name of the Lady by whom she is to be presented. In order to carry out the existing regulation that no presentation can be made at a Drawing Room excepting by a Lady actually attending that Court, it is also necessary that a letter from the Lady who is to make the presentation, stating it to be her intention to be present, should accompany the presentation card above referred to, which will be submitted to The Queen for Her Majesty's approbation. It is Her Majesty's Command that no presentation shall be made at the Drawing Room, except in accordance with the above regulations.

It is particularly requested that in every case the names be very distinctly written upon the cards to be delivered to the Lord Chamberlain, in order that there may be no difficulty in announcing them to the Princess.

It is not expected that Gentlemen will present themselves at the Drawing Room except in attendance upon the Ladies of their families.

The State Apartments will be open for the reception of Company coming to Court at one o'clock.

SYDNEY, Lord Chamberlain.

It is Her Majesty's command that no presentation shall be made at Levees except in accordance with the above regulations.

It is particularly requested that in every case the names be very distinctly written upon the cards to be delivered to the Lord Chamberlain, in order that there may be no difficulty in announcing them to His Royal Highness.

The State Apartments will be open for the reception of Company coming to Court at one o'clock.

SYDNEY, Lord Chamberlain.

WAR-OFFICE, May 14, 1866.

THE Secretary of State for War has received a Despatch, dated February 15, 1866, and its enclosures, from Major-General Chute, Commanding Her Majesty's Forces in New Zealand, of which the following are copies :—

Head-Quarters, Wellington,

MY LORD,

February 15, 1866.

YOUR Lordship will have learned from my despatch of the 8th ultimo, No. 52, and its enclosures, that hostilities had recommenced in the Whanganui district, and you will have been made acquainted with the particulars of the operations up to the capture of Okotuku and Putahi, on the 4th and 7th January.

From Putahi the Field Force moved to the vicinity of Ketemarai, an important locality, from the fact of its being situated in a most fertile district, and close to the point where the native track, leading behind Mount Egmont to Mataitawa, enters the forest. In this neighbourhood there were numerous paha and extensive cultivations.

The principal fortified position of the rebels was Otapawa, about four miles from our camp; and, with a view to the attack of this stronghold, I augmented the Field Force, with detachments as per margin,* from Waingongoro and Manawapon.

At 2.30 on the morning of the 13th I moved against the rebel position, with the force detailed in the margin.† Our route lay along a good bullock track for two and a-half miles, after which it passed through high fern and scrub, along the edge of a broad and deep valley; into this we descended by a precipitous declivity, and after crossing two streams again reached high ground by a very steep ascent through thick brush. From the nature of the ground I had no opportunity of making a satisfactory reconnaissance; the tops of the whares, however, being just visible from the near side of the valley, I posted the six-pounder guns there, and advanced under cover of their fire, which was ably directed by Lieut. Carré, Royal Artillery. In a few minutes we emerged from the scrub and bush on the open, opposite the position, which consisted of an entrenched work strongly palisaded, with a front of about a hundred yards. The approach was over level ground, flanked on the right by a tongue of bush, at seventy yards; on the left front there were fenced cultivations. It would have been a work of great labour and loss of time to get guns to this point, I therefore took advantage of an undulation in the ground, at the distance of 150 yards from the work, and formed the force in the following order, viz. :—57th Regiment on the left, in skirmishing order, with a strong company, and the Forest Rangers in support; the 2d Battalion 14th Regiment, extended on the right, with 100 men in support, the Native Contingent in reserve. The signal for the assault was then given, and the troops dashed at the work with irresistible impetuosity; the rebels kept perfectly quiet until they were within forty yards, and then opened a most severe and unusually well-directed fire from the whole front of the entrenchment and the bush on its right. Under this heavy cross fire a portion of the 57th Regiment, under Brevet Lieutenant-Colonel Hassard, wheeled to the left, drove the rebel from the bush, and advanced against the right angle of the paha.

At the same moment the 2d Battalion 14th Regiment, under Lieutenant-Colonel Trevor, and

* From Waingongoro, 57th Regiment—5 officers, 6 non-commissioned officers, 120 men. From Manawapon, 57th Regiment—4 officers, 6 non-commissioned officers, 120 men. Total—9 officers, 12 non-commissioned officers, 240 men.

† Royal Artillery—1 subaltern, 3 serjeants, 30 rank and file, three 6-pounder Armstrong guns; 2d Battalion 14th Regiment—1 field officer, 2 captains, 2 subalterns, 6 serjeants, 3 drummers, 200 rank and file; 57th Regiment—1 field officer, 1 captain, 2 subalterns, 4 serjeants, 2 drummers, 130 rank and file; Forest Rangers—1 officer, 1 serjeant, 35 rank and file; Native Contingent—1 subaltern, 200 rank and file. Total—3 field officers, 3 captains, 6 subalterns, 14 serjeants, 5 drummers, 565 rank and file.

the remainder of the 57th under Brevet-Lieutenant-Colonel Butler, both most gallantly led, reached the left angle of the work through the cultivations. The Maories fought desperately for a time, but in vain; the palisading was cut down, the troops entered the work, and carried all before them. The enemy broke, and fled down the precipitous densely wooded gully immediately at the rear of the pah, where it was impossible for the troops to pursue them; some of them, however, there fell under the fire of a detachment of the Native Contingent, whom I had sent round into this gully. The whole of the defences, the village and cultivations were destroyed.

The capture of Otapawa is, I believe, of the utmost importance. It was a position, I am informed, of historical repute for its natural strength, and had the name of having never fallen in any of the native wars. It was, in fact, inaccessible for any force, except by the way we advanced to it, and the character of the approaches and the nature of the immediate locality of the pah, as well as the strength of its defences, certainly were such as in some measure to justify the opinion of the natives that they held an impregnable position. In the capture of such a position it is not to be expected that our loss could be insignificant. In comparison, however, with the nature of the service, the number of our casualties was not great. Seven men were killed and fourteen wounded. Two officers, Lieutenant-Colonel Hassard, 57th Regiment, and Lieutenant Swanson, 2d Battalion 14th Regiment, were wounded; and it is with deep regret I have to add that the former officer died of his wounds two days after the action.

The loss of Lieutenant-Colonel Hassard, who had already served with distinction in the Crimean War, is much to be deplored; he had led his men most gallantly to the assault, and fell when inside the pah, which he had been one of the first to enter.

The loss of the enemy I estimate at fifty killed and wounded, including their Chief.

On the night of the 14th, having sent a portion of the Native Contingent into the bush near Ketemaria, I moved on the following morning at 4.15 with a force as per margin,* and at a distance of two miles from camp came in front of a line of stockading and earthwork, flanked on either side by bush, and extending across the main track, leading into the clearing in which Ketemaria is situated. The position was carried without opposition, though it had evidently been the intention of the rebels to defend it, for we found provisions, and fires still alight; inside the work. I can only account for their not availing themselves of so formidable a position for opposing our advance, by attributing it to the dispiriting effect of their severe loss at Otapawa. The force then advanced on Ketemarai itself, which is about a mile within this entrenchment, and consisted of four palisaded pahs in échelon, enclosing a large number of whares; these were all burnt, and, as far as practicable, the cultivations destroyed.

* Royal Artillery—1 subaltern, 3 serjeants, 30 rank and file; 2d Battalion 14th Regiment—1 field officer, 2 captains, 2 subalterns, 6 serjeants, 3 drummers, 200 rank and file; 50th Regiment—1 captain, 2 subalterns, 4 serjeants, 2 drummers, 110 rank and file; 57th Regiment—1 field officer, 2 captains, 3 subalterns, 5 serjeants, 2 drummers, 200 rank and file; Forest Rangers—1 field officer, 40 rank and file; Native Contingent—1 subaltern, 150 rank and file. Total—3 field officers, 5 captains, 9 subalterns, 18 serjeants, 7 drummers, 730 rank and file.

The regular troops then marched back to the camp, and the Forest Rangers and Native Contingent remained to search the bush in the vicinity. This they did for several hours, during which they came across some small parties of the enemy (twenty-one of whom are reported to have been killed), and destroyed the following villages, viz.:—Te Whenuka, Te Moro, Kaniki, Mawhitihito, Te Paki, Otukere, Aoteroa, and another large pah the name of which is not certain, but supposed to be Ahipaipa.

The same afternoon I sent out 300 men, consisting of 2d Battalion of the 14th, 50th (of which corps I had on the previous day brought up 150 from Patea,) and 57th Regiments, with the three six-pounder Armstrong guns, the whole under Lieutenant-Colonel Butler, 57th Regiment, to attack the rebel villages of Ke-tonitia and Puketi, about four miles from camp. The enemy fled at the approach of the troops, and Lieutenant-Colonel Butler destroyed both these places and their cultivations.

As I could hear nothing of the existence of any other fortified positions or villages of the enemy in this district, I made arrangements for at once moving by the track above referred to through the forest to Mataitawa, returning to Whanganui by the coast line, as explained in my last despatch.

For some time I had been endeavouring to obtain information regarding this track, but not having been used by any but rebels for years past, those who professed to know anything of it were so vague in their descriptions that had they not all agreed on one point, viz., that the journey was one usually performed by the natives easily in two days, but that it would take troops three days, I should have hesitated in the undertaking, on which, I must say, I embarked with much anxiety, and then only from a desire to act agreeably to the wishes of His Excellency the Governor, and in consideration of the moral effect such a movement was likely to produce.

I moved early on the 17th ultimo, with a force as per margin,* entering the forest from the clearing of Ketemarai. For a short distance our advance was unchecked, as we were traversing a good dray road leading to a village and cultivations; these were destroyed, and a few rebels were seen retreating from the whares. From that point our progress was slow and laborious in the extreme, and the difficulties against which we had to contend will be better understood by your Lordship when I inform you that, to accomplish a distance of about fifty-four miles, the force was eight days actually on the move, and never less than ten hours in any one day.

I thus found I had been quite misinformed as to the nature and length of the track, which had even been represented to me as practicable for pack-horses except at two or three places, where slight improvement would be required. So far from this being the case, there were no less than twenty-one rivers and eighty-nine gulleys, the precipitous banks of many of which formed an obstruction to our advance, and required much labour to make them passable; and, except for the first two miles after entering the bush, working parties were throughout the whole of the march constantly employed in advance cutting down trees, supple-jack, &c., for the passage of the pack-animals. The weather, moreover, which had been fine for the first three days changed to continuous rain. This increased our difficulties in crossing the gulleys, and necessitated the construction of corduroy roads over swamps, which might otherwise have been practicable.

Our guide, the Waitotara Chief Pehimana, who assured me that he was well acquainted with the route, at the end of the third day's march, on coming to a river he professed to know, stated that we were only six miles from Mataitawa, but after a tedious march on the following day, the 20th, finding that he had been mistaken, I determined to send forward a party of Native Contingent accompanied by Captain Leach, Deputy Assistant Adjutant-General, in order to ascertain our position, and, if possible, to procure supplies. I continued the march for about six miles on the 21st, and not having heard from Captain Leach, halted the following day to await his return as well as to rest the pack-horses, now much wearied.

I should state that as it was necessary to limit as far as possible the quantity of the supplies, &c., to be conveyed on pack-horses, I had directed that three days' provisions only should be taken, in addition to the day's ration carried by the men on the first day, the 17th. When, however, at the close of the third day's march, the 19th, there appeared to be some uncertainty as to our distance from Mataitawa, I directed the day's provisions then remaining to be divided, and half rations only were issued to the troops on the 20th and 21st. For two days horse flesh was issued as a ration.

Late in the evening of the 22d Captain Leach returned, having made arrangements with Colonel Warre, C.B., commanding at Taranaki, for the supply of the force during the remainder of the march to Mataitawa, then distant 20 miles, and where we arrived on the 25th.

I need not dwell further on the arduous nature of the duties performed by the Field Force on this march, in the face of unusual difficulties and hardships, and while exposed to much inclement weather; it will, however, be gratifying to your Lordship to be assured that officers and men appeared to vie with each other in the performance of their duties, with unyielding energy and cheerfulness, and I am happy to add there was not a single case of sickness.

On the first day's march the Native Contingent, who were in advance, came suddenly on a party of seven rebels, three of whom were shot. These men were Ngatiruanuis, who, it appears, had gone to the north of the Waitara for assistance in men and arms, and having failed were returning to the Ketemarai.

With a view of intercepting any fugitive rebels that might be retiring before my force, Colonel Warre, in pursuance of instructions I had given him, dispatched on the 20th January Lieutenant-Colonel Morant, 68th Light Infantry, with 150 men, to move along a track leading south from Te Arei, and eventually joining that on which I was marching. Colonel Morant's force returned to Mataitawa on the 23d without meeting any rebels.

After emerging from the bush on the 25th, I encamped the force four miles north of New Plymouth, and moved thence by the coast line to Warea, which we reached on the 29th. This, your Lordship will remember, has been for some time past a notoriously troublesome district, where some of the most turbulent of the rebels had collected, and it was reported to me that a considerable body of them had established themselves at a pah called Waikoko, situated in the bush directly inland from Tipoka, a temporary post on the seaboard, seven miles south of Warea, occupied a few days before by Captain Corbett's Company of Military Settlers.

On the 30th I moved the Field Force to Tipoka, and in order if possible to cut off the retreat of the rebels, I sent Captain Corbett's company by a tract leading to the right rear of Waikoko, and instructed Captain Livesay, 43d Light Infantry, commanding at Opuaki, to march on the night of the 31st with 100 men, by an inland tract leading from the south to the rebel position.

In accordance with this arrangement I left Tipoka at 3 A.M. on the 1st instant, with the force as per margin,* and proceeding by a path leading through scrub and dense bush for six miles, reached a large clearing, within which Waikoko is situated at a distance of about 500 yards from the point where the troops emerged. The force was at once formed in the following order, viz.—the 2d Battalion 14th Regiment on the right, the 43d Light Infantry on the left, and the Forest Rangers in the centre, all in skirmishing order, with supports, the Native Contingent forming a reserve. I then gave the order to advance, when a heavy fire was opened by the enemy, and the troops at once gallantly charged and occupied the place; the rebels retreating and re-opening fire from the bush from whence they were as quickly driven. Captains Corbett and Livesay, with their detachments, arrived on the ground immediately after.

Our loss was not severe on this occasion, that of the rebels could not be ascertained, four bodies only were found. The whares and cultivations, which were unusually extensive, having been destroyed, the troops returned to their respective camps.

On the 2d the Field Force marched to Opuaki, where I found a number of natives, recently in arms against us, who had been permitted by the civil authorities to reside in a village near the redoubt, without taking the oath of allegiance. I immediately directed them to be made prisoners. Amongst the number was Te Ua, the so-called prophet, and the founder of the Hau-hau fanaticism. This man has been brought to Wellington for His Excellency the Governor's disposal. The remainder were set at liberty on taking the oath of allegiance and giving up their arms.

* Royal Artillery—1 subaltern, 1 serjeant, 30 rank and file. 2d Battalion 14th Regiment—1 field officer, 2 captains, 2 subalterns, 6 serjeants, 3 drummers, 180 rank and file. 43d Regiment—2 captains, 2 subalterns, 5 serjeant; 1 drummer, 90 rank and file. Forest Rangers—1 field officer, 1 captain, 3 serjeants, 31 rank and file. Native Contingent—1 subaltern, 60 rank and file. Taranaki Troopers—1 captain, 16 rank and file. Total—2 field officers, 6 captains, 6 subalterns, 15 serjeants, 4 drummers, 407 rank and file.

Prior to my departure from Opunaki I instructed Captain the Hon. A. E. Harris, 43d Light Infantry, to capture and destroy a pah near Warea, to which it was reported the rebels from Waikoko had retired. In this service he was to be aided by Captain Livesay, with a detachment of the 43d Light Infantry from Opunaki, and the military settlers from Tipoka. This duty was effectually performed, the enemy having been driven from the place with loss, and the village destroyed.

On the 4th the Field Force marched to Waingongoro.

I enclose the copy of a report received from Lieutenant-Colonel Butler, 57th Regiment, who had, under my instructions, availed himself of every opportunity of harassing the dispersed rebels in the vicinity of Otapawa and Ketemarai, during my march round Mount Egmont.

On the 5th the force marched to Manawapon, seven miles inland of which post it had been reported to me that some of the rebels had collected at a pah called Meremere, which Lieutenant-Colonel Butler described as one of great strength. I therefore sent this officer with a force as per margin* to destroy it, and this he accomplished on the afternoon of the 6th without meeting any material opposition from the enemy, who fired a few shots and fled. A considerable extent of cultivation was destroyed.

On the same day the force under my command continued its march, and arrived in Whanganui on the 9th instant.

His Excellency the Governor having considered these operations necessary in consequence of the defiant attitude assumed by the natives between Taranaki and Whanganui, and their gross treachery in slaughtering messengers sent to them on errands of peace, it was my great desire to carry out his Excellency's wishes by the infliction of severe punishment upon them. This object has, I believe, been fully attained. The rebels have suffered most heavily in the loss of men, horses, cattle, and other property. All their known positions of strength have fallen, and their villages and cultivations been destroyed.

The brilliant conduct of the troops, particularly of the 2d Battalion of the 14th Regiment and the detachment of Royal Artillery, throughout this short but arduous campaign, is deserving the greatest praise. Their gallantry displayed in the several assaults, and their patient endurance on the trying march through the forest, are alike creditable to officers and men, to all of whom I feel much indebted for the spirit with which they invariably carried out my instructions.

I have more especially to express my thanks to Lieutenant-Colonel Trevor, 2d Battalion 14th Regiment, for the gallant manner in which he on all occasions commanded his regiment. My thanks are likewise due to Captains R. H. Vivian and R. A. L. Furneaux, both active and zealous officers; also to Lieutenants J. Anderson, A. R. Keogh, H. Swanson, and G. Callwell, and to Ensign N. B. Churchward of the same corps, equally deserving of favourable mention.

Lieutenant G. T. Carré, in command of a detachment of the Royal Artillery, rendered me much valuable service during the campaign.

Lieutenant-Colonel Butler, 57th Regiment, is deserving of much credit for the manner in which he carried out my instructions in harassing the rebels in the vicinity of Waingongoro, as also for his gallantry in command of a detachment of his regiment at the taking of Otapawa.

Major J. H. Rocke, 2d Battalion 18th Regiment, and Captain C. R. Johnson, 50th Regiment, ably commanded detachments of their corps at the capture of Putahi.

Captain R. H. P. Doran, 50th Regiment, commanded a detachment of his corps, and rendered good service in the operations under Lieutenant-Colonel Butler during my absence with the Field Force in the Taranaki district.

I feel much indebted to Captain R. P. Bishopp, 2d Battalion 18th Regiment, commanding Commissariat Transport Corps, for the energetic manner in which he carried out his arduous duties under most trying circumstances.

The wounded received the greatest attention from the officers of the Medical Department, viz., Staff Assistant-Surgeons W. G. N. Manley, V. C. and E. O'Connell, under the admirable superintendence of Deputy Inspector-General Gibb. These officers were most indefatigable in their exertions under fire in relieving the sufferings of those who fell.

The arrangements for the important duties connected with the supply of the force, were ably conducted by Deputy Commissary-General Strickland, who had many difficulties to contend with.

The Rev. J. Collins, 4th Class Chaplain to the Forces, accompanied the expedition; was present at the engagements of Otapawa and Waikoko, and was at all times most zealous in the performance of his duties.

Colonel R. Carey, C.B., Deputy Adjutant-General, and Lieutenant-Colonel D. J. Gamble, C.B., Deputy Quartermaster-General, who had been detained in Auckland on duties connected with the embarkation of troops for England, joined the Field Force on the 11th January, and were present during the remainder of the campaign, rendering me much valuable assistance at the capture of Otapawa, the march through the forest, and subsequent operations.

Major Dean Pitt, my Assistant Military Secretary, and Captain E. Leach, Deputy Assistant Adjutant-General, accompanied me throughout the campaign, in the early part of which, including the assaults on Okotuku and Putahi, they were the only Staff Officers with the Force. I cannot express too strongly my appreciation of their gallant conduct and valuable services.

I have, &c.,

Camp, Waingongoro,
February 4, 1866.

I HAVE the honour to inclose herewith, for the information of the Major-General Commanding, a diary of my proceedings with the force left by the Major-General under my command on the 17th January 1866. I trust that the measures which I have adopted to carry out the orders given to me to harass the enemy, and destroy all cultivations, &c., may meet with your approval.

I may be permitted to add that, from Captain Doran and the detachment 50th Regiment, I received the most energetic co-operations ; my best thanks are due to these officers and men, as well as to those of the 57th Regiment, who have been engaged with me, also to Sir Robert Douglass, 57th Regiment, and Major McDonnell, of Native Contingent, who, despite of his wound, insisted in rendering active aid, and did good service.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) H. BUTLER, Major and
Lieutenant-Colonel, 57th Regiment,
Commanding Garrison.

Deputy-Quartermaster-General,
Head-Quarters.

DIARY of Operations with Flying Column under the Command of Lieutenant-Colonel Butler, 57th Regiment, in the Ngatarunui country, from 17th January 1866 to 3d February 1866.

18th January.—On the morning of the 18th January I moved out of camp with one field gun, 200 men of the 50th and 57th Regiments, and about 120 friendly natives. Proceeded in the direction of Oukuti, which I found destroyed, as

I had left it two days before, also to the pah Tiretire Moanu, where three bodies were discovered, one being that of the Chief Hohepa, a man of considerable importance ; this pah was quite destroyed, the enemy escaped as usual by the rear, and pursuit was not possible. There were in all about 50 natives to defend the pah. Brought in from it 15 cart loads of potatoes, and destroyed a vast quantity of cultivations. Returned to this post that evening.

19th January.—Halted. The friendly Maories went out to reconnoitre and obtain intelligence, the want of which much retarded my movements.

20th January.—Marched off at 10 A.M., having been delayed by the non-arrival of the Native Contingent sent out yesterday. Took with me 20 Military Train under Lieutenant Creagh, 80 rank and file 50th, and 100 rank and file 57th Regiment, also about 120 Native Contingent under Major McDonnell. My object was to attack a strong position called Ohipipi, in which it was said several natives were congregated. I detached the Native Contingent along the left bank of the Waingongoro River, with directions to cross it at the edge of the bush, and endeavour to get in rear of Ohipipi, in order to intercept the retreat of the natives. I advanced myself direct upon the position and found it deserted, some of the enemy, however, came down and fired on my party when in the act of destroying the whares ; one man of the 57th Regiment was severely wounded. The Native Contingent were now ordered to pursue the enemy into the bush ; this they did vigorously, and within a mile of Ohipipi they came upon a large village. This party was supported by some of the 57th Regiment, under Sir Robert Douglass. After a heavy fire and a stout resistance of about 20 minutes the village was carried. A large number of the enemy were seen carrying off a body with much care; it is believed that a great chief was killed, possibly of Kau Kawa. A well furnished strong European house was erected close to the mill or flagstaff, it was destroyed, in common with everything to be found, including many cultivations. Five of the enemy were killed; one man of the native contingent wounded; the destruction of this place is considered of importance as it was newly built by the Hau Haws with unusual care, and was as it were the head-quarters of the fanatics in the neighbourhood.

21st January.—Halted, and continued my efforts to obtain information.

22d and 23d January.—Convoy days; the friendly natives went into the bush and brought back a quantity of potatoes.

24th January.—Started at 8 A.M., took with me 14 Military Train, 80 rank and file 50th, 100 57th, and about 100 Native Contingent. Proceeded towards Wheri Wheri, which has been already destroyed, thence towards Touhawi, crossed the Waingongoro River, and struck into the bush towards Katamaria. I soon came upon clearances, under careful cultivation, amongst the rest about two acres of wheat, much Indian corn and tobacco, and a number of fruit trees; all were destroyed. After a long and harassing march the force returned to camp via the Katamaria Road.

25th January.—At 4 P.M., considering that I no longer required the services of the 50th Regiment under Captain Doran, I ordered that officer to return to the Patia.

26th January.—Rested in camp.

27th January.—Rested again, and sent the natives out to reconnoitre; they lost one man in the bush. It was afterwards ascertained that he was killed by the Hau Haws. A party of the natives went in search of their missing companion, but found no trace of him. On their return they were attacked in force by Hau Haws; one of our natives was killed, and another badly wounded; they reported having killed three Hau Haws.

29th January.—Took 100 Imperial Troops, 50 natives, all available carts, C.T.C., to Katamaria for firewood.

30th January.—Halted.

31st January.—Sent another party to Katamaria, they came upon fresh cultivations concealed in the bush, these were destroyed, and quantities of vegetables brought into camp.

1st and 2d February.—Remained in camp in consequence of the inclemency of the weather.

3d February.—Sent out a party, consisting of 80 rank and file 57th Regiment, and some friendly natives, towards Katamaria for firewood.
