The Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs has received from Her Majesty's Consul at Bilbao the Despatch of which the following is a copy:—

Bilbao, January 11, 1867.

I have just received a communication from the Board of Health of this port, informing me that, in accordance with a Royal Order dated the 9th instant, regular quarantine will no longer be enforced on vessels arriving in Spain from the United Kingdom, but they will be still subjected to three days' observation at one of the ports appointed for that purpose, viz., Santander, Cadiz, or Carthagena.

So far, therefore, as this relaxation affects ships proceeding from the United Kingdom to the ports of this Consular District, the observations will have to be made at Santander.

The news received by the Board of Health from Alexandria is also favourable. It is now (4th December) nineteen days since the last case of cholera occurred. Malta has taken off the quarantine on arrivals from Alexandria, and Greece has reduced to five days that upon arrivals from Constantinople.”
