(TRANSLATION, No. 10,608.)

Circular of the I. R. Central Maritime Government to all Port and Health Office Organs in the Coasts of the Empire.

(No. 5, Quarantine.)

The Secretary of State has also received, from Her Majesty's Minister at Florence, a Despatch, from which the following is an extract:—

Florence, January 7, 1867.

(Quarantine, No. 6.)

The Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs has received from Her Majesty's Consul at Bilbao the Despatch of which the following is a copy:—

Bilbao, January 11, 1867.

I have just received a communication from the Board of Health of this port, informing me that, in accordance with a Royal Order dated the 9th instant, regular quarantine will no longer be enforced on vessels arriving in Spain from the United Kingdom, but they will be still subjected to three days' observation at one of the ports appointed for that purpose, viz., Santander, Cadiz, or Carthagena.

So far, therefore, as this relaxation affects ships proceeding from the United Kingdom to the ports of this Consular District, the observations will have to be made at Santander.

(Quarantine, No. 7.)

The Secretary of State has also received from Her Majesty's Ambassador at Constantinople the following information:—

Constantinople, December 19, 1866.

“Telegrams from Salonica, dated the 12th and 17th instant, announce the entire cessation of cholera there since the 7th, and that a clean Bill of Health is now issued to vessels clearing that port. The news received by the Board of Health from Alexandria is also favourable. It is now (4th December) nineteen days since the last case of cholera occurred. Malta has taken off the quarantine on arrivals from Alexandria, and Greece has reduced to five days that upon arrivals from Constantinople.”

(Quarantine, No. 8.)

The Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs has received from Her Majesty's Consul at Cadiz a Despatch, of which the following is a copy:—

Cadiz, January 10, 1867.

I have the honour to report to your Lordship that an official telegram reached this last night from Madrid, to the effect that a Royal Order (dated 9th instant) decrees that vessels arriving from Great Britain, France, &c., &c., at Cadiz, Carthagena, and Santander, with clean Bills of Health, all on board well, and from ports declared healthy and unsuspected, will now have only three days' observation at these Spanish Ports named; but if coming from foul ports, or ports not declared healthy, such vessels will be sent to the lazaretto harbours for quarantine.
