

The Edinburgh Gazette.

Published by Authority.

FRIDAY, JULY 12, 1867.

At the Council Chamber, Whitehall, the 8th day of July 1867.

By the Lords of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council.

PRESENT,

Lord President.
 Lord Robert Montagu.
 Lord Naas.
 Mr Secretary Gathorne Hardy.
 Mr Wilson Patten.

WHEREAS by an Act passed in the sixth year of the reign of King George the Fourth (chapter seventy-eight), "to repeal the several laws relating to the performance of quarantine, and to make other provisions in lieu thereof," (section six,) the Lords and others of Her Majesty's Privy Council, or any two or more of them, are empowered, in case of any infectious disease or distemper appearing or breaking out in the United Kingdom, to make such orders and give such direction in order to cut off all communication between any persons infected with any such disease or distemper and the rest of Her Majesty's subjects, as shall appear to the said Lords or others, or any two or more of them, to be necessary and expedient for that purpose; and it is by the same section provided that all such Orders so made by the Lords or others of the Privy Council, or any two or more of them, as aforesaid, shall be as good, valid, and effectual, to all intents and purposes, as well with respect to the Commander, Master, or other person having the charge of any vessel, and all other persons on board the same, as with respect to any other persons having any intercourse or communication with them, and to the penalties, forfeitures, and punishments to which they may respectively become liable, as any Order or Orders made by Her Majesty, Her heirs or successors, by and with the advice of Her or their Privy Council, concerning quarantine, notified by Proclamation, or published in the London Gazette:

And whereas by "The Diseases Prevention Act, 1855," it is (among other things) enacted (sections five, six, and eleven,) as follows:—

V. "Whenever any part of England appears to be threatened with, or is affected by, any formidable epidemic, endemic, or contagious disease, the Lords and others of Her Majesty's

Most Honourable Privy Council, or any three or more of them (the Lord President of the Council, or one of Her Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State being one), may, by Order or Orders to be by them from time to time made, direct that the provisions herein contained for the prevention of diseases be put in force in England, or in such parts thereof as in such Order or Orders respectively may be expressed, and may from time to time, as to all or any of the parts to which any such Order or Orders extend, and in like manner revoke or renew any such Order; and, subject to revocation and renewal as aforesaid, every such Order shall be in force for six calendar months, or for such shorter period as in such Order shall be expressed; and, every such Order of Her Majesty's Privy Council, or of any members thereof as aforesaid, shall be certified under the hand of the Clerk in Ordinary of Her Majesty's Privy Council, and shall be published in the London Gazette; and such publication shall be conclusive evidence of such Order, to all intents and purposes."

VI. "From time to time after the issuing of any such Order as aforesaid, and whilst the same continues in force, the General Board of Health may issue directions and regulations, as the said Board may think fit—

"For the speedy interment of the dead:

"For house to house visitation:

"For the dispensing of medicines, guarding against the spread of disease, and affording to persons affected by or threatened with such epidemic, endemic, or contagious diseases such medical aid and such accommodation as may be required:

"And from time to time, in like manner, may revoke, renew, and alter any such directions and regulations as to the said Board appears expedient, to extend to all parts in which the provisions of this Act for the prevention of disease shall for the time being be put in force under such Orders aforesaid, unless such directions and regulations be expressly confined to some of such parts, and then to such parts as therein are specified; and, (subject to the power of revocation and alteration herein contained,) such directions and regulations shall continue in force as long as the said provisions of this “ Act shall, under such Order, be applicable to the same parts.”

XI. “ Orders in Council issued in pursuance of this Act for putting in force the provisions for the prevention of disease in the said Nuisances Removal and Diseases Prevention Acts contained, in Great Britain, may extend to parts and arms of the sea lying within the jurisdiction of the Admiralty; and the Board of Health for England may issue under this Act directions and regulations for cleansing, purifying, ventilating, and disinfecting, and providing medical aid and accommodation, and preventing disease in ships and vessels, as well upon arms and parts of the sea aforesaid as upon inland waters.”

And whereas, by “The Public Health Act, 1858,” (subsequently made perpetual) it is (among other things) enacted (sections one and seven) as follows:—

I. “In addition to the powers vested in Her Majesty’s Most Honourable Privy Council for the protection of the public health, all powers now vested in the General Board of Health under ‘The Diseases Prevention Act, 1855,’ shall, upon the discontinuance of the said Board, be vested in the said Privy Council, and the provisions of the said Act having reference to the General Board of Health and the regulations and directions issued by them, except section thirteen, shall be construed as referring to such Privy Council, and the regulations and directions issued by them:—

VII. “All powers vested in the Privy Council by this Act may be exercised by any three or more of the Lords and others of the Privy Council, the Vice-President of the Committee of the said Privy Council on Education being one of them, and all Orders, Regulations, Directions, and Acts of the Privy Council under this Act shall be sufficiently made and signified by a written or printed document, signed by one of the Clerks of the Privy Council, or such Officer as may be appointed by the Privy Council in this behalf; and all Orders, Regulations, Directions, and Acts made or signified by any written or printed document purporting to be so signed shall be deemed to have been duly made, issued, and done by the Privy Council, and every such document shall be received in evidence in all Courts, and before all Justices and others, without proof of the authority or signature of such Clerk or other Officer, or other proof whatsoever, until it be shewn that such document was not duly signed by the authority of the Privy Council.”

And whereas by “The Sanitary Act, 1866,” it is (among other things) enacted (section fifty-two) as follows:—

LII. “Every vessel having on board any person affected with a dangerous or infectious disorder shall be deemed to be within the provisions of the Act of the sixth year of King George the Fourth, chapter seventy-eight, although such vessel has not commenced her voyage, or has come from or is bound for some place in the United Kingdom; and the Lords and others of Her Majesty’s Most Honourable Privy Council, or any three or more of them (the Lord President of the Council or one of Her Majesty’s Principal Secretaries of State being one), may, by Order or Orders to be by them from time to time made, make such rules, orders, and regulations as to them shall seem fit, and every such Order shall be certified under the hand of the Clerk in Ordinary of Her Majesty’s Privy Council, and shall be published in the London Gazette, and such publication shall be conclusive evidence of such Order to all intents and purposes; and such Orders shall be binding and be carried into effect as soon as the same shall have been so published, or at such other time as shall be fixed by such Orders, with a view to the treatment of persons affected with cholera and epidemic, endemic, and contagious disease, and preventing the spread of cholera and such other diseases, as well on the seas, rivers, and waters of the United Kingdom, and on the high seas within three miles of the coasts thereof, as on land; and to declare and determine by what Nuisance Authority or Authorities such Orders, Rules, and Regulations shall be enforced and executed; and any expenses incurred by such Nuisance Authority or Authorities shall be deemed to be expenses incurred by it or them in carrying into effect the Nuisances Removal Acts.”

And whereas, by an Order dated the fourteenth day of July one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six, the Lords of the Council ordered that the provisions contained in the Acts for the Prevention of Diseases (therein described), should, from and after the date of that Order, be put in force within the whole and every part of England:

And whereas, by an Order dated the twenty-fifth day of August one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six, the Lords of the Council ordered that the said Order of the fourteenth day of July one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six should extend, and the same was thereby extended, to parts and arms of the sea lying within the jurisdiction of the Admiralty, within three miles of the coasts of England:

And whereas the Lords of Her Majesty’s Most Honourable Privy Council did, by an Order bearing date the tenth day of January one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, order and direct that the provisions contained in “The Diseases Prevention Act, 1855,” and the Act passed in the 23d and 24th years of Her Majesty’s reign, cap. 77, for the prevention of diseases, should, from and after the date of that Order, be and be continued in force within the whole and every part of England, and all parts and arms of the sea lying within the jurisdiction of the Admiralty, within three miles of the coasts of England, for the period of six calendar months from the date thereof; and that the said Orders of the fourteenth day of July one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six, and the twenty-fifth day of August one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six, should be renewed accordingly for such period as aforesaid:

And whereas by a certain other Order, also bearing date the tenth day of January one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, after reciting the hereinbefore recited provisions contained in the Act passed in the sixth year of the reign of King George the Fourth, and in “The Diseases Prevention Act, 1855,” and in “The Public Health Act, 1858,” and in “The Sanitary Act, 1866,” and after also reciting the hereinbefore recited Orders of the fourteenth day of August one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six, the twenty-fifth day of August one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six, and the tenth day of January one thousand and sixty-seven, and that Cholera having broken out in England, it seemed to the Lords of the Council expedient to make provision in pursuance of the said recited enactments, the Lords of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council did, in pursuance of the said recited enactments, order to the effect therein and hereinafter expressed :

And whereas the Lords of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council did, by an Order bearing date this eighth day of July one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, order and direct that the provisions contained in "The Diseases Prevention Act, 1855," and the Act passed in the 23d and 24th years of Her Majesty's reign, cap. 77, for the prevention of diseases, should, from and after the date of that Order be, and be continued in force within the whole and every part of England, and all parts and arms of the sea lying within the jurisdiction of the Admiralty, within three miles of the coasts of England, for the period of six calendar months from the date thereof; and that the said Orders of the fourteenth day of July one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six, and the twenty-fifth day of August one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six, should be renewed accordingly, for such period as therein aforesaid :

And whereas it seems to the Lords of the Council expedient that the provisions made and contained in the secondly hereinbefore recited Order of the tenth day of January one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, should also be maintained and kept in force, and that (so far as is required by any of the said Acts) the said Order should be renewed for the space of six calendar months from the date hereof.

Now, therefore, the Lords of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, by virtue of the powers in this behalf by the recited enactments or otherwise in them vested, do order, and it is hereby ordered, that the said Order of the tenth day of January one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, so far as it is requisite or necessary to renew the same, shall be renewed for the period of six calendar months from the date hereof, and that—

i. In this Order—

The term "ship" includes vessel or boat :

The term "master" includes the officer or person for the time being in charge or command of a ship :

The term "cholera" includes choleraic diarrhoea :

The term "Nuisance Authority" has the same meaning as in the "The Sanitary Act, 1866."

2. The Master of every ship within the district of a Nuisance Authority, having on board any person affected with cholera, or the body of any person dead of cholera, or anything infected with or that has been exposed to the infection of cholera, shall, as long as the ship is within such district, moor, anchor, or place her in such position as from time to time the Nuisance Authority direct.

3. If at any time a Nuisance Authority is informed that cholera exists, or within three days previously has existed, in a ship within its district, such Authority will cause the ship to be forthwith visited, inspected, and otherwise dealt with (according to the circumstances of the case), in like manner as nearly as may be as if the ship were a house within the district of such Authority, and shall give all such medical and other directions with reference to the persons therein, as seem to such Authority requisite or proper for preventing the spread of the disease therefrom, and for disinfection or disposal of anything infected, or that has been exposed to infection therein or therefrom.
