Published by Authority.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 29, 1867.

At the Council-Chamber, Whitehall, the 23d day of October 1867.

By the Lords of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council.

PRESENT,

Lord President.
Lord Robert Montagu.
Sir Stafford Northcote, Bart.
Mr Secretary Hardy.

WHEREAS by an Act of Parliament made and passed in the sixth year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Fourth, chapter seventy-eight, it was amongst other things enacted "That it should and might be lawful for His Majesty, His heirs and successors, by His or their Order in Council, or for the Lords or others of His or their Privy Council, or any two or more of them, by their Order from time to time, as often as they might see reason to apprehend that the yellow fever or other highly infectious distemper prevailed on the Continent of America or in the West Indies, to require that every vessel coming from or having touched at any port or place on the Continent of America or in the West Indies, should come to an anchor at certain places to be appointed from time to time by the Commissioners of His Majesty's Customs (who were thereby authorized to make such appointment), for the purpose of having the state of health of the crew of such vessel ascertained before such vessel should be permitted to enter the port whereto she should be bound, or any other port of the United Kingdom; but that such vessel should not be deemed liable to quarantine unless it should be afterwards specially ordered under that restraint."

And whereas there is reason to apprehend that the yellow fever prevails in the West Indies, and in parts of the Continent of America, and it is expedient to put into operation the above-recited provision of the said Act:

Now, therefore, the Lords of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council do hereby order and direct that from and after the twenty-sixth of October instant, every vessel coming from or having touched at any Port or Place lying between longitude 52 and 100 degrees west of Greenwich, and between 4 and 32 degrees north latitude, shall come to an anchor at such place or places as may from time to time be appointed by the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Customs, for the purpose of having the state of the health of the crew of such vessel ascertained before such vessel shall be permitted to enter the port whereto she shall be bound, or any other port of the United Kingdom, and shall remain at such place or places until the state of health of such crew shall have been ascertained, pursuant to the said recited provision, and thereafter to be subject to such lawful direction as may be made in that behalf by or under the direction of the said Lords.

And the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, and the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, are to give the necessary directions herein as to them may respectively appertain.

ARTHUR HELPS.

At the Council-Chamber, Whitehall, the 23d day of October 1867.

By the Lords of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council.

PRESENT.

Lord President.
Lord Robert Montagu.
Sir Stafford Northcote, Bart.
Mr Secretary Hardy.

WHEREAS no case of Cattle Plague has been reported to the Privy Council as having occurred in Great Britain beyond the limits of the Metropolis since the twenty-fourth day of August one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven.

Now, therefore, the Lords and others of Her Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, by virtue and in exercise of the powers in them vested under The Contagious Diseases (Anamils) Acts, and of every other power enabling them in this behalf, do order, and it is hereby ordered as follows:—

1. This Order shall take effect from and immediately after the fourth day of November one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, and words in this Order shall be construed as words in The Consolidated Cattle Plague Order of August 1867.

2. Article twenty-five of The Consolidated Cattle Plague Order of August 1867 shall
