Copy of a Letter from Lieutenant-General Sir JOHN HELY HUTCHINSON, K. B. to the Right Honourable HENRY DUNDAS, dated Camp before Alexandria, 20th April 1801.

S I R,

It is with great pleasure I am to inform you of the success of a corps of Turks and British under the command of Colonel Spencer. They were ordered from hence about ten days ago, for the purpose of forcing the enemy from the town and castle of Rosetta, which commands the navigation of the Nile. This operation has perfectly succeeded. We are now masters of the Western branch of that river, and of course have opened a communication with the Delta, from which we shall derive all necessary supplies, as the French have scarcely any troops there, and none capable of making a serious resistance.

The enemy had about eight hundred men at Rosetta when they were attacked. They made but a feeble effort to sustain themselves, and retired to the right Bank of the Nile, leaving a few men killed and prisoners. They left a garrison in the fort, against which our batteries opened on the 16th, and it surrendered on the 19th instant: The conditions are the same as were granted to the castle of Aboukir.

I have many obligations to Colonel Spencer for the zeal, activity, and military talents, which he has displayed in the conduct of this important service; and I beg leave to recommend him as a deserving and most excellent officer.

I have the honour to be, &c.

J. H. HUTCHINSON, Major-General.
Right Hon. Henry Dundas, &c. &c.

Copy of a Letter from Lord Elgin to Lord Hawkesbury, dated Constantinople, May 9. 1801.

MY LORD,

Mr Morier having returned from Egypt, have the satisfaction of being able to lay before your Lordship a far more particular account of the affairs and proceedings in that country than it has hitherto been in my power to communicate. He left the Camp before Alexandria on the 22d ult.

At that time, the enemy remained in their strong position upon the heights near the eastern walls of Alexandria—their numbers about 6000 men. They were still in anxious expectation of receiving reinforcements, particularly that which had been announced to them as coming from Admiral Gantheaume.

The loss of the enemy, according to the numerous reports which had been collected, certainly exceeds 5000 men, and a great proportion of officers. Four Generals are known to have been killed. Every encouragement seems to have been given and held out to the French army to insure their utmost exertions. Among other things, they were taught to expect no quarter from the British. The prisoners agree, that in no part of this war had such hard fighting, or such determined bravery ever been seen, as they have met with from our army in Egypt.

I presume, that Sir Ralph Abercromby's absence from the Camp, in consequence of his wounds on the 21st of March, had created a momentary suspension of our operations; and the irreparable loss occasioned by his death, must also necessarily have checked the prosecution of plans, in the formation and execution of which he had always borne so leading a part. The Captain Pacha did not arrive in time to see Sir Ralph Abercromby; but it appears that General Hutchinson followed his Excellency's intention relative to the troops on board the Turkish fleet, by employing them against Rosetta, and accordingly directed Colonel Spencer, having under him a corps of about 800 British, to proceed with the Turks to that expedition. The town was evacuated without resistance. Some guns were then brought to bear upon the fort St Julien, which commands the entrance of the river. The garrison of 368 men surrendered on the 19th ult.

Rahmancich was still in the hands of the French. They had fortified it, both in a view to secure their communications from the upper part of the Delta, and upper Egypt, whence they received their provisions.

Under these circumstances, General Hutchinson has very much strengthened his position between Aboukir and Alexandria; not only by a range of works in front, but particularly by opening the sluices which kept in the waters in the lake on their left; and if, as is supposed, this inundation shall extend over the whole of the plain, to the east of the Lake Mareotis, the communication between Alexandria and Rahmanieh, which is the enemy's nearest point, will be eight or nine days journey without water.

Having taken these measures, General Hutchinson was to transfer his head-quarters to Rosetta on the 23d ultimo, to which place he had already sent forward a strong detachment, amounting to above 4000 British, including Col. Spencer's corps; and he was immediately to proceed from thence, with nearly an equal number of the Captain Pacha's troops against Rhamaneich, where the French were understood to have assembled 3000 men.

On the other hand, advices had been received several days before from the Grand Vizier, dated at Belbeis, from which it appeared, that his Highness, reinforced by nearly 5000 men, from Djezzar Pacha, had passed the Desert, and had advanced so far towards Cairo, without meeting with opposition either at Salahieh or at Belbeis. He had also detached a corps which has taken possession of the town of Damietta, though the fort of L'Esbe is still in the hands of the French.

It is not expected that his Highness will experience any material resistance at the town of Cairo. And I find it is the determination of General Hutchinson to afford his Highness such aid as may be requisite towards the attacking the fortifications which the French occupy near to the town, if it is necessary to reduce by them force.

General Hutchinson has further received a favourable letter from Murad Bey, saying he is ready to join us when we come into his neighbourhood.

I am happy to add that our army are in the highest health and spirits. The climate and weather had hitherto been most propitious. The natives had acquired the greatest degree of confidence from the proclamation issued by our army, and were continuing to bring in horses and provisions in great plenty. Nearly one thousand of our cavalry are now well mounted there; and we have still above eleven thousand infantry in the field.—The utmost degree of unanimity prevails between the British and Turkish troops.

I have the honour to be, &c.

ELGIN.

Cornet Robert Thomas Wilfon, now Major in Hompefch's regiment of mounted riflemen.

Copy of a Letter from his Excellency Lord Minto, his Majesty's Envoy Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary at the Court of Vienna, to Lieutenant Colonel WILLIAM AYLETT.

SIR, Vienna, November 7, 1800.

I have received from his Excellency Baron Thugut eight Crosses of the Order of Maria Theresa, which the Emperor has been pleased to confer on yourself and seven other officers undernamed, of the 15th regiment of light dragoons, who distinguished themselves in a most gallant action, near Villers en Couche, on the 24th of April 1794.

His Imperial Majesty had already testified the high sense he entertained of the brilliant and important service which the regiment performed on that occasion, by presenting the officers engaged with a medal; struck for the purpose of commemorating that distinguished action, and affording to those who achieved it a lasting testimony of his approbation and gratitude. It was deemed at the time worthy of the Cross of Maria Theresa; but at that period, a doubt was entertained, whether this order could be conferred on foreigners; that difficulty being now removed, his Imperial Majesty avails himself with pleasure of the occasion to evince his high esteem for the regiment, as well as his regard for the individuals, by investing with this distinguished Order of Merit Gentlemen who have proved themselves so worthy to wear it.

In transmitting to you, Sir, these Crosses, to be distributed to the officers for whom they are destined, I cannot omit the opportunity of expressing the satisfaction I have experienced from the share which my situation here has afforded me in a transaction which, while it does honour to the liberality of his Imperial Majesty, and throws so much lustre on the corps, and on those who are immediately concerned, reflects, at the same time, credit on the country to which they belong.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient, humble Servant,

To Lieutenant Colonel Aylett. MINTO.
