R. GIFFEN,
Comptroller of Corn Returns.

Statistical and Corn Department, Board of Trade,
September 25, 1880.

NOTICE.

Unto the Right Honourable the Secretary of State, acting under the Endowed Institutions(Scotland) Act, 1878.

The Petition of Henry Scott Anderson, Esquire, M.D., Provost of the Royal Burgh of Selkirk; the Reverend James Farquharson, Minister of the Parish of Selkirk; and the Reverend John Lawson, Minister of the First United Presbyterian Congregation, Selkirk,

Humbly Sheweth,

THAT your Petitioners are the sole Trustees acting under the Trust Disposition and Deed of Settlement or Mortification executed by the Late Mrs. JANET SCOTT or CAMPBELL, widow, who at the time of her death resided at Beaver Hall, near Edinburgh, dated 12th January 1831, and recorded in the Sheriff Court Books of Selkirkshire the 21st February 1835.

That the Truster by said Trust Disposition conveyed to the Trustees therein named, and the acceptors or acceptor and survivors or survivor of them and their successors in office, in Trust for the purposes after mentioned 'and no otherwise,' certain land within the Burgh of Selkirk.

That after providing for the possession and management of the said lands by her Trustees, and the receipt of the rents thereof, the Truster, in the second place, authorized and appointed her said Trustees 'to apply the rents and produce of the said lands and others before disposed for the purpose of defraying the expense of educating and furnishing with books not more than six boys of the age of eight or nine years, who are sons of decayed Burgesses in the Burgh of Selkirk, during the usual period for elementary education, and my said Trustees are hereby directed to prefer those boys of the name of Scott;' and, in the third place, they were 'authorized and appointed to provide each of the foresaid boys on New Year's Day, or about that time, with a substantial Suit of Clothes,' and the said boys were to have the use of her seat in Church, and be taught 'Psalmody.'

That shortly after the opening of the Trust, the Trustees were advised by Counsel that they were not entitled to extend the purposes of the Trust to more than six boys, without the authority of the Court of Session or of Parliament, and that it was doubtful whether the Court would give powers which were not contained in the Trust Deed.

That on the said Trust opening to the Trustees in 1835 they found the lands then belonging to the Truster conveyed to them by the said Trust Deed yielded a gross rental of only £26, 10s.—a sum which, had it not been for the increased income obtained from the feuing of part of the lands for building, would have been inadequate for the purposes of the Trust after meeting preferable expenditure.

That by feuing the remainder of the lands from time to time as the demand continued, the Trustees obtained a surplus of gradually increasing amount, and by investing the same they have succeeded in accumulating a sum which, at the close of last account (1878-79), amounted to £1003, 10s. 2d.; and at same period the annual income therefrom, part of the fund being uninvested, was £35, 7s. 4d., and the income from the feu-duties of the lands amounted to £99, 13s. 2d. On the other hand, the annual expense attending the execution of the Trust purposes at same period amounted to £29, 18s. 11d., and the disbursements on account of burdens and management amounted to £11, 17s. 8d., leaving a surplus income from feu-duties and accumulated funds of £93, 3s. 11d. or thereby.

That the Trustees, being desirous to have the surplus annual income of the Trust utilized under the provisions of the Endowed Institutions (Scotland) Act, 1878, met, and being all present or concurring, unanimously resolved that it was expedient that provision should be made for the transference of the surplus income arising from the Endowment under their management to the School Board of the Burgh of Selkirk, with a view to the better application or administration thereof, and that an application should be made to the Secretary of State for a Provisional Order authorizing the Trustees, upon obtaining intimation from the Clerk of the School Board of the Burgh of Selkirk, and a certified copy of a minute by said School Board, bearing the resolution of said Board, duly approved, that one of the schools under its management should be deemed a higher class Public School in terms of section 62 of the Education (Scotland) Act, 1872, and Acts amending the same, or otherwise, bearing that provision to utilize the sum in question has been made by the Board, under or in virtue of such other powers as they possess, or as may hereafter be conferred on them for the advancement of secondary education, to pay over to the said School Board or to their Treasurer for the time being the surplus annual income from the Trust Estate, including the income derived from the foresaid accumulated funds, after meeting the primary purposes of the Trust and all expenses of management and others incurred by the Trustees in execution of the Trust, for the purpose of being applied by the said School Board towards the promotion of the higher or secondary branches of education in the said Burgh.

May it therefore please your honour to take the premises into consideration, and after such notice and remit as may be deemed necessary, to issue a Provisional Order in accordance with the resolution of the said Trustees, or with such alterations or modifications thereon, not being inconsistent with the general principles thereof, as may appear to your honour to be requisite.

And your Petitioners will ever pray.

PETITION FOR A PROVISIONAL ORDER
UNDER THE ENDOWED INSTITUTIONS
(SCOTLAND) ACT, 1878.

Unto the Right Honourable Sir William Vernon Harcourt, Her Majesty's Secretary of State for the Home Department, the Petition of Walter Thomas Milton, Provost of the City of St. Andrews, the Reverend Andrew Kennedy Hutchison Boyd, D.D., and the Reverend Mark Lowden Anderson, M.A., First and Second Ministers of the said City and Parish, and James Arthur Crichton, Advocate, Sheriff of the County of Fife, Trustees of the MADRAS COLLEGE OF ST. ANDREWS,

Humbly Sheweth,

THAT the Petitioners are the Governing Body, as defined in 'The Endowed Institutions (Scotland) Act, 1878,' of the Institution known as the Madras College of St. Andrews.

The said College was founded by the late Reverend Andrew Bell of Egmore in Scotland, Doctor in Divinity and Laws, and Prebendary of the Collegiate Church of St. Peter, Westminster, under an Indenture and Declaration of Trusts between him of the one part, and William Haig, Esquire, Provost of the City of St. Andrews, the Reverend Robert Haldane, and the Reverend George Buist, Doctors in Divinity, First and Second Ministers of the said City of St. Andrews, and Andrew Alexander, Master of Arts, Professor of Greek in the United College of Saint Salvator and Saint Leonard, at St. Andrews aforesaid, on the other part, dated 14th July 1831. A print of the said Indenture and Declaration of Trusts accompanies this Petition, and is respectfully referred to.

Shortly before the execution of the said Deed, Dr. Bell had caused to be transferred into the joint names of the said original Trustees in the Books of the Bank of England, two several sums of £60,000 3 per cent. Consolidated Bank Annuities, and £60,000 3 per cent. Reduced Bank Annuities; and the said original Trustees thereby declared that they would forthwith transfer and henceforth retain the said two several sums upon the trusts therein set forth, which (stated shortly) were—

- (1) To retain the sum of £2500 as a fund for the payment of the expense of executing the trusts of the said deed, and of publishing complete and abridged editions of the works of Dr. Bell.

- (2) To divide the said Stocks into twelve equal parts, and to transfer one-twelfth part to the municipal authorities of each of the following towns, viz. :—Edinburgh, Glasgow, Aberdeen, Inverness, and Leith, and one-twelfth part to the Trustees of the Royal Naval School, for the establishment and maintenance of Schools on the Madras System, and one-twelfth part to the Provost, Magistrates, and Town Council of St. Andrews, the interest and produce thereof to be by them applied towards the moral and religious improvement of that city, and such other useful and permanent works connected therewith, as the said Provost, Magistrates, and Town Council should (under the superintendence and the approbation of the Lord Lieutenant of Fifeshire for the time being, and the said original trustees) from time to time direct.
3. To hold the remaining five-twelfth parts for the erection and maintenance of a College, to be called 'The Madras College of St. Andrews.'

The deed proceeded upon the narrative that the progress of the System of Education known as the Madras System (of which Dr. Bell was the author), in his native country of Scotland, had hitherto been slow and imperfect, and that the greatest boon which he could confer upon that country was by taking measures for the more effectual diffusion of the said System therein; and, further, that the School Houses for instruction in the English and Latin languages in the City of St. Andrews (wherein Dr. Bell was born and educated) were greatly dilapidated, and that the Magistrates and Town Council (who were the Patrons of the said Schools) were unable to rebuild or to repair the said School Houses.

It was declared by the deed that the Provost and First and Second Ministers of St. Andrews, and after the decease of Professor Alexander (one of the original Trustees), the Sheriff-Depute for the time being of the County of Fife, should for ever thereafter be the Trustees of the said deed and Trustees and Managers of the said College, and that the property thereof should for ever be vested in them, and that three of the Trustees should always be a quorum.

The deed also contained a request by Dr. Bell and the original Trustees that the Lord Lieutenant of Fifeshire for the time being, the Lord Justice-Clerk of Scotland for the time being, and the Bishop of Edinburgh in the Episcopal Communion in Scotland for the time being, should be Patrons and Visitors of the College.

With respect to the investment of the Trust-Funds, the Trustees were directed either to permit the said funds to remain as originally invested in Government Stocks, or 'to sell the same and invest the produce in the purchase of other estates of inheritance in fee simple in the County of Fife, or in the purchase of stocks or funds in the Bank of England, or any of the Chartered Banks of Scotland.'

The following were the directions of the deed with respect to the administration of the College:—'And it is hereby declared, That when the said College shall be completed, children of both sexes, and of whatever Christian persuasion their parents shall be, shall be taught in such branches of education, and either together or separately, as to the aforesaid Trustees, or their successors in office for the time being, shall seem fit, but nevertheless always upon the principles of the aforesaid Madras System, and that in such education particular attention shall be bestowed upon instruction in the principles of the Christian religion: And it is also hereby declared, That the election of the Masters of the said College from time to time shall be solely vested in the Trustees of these presents, and their successors in office for the time being, it being hereby directed that the said Patrons and Visitors of the said College shall be consulted and advised with, and have a veto in the nomination, and that proper and fit Preceptors or Masters of the said College shall be chosen by the said Trustees upon sufficient trial and examination: And it is hereby declared, That the said Trustees shall exact from the children educated in the said College such fees only as it shall appear to them that the parents of such children are able to pay without much inconvenience, and that those children whose parents are unable to pay any such fees shall be educated gratis: And it is hereby declared, That the fees to be paid as aforesaid by the said children shall belong to the Masters to be appointed as aforesaid, over and above the present salaries of fifty pounds and twenty-five pounds, payable and to be paid by the Corporation of Saint Andrews yearly: And it is hereby directed, That the Trustees for the time being hereof shall once in every quarter of a year, for ever hereafter inspect and examine the said College, in order to ascertain the proficiency and progress made by the scholars or pupils thereof, and shall also appoint and hold a public examination of such scholars or pupils once in every year; and also shall from time to time frame such rules for the regulation and guidance of the said College, Masters, or Teachers, and Scholars, as to the said Trustees shall, subject to the approbation of the Patrons and Visitors for the time being, seem fit, so as the same shall be in accordance with the said Madras System, as expounded in the printed works of the said Andrew Bell: And it is hereby declared, That immediately after the yearly examination so to be held as aforesaid, the several Trustees of these presents who shall be present thereat shall record and certify in a book to be kept for that purpose whether or not there be an improvement in the management of the said College, and in the proportionate education of the scholars thereof; and that, if there shall be such improvement, the sum of Fifty Pounds a-piece or more, at the discretion of the Trustees so present, shall be paid out of the annual income and produce of funds of the said College, unto both the English and Classical Master of the said College, if they shall have, in the opinion of such Trustees so present, deserved the same, or unto either of them who shall be so thought to deserve it: And it is hereby declared, That it shall be lawful for the Trustees hereof for the time being, to appropriate from the said income and produce a sum not exceeding Fifty Pounds per annum, for the purpose of rewarding meritorious monitors and scholars in the said College, at the discretion of the said Trustees, and that registers and paidometers shall be kept in the said College, according to the manuals of the said Andrew Bell, respectively published in the years one thousand eight hundred and twenty-three, one thousand eight hundred and twenty-seven, and one thousand eight hundred and thirty-one: And it is hereby declared, That the Trustees hereof for the time being shall for ever hereafter apply yearly and every year, from and out of the College funds, the sum of One Hundred Pounds in Bursaries to the Students of the United College of Saint Salvators and Saint Leonards aforesaid (that is to say), in one Bursary of Twenty Pounds, two Bursaries of Fifteen Pounds each, and five Bursaries of Ten Pounds each: And it is hereby declared, That the said Trustees, after consulting and advising in manner aforesaid with the said Patrons and Visitors, shall perpetually nominate the persons to receive the said bursaries respectively; but that any one or more of the relations in blood of the said Andrew Bell shall always, if competent and qualified, be entitled to the highest bursaries, as has occurred in the case of the Glendee Bursary, of which the said Andrew Bell is patron; and such bursaries shall be vacated when claimed by a relation in blood of the said Andrew Bell; and that none of the aforesaid bursaries shall be received by any person (except relations as aforesaid) who has not been educated at the said Madras College for the space of three years; and that the persons respectively receiving such bursaries (except the relations of the said Andrew Bell) shall be those who, upon public examination by the Trustees hereof, shall be deemed thereto entitled; and that every person declared to be entitled to any such bursary as aforesaid shall continue to receive the same yearly for the space of four years in succession, if he shall during the whole of that time prosecute his studies in the said United College, and conduct himself with propriety in the opinion of his teachers therein.'

Dr. Bell died in January 1832. The College Buildings were commenced in April of that year, and were partially opened in October 1833. The amount expended on buildings was £17,000 or thereby. The grounds comprise upwards of 4½ acres, and consist partly of the site of the old Grammar School of St. Andrews, which was made over to the Trustees by the Town Council, but chiefly of ground acquired by the Trustees, before the date of the Indenture, with money supplied by Dr. Bell for that purpose.

The funds of the College, except in so far as they were allowed to remain in Government Stock, were from time to time invested in the purchase of land in Fifeshire; and the net revenue available for the purposes of the Institution now amounts to about £680 per annum. In the present state of the agricultural interest, however, the Trustees cannot count upon keeping up this income. A memorandum of the income and expenditure of the College accompanies this Petition, and is respectfully referred to.

Since 1833 the Trustees have received in addition a sum of £75 a-year from the Town Council of St. Andrews. This is the sum referred to at p. 10 of the printed Indenture as 'the present salaries of £50 and £25 payable and to be paid by the Corporation of St. Andrews yearly.' Previous to the erection of the Madras College, these salaries were paid to the English and Latin Masters of the Burgh; and Mr. Waugh, the last Master of the Burgh School, received from the Trustees not only his former salary of £50, but an additional sum of £70 from the funds of the College, as a retiring allowance, down to his death in 1871. It is only, therefore, since that date that the Trustees have derived any direct benefit from the municipal payment of £75.

The Madras College has hitherto proved of great advantage to the community of St. Andrews, and has been the means of attracting to the town families who were desirous to obtain good education at a moderate rate. The Trustees have, however, come to the conclusion that certain changes are necessary to promote its usefulness, and to adapt it to the altered state of circumstances caused by the passing of the Education Act of 1872.

The Institution at present consists of two divisions—the Primary or Elementary School, and the Senior or Secondary School. The Primary School is subdivided into the Foundation and Non-Foundation Departments. In the Foundation Department a certain number of children are educated gratis, and the rest at a reduced rate. Free education is also given in the Senior School in special cases. The fees over the whole Institution are moderate. The attendance during session 1879–80 was—Primary School, 470; Senior School, 230, or thereby.

Now that provision has been made by the Legislature for elementary instruction in every parish and burgh in Scotland, it is unnecessary that the funds of the Madras College should be employed for that purpose to so large an extent as hitherto. The funds are not, indeed, sufficient to carry on both a large Primary and a large Secondary School in an efficient manner. The Trustees are therefore of opinion that the educational value of the College would be greatly increased by more fully developing its functions as a higher or secondary school, for which there is an ample field in a town of the size, amenity, and academic advantages of St. Andrews. At the same time, the Trustees feel that it would not be consistent with the wishes of the Founder, or with the history of the Institution, if its resources were entirely devoted to Secondary Education; and their proposal therefore is, in the first instance, to make a substantial contribution towards the establishment of a good Primary School under the School Board, and then to convert the Madras College itself into a school devoted chiefly to the higher branches of education, into which promising pupils from the Board School might have facilities for passing. These facilities, taken in connection with the bursaries to the University of St. Andrews established by Dr. Bell's deed, would constitute a series of steps by which even the poorest child might acquire an education complete in all its parts.

The Trustees are also desirous of having their own number increased by the admission of representatives from the School Board and the University, and of obtaining somewhat wider powers of investing trust property.

At a Meeting specially called in terms of the Endowed Institutions (Scotland) Act, 1878, the petitioners as the Governing Body of the Madras College unanimously resolved that it was expedient that provision should be made for the better government and administration of the said Institution, and for the better application of the endowments thereof, and that an application should be made to the Secretary of State for a Provisional Order. The heads of the proposed Order are appended hereto.

May it therefore please the Right Honourable the Secretary of State for the Home Department to take this Petition into consideration, and with or without publication thereof, or at least so much of it as contains the terms of the proposed Provisional Order in the Edinburgh Gazette, or in any newspaper or newspapers circulating in the County of Fife, with a view to further inquiry; and with or without remit to, or report by, the Commissioners under the Endowed Institutions (Scotland) Act, 1878, to issue a Provisional Order in relation to the several matters mentioned in the Petition, in terms of the Statute.

And your Petitioners will ever pray, &c.

(Signed) WALTER THOMAS MILTON, Chairman,
STUART GRACE, Secretary, of Trustees.

ENDOWED INSTITUTIONS (SCOTLAND) ACT, 1879.

Heads of Provisional Order for the better Government and Administration of the Endowed Institution known as the Madras College of St. Andrews (hereinafter called 'The College'), in the City of St. Andrews and County of Fife, and for the better application of the Endowments thereof.

I. The governing body of the College (hereinafter called the Trustees) shall consist of the following persons, viz. :—

- (1) The Provost of the City of St. Andrews for the time being.
- (2) The First Minister of the Parish of St. Andrews for the time being.
- (3) The Second Minister of the Parish of St. Andrews for the time being.
- (4) The Sheriff of the County of Fife for the time being.
- (5 and 6) Two persons to be nominated by the Senatus Academicus of the University of St. Andrews for a period of five years.
- (7) The Chairman of the School Board of the Burgh of St. Andrews for the time being.
- (8) The Chairman of the School Board of the Landward Parish of St. Andrews and St. Leonards for the time being.

On the death or resignation of either of the persons to be nominated by the Senatus Academicus as aforesaid, a successor to him shall be nominated by the Senatus to act for the remainder of the period during which the original nomination was to endure. The Trustees shall annually appoint a Chairman, who shall have a casting as well as a deliberate vote. Three Trustees shall form a quorum, and in the absence of the Chairman, it shall be in the power of the Trustees who are present to appoint one of their number to act as Chairman. Subject to the provisions of this Order, the whole powers and functions of the present Trustees of the College shall, in virtue hereof, devolve upon the above-named trustees and their successors in office.

II. The College buildings and ground therewith connected, and the whole property, estate, and effects, heritable and moveable, real and personal, belonging to or vested in the present Trustees, are hereby transferred to and vested in the Trustees appointed by the preceding clause of this Order without any deed or other conveyance; and any conveyance of the same by them or by their successors in office, or by a quorum of the Trustees accepting and acting for the time being, shall be valid and sufficient to the Assignees or Grantees of the same.

III. The Trustees shall have power to sell, dispose of, or transfer the whole or any part of the heritable and moveable property at present belonging to the College, and to borrow on the security thereof; and they may, from time to time, lend out and invest the funds of the College, or such part thereof as they shall think proper, in the purchase of heritable property, including feu-duties, real burdens, or ground annuals, or on heritable security, or in the purchase of Government Stock, or Stock of the Bank of England, or in Debenture Bonds or Debenture Stock of Railway Companies which shall at the time of investment be paying dividends on their ordinary stocks or shares; and they may also sell, dispose of, or transfer such heritable property and securities, stocks, funds, debenture bonds, debenture stocks, and others from time to time, as they shall think proper, and re-invest the proceeds thereof in manner above mentioned.

IV. The Trustees shall dispoise, convey, and make over without a price paid, but under reservation of all existing rights of drainage, to and in favour of the School Board of the Burgh of St. Andrews a portion of the ground connected with the buildings of the College extending to 1.232 acres or thereby, and situated to the south thereof, for the erection of a school on the said ground, and the formation of a play-ground and accessories in connection with the said school, the conveyance in favour of the School Board to be adjusted at the sight of the Professor of Conveyancing in the University of Edinburgh. The Trustees shall contribute from the funds of the College towards the erection of the said School the sum of £1000 sterling. The Trustees shall also, as soon as the said School shall be opened, relinquish in favour of the said School Board the sum of £75 per annum, hitherto paid to the Trustees by the Magistrates and Town Council of St. Andrews.

V. From and after the erection and opening of the school mentioned in the immediately preceding clause of this Order, such period not being later than two years from the date of the conveyance mentioned in the preceding article, the Trustees shall not maintain the department of the present establishment known as the Foundation Department of the College; and they shall not be bound to impart education gratis to any pupils attending the College. All pupils attending the College shall pay such fees as the Trustees may from time to time fix, such fees being in no case less than those exacted at the public schools of the burgh of St. Andrews and parish of St. Andrews and St. Leonards for the same branches of instruction. But the Trustees shall have power to charge fees at such reduced rates as they may think proper in the case of children, not exceeding twenty in any one year, who are orphans, or whose parents, not being in receipt of parochial relief, are yet proved to the satisfaction of the Trustees to be in such necessitous circumstances as to require assistance in providing education for their children; and the Trustees shall also have power to receive into the College from the public schools of the burgh of St. Andrews and parish of St. Andrews and St. Leonards, to the higher classes of the College without payment of fees, children whose parents or other guardians are proved to the satisfaction of the Trustees to be in such necessitous circumstances as to require assistance of this kind, and who are themselves, in the judgment of the Trustees, likely to benefit by attendance at those classes, provided that the number of such children in any one year shall not exceed twelve.

VI. The fees payable by pupils attending the College shall not belong to the Masters, but shall be paid into the general funds of the College, and the Trustees shall pay to the Masters such salaries as they may think proper, but the amount of the salary of any Master may, if the Trustees think proper, be made dependent on the amount of fees earned in his department. The allowance of £50 a-piece payable under the Deed of Foundation to the English and Classical Masters of the College at the discretion of the Trustees shall no longer be payable.

VII. The Trustees shall have power, if they see fit, to appoint a Rector or Head Master of the College, who shall hold office at the pleasure of the Trustees, and shall discharge such functions and possess such authority as they may prescribe.

VIII. The Trustees shall not be bound to inspect or examine the College at any fixed periods, nor to record or certify the results of any inspection by them, and they shall not be bound to hold a public examination of the College once a year as provided in the Deed of Foundation, but they shall apply to the Scotch Education Department for the examination of the College under the 19th section of the Education (Scotland) Act, 1878, 41 and 42 Vict. cap. 78; and they shall also have power to appoint such other examiners as they may think fit, to report to them on the proficiency of the scholars, and general tone and discipline of the College, and to allow such examiners suitable fees for conducting such examinations.

IX. The Trustees shall hereafter, as heretofore, apply yearly out of the College funds the sum of £100 in bursaries. The bursaries shall be four in number, and of the value of £25 each. Such bursaries shall be open to all persons who have been educated at the Madras College for not less than two school years, and who are, in the opinion of the Trustees, deserving objects of such assistance. The Trustees shall nominate to the said bursaries such persons qualified in manner above mentioned as shall appear on examination to be best fitted to receive the same; and persons being, or claiming to be, relations in blood of the Founder of the College, Dr. Bell, shall have no preference over other candidates for such bursaries. The examination shall be conducted by competent persons appointed by the Trustees, who shall have power to allow such examiners suitable remuneration. The said bursaries shall be tenable for such periods as the Trustees may from time to time fix, but no holder of any of the said bursaries shall be entitled to receive the same unless he is actually prosecuting his studies at the University of St. Andrews.

X. The Trustees shall have power to grant out of the Trust funds a retiring allowance to any person holding an appointment in connection with the College who may, from long service or otherwise, be in their opinion deserving of it.

XI. All costs and charges incurred or to be incurred by the Trustees in connection with applying for and obtaining this Order, and carrying the same into effect, shall form a charge against, and be paid out of, the funds of the College.

XII. The rights and powers of the Trustees of the Madras College of St. Andrews, as at present exercised, shall remain entire, except so far as altered by or under this Order, and all deeds and rules relating to the College are hereby altered or varied in so far as may be necessary for carrying this Order into effect.
