

o turn the Enemy's Left Flank; which he did, by marching to Donhelbourg, leaving Klein-Eder on his Left, and forming in two Lines, with his Left towards Doffel, and his Right near Grimbeck, opposite to the Left Flank of the Enemy, whose Position was, with the Left to the high Hill near Offendorff, and their Right to Warbourg, into which Place they had flung Fischer's Corps. The Hereditary Prince immediately attacked the Enemy's Flank; and, after a very sharp Dispute, obliged them to give Way; and, by a continual Fire, kept forcing them to fall back upon Warbourg. The Army was, at this Time, marching with the greatest Diligence to attack the Enemy in Front; but the Infantry could not get up in Time; General Waldegrave, at the Head of the British, pressed their March as much as possible; no Troops could shew more Eagerness to get up, than they shewed. Many of the Men, from the Heat of the Weather, and over-straining themselves to get on, through morassy and very difficult Ground, suddenly dropped down on their March.

General Moityn, who was at the British Cavalry that was formed on the Right of our Infantry, on the other Side of a large Wood, upon receiving the Duke's Orders to come up with the Cavalry as fast as possible, made so much Expedition, bringing them up at a full Trot, though the Distance was near 5 Miles, that the British Cavalry had the Happiness to arrive in Time, to share the Glory of the Day, having successfully charged, several Times, both the Enemy's Cavalry and Infantry.

I should do Injustice to the General Officers, to every Officer and private Man, of the Cavalry, if I did not beg your Lordship would assure His Majesty, that nothing could exceed their gallant Behaviour on that Occasion.

Captain Phillips made so much Expedition with his Cannon, as to have an Opportunity, by a severe Cannonade, to oblige those who had passed the Dymel, and were formed on the other Side, to retire with the utmost Precipitation.

I received his Serene Highness's Orders Yesterday in the Evening, to pass the River after them, with the 12 British Battalions, and 10 Squadrons; and am now encamped upon the Heights of Wilda, about four Miles from Warbourg, on the Heights of which their grand Army is encamped.

M. de Muy is now retiring from the Heights of Volkmissen, where he lay under Arms last Night, towards Wolffhagen. I cannot give your Lordship an Account of the Loss on either Side. Captain Faucitt, whom I send off with this, shall get all the Intelligence he can upon this Head before he sets off.

I am, &c.

GRANBY.

P. S. Saturday Morning Six o'Clock.

As I had not an Opportunity of sending off Capt. Faucitt so soon as I intended, I opened my Letter to acquaint your Lordship, That I have just rejoined the Grand Army with my Detachment.
