

Corps was at Gastrop: And all the Volunteers of the Army were at Dortmund; whither the whole Army intended soon to march, and incamp in a Line.

Frankfort, June 18. Marshal Broglie set out from hence this Morning, and was saluted at his Departure by the Cannon of the Town. The Artillery, the Grenadiers of France, as well as great Part of the Regiments, that were in the adjacent Parts, marched two Days before.

Hamburg, June 19. We have Advice, that General Lantinghausen having resigned the Command of the Swedish Army, set out the 8th Instant on his Return to Stockholm; and that General Ehrensward is to succeed him. In the mean While General Lubecker is charged with the Command of the Swedish Troops, who continue to remain very quiet in their Quarters of Cantonment.

Hague, June 19. The Head Quarters of Marshal de Soubize's Army were, the 13th, at Holt. The 14th they marched to Essen, where M. Chevert led the Column which had remained with the Artillery at Duffeldorff. M. Voyer marched that Day to Recklinghausen. The 17th the whole Army was to be at Dortmund.

On the 17th M. Scheither, with a small Body of Light Troops, crossed the Rhine, and set Fire to the French Magazines at Xanten, and other Places; plundered a great Quantity of Baggage, and spread great Consternation among the French Troops in those Parts.

Letters from Warsaw of the 6th say, that the Van Guard of the Russians was not then arrived at Posen.

Hague, June 23. By our last Accounts from Westphalia, Prince Soubize was encamped with his whole Army in the Neighbourhood of Dortmund; and Marshal Broglie was expected to form his Camp near Cassel. Prince Ferdinand marched the 21st from Paderborn to Geske. The Hereditary Prince was encamped on the Heights of Havel upon the Right of the Lippe; as was Lieutenant General Howard, with his Corps near Ham, upon the Left of that River; and the whole Army was disposed in such a Manner, as that it might be drawn together to the Right or Left as there should be Occasion.

Nothing had passed in Silesia when the last Letters came away, and only some Skirmishes in Saxony. The Russians, who had advanced to Belgard, after a smart Cannonading, retired upon the Approach of General Werner's Corps.
