St. James's, May 3. HE following Address of the Principal, Professions, and Masters of the Marischal College and University of Aberdeen, having been transmitted to the Earl of Bute, their Chancellor, has by him been prefented to His Majesty : Which Address His Majesty was pleafed to receive very gracioufly.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Principal, Professors, and Masters of the Marifchal College and Univerfity of Aberdeen.

W E, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Principal, Professors, and Ma-sters of the Marischal College and University of Aberdeen, beg Leave to approach your Majelty's Throne ; and to indulge those Sentiments of Gratitude and Admiration, which we find it impoffible to reftrain, while we contemplate your Illuftrious and truly Royal Virtues, fo fignally difplayed in con-ducting the late happy Event, which hath reftored Peace to thefe your Kingdoms.

To have railed Britain to the higheft Pitch of Military Honour; to have enlarged her Commerce, extended her Territories, fuccoured her Allies, and confounded her Foes, forms but a Part of your Majefty's Glory. It was Your's, from amidit Victory and Triumph, to look down, with Commiferation, on those domestic Sorrows, which are infeparable from the Condition of War, however equitable and however fucce(sful, and which all the Acclamations of Conquest are infusicient to alleviate; and, having amply provided, both for the Glory, and for the Security, of your Country, to put a Stop to the Ravages of the deftroying Sword.

If the happy Influence of your Majefty's Ex-ample has hitherto appeared fo confpicuous in the unparalleled Magnanimity of your Soldiers and Sailors ; we have the greatest Reason to hope, from your dislinguished Humanity, and your favourable Disposition to the Interests of Learning, that Britain shall soon be as eminent in the Arts of Peace, as She now is in Military Renown.

And we, to prove ourfelves not unworthy of that Charge, with which your Majesty hath been pleased to intrust us, shall employ our most strenuous Endeavours in promoting this important End. To the Youth under our Care we shall unfold the Bleffings we derive from your Majesty's Auspicions Administration : And we shall ever inculcate a grateful Senfe of the many Obligations, which we owe to your Royal House. We shall labour to form their Minds to Public and to Private Virtue, and to the Love of those Arts, which embellish Life, and enoble the human' Soul. Nor can our Doctrines, while this is their Tendency, ever fail of Succefs, recommended as they are, in fo fignal a Manner, by your Majefty's most Illustrious Example.

That your Majefty, rich in domeflic Blifs, may long, very long, fway the Sceptre over a free, an happy, and a grateful People, is the daily, and the earnelt Prayer, of,

May it pleafe your Majefty,

Your Majefty's most Faithful and most Devoted Subjects,

The Principal, Profestors, and Masters of the Marifchal College and University of Aberdeen.

The following Address of the Chancellour, Rector, Principal, Dean of Faculty, and Professors of the Univerfity of Glafgow, having been transmitted to the Earl of Halifax, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, has by him been prefented to His Majesty : Which Address His Majesty was pleafed to receive very gracioufly.

To the King's most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Chancellour, Rector. Principal, Dean of Faculty, and Professions of the University of Glasgow.

May it pleafe your Majefy, WE your Majefty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Chancellour, Rector, Principal, Dean of Faculty, and Professions of the University of Glafgow, most humbly beg Leave to congratulate your Majefty upon the Conclusion of that Definitive Treaty of Peace, which has terminated, with fo much Happinels and Glory, a most definitiated, with 10 much Happinels and Glory, a most definitive and expensive, though very Just and Necessary War. Your Majesty's Willingnels to lay down your Arms, even when in the full Career of Conquest, has demonstrated to all the World, that your Majefty prefers the folid Reputation of being the Father and Preferver of your own People to that fatal Renown, fo apt to dazzle a young Monarch, of being the Conqueror and Deftroyer of rival and hostile Nations. Nor is the Humanity, the real Magnanimity and Moderation, which full prompted your Majesty to defire this falutary Object of Peace, more to be admired, than the Steadinefs and Wildom with which you conducted those Measures that led to it. By the full, vigorous and proper Exertion of the Strength of Great Britain. the Two most powerful Monarchs in Europe have been compelled to tubmit to those Terms, which a Paternal Regard for the Welfare of your own People, directed your Maieftv
