

Surveyor-General's Office, December 23, 1768.

THE King, as Lord of the Manor of East Greenwich in the County of Kent, is entitled (among other Wastes of the said Manor) to that Part called Maidenstone Hill, and on which the Tenants have an unfinted Right of Common. On this Waste the Trustees of Morden College have lately erected Posts, with the following Advertisements painted upon them:

This Ground to be lett to build on. Enquire at Morden College.

The Rights of the Crown and the Commoners are well known at Greenwich, and are annually recognized by the Presentments of the Juries, and other Proceedings at their Courts Leet and Courts Baron; and were heretofore acknowledged by Sir John Morden himself, under his Hand and Seal; and of late Years under the Hands of the present Trustees, who have been desired to take down the said Advertisements: And upon their Refusal, it is thought proper to give this Publick Notice, by Way of Caution to innocent and unwary Persons, who might be induced to contract with the Trustees of the said College for Ground which they (the Trustees) have no Title to.

December 9, 1768.

WILLIAM Millet the Younger, of Frampton Cotterell in the County of Gloucester, and Richard Low the Younger, of Winterbourn in the same County, Feltmakers, beg Leave to return Thanks to their Friends for their past Favours. And the said William Millet doth hereby give Notice, that he has given up his Share of the Feltmaking Business to the said Richard Low, and that all Monies due to him and the said Richard Low on any unsettled Accounts between them and their Customers, relating to the said Trade of Feltmaking, is the sole Property of the said Richard Low. And the said Richard Low takes this Opportunity of acquainting his and the said Mr. Millet's Friends, that he hopes for a Continuance of their Favours; and that they, and all others who shall please to honour him with their Commands, may depend on having their Orders well executed, and all Favours gratefully acknowledged.

*Wm. Millet, jun.
Richard Low, jun.*
