From Saturday June 6, to Tuesday June 9, 1772.

Westminster, June 9.

THIS Day His Majesty came to the House of Peers, and being in His Royal Robes seated on the Throne with the usual Solemnity, Sir Francis Molyneux, Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod, was sent with a Message from His Majesty to the House of Commons, commanding their Attendance in the House of Peers: The Commons being come thither accordingly, His Majesty was pleased to give the Royal Assent to

An Act for granting to His Majesty a certain Sum of Money out of the Sinking Fund, and for applying certain Monies, therein mentioned, for the Service of the Year One Thousand Seven Hundred and Seventy-two; and for further appropriating the Supplies granted in this Session of Parliament; and for making forth Duplicates of Exchequer Bills, Lottery Tickets, Certificates, Receipts, Annuity Orders, and other Orders lost, burnt, or destroyed.

An Act for rendering the Payment of the Creditors of Insolvent Debtors more equal and expeditious, and for regulating the Diligence of the Law by Arrestment and Pounding; and for extending the Privilege of Bills to promissory Notes; and for limiting Actions upon Bills and promissory Notes, in that Part of Great Britain called Scotland.

An Act for repealing several Laws, therein mentioned, against Badgers, Engrossers, Forefallers, and Reagrators; and for indemnifying Persons against Prosecutions for Offences committed against the said Acts.

An Act for the better Regulation of Buildings and Party-Walls within the Cities of London and Westminster, and the Liberties thereof, and other the Parishes, Precincts and Places in the Weekly Bills of Mortality, the Parishes of St. Mary-le-Bon and Paddington, St. Pancras, and St. Luke at Chelsea in the County of Middlesex; and for the better preventing of Mischief by Fire within the said Cities, Liberties, Parishes, Precincts, and Places; and for amending and reducing the Laws relating thereto into one Act; and for other Purposes.

And to Two Private Bills.

After which His Majesty was pleased to make the following most gracious Speech:

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

I Cannot put an End to this Session of Parliament, without expressing the Satisfaction I have felt in observing the Temper, and the Prudence, which have governed all your Deliberations during the Course of it, and without returning you My particular Thanks for the fresh Proof, you have given, of your affectionate Attachment to Me, in the additional Security you have provided, for the Welfare and Honour of My Family.

I can with great Pleasure acquaint you, that the Dispositions of the Powers of Europe give Me the strongest Reason to believe, that this Nation will not be disturbed in the Enjoyment of the Blessings of Peace.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

I thank you heartily for the Supplies, which you have granted with so much Chearfulness and Dif-

patch, and for the ample Provision you have made for every Branch of the Publick Service: And I see with Pleasure, and Approbation; that you have at the same Time been able, by a proper Disposition of the Publick Money, to make a further Progress in reducing the National Debt.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

I make no Doubt but that you will carry into your respective Countries the same Principles, and the same Zeal for the Publick Good, which I have experienced from you in Parliament; and that you will continue to exert your best Endeavours to cultivate and improve a Spirit of Harmony and Confidence amongst all Ranks of My Faithful Subjects: Let it be your constant Care to convince them; that, without a due Reverence for the Laws, and a chearful Obedience to just Authority, neither their Civil nor Religious Rights, and Liberties, can be enjoyed in Comfort, or Security; and to assure them, that I consider their Interests as inseparably connected with My own, and that I am, and have ever been, persuaded, that the Prosperity, and Glory, of My Reign, must depend on My possessing the Affection, and maintaining the Happiness, of My People.

Then the Lord Chancellor, by His Majesty's Command, said;

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

IT is His Majesty's Royal Will and Pleasure, that this Parliament be prorogued to Tuesday the 11th Day of August next, to be then here held; and this Parliament is accordingly prorogued to Tuesday the 11th Day of August next.

St. James's, May 29.

This Day His Majesty was pleased to confer the Honor of the most Honorable Order of the Bath on the Right Honorable Sir George Macartney, Knt. Secretary to his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland.

Dublin, June 2.

His Excellency George, Lord Viscount Townshend, Lord Lieutenant General, and General Governor of Ireland, his Speech to both Houses of Parliament, at Dublin, on Tuesday the Second Day of June, 1772.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

I Cannot put an End to this Session of Parliament, without returning you my particular Thanks for your long and close Attention to the Publick Business.

I congratulate you on the many excellent Laws which have received the Royal Assent this Session. The Act for Preventing the Delays of Justice, by reason of Privilege of Parliament, must be received as a very strong Mark of your disinterested Regard for the Rights and Welfare of your Fellow Subjects. The Act to prevent Frauds committed by Bankrupts, and that for rendering Securities by Mortgage more effectual, cannot fail to produce the most salutary Effects, by restoring that Credit and Confidence amongst the People, which have been much wanted, and are essentially essentially necessary, in this Commercial Country; and it was with particular Satisfaction that His Majesty gave His Royal Consent to these Laws, which do Honour to your Deliberations, and are so wisely calculated for the Publick Good.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

I thank you, in His Majesty's Name, for the Supplies which you granted at the Beginning of this Session; they shall be faithfully applied to the Support of His Majesty's Establishments, and to the Advancement of the Publick Service: But, although I have Expectations that the Act for amending and explaining a Clause in the Act of Tonnage and Poundage will be productive of some Addition to His Majesty's Revenue, I think it my Duty to inform you that the Arrears, which had been incurred upon His Majesty's Establishments Civil and Military, before the Time of your Meeting, made it necessary to borrow One Hundred Thousand Pounds, immediately after the Act was passed which gave Authority for that Purpose; and, that Sum not proving sufficient, I have, sometime since, been obliged to order the further Sum of One Hundred Thousand Pounds to be raised, being the Remainder of the Credit intrusted to me by that Act.

So early a Demand for the whole Loan gives me Reason to apprehend that, unless there should be a considerable Increase in His Majesty's Revenue, a still greater Arrear will accrue before the usual Time of your Meeting in another Session.

I do therefore most earnestly recommend it to you, to take into your serious Consideration, (between this and the next Session of Parliament) what will be the best Method of making Provision for such Deficiencies as arise upon the present Duties, so as to guard against any farther Increase of the National Debt.

The additional Duties given for the Support of Government, in Aid of His Majesty's Hereditary Revenue, are nearly the same which were granted in the Year 1727, at the late King's Accession. Had they been solely applied to that Purpose, they would have been fully sufficient, and no Debt or Arrear would have been contracted or incurred; but the large Expence occasioned by the many Premiums, now payable under different Heads, must necessarily continue to increase both; it will therefore be true Policy, and worthy of your Wisdom, to give particular Attention to this Object, and, by prudent Regulations, to form and establish such a System, as will best obviate any further Inconvenience, and most effectually promote every great National Purpose.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

It gives me great Pleasure to observe that the Tumults and Outrages of the lower Ranks of People, which unhappily disturbed some of the Northern Counties in this Kingdom, have now subsided. I flatter myself that these deluded Persons are fully convinced of the Atrociousness of their Attempts, and of the Impossibility of effecting any of the Purposes intended by them.—I would however recommend it to such Gentlemen, whose Weight and Influence lie particularly in those Parts, to have a watchful Eye over their Behaviour, and to exert themselves, with the other Civil Magistrates, in enforcing a due Obedience to the Laws; and I doubt not that, by their Authority on one Hand, and by their Justice and Moderation on the other, a thorough Reformation will be effected, and the Dispositions of the People reclaimed to Peace and good Order.

It gives me great Concern to see the Assistance of the Military Power so frequently called, for nothing can be more worthy of your serious Reflection, than to render that Resource unnecessary by a judicious Improvement of your Police, and providing for the due Execution of the Laws.

His Majesty gave it in express Command to me, to make your Interests and Prosperity the great Objects of my Administration; and my own Inclinations incited me to a strict and zealous Performance of that Duty. I have, upon every Occasion, endeavoured, to the utmost of my Power, to promote the Publick Service; and I feel the most perfect Satisfaction in now repeating to you my Acknowledgments for the very honourable Manner in which (after a Residence of near five Years amongst you) you have declared your entire Approbation of my Conduct. Be assured, that I shall always entertain the most ardent Wishes for your Welfare; and shall make a faithful Representation to His Majesty, of your Loyalty and Attachment to His Royal Person and Government.

After which the Lord Chancellor, by his Excellency's Command, said;

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

It is his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant's Pleasure, that this Parliament be prorogued to Tuesday the 14th Day of July next, to be then here held; and this Parliament is accordingly prorogued to Tuesday the 14th Day of July next.
