St. James's, January 25.

THE following Address of the High Sheriff and Grand Jury of the County of Dublin, having been transmitted by his Excellency the Earl of Buckinghamshire, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, to the Earl of Hillsborough, One of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, has been by him presented to His Majesty: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously:

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble and unanimous Address of the High Sheriff, Foreman and Grand Jury of the Quarter Sessions held at Kilmainham, at the County-Court-House, on Tuesday the 11th Day of January, 1780.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the High Sheriff, Foreman and Grand Jury, most humbly presume to lay the grateful Sentiments of our Hearts at your Majesty's Feet.

At a Time when this Country laboured under the most severe Distress, which nothing but the Removal of the Restrictions on her Trade could possibly remedy; it was your Majesty's most gracious Pleasure to coincide with the Wishes of your People, in the Accomplishment of that great Object.

We therefore think it our indispensable Duty to express our most sincere Acknowledgments for such effectual Favours, and our perfect Satisfaction at those Councils, which have thus operated to encrease the Riches, and to confirm the Friendship of all your Majesty's Subjects.

We have the Happiness to assure your Majesty, that your Majesty's paternal Care and Attention to this Kingdom has answered our most sanguine Expectations; and we doubt not the Completion of our Desires will speedily be effected under the same Auspices. We have this further Gratification in contemplating the future Commerce and Wealth of this Kingdom, that they will add Power to our Inclinations to support your Majesty's Person and Government, and contribute to the Oppulence, Strength and Dignity of the Whole of your Majesty's Dominions.

United as we are amongst ourselves, invigorated by our commercial Prospects and by our domestic Force, and bound to your Majesty by the warmest Gratitude and the highest Duty, we are not at all alarmed at the Menaces of any Foreign Enemy; and we trust, that the House of Bourbon will feel the Superiority of the British Arms, when supported by the native Courage, the growing Wealth, and the unanimous Attachment of

Your Majesty's most dutiful, loyal and faithful Subjects of Ireland.

*Luke Gardiner, High Sheriff

General Post-Office, December 25, 1779.

THE Bag of Letters from Leicester, of Monday the 13th Instant, which should have arrived here last Tuesday, not having come to Hand, and there being strong Reason to suspect that the said Bag was stolen at Dunstable on the Night of the 13th Instant, by a Person named Serjeant Taylor, a private Soldier in the Royal Irish Regiment quartered at Dunstable, who deserted on Friday the 17th Instant.

The said Serjeant Taylor is described to be Twenty Years of Age, Five Feet Ten Inches high, wears his own Hair of a brown Colour clubbed, of a fair Complexion, grey Eyes, straight, well made, and handsome, except that one Leg is rather thicker than the other, was born at Kilderminster, is by Trade a Weaver, was enlisted by Lieutenant Ellis, of the Royal Irish, at Worcester, the 1st of January, 1777, and is supposed to be now dressed in a dark drab Coat, with cross Pockets, enamelled Buttons, a new-fashioned clouded Waistcoat of an orange Ground with black intermixed, and Death-head Buttons, a blue Surcoat of Bath Coating with a crimson Collar, Buckskin Breeches, and a round Hat with two narrow Bands and two Steel Buckles.
