St. James's, April 4.

THE following Address of the High Sheriff, Nobility, Grand Jury, and Inhabitants of the County of Fermanagh, having been transmitted by his Excellency the Earl of Buckinghamshire, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, to the Earl of Hillsborough, One of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, has been by him presented to His Majesty: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

The humble Address of the High Sheriff, Nobility, Grand Jury, and Inhabitants, of the County of Fermanagh, assembled at Lent Assizes, 1780.

Most gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the High Sheriff, Grand Jury, and Inhabitants, of the County of Fermanagh, beg Leave to approach your Majesty, to lay at your Feet our most grateful Acknowledgments for the signal Proof which your Majesty has lately afforded of your paternal Goodness and Attention to the Distresses of your faithful Subjects of Ireland, in the Participation of Trade with the British Settlements and Colonies, through your Majesty's most gracious Interposition procured for this Kingdom; and we beg Leave also to assure your Majesty we are truly sensible of the enlightened Policy and Liberality of Sentiment, which has disposed our Fellow-Subjects of Great Britain to admit us to a Share of such great commercial Advantages. And we feel great Pleasure in the Reflection, that thereby the Union between both Kingdoms, which we are fully convinced is inseparable from their Interests, will be more strongly cemented; and that from thence shall be the better enabled to indulge the ardent Desire which we must ever have to use our utmost Endeavours to maintain the Honour and Dignity of your Majesty's Crown, and to add to the Strength, Power, and Authority, of the British Empire.
