HIS Majesty has been pleased to grant unto Philip Astley, Riding-master, Westminster-bridge, His Royal Letters Patent for his most ingenious and approved Method of rendering Horses tractable and docile in a very short Time, as also familiarizing them to the Sound and Recoil of Ordnance, beating of Drums, and all Sorts of Music; likewise rendering them so steady in all their Actions, that every Sort of Manly Agility and War Exercise may most easily be performed upon them without the least Danger. The said Patent also authorizes Philip Astley, his Heirs, &c. to use and exercise his said Invention, at his or their Discretion only.

Officers in the Army, and the Public in General, may have refuse Horses very soon reduced to proper Obedience by Mr. Astley's new Invention, at the Amphitheatre Riding-school, Westminster-bridge, and nowhere else.

Officers, Non-commission Officers of Dragoons, and Light Dragoons, actually in the Service of His Majesty, and during such Service only, may have Privilege and Instruction Gratis, for the more effectually teaching unsteady Horses to stand Fire, &c.

THE Partnership of Lloyd, Moody, and Thackeray, of Blue-ball-yard, St. James's-street, Wine-merchants, is mutually agreed upon to be dissolved on the 18th of December next ensuing. All Demands upon them will be paid either by Lloyd and Thackeray, at their Counting-house in Blue-ball-yard, St. James's-street; or by Charles Moody, at Carbonell, Moody, and Walker's Counting-house, King-street, Golden-square.
