

to assure your Majesty of our warmest Attachment to your Person and Government.

We have seen with Concern those unhappy Divisions, by which the Business of the Publick has so long been impeded, but trust that by the Exertions on the Part of your Majesty, and by the Return of Representatives attached to the Constitution of their Country, the Privileges of the People will remain unimpaired, and the Concerns of the Nation be conducted with Unanimity.

Signed in our Name, and by our Appointment, by the Preses of the Meeting at Forfar, the Sixteenth Day of April, One thousand seven hundred and eighty-four Years.

THE Houses of Lords and Commons having resolved upon Addresses to the Lord Lieutenant, the same were this Day presented to his Grace, and, with his Grace's Answers, are as follow:

To his Grace Charles Duke of Rutland, Lord Lieutenant General and General Governor of Ireland,

The humble Address of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, in Parliament assembled.

May it please your Grace,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal in Parliament assembled, beg Leave before the Conclusion of the Session, to declare our entire Satisfaction in the early Proofs which your Grace's Administration has manifested of Firmness and Wisdom; and that the uninterrupted Consistency of Measures through the whole Course of Public Proceedings, confirms us in a well-founded Conviction, that your Grace's Mind is greatly superior to every partial Influence or Prejudice, and entirely devoted to the Public Welfare.

The Acts of this Session bear the strongest Testimony to the Warmth with which each Branch of the Legislature has been interested in the Prosperity of this Kingdom; The Prevention of future Scarcity, the Extension of Agriculture, the Security of private Property, the Increase of Public Credit, the Improvement of the Metropolis, the Encouragement of Trade and Manufacture, have been the principal Objects of Parliamentary Attention and Liberality.

If the real Necessities of this Kingdom shall require some further Regulations, we feel the utmost Confidence in your Grace's Representations for procuring a fair and amicable Adjustment. Cautious of hazarding any immature or hasty Measures, we look for the final Prosperity of Ireland in a cordial Union and Co-operation of Interests with our Sister Kingdom, which can alone be effected by a mutual Intercourse of temperate Management and deliberate Generosity.

We have endeavoured with unanimous Zeal to prevent the Growth of Licentiousness and Sedition, not only as mischievous to the Morals of the People, but as fatal to true Liberty. We have decidedly testified our Satisfaction in the Enjoyment of our excellent Constitution, and have represented with Energy our unfeigned Attachment to His Majesty's Royal Person and Government.

It is therefore our ardent Wish, that His Majesty may long continue your Grace in the Government of Ireland, as we are persuaded that under the Auspices of a Chief Governor inheriting those Virtues which for Ages have distinguished a Succession of Illustrious Ancestors, our zealous Services will be justly represented and favourably approved.

*William Watts Gayer, } Cler' Parliament.
Edward Gayer, }*

To which Address his Grace was pleased to give the following Answer:

My Lords,

I RETURN you my cordial Thanks for your most obliging Address. To deserve the Continuance of that Esteem with which I have been so early honored, will be the constant Object of my Attention: You do me Justice in believing that I shall faithfully represent your Services to our Sovereign, and I am persuaded it will afford me the pleasing Task of conveying to you His Gracious Approbation.

To his Grace Charles Duke of Rutland, Lord Lieutenant General and General Governor of Ireland,

The humble Address of the Knights, Citizens, and Burgesses, in Parliament assembled.

May it please your Grace,

WE, His Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Commons of Ireland, in Parliament assembled, see with particular Satisfaction the Arrival of that Period which calls upon us to review the various Measures of our Session, and to testify to your Grace thereupon the warm Sense of our Obligation and Duty.

We have at once to congratulate ourselves, and to acknowledge the Goodness of our Sovereign, in the Appointment of a Chief Governor, who, by Attention to regulate his Conduct by our Wishes, hath fully confirmed the Justice of that early Confidence which we zealously professed in the Liberality of his Disposition, and the Spirit of his hereditary Virtues; a just Estimation of such Qualities must ever render him the Favourite of a spirited and generous Nation.

We are persuaded that His Majesty has observed with Pleasure our Attention to those Objects which were recommended to our Deliberation at the Opening of the Session, and has graciously accepted the Assurance of Satisfaction, which we have repeatedly expressed in the Blessings of our happy Constitution.

And when we reflect upon the Measures we have taken to ensure a constant Supply of Corn under every possible Circumstance; upon the Prospect of Benefit in the Management of the Revenue; upon our Attention to make the additional Security of private Property a Cause of Increase to the National Credit; upon our Provision for the Improvement of the Metropolis, and our Encouragement of useful Establishments, and of various Branches of Trade and Manufacture, we doubt
