us with a Joy to fincere and universal as to be unparalleled in the Annals of History.

The Share your Majesty has had, by your tender Care and Assiduity in procuring us this Blessing, must add, if possible, to that Veneration which your transcendent Virtues have long inspired us with, and rendered you so eminently conspicuous above the rest of your Sex.

To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, the High Sheriff, Gentlemen, Clergy and Freeholders of the County of Cambridge, at a Public Meeting at Cambridge, the 28th Day of March, 1789:

Being deeply impressed with every Feeling of Gratitud to Divine resolutioner for the happy Recovery of our Graties covereign from his late Indispo-fition:

We cannot help begging Leave to approach your Majesty with our most sincere Congratulations upon so happy an Event, for which we are fensible your Majesty must feel, if possible, more thankful than ourselves.

The Sense of your Majesty's Virtues and amiable Quanties is so universally felt by the Nation, that we are impelled by every Motive to pray for a long Communice of your Majefly's domestic Felicity, which is so intimately connected with our own and the Public Welfase.

Signed, in Behalf and with the unanimous Confent of a very numerous Meeting,

Euftace Kentift, Sheriff.

[anjinitted by Philip Yorke, Efq. one of the Reprefentatives in Parliament for that County.]

To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble and unanimous Address of the Nobility, Gentlemen, Clergy, Freeholders and Inhabitants of the County of Berks, who presume to approach your Majesty with our dutiful Congratulations on the King's most happy Recovery.

A CCUSTOMED for many Years to the Blessings we enjoyed under a King justly beloved and revered by His Subjects, we heard, with the utmost Grief and Consternation, that His Majest's la: Illness threatened His Sacred Life, and suspended Elis Government: His Sasety restored Happiness to His People; Happiness, of which the most unes rivocal Demonstrations appear in all Parts of His Dominions.

Having long admired the private as well as Royal Virtues which eminently accorn your Majesty, and in particular your conjugal Affection for your Royal Confort, we are sensible now particularly you, Madam, must have felt the Bleffing of His Recovery; and we devoutly pray that both your Majesties may long experience that Felicity which exalted Virtue alone can merit or bestow.

W. Brummell, Saeriff.

March 28, 1789 [Transmitted by William Brummell, Esq; Sherist, and George Vansitiart and Henry James Pye, Esqrs. Refresentatives in Parliament for that County.]

To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, the High Sheriff, Lord Lieutenant, Nobility, Gentry, Clergy and Freeholders of the County of Brecon, humbly congratulate your Majesty on the King's happy Recovery; and we most earnestly hope that a long Continuance of His Majesty's Health will prove a Biossing to a Queen of the most amiable, exalted and exemplary Character, and to a grateful and happy People.

[Transmitted by his Grace the Dake of Beaufore, Lord Lieutenant of that County,]

To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty.

WE, the High Sheriff, Lord Lieutenant, Nobility, Gentry, Clergy and Freeholders of the County of Monmouth, beg Leave to offer to your Majesty our unseigned Congratulations on the happy Recovery of our most gracious and beloved Sovereign.

We have ever regarded your Majesty's amiable Character and Conduct with the highest Veneration, and we fincerely hope your Majesty will long continue to enjoy that Place which by your Virtues you so justly possess in the Hearts and Affections of His Majesty and His Subjects.

[Transmitted by His Grace the Duke of Beaufort, Lord Lieutenant; George Smith, Esq. Sheriff; and Major General Rooke, one of the Representatives in Parliament for that County. 1

To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Gentlemen, Clergy and Freeholders of the County of Pembroke.

Most Gracious Queen,

WE, the Gentlemen, Clergy and Freeholders of the County of Pembroke, having the highest Respect for those eminent Virtues and amiable Qualities, the chief Ornaments of the British Court, humbly approach your Majesty:

We partook of your Majesty's Grief and Anxiety; they were the Feelings of every good Citizen; and our Prayers were continually offered up to the Almighty, that He would restore to a distressed People the greatest of all national Blessings, our virtuous Sovereign.

Amidit this general Effusion of Joy on the happy and fortunate Event of our Gracious Monarch's Recovery, we beg Leave to offer our humble Congratulations to your Majesty; and we request of your Majesty to believe, that no People in these Kingdoms felt more real and fincere Joy on the happy Occasion, than His Majesty's loyal Subjects of this

Convinced that our Prosperity and Happiness are inseparably connected with the Welfare of your Majesties, we are unalterably attached to your Royal Persons, Family and Government.

Long may your Majesty experience every Bleffing and domestic Happiness which this World is capable of affording; and may your Majefty's Power over the Hearts of your loyal Subjects continually [Transmitted by the Right Hon. Lord Milford, Representative in Parliament for that County.]

To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, your Majesty's most loyal and dutiful Subjects, the Mayor, Aldermen, Capital Burgesses and Inhabitants of the Borough of Banbury in the County of Oxford, humbly entreat Permission to present your Majesty with our sincerest Congratu-lations on the happy Restoration of our much loved Monarch's Health. And we most heartly wish and pray that the same good Providence which restored, will continue to His Majesty Health and Life for a Series of Years to come, to the great Comfort and Satisfaction of your Majesty and the Royal Family in particular, and the general Joy of a numerous and affectionate People.

Sealed with the Common Seal, and figned by 123

Persons.
