

To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty,

The humble Address of the Mayor, Aldermen, Burgesses and Inhabitants of the Borough of Reading.

MAY it please your most Gracious Majesty to permit the Mayor, Aldermen, Burgesses and Inhabitants of the Borough of Reading, to lay before you their sincerest Congratulations on the happy Recovery of His Majesty from His late Indisposition.

We partook, in common with the rest of His Majesty's dutiful Subjects, of the Sorrow which His ever Affliction occasioned; but the Idea of the superior Poignancy of your Majesty's Grief rendered our Distress still greater.

May your Majesty never more know Trouble; but may you with our Royal Sovereign continue in Health and Happiness to reign over us for very many Years, that the Benefit of so bright an Example of Virtue and Goodness, as has eminently shone forth since your happy Union, may not be lost to a loyal and affectionate People.

[Transmitted by Richard Maul, Esq; Mayor; William Blandy, Henry Deane and John Deane, Esqrs. attended by Francis Annesley and Richard Aldworth Noville, Esqrs. Representatives in Parliament for that Borough.]

To the QUEEN's Most Excellent Majesty,

Given under our Common Seal, this 24th Day of March, 1789, and signed by Order of Court,
John Evans, Town Clerk.

M A D A M,

WE, the Mayor, Bailiffs and Burgesses of the Borough of Leicester, in Common Hall assembled, humbly entreat your Majesty to accept our unfeigned Congratulations on the Re-establishment of the Health of our most Gracious Sovereign.

The sharp Afflictions with which it pleased the Divine Providence to visit the best of Kings, filled our Breasts with sincere Sorrow, which was heightened by a Recollection of the peculiarly pitiable Situation of our most amiable Queen.

That your Majesty and the Royal Family are relieved from that Distress in which you were lately involved, we are thankful to that Providence which orders all Things for the best, and which, we fondly hope, has many happy Years in Store for our most Sacred King, for your Majesty, and His Subjects of this great and envied Empire.

Given under our Common Seal, this 25th Day of March, in the Year of our Lord 1789.

H. Watchorn, Mayor.

May it please your Majesty,

WE, the Mayor, Aldermen, Capital Burgesses and Inhabitants of the Borough of Harwich, in the County of Essex, beg Leave to avail ourselves of the happy Occasion of Public Rejoicing on the Recovery of your Royal Consort from a Malady so afflicting to His affectionate Subjects. Conscious how much more deeply it must have been felt by a Queen, whose Character every conjugal and domestic Virtue has so eminently distinguished, we most humbly offer to your Majesty our sincere Congratulations upon so interesting an Event; and flatter ourselves that your Goodness will accept this Tribute of dutiful Regard from a Place which had the Honour of first welcoming your Majesty into a Country, in which your subsequent Elevation has been inferior only to your acknowledged Merit.

That a Gracious Providence may long continue to your Majesty the Enjoyment of every earthly Blessing, is the ardent Prayer of your Majesty's most dutiful and affectionate Subjects.

[Transmitted by John Robinson, Esq; one of the Representatives in Parliament for that Borough.]

All Ranks of Society have so often and so unanimously concurred in admiring the bright Example your Majesty hath set, and the amiable Virtues you have so invariably displayed, that we consider your being the Queen of these Realms as a peculiar Blessing to the British Nation.
